Victors Beat Yeomen in Final Tilt, 9 to 12

Champions Play Sparkling Game Afield To Aid Eva in Victory

Sigma Alpha Epsilon soft ball way to the intramural crown championship by trouncing the Yeomen yesterday afternoon, in the final game of the play-off series. The score was 9 to 2.

Sol Schneider, Yeoman pitcher, gave up ten hits and ten walks. These combined with four errors on the part of his team mates gave the victors their runs. Don Eva, SAE hurler, held the Yeomen to seven hits and two passes.

The Yeomen opened the scoring in the first when Al Schneider tripled, and Wade singled to score him. The SAE's tallied in the third when Eva singled to J. Smith. Jackson singled and advanced to second when Eva was caught on third. King walked, Jackson stole third and King took second. Baker fanned but Van Dine beat out a bunt to score Jackson. King stole home on Wicks' error. Two more walks filled the bases but Walton struck.

Robertson opened the fifth for the SAE's by beating out a bunt. Phillips struck out, Walton followed him but Robertson advanced. Kunkle reached first on an error and Robertson came home. Eva walked; Jackson and King hit to score Kunkle and fill the sacks. Baker and Van Dine walked, scoring Eva and Jackson. Robertson up for the second time in the inning, scored King and Baker on an error. Phillips fled to Ramp.

The SAE's scored again in the sixth on hits by Walton and Eva. The Yeomen retaliated in the seventh when Al Schneider's sacrifice fly drove in E. Smith.

Remember What They Did

Here are the Oregon track men who did most to upset the University of Washington here two years ago. Left to right, above: Ralph Hill, who set a new world's record in the mile run to beat Rufus Kizer; Claire "Kelly" McKennon, who edged out Hartley of Washington in a dope reversal in the 440, and Ed Moeller, stalwart discus thrower, who whipped the platter 156 feet to beat Paul Jessup. Below is Colonel William L. Hayward, Oregon coach. The Huskies come here again today, meeting Colonel Hayward's Webfoots at Hayward field at 2 o'clock.

U. of O. Foils Men Will Meet Husky Fencers Monday

Northern Team Leaders in Conference With Perfect Score

Three University of Washington swordsmen will arrive here Monday to stage an exhibition match with the Webfoot fencers.

The Washington team of Corning, Richard, and Erwin has achieved a great deal of prominence in Northwest fencing circles by defeating every team in the conference. They were recently victorious in the team competition at the Pacific Northwest fencing tournament held at Seattle. Norris Porter, No. 1 man on the Oregon team, won individual honors at this meet.

The opening matches will be held Monday night at 8 in the men's gymnasium. Other bouts will follow on Tuesday. All matches will be free. The Oregon team has not, as yet, been selected.

All matches in the team competition will be with the foil, but exhibitions of the use of the sabre and epee will also be given.

Australia Advances in International Cup Play

HAVANA, May 13. (AP)—Australia's tennis aces, Jack Crawford and Harry O. Hopman, sailed through Cuba's representatives with the loss of only one set in two matches today to gain an unbeatable lead in the semifinal round of Davis Cup competition in the North American zone.

After Crawford had trounced Ricardo Morales in the opening singles match of the series, 6-3, 6-1, 7-5, Hopman put Australia two up by beating the Cuban champion, Gustavo Vollmer, 6-2, 6-1, 4-6, 6-1.

Football Sidelights By MALCOLM BAUER

THIRTEEN to nothing! And on Friday the thirteenth.

Even if "Pep" Peplnjak and his army of yellow-shirted gridsters did drop last night's civil war with Stan Kostka and his green tribe, they put up a great fight. Every man on the yellow team put all he had into every play following the two touchdowns which spelled defeat for them, and got enough results to stage rallies with each setback. If Callison's men show up as well next year as they did in this spring practice game, he has little to fear about the showing they will make.

Nobody starred last night. It was a game of stars. Parke, Bobbitt, Kostka, Brown, Walsh, and Peplnjak, in the open fields, all did some fine open field running. Pozzo and Morse were the outstanding wing-men. The former's black head of hair popped up here and there in every play, and he was on the business end of his share of the tackles. Big Bill Morgan, captain-elect for next year, played a stellar game on the line for the Yellow Jackets.

Half of the men on the field were freshmen, and how those frosh can play! They played along with the best of last year's varsity, and if there was any edge, I believe the yearlings had it. They should be part of a great team next year.

Big Ed Moeller, former world's champion in the discus, appeared in an exhibition between halves. He warmed up with a few tosses of 145 and 150 feet, and then, taking off his warm-ups, heaved the platter across five of the white lines marking off the field for a throw measuring close to 160 feet. Considering the coldness of the night and the brief warming-up, Ed should do much better than this this summer when he plans to try for a place on the United States Olympic games team.

Rooks Trounce Eugene Preppers in Track Meet

CORVALLIS, Ore., May 13.—(AP)—Oregon State college's rook track team won first place in a triangular meet here today with Corvallis and Eugene high schools. The rooks won 12 firsts for a total of 99 points. Eugene was second with 14 points and Corvallis last with 13.

Kjones Krooked Kalls Kost Kappa Kittenists Kontest

Kappa Kappa Gamma's march toward the intersexual kittenball championship of the campus received a setback yesterday when they bowed to the Phi Sig muffers something or other to 3.

"Terror" Tennant, Kappa hurler, was invincible with his sizzling "Bean" ball and was breezing along in nice style until Right Fielder Patrick stopped to powder her nose while chasing a fly.

"Toughie" Thomas, heavy slugging infielder, "Bambino" Butler, fly spearing first sacker, and "Terror" Tennant starred for the Kappas while "Gypper" Jones, umpire, was the shining light of the Phi Sig troupe.

Features of the game occurred when Greenman slid into second and then again when Greenman caught a fly.

"Amp nertz, we'll bring our own ump next time," was Captain Tennant's only comment on the game.

Frosh Battle Rooks Today; Time Changed

Game To Start at 3:30 Instead of 10:30

Reinhart Field To Be Scene Of Second Conflict Between Nines

Game time for the Frosh-Rook baseball contest, originally scheduled for 10 a. m. today, has been changed to 3:30 p. m., it was announced yesterday by the athletic department. This will give sport fans an opportunity to have their fill, for the track meet between Oregon and Washington, starting at 2 p. m., will be over just in time to witness the clash between the first year men of the two state schools.

Coach Jack O'Brien's Ducklings will be out to even up the count on the rooks for the defeat handed them at Corvallis last Friday, 9 to 6. Bill Lake, the lad who stepped in and relieved Dick Prouty in the last encounter with the score of 9 to 3 against him, and not only held the Rooks scoreless for the remainder of the game, but knocked a tremendous home run in his first time at bat, is expected to start the tilt today. Lake is an ex-University high school star, so he is a local product. O'Brien will doubtless start the same lineup he has been using in all past encounters. Chuck Nicely has been showing first rate form behind the bat, and is the source of much of the pep shown by the freshmen this year. George ("East") Linn will hold down the first sack. In fielding he has been looking fine thus far, but his stick work leaves much to be desired.

Clausen at Second

Wes Clausen, midget all-star for two years in the prep loop in Portland, is taking care of the Keystone sack in great fashion, although it is not the position he won his laurels in while playing for Jefferson high. He has been made over from an outfielder. At short stop O'Brien has probably the flashiest fielder of the outfit in Ernie Garbarino. This young man covers plenty of ground and has proven a very steady player. His hitting has been of high caliber, also.

Fred Fowler, at third base, is another prep star from the City of Roses, where he, too, was chosen on the mythical nine. As in the case of Clausen, Fowler is another made-over fly-chaser, and is filling his new role in great style. Because of his great hitting strength Fowler is stationed at clean-up in the batting order. Young Roland McCully is holding down the left field post. "Mac" looks like the club mascot at first sight, but once he beats out a bunt, or makes a sensational catch of a difficult ball, all thoughts of age, etc., go right away, for he's one of the hardest workers on the squad.

Green To Start

In the center garden is another "recovery" by the name of Green. He covers plenty of territory out there, but lacks a bit in hitting. Green looked good at the plate in the frosh's last practice game with Eugene high, however, piling out two nice bingles.

The old reliable, Stan Kostka, now that he can devote all of his time to baseball since spring football practice is over, is the best bet for right field. Hal Dilley has been holding down the position during the past two games, but Kostka, with his batting power, will doubtlessly replace him.

The Oregon State rooks boast a strong, well balanced outfit, but the Ducklings claim them to be a cinch, so quite a battle is promised. The time of the game, again, is 3:30, on Reinhart field.

Webfeet Prepared to Meet With Huskies on Track Today

Colonel Bill Hayward will trot his Webfeet on Hayward field today where they tangle with the University of Washington tracksters in a dual meet. Hec Edmondson, Husky coach, had his men, 18 strong, working out on the local oval yesterday afternoon. The meet is doped to be a hard fought one with the Huskies given a slight edge because of their superior strength in the distance runs.

Oregon's chances will be considerably bolstered by Tom Moran, crack half-miler, who has been unable to run so far this year because of a weak heart. He will be in suit this afternoon, however, and should give the Washington captain, Genung, plenty to think about in his pet event.

In the other events on the program, the Oregon entries will be much the same as participated against Idaho a week ago. If there is anything the Oregon cindermen want to do this year, it is to beat the Huskies, and today they will be out to do just that thing. Although they are the underdogs, if they get the breaks, the Webfeet might come out on top. The spirit which Hayward has instilled into his athletes during the past week has keyed them up to such a pitch that the ten to twenty point average conceded the northern school might be overcome with a few breaks.

The Oregon entries are as follows: 100 yard dash: Starr, Bale, Hamilton. 220 yard dash: Starr, Bale, Hamilton. Mile: Hunter. 440 yard dash: Marrs, Holman, Rollwage. High hurdles: Allen, McCoy. 880 yard run: Moran, Dolloff. Two mile: Makinen, Gray. Low hurdles: Holman, McCoy. High jump: Palmer, Allen. Broad jump: Palmer, Allen, Burr. Javelin: Palmer, Edwards. Shot put: Hall, Hakanson. Discus: Hall, Hakanson, Clarke. Pole vault: Kelliher, McCoy. Relay: Holman, Marrs, Rollwage, Hamilton.

ROBINS TROUNCE REDS

CUBS NOSE OUT BRAVES

CHICAGO, May 13.—(AP)—The Cubs rallied for two runs in the ninth today to defeat Boston 3 to 2 and square their series. The victory put Chicago back three games in front of the Braves. Boston 2 9 2, Chicago 3 11 2. Zachary, Cantwell, and Hargrave; Bush and Hartnett.

New York at Pittsburgh postponed; cold and wet grounds.

Errors Costly for Oregon State Team

CORVALLIS, Ore., May 13.—(AP)—University of Washington won a coast conference baseball game from Oregon State college here today. The score was 9 to 3. Both teams collected 11 hits but Hopper, Washington pitcher, succeeded in keeping the blows well scattered. Oregon State errors were costly and resulted in many unearned runs for the Huskies. In the ninth inning Nelson stretched a single into a home run through Baechtel's error in left field.

Washington was held scoreless until the fifth inning when three hits, two walks and an error gave them four runs. The two teams play again Saturday. Score: Washington 9 11 1, Oregon State 3 11 5. Hopper and Harnett; Peterson and Kemma.

Marines Lose To Doughboys By 13-0 Count

from Brown to Bowerman netted the extra point. The game on the whole was slow and uninteresting. Neither team opened up, and only line plays and an occasional pass were used. Neither Kostka nor Peplnjak, the rival captains, flashed anything unusual, the worries of leadership apparently weighing them down.

Captain-elect Bill Morgan and Butch Morse were the outstanding players, along with Elmer Brown and Bud Pozzo. Few plays got through Morgan's side of the line, while Morse made more than his share of tackles. Brown stood out with his smashing ball-carrying.

The Marines staged a 90-yard march in the final period, but lost the ball on downs on the Doughboys' nine-yard line just before the final gun. A 45-yard return of a punt by Ralph Terjesof and a 35-yard run by Joe Walsh on the following play put Peplnjak's team in scoring position, but the yellow-jersied players were unable to get the ball over the line. Last night's game ended the long two-month spring practice grind. No more football will be played until next fall, when the 1932 Coast conference season will start.

Rush Hughes, KORE announcer, did his level best to climb the sole goal post on Hayward field as his debt to Roy Craft, and did so, aided by a ladder.

Lineups: Doughboys: Swanson, Cuppoletti, Giesecke, Eagles, Bishop, Bailey, Pozzo, Brown, Kostka, Aldrich, Bobbitt. Marines: Hughes, C., Gagnon, Morgan, Bagley, Morse, Thomas, Terjesof, Parke, Peplnjak, Walsh.

Substitutions: Marines—Chase for Hughes; Parke for Peplnjak; Johnson for Fury; Rae for Bagley. Doughboys—Sullivan for Cuppoletti; Rushlow for Bobbitt; Sinclair for Pozzo, and McDonald for Sinclair.

Referee—Shy Huntington. Umpire, Skeet Manerud. Head linesman, Hal Chapman. Field judge, Chappie King.

Gage Makes Rental Survey of Eugene

The class in real estate, under Daniel D. Gage, associate professor in business administration is compiling a survey upon rentals and their relation to the present depression. This survey is being conducted in conjunction with a similar one under the supervision of John M. Rae, assistant professor in business administration, upon the general relation of prices today and those of 1929. Gage hopes to find the relative drop of rentals during this period and that of all commodities.

At first the class will determine the number of houses and apartments occupied, and then will select a representative group of 100 apartments and determine the price reductions.

The survey is expected to have reached a conclusion by the 25th of this month, at which time results will be published.

Humorous Debate Will Be Given Over KORE

Students in the classes in introductory speech will speak over station KORE regularly every Monday afternoon between 4:30 and 5 o'clock, according to an announcement made by Walter E. Hempstead Jr., instructor in English, yesterday afternoon.

The well-known humorous debate, "Resolved, That the father is no longer the head of the house," will be the subject of the first appearance next Monday.
