

Unveiling Tops List of Events For Saturday

Painting of O To Open Day's Calendar
Banquet, Water Carnival, Lid Burning, Fete on Schedule

- SATURDAY'S EVENTS FOR JUNIOR WEEK-END
- 8:00—Painting of the O on Skinner's butte.
  - 9:00—Burning of frosh lids, Kincaid field.
  - 9:30—Frosh-soph tug of war at railroad bridge below Anchorage.
  - 10:15—Water carnival, in Canoe Fete bleachers.
  - 4-1:15—Unveiling of "Pioneer Mother" statue.
  - 5:30-8—Banquet for mothers, pioneers, students, McArthur court.
  - 5:30-6—Gymnastic exhibition at men's gym for dads.
  - 8:30—Canoe Fete.

With the unveiling by Barbara Barker of the Pioneer Mother statue, gift of Burt Brown Barker, at 4 o'clock as the day's highlight Junior Week-end will today enter the second day of its round of events.

The day's program will start at 8 this morning with the painting of the "O" on Skinner's Butte, coming to a glorious halt tonight at the conclusion of the "Fete Venetian" on the mill race.

"From the ridiculous to the sublime" could well describe the day's program. Burly athletes will early in the morning herd the University's most promising frosh to the top of Skinner's butte and there give the big concrete "O" a fresh coat of paint by forcing the yearlings to slide down on breeches' seat.

After a brief bit of ceremony when frosh lids will be formally and permanently discarded in the bonfire on Kincaid field at 9 o'clock, sophomores and freshmen both will repair to the railroad bridge over the mill-race and resume hostilities in the annual tug-of-war, with a chill bath in store for the losers. All these events are under the direction of Ralph Walstrom.

Spectators will gather at 10:15 on the bleachers at the mill-race, ready for Bob Needham's own show, the water carnival. Thrills and perhaps a few duckings are in order during canoe races, when frail crafts bearing the best canoeists of each campus living organization will try to paddle their way to victory, with silver cups as the rewards. Swimming races, fancy and comedy diving, water polo and canoe tilting will bring the show to a close at noon.

The afternoon will be largely devoted to entertaining visiting mothers.

Last Golf Match To Be Played Sunday

The intramural golf championship match between the Sigma Phi Epsilon and the Sigma Chi squads will be played tomorrow afternoon at the Eugene Country club course, with the probable starting time 2 p. m.

The struggle, which was originally slated to be fought yesterday afternoon, was postponed because of Junior Week-end activities.

The Sigma Chi lineup will likely be composed of Ross Smith, Ken Swan, Harry Weimer, and Bill Goodwin, while the SPE representatives will be Al Schmidt, Duane Frisbie, Bob Anderson, and Fred Davis.

Trial of Baker, Mann To Begin Monday Night

PORTLAND, Ore., May 6.—(AP)—Night court sessions will begin here Monday in order to expedite trial of the malfeasance and negligence case against Major George L. Baker and four co-defendants. Mayor Baker and City Commissioners John M. Mann and Earl Riley are accused of agreeing to a $200,000 overpayment for a municipal market site and Ofaf Laugaard, city engineer, and C. Lee Wilson were indicted as accessories. Wilson was president of the company which owned the market site.

Junior Week-End Queen

Queen Dorothy II, who was crowned last night at the Junior Prom as the ruler of Junior Week-end. With her four princesses she reigned last night at the prom, and the royal family will again rule at the Canoe Fete this evening. In real life the queens' name is Dorothy Hall.

Statue of 'Pioneer Mother' To Be Unveiled at 4 Today

Barbara Barker, Daughter Of Donor To Perform Formal Ceremony

Oregon will pay tribute to the pioneer mother today. At 4 o'clock this afternoon, the heroic bronze statue, the "Pioneer Mother," gift of Burt Brown Barker, vice-president of the University, will be unveiled. The statue, a masterpiece by A. Phimister Proctor, who created the figure of "The Pioneer" now on the campus, has been placed in the women's quadrangle between Gerlinger, Hendricks, and Susan Campbell halls. Hundreds of Oregon mothers

Mez Wins Mention In Ripley Contest

A freak of nature observed in his travels in Europe won honorable mention yesterday for Dr. John R. Mez, associate professor of economics, in the Ripley "Believe It or Not" contest being conducted by the Eugene Morning News.

"A certain year appears annually on a mountain side," Dr. Mez labeled his entry. "This phenomenon is found on the side of the mountain Hochgrat in the Bavarian Alps. It is near Oberstaufen in Allgau, popular summer resort. During March every year, when the snow melts away, certain patches of snow remain in the hollows of the mountainside, forming the widely visible number, '1927.'"

Is It Confidence Or 'Con' Game? Asks Charley

Stabbed Again
In Paris they shot the president; in Washington they knifed the public. Which is worse?

Before a public meeting of the senate committee Secretary Mills killed the tax bill, calling it an "atrocious and a disastrous blow to public confidence." In an earlier secret meeting I'll bet he used a different club.

Over a hundred million people will now be squeezed to protect the dead, the rich and the corporate. Every time you write a check, fill the gas tank, or see a 10-cent movie you'll pinch hit for a friend of the administration. But the sanctity of income and inheritance is preserved.

The Associated Press calls it a compromise; Webfoot Charley calls it a sell-out. Take your choice.

Obligingly,
WEBFOOT CHARLEY

Cougars Down Oregon Team By 8 to 3 Count

Washington State Squad Leads North Division

Webfoots Appear Ragged Before Onslaught of Sturdy Invaders

Northern Division Standings
	W. L. Pct.
Washington State	5 1 .875
Washington	3 1 .750
Oregon	1 2 .333
Oregon State	1 3 .250
Idaho	0 3 .000

By DICK NEUBERGER
Except for Johnny Anderson's pitching appearance in the ninth inning and their own one-run outburst in the second, Oregon's Webfoots did little to inspire confidence in their followers yesterday. They performed distressingly in the outer gardens and were none too steady in the infield as

Washington Buck Bailey State's Cougars lit on Ken Scales like a long-lost relative and pounded out an 8-to-3 victory. Although he decidedly was not himself, Scales was far from incompetent yesterday. Given encouraging support in the infield, he

Senior Committee To Assist in Lid Burning Ritual

Wilson Names 42 Men on Traditions Group To Report at 9

A special senior traditions committee to officiate at today's frosh lid burning ceremony was named yesterday by Hobart Wilson, class president. These men are asked to report with necessary equipment to Kincaid field at 9 o'clock this morning. The list is as follows:

Bob Allen, Orville Bailey, Wallace Baker, Bill Barendrick, Allen Bean, Ira Brown, Al Browne, Warren Cress, Willis Duniway, Wayne Emmott, Walter Evans, Charles Foster, Ferd Fletcher.

Thornton Gale, Glen Godfrey, Jack Gregg, Bob Holmes, Joe Hughes, Larry Jackson, Charles Jones, Ken Jette.

Harry Schienk, Thornton Shaw, Kelsey Slocum, Rex Sorenson, Kermit Stevens, Jack Stipe, Joe Stoll, Charles Stocklen, Dean Tuttle, Dave Wilson.

All Order of O men are also expected to be on hand for the ceremonies.

Mother's Group Photograph To Be Taken Today at 10

DON'T be shy, little mother! That big black thing on three sticks is not a machine gun, and the man hiding under the black cloth did not steal the Lindbergh baby.

It will only be the photographer trying to get a group picture of the visiting Oregon mothers for the special mothers' edition of the Emerald.

It is reported that every year fewer and fewer mothers are turning out for their group picture. This year the directorate hopes to see every mother present, standing in her particular place, beaming at the camera.

The photograph is scheduled to be taken immediately after the mass meeting this morning, at 10:30 a. m.

Oregon Mothers To Be Entertained By Varied Events

Statue Unveiling, Banquet, Fete Are Highlights Of Program

A day full of thrills has been planned for visiting mothers, starting with the water events and continuing through the mass meeting, luncheon, teas, statue unveiling, banquet, and canoe fete. Marian Chapman, general chairman of the Mother's day committee, has arranged a full day for the visitors.

Water sports will be held at the Anchorage at 10:15 a. m., and the mass meeting will follow immediately at 10:30 a. m. in Guild theatre hall. Luncheon will be served in living organizations. All student residences will hold open house today to the visiting pioneers and mothers. Anyone may enter any house at any time to rest as long as they desire.

The tea in the afternoon will be held at Hendricks hall from 2:30 until 4 p. m. Helen Raitanen, heading this committee, has appointed Adele Hitchman and Rhoe York to assist with the details.

The banquet in the evening will be served at McArthur court at 5:30, following the unveiling of the Pioneer Mother. Betty Anne Macduff has arranged places for 1200. Tickets are on sale at the

Sprained Ankle First Accident of Week-End

One minor accident of Junior Week-end was reported by the University dispensary yesterday afternoon. Ladd Sherman, sophomore in pre-law, suffered a badly turned ankle while running after George Pepelnjak, freshman in physical education.

Bob Hall, president-elect of the A. S. U. O., and Tom Ballantyne, freshman, carried Sherman to the dispensary, where an X-ray of the injury showed that it was not serious.

'Fete Venetian' Starts on Race At 8:30 Tonight

Ten Floats Entered in Annual Canoe Fete

'Venice Moderne' To Bear Queen and Princesses To Royal Throne

Fete Venetian!
Tall campaniles with gilded spires, an ornate corner of some old doge's palace, weather-stained mooring posts beside a picturesque Venetian canal—and then, through curtains of cloth-of-gold, royal barges, floating majestically downstream...

That's a picture of the 1932 Canoe Fete, as described by Hal Short, whose committee will today complete every detail of the fete that they hope to make the most beautiful in the history of the event.

Ten floats will glide through the curtains tonight into the view of some 2500 spectators. First of all will appear the float, "Venice Moderne," a colorful barge blending a modernistic treatment with the mood of old Venice. It will bear Queen Dorothy II, ruler of the realm of Junior Week-end, in her robes of coronation.

Queen Dorothy will review the procession from her throne high above the bandstand, facing the bleachers. Her four attendant princesses will be grouped about her.

The entries to date are un-

University Band To Open Annual Spring Concerts

First of Series Scheduled Tomorrow at 8:00 P. M., Stehn Announces

The University concert band, under the direction of John Stehn will open its annual spring term outdoor concert series tomorrow evening on the mill-race at 7 p. m. These concerts are free to the public.

The first of these concerts scheduled for last Sunday evening was cancelled and will be given this Sunday, accompanied by Phil Moll, guest soloist from Portland. Moll will play several numbers on the vibra-harp.

The vibra-harp is rapidly find-

Mother's Registration List Has 250 Names

Only about 250 mothers had registered at the booths last night when they closed at 5 o'clock, however they will be open from 9 o'clock this morning until 4 in the afternoon so that mothers coming late may register.

The cups, awarded to the men's and women's houses having the largest per cent of visiting mothers, will be given tonight just before the canoe fete.

Awarded Cups

These two students were last night named winners of the cups awarded annually to the outstanding man and woman in the junior class. Robert Hall (above), winner of the Koyl cup; and Betty Ann Macduff, winner of the Gerlinger cup.

Doumer Killed by Russian Fanatic at Paris Exhibition

President of France Lives Twelve Hours After Shots Fired

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY
(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, May 7.—(Saturday)—(AP)—Paul Doumer, venerable president of France, died at 4:40 a. m. today (7:40 p. m. Friday, Pacific standard time) from two bullet wounds inflicted by a "White" Russian fanatic who shot him down yesterday as he was attending a war veterans' charity exhibition. He was 75 years old.

The president lingered almost exactly 12 hours. Seven physicians did their utmost to save him, resorting to numerous blood transfusions and to the use of oxygen to assist his failing heart.

When the end came the entire French cabinet was assembled in a room at Beaujon hospital adjoining the one occupied by M. Doumer. At the bedside were the president's wife, one of his daughters.

Senate Produces New Revenue Bill

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(AP)—A brand new billion dollar revenue bill patterned to meet conflicting views and to balance the budget today was turned out of the senate finance committee's whirligig.

Secretary Mills and the committee got together and in the record period of one hour rewrote the entire complete tax program, compromising here and there to re-adjust a schedule of rates that had been written and rewritten many times in two weeks of turbulent sessions.

Democratic and Republican leaders joined in supporting the measure, which got informal approval also from the treasury head.

Income taxes were modified from their high level of yesterday; "punitive business taxes" were eliminated or changed; a dozen "nuisance" taxes in the house bill were killed; the July 1, 1934, limit on the life of the new excise rates and postal increases was restored.

Hall, Macduff Awarded Koyl, Gerlinger Cups

Two Juniors Receive Merit Trophies

Sigma Hall- Kappa Alpha Theta Receive Trophies For Scholarship

Betty Anne Macduff, Robert Hall.

The names of these two juniors were inscribed last night on the Gerlinger and Koyl cups, awarded annually to the third-year students judged the best all-around woman and man in the class.

Presentation of the awards was made during intermission at the Junior Prom. Mrs. Hazel Prutsman Schwering, dean of women, awarded the Gerlinger cup, and Virgil D. Earl, dean of men, presented the Koyl trophy.

The Gerlinger cup, given by Mrs. George T. Gerlinger of Portland, a former regent of the University, has been awarded each year since 1918. The Koyl cup, gift of Charles W. Koyl, graduate of the University in the class of 1911, has been presented annually since 1914.

Character, scholarship, service, and interest in activities are the bases for the awards to the outstanding junior man and woman.

The Burt Brown Barker scholarship trophies, given annually by the vice-president of the University to the men's and women's organizations placing highest for the year in scholarship, were presented to Sigma hall and Kappa Alpha Theta.

Weird Chinese gods of war leered from each end of McArthur court last night at the hundreds of students who thronged the Igloo for the Junior Prom, highlight of the opening day of Junior Week-end. In a scene of Oriental beauty, Queen Dorothy II (Dorothy Hall) was crowned ruler of Junior Week-end by Bob Hall, junior class president. High above the dance floor, Queen Dorothy sat enthroned, and watched her subjects as they danced to the music of Abbie Green and his Midnite Sons. Members of her court, the Princesses Frances, Maryellen, Freda and Edith were with the queen.

Mothers visiting on the campus were given special seats in a balcony section from which they could see the dance floor.

Punch, 45 gallons of it, was served from decorative pagodas at each end of the court.

Sanford Platt was chairman for the Prom: Howard Ragan, assistant; Charles Stryker, construction; Marjorie Haas, patrons; Louise Ansley, secretary; Phyllis Stokes, programs; Jessie Steele, refreshments; Ed Wells, decorations; Ed Smith, transportation; and Wally Laurence, tickets.

Manchoukou Likened To Early United States

CHANGCHUN, Manchuria, May 6.—(AP)—Henry Pu-Yi, erstwhile boy emperor of China, in an exclusive interview today likened the young state of Manchoukou to the United States in its infancy.

The last of the famous Manchus, who so long bent China and Manchuria to their will, spent an hour with the correspondent today detailing the hopes, aims, anticipations and accomplishments of Manchoukou.

The new state, he said, now barely two months old, had met all expectations to date, and in the future would stress governmental, monetary and educational reforms.

Ann Harding Files Suit For Divorce in Reno

RENO, Nev., May 6.—(AP)—Scarcely four hours after they had greeted each other with an affectionate embrace, Ann Harding, noted film star, filed suit here today to divorce Harry Bannister, the husband she wants to free so he may pursue a career of his own.

Miss Harding's complaint, which was prepared after her arrival here this morning from Hollywood, charged cruelty. It gave no details, except that she and Bannister were married in New York City October 21, 1926.

The court was asked to approve an agreement which arranges custody of the couple's 4-year-old daughter Jane.

Oregon To Pay Tribute To Pioneer Mothers

The "Pioneer Mother," gift to the University by Burt Brown Barker, vice-president, will be formally unveiled at 4 o'clock today. Barbara Barker, daughter of the donor, will perform the ceremony. The picture above shows the statue, which is the work of A. Phimister Proctor, noted sculptor. In the inset is Elvira Brown Barker, the donor's mother, to whom the statue is dedicated.
