Pitchers' Dual Won by Idaho Off Ken Scales

Oregon's Hurler Loses Tough Battle, 1-0

'Fred Merkle' Incident in Seventh Canto Wrecks Webfoot's Chances

(Continued from Page One) masterfully. His control was excellent, only one man working him for a free trip, and for four innings he hurled no-hit, no-run ball. Webfoots Falter at Plate Ken also collected one of Oregon's four hits, a slashing single in the fifth. The other three blows were distributed among Stevens, Londahl and Chester. Johnny's was a double. The members of the front-end of the Webfoot batting order failed to hit their caps. The first four innings were uneventful, Idaho staging its decisive revolt in the fifth. McNeely opened the inning promisingly with a one-bagger through Londahl, but stayed where he was while Scales fanned Jacobsen. Then Hayden laced a single past shortstop and McNeely went to second. The only walk issued by Scales then went to Williams and the bases were jammed. Schutte, the lumbering catcher, slammed one at Londahl and Stevens bobbled the throw as McNeely hiked in with the only run. The score aroused Scales to such an extent that he savagely whiffed Jacobs and Geraughty. Circus Catch Saves Idaho In Oregon's half of the fifth, dire events were prevented only by a grand circus catch by Hayden, Idaho left-fielder. He jumped far up on the left-field barrier to flag Londahl's long fly. It looked like the ball was due for an excursion over the fence, but Hayden snagged it just below the barbed-wire. Then came the Oregon seventh and the prize "Fred Merkle" of the current season. Londahl was safe on Lee's error and marched around to third when Chester singled over second. This brought Scales up to the plate with one man down, Shaneman having grounded out previously. Ken hoisted the second pitch deep into center field where it was speared by Geraughty. Londahl could have ambled home after the catch, but left the safety of the bag too soon and was called out by the base-umpire.

Webfoots Impotent After 7th Following this incident, Oregon succumbed in short order. Mikulak, who fanned in the ninth but was safe when Schutte juggled the third strike, was the only man to reach first safely after that. However, he was forced by Shaneman, who, in turn, perished at second when Londahl hit into another force-out.

That Idaho had lost seven successive games didn't seem to be preying on the Vandals' minds yesterday. They went about their business with efficiency and dispatch, disposing of Oregon like they did such things every day and twice on Sundays. The Webfoots obviously were "pressing" and tried so hard for hits that they only got hold of Jacobs' offerings at scattered intervals.

Either Ike Donin or Johnny Anderson will be Bill Reinhart's pitching delegate today. Ossie Edwards is in the infirmary with tonsillitis. John H. Straub, dean emeritus, was at the game. He sat in the west bleachers with his friend, Professor H. C. Howe, Oregon athletic representative in the Pacific Coast conference.

Highlights Observed As Vandals Conquer Oregon

WHERE has the age-old Webfoot spirit gone? To watch the boys slouch around in yesterday's game with the Idaho Vandals one would think that they all had lost their best friend. There was no noticeable chatter to be heard in the field, and for the most part the Duck batsmen were swinging at Jacobs' slants like wooden Indians. Unless some remedy is discovered for this spirit, which is absolutely necessary on a winning ball club, it is doubtful that the Webfoots will rank very high in the race this year.

Bill Reinhart was swinging at Jacobs' slants like wooden Indians. Unless some remedy is discovered for this spirit, which is absolutely necessary on a winning ball club, it is doubtful that the Webfoots will rank very high in the race this year.

Ken Scales, the Oregon pitcher, hurled good ball during the entire game, but some sloppy fielding on the part of the infield got him in a hole in the fifth, when the Vandals scored their lone tally. Statistics show that Scales threw a total of 103 balls during the nine innings, an average of less than 12 an inning, which is good chucking in any league. Tough luck, Ken.

The Ducks lost their only chance to score in the seventh canto when Londahl doubled and went down to third. Scales came to bat with one man down and lofted a high fly to center field. Londahl could easily have scored after the catch with the tying run, but left his bag before the fly was caught, and was automatically out, thus retiring the side.

The good old baseball college was again on deck to cheer the boys on, and though its efforts were in vain they added color to the somewhat drab ball game. The poor Alpha Delta Sigma initiates took quite a beating from "Prexy" Heyden and his gang.

Husky Squad Doped To Win Annual Meet

Washington Distance Men Good

Both Squads Boast Two Victories in Early Season Meets

By MALCOLM BAUER When Colonel William L. Hayward's Webfoot go to their marks against the University of Washington tracksters Saturday they will do so with the odds against them. Because of early season marks the Huskies are favored to come out on top in the dual tussle, but the Oregon team has shown by its two victories so far this spring that they will be no easy competition for the athletes from the north.

Another game today at 3:30 on the same old Reinhart field. The Webfoots should be out for blood today. The Vandals are tied with the Ducks for the tail-end position in the Northwest conference at this writing and the winner today will jump a notch.

Davis Cup Matches In Second Round; Italians Victorious

Play on the International Tennis front Wednesday had brought the European and North American zones of Davis Cup competition to the second round.

The victory of Italy over Egypt completed the first round of European play yesterday as the United States, Mexico, Australia, and Cuba finished preparations for the start of their second round ties in the North American zone today. The United States will meet the Central American republic at New Orleans and Australia will clash with Cuba at Havana.

The only surprise in European play was the defeat of Czechoslovakia by Austria. The Czechs, with the same team, were zone finalists against England last year. Japan was one round ahead of the field in the European zones with a first round bye and a 5-0 victory over Greece, but the other nations still have second round matches to play.

Willamette Drops Puget Sound Second Time

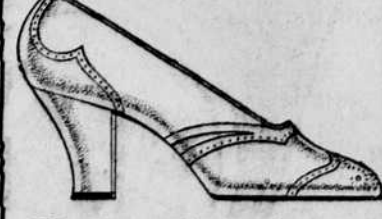

TACOMA, May 11.—(AP)—Willamette swept the two game series with the College of Puget Sound defeating the Loggers 6 to 5 today in their northwest conference baseball game. Puget Sound scored twice in the last of the ninth but the rally was halted with the bases full.

Roosevelt Gets Five Delegates in Alaska

JUNEAU, Alaska, May 11.—(AP)—Leading Republicans in total votes cast for the first time since 1918, Alaska Democrats today had elected five national convention delegates instructed to vote for the nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt and a contest for the sixth place remained to be settled between a Roosevelt backer and uninstructed candidates.

Feminine Golfers Must End Matches By Sunday Night

ALL contestants in the women's golf tournament must have completed their current-scheduled matches by Sunday night, Florence Tennant announced yesterday. She also said the semi-finals must be played by a week from Sunday, thereby making it imperative to play all matches as quickly as possible.

There will be plenty of attractive prizes, says Miss Tennant, who is eager for as large an entry list as possible. A leather bag will be given away, as will a set of matched irons and two boxes of golf balls. Phone all scores to Florence Tennant at 204, the Kappa Kappa Gamma house.

Paul Starr is shown by his two victories so far this spring that they will be no easy competition for the athletes from the north.

Both squads hold victories over the Oregon State cindermen. Hec Edmundson's men ran rough shod over the Aggies in the opening meet of the northern division season burying the O. S. C. team under a 92-38 score. The Webfoot chalked up a win over their rivals from Corvallis when they scored five wins to three for the Orangemen in the annual relay meet.

Last Friday Washington turned back the strong W. S. C. squad, 68-63. The Oregon team followed Saturday with a victory over the Idaho Vandals, running up an 83-47 score. As they stand now, each with two victories and no losses, there is sure to be a battle Saturday with each squad out to maintain its perfect record.

It is mainly because of their superior strength in the distance runs that the Washington tracksters are favored Captain Genung in the mile, Rhuddy and Webber in the mile, and Harrel in the two-mile are sure point-getters for the Purple and Gold.

Oregon's hopes will lie with Captain Paul Starr in the dashes, Johnny Marrs and Art Holman in the 440, Holman and Hubert Allen in the hurdle events, Bill Palmer and Al Edwards in the javelin, and Allen and Palmer in both the broad and the high jump.

Downtown Eugene Becomes Heated as Grid Epic Nears

Kostka and Pepelnjak To Head Rival Teams on Friday Night

By BRUCE HAMBY Friday night's football game between Stan Kostka's Doughboys and Pepper Pepelnjak's Marines has aroused so much interest among grid fans of Eugene that prominent writers, radio announcers and other local lights are already flinging dire threats around. The wrestling match-

Willie Paul es have been called off, the sidewalks will be folded up, and downtown Eugene, en masse, plans to move out to Hayward field. Rivalry between the two elevens is becoming heated as the game draws near and Coach Prink Callison is worried over the prospect of paying out all the gate receipts for hospital expenses. If nothing else happens, a fierce contest is promised.

Incidentally, Graduate Manager Hugh Rosson announced last night that students would be admitted to Hayward field on their student body cards. The 50 cents admission charge applies only to townspeople.

Roy Craft, sports editor of the Register-Guard, has thrown his support to Kostka and his outfit. Russ Hughes, announcer of ancient games over KORE, swears that Pepelnjak's outfit has a cinch. The loser has agreed to climb a goal post.

Two of the outstanding linemen on the varsity were lost for the game yesterday. Jim Gemio, center, was operated on for appendicitis Tuesday and Willie Paul, tackle, is suffering from an injured foot that may keep him on the sidelines.

The completed lineups for the game were announced last night. The Doughboys will line up with Swanson at center, Eagle and Bishop, tackles, Giesecke and McDonald, guards, and Pozzo and Bailey, ends. With Kostka in the backfield are Aldrich and Bobbitt, fullbacks, Brown, half, and Bowerman and Renner, quarterbacks. Pepelnjak's team will consist of Chase, center; Gagnon and Fury, guards; Morgan, Call, and Bagley, tackles, and Morse and Johnson, ends. In the Marine backfield will be Walsh, Terjeson, Parke, and Parker.

Anybody Seen 'Kelly'? It's Tongue's Derby Hat

The advertising men are advertising. Over in the classified column it is supposed to tell about a derby hat Tom Tongue and his pals lost yesterday while they were advertising Alpha Delta Sigma. The derby was one of the "dingbats" used by the neophytes.

It seems that Tom had the hard hat on top of the car in which the four initiates were riding and that as they drove away from Thirteenth and Kincaid streets, it fell off. The boys, pardon us, advertising men, hunted around several minutes later but there was no trace of the missing "kelly."

Mysterious Bunk ONCE in a blue moon now some bright, old-fashioned cynic says: "Aw, I never read the advertisements. They're full of bunk." But when one starts to look for it, the "bunk" in advertising shows a mysterious tendency to be absent. Specimens of it are hard to locate. The reason for that is simple. Bad goods cannot be successfully advertised. To stand up under the pitiless glare of publicity, merchandise must be honest. It must live up to its promises. Otherwise you would quickly cease to buy it. So advertisers discovered long ago that for them, too, honesty was the best policy. More!—the only possible policy, if they were to remain advertisers! Read the advertisements. They are not full of bunk. On the contrary, they are full of honest information and interesting news. They show you ways to be more comfortable. They make life easier. They help you to be happier and healthier. They teach you prices and values. the Emerald
