

Nobody's Business

By BRUCE HAMBY

These three fellows from Seattle by the names of Muczynski, Bufkin and Su'kosky are football Top-sys. They just grew up and came from nowhere. And now the Husky publicity writers are shooting the works on them to be more explicit they came from St. Martins, a small prep school between Tacoma and Seattle used for farming purposes by Washington—and we don't mean farming like plowing fields or riding in hay wagons. All come from somewhere around Chicago and are sophomores this year. According to the sports staff scout No. X4, who once saw them in action, the Husky press notices are not a bit exaggerated.

Mr. Bufkin was the big star of last year's St. Martin's eleven, which defeated the Washington frosh by a couple of touchdowns. He is fast and a good open field runner. Mr. Muczynski is his running mate at halfback. He is a punter on a type like Joe Paglia and has been known to carry the ball at times with great success. Mr. Bufkin, the fullback, is another of Mike Mikulak's rivals. Practically every school on the coast is playing a game of pitting their fullback against Mike and using the situation as a pretty publicity gag. U. C. L. A. is the latest with Joe Keeble, of the Los Angeles Keebles. Sulkosky is the gentleman Royal Brougham of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer wrote Mike about in the columns of a Portland paper. He is big and fast and is reputed to be a great defensive back.

If all three function properly there should be a bit of cheering for the boys. Rah! Rah! Rah Muc... Mu... Muz... Ah, make it for Cherberg, the quarter.

Eighteen Events Make Up Campus Sports Program

Eighteen activities will comprise the 1932-33 intramurals, according to Paul R. Washke, director of the sports. These sports are golf, tennis, horseshoes, handball, Sigma Delta Psi trials, swimming, squash wrestling, boxing, volleyball, ping pong, fencing, soft ball, baseball, archery, relays, track, and basketball.

In order to enter a student must have a rating of B, or better in his health examination. No participants will be allowed to enter without this rating.

In case of protests a special board has been appointed by the administrative board for the purpose of giving a fair hearing to all concerned. Parties who enter protests should have a very good reason for doing so.

Thomas for President Club Will Be Formed

Closely following the visit of Norman Thomas, socialist candidate for president, to Oregon, a group of students will meet at the "Y" hut tonight at 7 o'clock to form a "Thomas for President" club.

Such organizations have been established in about 150 colleges and universities throughout the United States. Both men and women are invited to attend tonight's meeting. Preliminary plans and a regular meeting time and place will be discussed.

Pay Cash and Pay Less

IF THE COLLEGE MAN WEARS IT

WE SELL IT

New Today

- ◆ Sweaters
- ◆ Trench Coats
- ◆ Tweed Trousers
- ◆ Kennel Socks
- ◆ C. P. O. Shirts
- ◆ Suede Coats

You'll Like Our Service

Eric Merrell

Clothes for Men
825 Willamette St. 825

Prink Puts Finishing Touches on Webfoots for Husky Go

Oregon Squad Drills Behind Barred Gates

No Serious Injuries Mar Duck Chances

Frosh Provide Some Opposition For Regulars in Busy Sessions

By BOB RIDDLE

Secret practice has been the schedule for Prink Callison's Webfoots for the past two days as the squad drills for the crucial game with the University of Washington next Saturday on Multnomah field in Portland. Only players, coaches, and managers have been admitted to Hayward field.

Following the Santa Clara victory, Coach Callison drilled the team on weaknesses shown against Bronco plays. He then started working on Husky plays brought back from the Washington-Montana game by Gene Shields, line coach.

Frosh Battle Varsity

Freshman candidates under Irv Schulz have formed the opposition for the varsity. Tonight the frosh plan to run a few Washington plays. To date their activity has consisted of scrimmaging with the second and third string elevens.

Trainer Bill Hayward announced that the players came out of the Santa Clara contest unscathed physically. The only one that took any kind of a beating was Mike Mikulak, and it was very noticeable that the Broncos were "laying" for him. It is an impossibility to get him to admit the fact that his shoulder is a little sore. He should be in good shape for the Husky tussle.

Morgan To See Action

Alex Eagle, sophomore tackle who filled Bill Morgan's position so capably last Saturday, came up with a bad charley-horse yesterday and spent most of the day on the rubbing table. Otherwise the entire squad is fit. Capt. Bill Morgan will definitely be able to participate. With the fine material at tackle Callison may decide not to use him until his wrist is entirely strengthened but he will be sure to see some action.

Advance dope gives the Huskies quite a team this season, and Scout Shields claims the two to be about on a par. Should the Ducks display such an attack as they of their last stand Jimmy Phelan, mentor at the Washington institution, will still be left holding the now traditional goose-egg, but should over-confidence haunt the ranks of the Webfoots they are liable to take a severe setback.

Many Tickets Sold

Sam Wilderman, publicity director for the associated students, called from Portland last night to announce that a near sell-out for the game was expected. Portland and Seattle fans are excited about the battle, he said. More than 15,000 tickets had been sold by Monday.

CLASSIFIED

SPECIAL—Dresses made for $3 and up. Also remodeling prices reasonable. Singer Sewing Machine Shop, 640 Willamette, Ph. 1358.

NEIGHBORHOOD Beauty Shop. Ringlette Perm. Wave, complete $3.50. Finger wave 35c. Marcel 50c. Shampoo 35c. Open evenings and Sunday by appointment. 576 E. 16th Ave. Phone 2376-W.

FOR SALE—Ping pong tables, nets. Call Sims, 719-J.

FOR RENT—Furnished apt., 3 rms. and private bath, large closets. Entire upper story. No other tenants. Four blocks to univ. Tel. and water free. Approved for students. 1630 Patterson.

Board and Room
BOARD and Room, $18.00. Home cooked meals served family style. BOARD without room $15.00. Students' Home, 376 E. 11th St.

FOR SALE—Canoe including paddles, $20. 2474 Agate. After 6 p. m.

FOR RENT—Excellent room for man. 875 East 13th St.

FOR RENT—3-rm. furnished apt. including water. Phone 2547-J. Mrs. R. O. Evans. 3

Lost
LOST—Chi Psi badge somewhere on campus last Friday. Reward. Phil Fields.

It's Irish Jimmy and the Webfoot Prince!

Introducing none other than James Phelan, right, and Prink Callison, left, who meet for the first time at Portland this Saturday. It is widely known that Phelan, the Husky coach, is out after the Webfoot pelt to avenge the impressive string of victories rolled up in the past years by Dr. Clarence W. Spears, former Oregon mentor, over his old-time rival.

GOSSIP FROM THE PRACTICE FIELD

By DUD LINDNER

Len Bergdahl, star quarterback of the U. C. L. A. eleven, will make the trip to Portland when the Bruins play Oregon on November 15, but he will see the game from the sidelines, according to Bill Spaulding, coach.

Bergdahl injured his arm in an early season scrimmage and has been on the bench every since. A chipped elbow bone is the cause of the ailment. Spaulding plans to use him in the game against Stanford, October 29.

U. S. C. will be without the services of five first string men when they meet Oregon State at the Olympic stadium Saturday. They are Bob Erskine, suffering from a twisted knee; Aaron Rosenberg, who has an infected mouth; John Dye, heavy cold; Dick Barber, an injured knee; and Larry Stevens, an infected foot. Reserves are expected to hold the weak O. S. C. line in check while the first string backs get to work.

The Washington State-U. S. C. game last week was a bad break for the Cougars. They scored more first downs than the Trojans while two of the three touchdowns that were scored against them were the results of blocked kicks in dangerous territory. But after all, that's football.

They seem to be doing big things over in Moscow, Idaho. With practically the same light team that they had last year they held U. C. L. A. to six points last Saturday.

With a very light squad, the Vandals are relying on speed and deception to carry them through the season. There is only one man on the squad that tips 200. He is Bob Moser, sophomore tackle. The lightest man, Mooney Kline, center, tips the beam at 160.

Bill (Habeas) Corbus, Stanford's great right guard, whom critics are already mentioning for all-American selection, is going great guns. Two weeks ago in the Olympic club game he spent most of the afternoon in the Club backfield, when the Indians were on the defense and made himself very useful at blocking while on the offense.

He stuck out above the other linemen like a sore thumb.

When the Stanford gridders stepped out on the turf of Kezar stadium for the game it was their second appearance in San Francisco in 15 years, though they are located only 25 miles from the city limits.

When Washington trots her Huskies out in the Multnomah stadium Saturday for the Oregon game, fans will see one of the biggest men in football in the person of "Ton" Isaacson. He weighs a mere 263 pounds and plays tackle.

Crew seems to be taking its place in Pacific activities in a big way. U. S. C. announced that crew would be a part of the intra-mural program this year. However, no attempt will be made to enter into organized intercollegiate competition until the experiment has had a good trial.

MY LAST GAME

By ANSELMO (CAP) McMORGAN
As Told to Nick Deuberger (Per Bruce Hamby)
With Apologies to the Oregonian

AH, fans, never will I forget my last game. What a mark that made on my memory, not to speak of other portions of the torso. It was back in—let's see, just when was that game? Darn, I'll have to look in my book of clippings. Did you ever see my scrap-book? It's the second one—the first was filled during prep school. And listen, if this isn't bigger and better than O'Mikulak's, I'll be switched, gol ding it.

Oh, yes, here it is. Now you see, fans, my last game was played against—just a minute, I want you to see this clipping about the game we played against—what was that team? It's right here on page . . . mmm . . . on page . . . where in h—l is that page? Yeh, right here. Boy, was I a star then! See me in the picture. I'm the guy just below the fellow with the tear in his jersey. Yeh, they took me out on that play, but that's about the only time. Those darn photographers always manage to catch you in an off moment.

And listen, when I was in high school I got write-ups all over the state. Don't bother reading that one. I never did like that guy. He sure is my idea of a lousy sports writer. Wait a shake, I'll show you a picture of my gal. See there in the grandstand? Yeh, second from the left. Naw, that's not me sitting on the bench. Well, maybe it is. Say, don't think for a moment that my coach would keep me on the bench. Listen, one of the most prominent citizens in the home town told me that I was, without a doubt, the best lineman ever seen in that part of the state.

About my last game? Right away. Just look at this! A banner head clear across the top of the page. Ain't that something . . .

Bruins Work For Webfoot Tilt, Oct. 15

Spaulding Is Out To Beat Old Rivals

Oregon Holds Four Victories Over Southern Gridmen; Mike Mikulak Lauded

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—(Special)—The Bruins' oldest opponent in the Pacific Coast conference, with the exception of Stanford, is next on the list—at Portland October 15 in a benefit game for the Shrine hospital. Coach William H. "Bill" Spaulding's varsity faces Oregon in the fifth annual contest between the two institutions.

Regularly for the last four years the Bruin mentor has sent his Westwood eleven against the University of Oregon and it is with the Northwest champions that U. C. L. A. has showed its best record since 1928. In that year the local squad took a 26-6 trouncing, in 1929 lost 27-0, staged a surprising stand the following year, losing 7-0, and finished on the short end of a 13-6 decision last season.

Team Shows Power

With a more powerful outfit, and a more versatile one perhaps, the Bruins are setting out to make their mark in the conference after showing to good advantage against California Aggies and Idaho in the first games on the schedule. These affairs were won by scores of 26-0 and 6-0.

The Oregon contest will bring together what the critics regard as two of the finest fullbacks in

This Is Sandy

Ross W. (Sandy) Somerville, the par-busting Canadian who swiped the national amateur cup from right under the eyes of America's best golfers this summer at Five Farms, Maryland.

the west—"Jolting Joe" Keeble of U. C. L. A., and Mike Mikulak, battering Webfoot line plunger. The Eugene ace has a bit the better of it as far as weight is concerned, but both men are capable of tremendous drive, plenty of speed, and have the ability to kick and pass.

Bruins Count on Passes

Both teams will present a diversified attack at Portland. Coach Prink Callison's charges mixed up their plays sufficiently with last week-end to dump the Santa Clara Broncos, which had in turn registered a surprise victory over California the week previous. The Bruins are hoping for a fast dry field and a chance to launch their aerial attack at the Webfoot.

Smith Praises Oregon Team After Defeat

Says Callison's Team Will Beat Trojans

Webfoots Are Characterized as "Future Champions of Pacific Coast"

Following is Clipper Smith's story of the Oregon-Santa Clara game of last Saturday, taken from the sports section of the San Francisco Chronicle of Monday, October 3:

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 2.—The future champions of the Pacific Coast conference—and a team that will have to be considered in national intercollegiate ratings! "This is the way 'Clipper' Smith, Santa Clara coach, describes the Oregon eleven which defeated his team Saturday, 7-0, at Eugene. Smith's eleven, on the same train with the victorious Stanford varsity, passed through here this afternoon.

"This Oregon eleven has incredible power," Smith said. "Howard Jones, Trojan coach, declared last week that Callison would defeat us. Jones is right. Callison has a greater team than even Jones dreams of. And if this Oregon eleven comes along slowly, without injuries to Mikulak, Kostka, Temple, or Gee, I think that Oregon can defeat the Trojans.

"We were amazed at the things that Callison has built into this eleven. Our team was right, mentally and physically, but unable to cope with the power we ran against. "The sawdust field had nothing

Varsity Has Easy Time With Frosh In Joint Workout

After a brief but strenuous practice session, Coach Irving Schulz led his Duckling gridsters onto Hayward field Tuesday night for their first taste of scrimmage against the varsity. The freshmen showed a fair amount of power, making several long gains through the center of the varsity's second and third string lines.

On the defensive, the frosh didn't fare as well and took quite a beating as a result. Schulz used several combinations in both line and backfield, and most of the yearlings saw action. The starting combine last night had Torrence and Wright at the ends, D. Bennison and Neilson at the tackles, T. Bennison and Lundin at the guards, while Reed held down the pivot position. The backfield with McCredie at quarter, Leemans and Arey at the halves, and Milligan at full, showed much promise.

Tonight the frosh are expected to run a few Washington formations against the varsity in preparation for the game Saturday in Portland.

to do with our defeat. The touchdown pass that Slavich caught from Sobrero beyond the end zone in Oregon's territory was a tough break, but on two occasions Callison's team had chances to score and we were saved by the timer's watch.

"The Oregon schedule is so arranged that Callison can take all teams in stride, without calling for too much pressure, until he meets U. S. C. Callison has only two games in his dash for national championship which will cause him trouble. These games are St. Mary's and Southern California.

"The rest, with the exception of Washington, will force Callison to put on speed, but will not bring out the tremendous latent power his team possesses.

OUTLAW OF THE JUNGLE

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the great animal painter, Paul Bransom... inspired by the leopard's fierce fighting power and relentless hunt for prey which makes him the terror of every beast of the African jungle.

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies . . . the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mousetrap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?

THE BIG GAME

and Another Natural

THE Congress Hotel

Presents

ABBIE GREEN AND HIS MUSIC

Reservations At0181 $1.50 Couple
Canfield and Weber

"Treat Yourself to the Best" Under New Management
Eugene Hotel Barbershop
Eugene Hotel
280 E. Broadway