The kaleidoscopic succession of events that makes Junior Week-end the greatest campus occasion

Ned Kinney of the year will be launched today at noon with the annual campus luncheon on the lawn between the old library and Friendly hall.

Ned Kinney and Fred Hellberg, chairman and assistant for the ensuing three days of activity, announce that preparations for every event are complete. Today's program, following the campus luncheon, will include the slowest flivver race, tennis court dance, Y. W. C. A. tea for mothers, baseball game with Washington State college at 2:30, and the Junior Prom. All afternoon classes will be dismissed today, and no Saturday classes will meet.

Every living organization on the campus will give the cook a party-holiday, for all students and their guests will be served a delicious hot lunch beneath the evergreens on the old campus. Four huge tables will be busy from 12 o'clock until 2 serving the horde of hungry, holiday-minded students. Hot food will be brought at 10-minute intervals.

In the event of rain, the luncheon will be served in the men's gym, reports Marguerite Tarbell, chairman. Miniature Mickey

Canoe Fete Features Great Stuff, M.C. Vinchell Certain

These students may claim their cards by calling at the graduate manager's office.

Stryker Calls for Junior Workers For Prom, Fete

A CALL for all junior men to assist in construction work was issued yesterday. Charles Stryker, construction chairman for the Junior prom has asked that men report to him at the Igloo all day. Foster Burnett, chairman of Canoe Fete construction, reports that workers are needed to assist in building activities for the Canoe Fete on the mill-race. The work will start at 9 this morning, he announces, and will last only about two hours.

Canoe Race Tops Events in Annual Water Carnival

Twenty-One Entries Listed; Diving, Swimming Also On Program

Twenty-one canoes, racing in seven heats, will offer a spectacular main event to the annual water carnival, a Junior Week-end highlight tomorrow.

Officials for the canoe race were announced last night by Maurice Pease, chairman. They are: Jack Cate, starter; Marjorie Swafford, clerk of the course; Pease, Bill Shumate, and Bob Gantenbein, timers; Hallie Ferris, Helen Raitanen, and Nan Ruonala, scorers.

The first heat in the canoe race will start at 10:15 tomorrow morning from the portage. All canoes are to be at the starting line at 10 o'clock. Contestants may get their craft at the Anchorage after 9 o'clock.

With four synchronized watches recording the times for the canoe

Portland Civic Theatre Produces Play by Ernst

"Welcome Stranger," by Alice Henson Ernst of the English department, was produced by the Portland Civic theatre, recently, in Portland, and is being held for freedom by a New York producer during the coming summer or fall. This comedy satire was judged the best of the comedies submitted in the annual play-writing contest of the Portland Civic theatre, along with two serious plays by Mrs. Ernst.

A tragedy, "Spring Sluicing," written by Mrs. Ernst, was presented in Portland two years ago.

Chinese Scene Will Be Junior Dance Setting

Queen Dorothy II To Be Crowned by Hall

Informal Dress in Order For Men; Women To Wear Formals

Brilliantly prepared for what is expected to be one of the greatest Junior Proms in the history of the annual dance, McArthur court will be opened at 9 o'clock tonight to disclose a gorgeous scene of Oriental beauty, the "Spring Chinese" idea.

Sanford Platt, chairman of the prom, announced last night that the floor will be in excellent condition and that full arrangements have been made for taking care of the mothers who are invited to attend.

The mode of dress, Platt said, will be informal for men and formal for women. Appropriate masculine attire will be dark coats and white flannels, with light suits fully as acceptable.

Coronation of Queen Dorothy II by Robert Hall, president of the junior class and president-elect of the A. S. U. O., will be held in an impressive ceremony starting at 10 o'clock. The queen, surrounded

Goodman Speaks Of Criminal Laws

Irving Goodman, prominent Portland attorney and defender in the Boloff criminal syndicalism case, speaking on "The Crisis and Repressive Legislation" last night at Johnson hall, pointed out the harmful effects of the application of state criminal syndicalism laws on the constitutional rights of freedom of speech and the press.

Mr. Goodman cited many cases throughout the country in which capitalistic organizations have taken advantage of such laws as those of criminal syndicalism laws in effecting disaster to forms of organized labor protests. He stated that industrial and capitalistic organizations were keeping the laboring masses divided against themselves.

"As far as our constitutions guaranteeing the laborer freedom of speech and the press, they have been merely scraps of paper," he said. Mr. Goodman cited cases in California, Georgia, Michigan, and Alabama in which the constitutional rights of the people had been denied.

Law School Will Hold Sport Dance on May 11

An announcement on the law school bulletin board urges all members of the law school association to secure dates for the annual spring dance with which the lawyers will entertain at Midway, May 11. Hours of dancing will be from 7:30 to 11. The dance will be strictly sport, according to John Yerkovich, chairman of the social event.

Members of the law school faculty will act as patrons for the dance.

Independents Defeat Susan Campbell, 24-12

A baseball game was played Tuesday afternoon in the women's inter-house baseball matches between the Independents and Susan Campbell hall. The former won, scoring 24 to 12.

All women's houses and organizations are asked to compete. Further information may be had by calling Doris Payne, 1077-W.

Teas and Banquet Head Program for Visiting Mothers

Registration Booths Open Until 4 o'clock Tomorrow

A week-end crammed full of entertainment and excitement has been planned for visiting mothers by a committee headed by Marian Chapman, with teas, banquets, fetes, and every sort of feature arranged for their enjoyment.

Marjorie Swafford, in charge of registration, has urged that students bring their mothers to register directly upon arrival. The booths are located in the lobby of the Administration building and will be open from noon today until 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Although mothers of town students will not be counted with their fraternal percentage, they are urged to register.

Tickets for the banquet tomorrow night can be obtained at the dean of men's office at any time. At the booths programs.

State High Debate Tournery Tonight

The state high school championship debate will be held here this evening when Chiloquin high school, as the winner in eastern Oregon, and Albany high, winner in western Oregon, meet. The contest will be held in Villard hall at 7:30.

Chiloquin high will debate the affirmative of the question of the adoption of unemployment insurance by the states. The presiding officer will be Burt Brown Barker, vice-president of the University of Oregon, who will also present the two schools with the Barker cups, given annually to the champions of the two districts.

At the conclusion of the contest, Mr. E. E. DeCou, professor of mathematics will present the state winner with the DeCou cup, given by him and Mrs. DeCou. At present it is held by Medford high school, which has won it two consecutive years.

Judges for the contest will be John L. Casteel, director of speech division, David E. Faville, dean of the school of business administration, and Robert W. Prescott, Eugene business man.

Corbles Being Shown By Walter Pritchard

An interesting piece of work is now being completed by Walter Pritchard, graduate student in sculpturing. He has carved corbles which are made out of Japanese oak, to be used as a transition between the wall and the ceiling. On one of his corbles, he has carved distorted figures, symbolizing various phases of fishing. Pritchard recently received word that he won a scholarship to the Art Students league of New York.

Statue Unveiling Of Pioneer Mother Outstanding Event

Barbara Barker, Dr. Hall Will Participate in Short Program

One of the outstanding features on the Junior Week-end program this year will be the unveiling of "The Pioneer Mother," heroic statue presented to the University by Burt Brown Barker, vice-president of the institution and himself the son of Oregon pioneers.

Miss Barbara Barker, daughter of Mr. Barker, will unveil the masterpiece at an impressive but brief ceremony. A letter from President Hoover to Mr. Barker will be read, the letter of presentation will be read by Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall and the statue will be accepted by the state board of higher education. There will be no long speeches at this time.

Following the dedication, mothers, pioneers, and students will go

Evans Named Chairman For Eastern Star Affair

Anna Evans, senior, was appointed general chairman for the national Temeid convention to be held May 21 at the Masonic temple. Eight chairmen were named by Miss Evans to help in the Eastern Star affair.

Those appointed were national officers and personal relation, Wilametta Logesdon; decoration, Eldrid Wold; program, Gertrude Larson; banquet, Velma Hamilton; initiation, Norma Huston; drill team, Emmabelle Stadden; publicity, Alice Gerot. Temeid was founded on this campus through the efforts of Prof. Frederick S. Dunn, of the Latin department.

A Postoffice Can Seduce Honesty, Declares Charley

Chiselers All. The annual grab-bag is under way.

Every congressman from Pumpkinville to Pulpit Harbor is staging a fight to bring home the bacon. Our Washington correspondent gleefully announces Oregon gets $7 back for every dollar paid in taxes.

Every state, every town, every industry is busily engaged slitting the other fellow's throat. Pasadena gets a postoffice and the taxpayers foot the bill. North Dakota gets a sugar tariff and we all pay our tithe. The grab-bag should be called a hog wallow. But we're happy. We've got the lumber tariff. Contentedly. WEBFOOT CHARLEY.

Lineup Suffers Change Before Cougar Series

Infield Positions Take Drastic Overhauling

Ken Scales Scheduled To Hurl Initial Contest With WSC Today

When the walloping Webfoots of Oregon meet the Cougars of Washington State college today and tomorrow, there will be a drastic change in the Oregon lineup. Due to the rather feeble efforts of the Ducks in the last game with Oregon State, and also in recent practice sessions, Coach Bill Reinhart has solemnly sworn to reorganize his attack to function in the manner he believes it capable of doing.

Bill's first move was to put "Slug" Palmer in "Duke" Shaneman's place as catcher. Palmer, a veteran outfielder, has not been used as yet in conference games, but looks good behind the bat, and is a great friend of the pitchers. Unless Reinhart changes his mind at the last minute he will probably start the first Cougar game today.

Londahl Third Base

Captain Johnny Londahl was not exempt from the overhauling, either. He will be tried at third base now, instead of the keystone sack, and looks like a natural. Londahl possesses a fine throwing arm which helps him greatly in the new position. In place of Londahl at second Reinhart has moved

Means Arrested In Lindbergh Case

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(AP)—The world-wide search for the kidnaped Lindbergh baby was echoed dramatically today in the arrest of Gaston B. Means on a charge of obtaining $100,000 on false representations that he could obtain the child from his abductors.

Department of justice agents arrested the former justice department investigator after a secret inquiry into allegations that he had been paid the money by Mrs. Edward B. McLean, wife of the publisher of the Washington Post. Mrs. McLean said in a statement through her attorney, Albert W. Fox, that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, father of the kidnaped child, knew of her activities but that they were kept secret from her closest friends.

The weird negotiations conducted by Mrs. McLean, her attorney said, led to Aiken, South Carolina, where she met Means and a rough-looking individual armed with guns who represented himself to be one of the kidnaping gang.

Blue Streak To Carry Prom Queen to Events

The big blue car that will carry Queen Dorothy II, reigning princess of the realm of Junior Week-end and ruler of the Junior Prom tonight, to and from the various social events that make up her program for today and tomorrow, is a Graham-Paige Blue Streak, loaned by Taylor's Garage, 857 Pearl street.

A special chauffeur has been delegated to drive Queen Dorothy to and from the events, including the mothers' tea tomorrow afternoon at Gerlinger hall. Arrangements were made by John Hare, chairman of transportation.

UDALL HAS OPERATION

Fletcher Udall, a graduate of last year's class, was operated on yesterday for appendicitis. The operation was an emergency case and was performed at the Pacific Christian hospital. Udall's condition is reported as favorable.

New Officers

Co-ed Clothing Exhibit To Be Feature of Tea

A feature of the Mothers' tea at the Y. W. C. A. Friday afternoon will be an exhibit of dresses made by students in the clothing construction classes taught by Miss Mary E. Starr.

These dresses will show how a college girl with artistic ability and technical skill may clothe herself in the most becoming manner. The cost of these dresses should appeal particularly to those going to college on a limited budget.

A variety of styles and materials is included in the exhibit. There are dresses for campus wear, simple afternoon affairs, and dinners.

Orchestra, Choir To Present 'Samson and Delilah' Opera

With the final week of rehearsals in full swing for the production of Samson and Delilah, to be given at McArthur court Sunday afternoon as the final feature on the concert series sponsored by the Associated Students, Rex Underwood, professor of violin who will direct the presentation, declared Tuesday evening that he was highly pleased with the way the work was progressing. The opera will be staged by the combined forces of the University Symphony orchestra and the first division polyphonic choir, with Arthur Boardman and Agnes Petzold as soloists.

Over a hundred students of the University will take part in the presentation with 65 forming the orchestra which is being trained by Underwood, and 50 in the choir under the direction of Boardman. Over two months have been spent in preparing for the event.

The event, which will be the most pretentious thing of its kind ever attempted here, will be free to students upon presentation of their student body cards. Admission prices announced for others are 50 cents for reserved seats and 25 cents for general admission. Reserved seat sale will open Thursday.

EVERY freshman numeral-man, every Skull and Dagger pledge, and likewise Howard Steib and Bob Zurcher must be at the Kappa Sig corner at 8 o'clock tomorrow, in readiness to paint the O on Skinner's butte, orders Leighton Gee, chairman of frosh activities for Junior Week-end.

Beware, Frosh! Ready To Paint at 8 a.m. Tomorrow

And every Order of the O man must also be on hand at the same time to chaperon the freshman, Gee commands.
