

Nobody's Business

By BRUCE HAMBY

AFTER two puffs off Sterling Green's own cellophane-wrapped cigarettes we fall into the well-known trance and with the aid of the editor's own and only silver dollar predict the scores of the leading games tomorrow. . . . So help me, so help me!

Oregon, 7; U. C. L. A., 6. (O. K., Callison).

California, 14; W. S. C., 12. U. S. C., 30; Loyola, 0. (A twister).

Stanford, 20; West Coast Army, 0.

Purdue, 6; Wisconsin, 0. (If we're wrong, what'll they say out here?)

Alabama, 12; Tennessee, U., 0. Harvard, 6; Penn State, 6. (The best way out).

Yale, 6; Brown, 7.

Wyoming, 14; Montana State, 7. (What of it?).

Army, 14; Pittsburgh, 10.

Navy, 3; Ohio U., 7. (Anchor's away off).

Tulane, 20; Vanderbilt, 6. (Not Cornelius).

Idaho, 21; Montana, 13.

Holy Cross, 14; Detroit, 14. (You can't lose).

Fordham, 30; Lebanon Valley, 0. (Never heard of it).

Rutgers, 0; Delaware, 6. (Go ahead and die for 'em).

Assumption, 0; General Motors Tech., 14. (How about Throop Polytechnic institute?)

Happy Joe is back in the headlines again! Yessir, Joe Lillard, the one and only, is back in his element but not with a lily-pure college team this time. He's with the Chicago Cardinals, a member of the national professional football league.

Last Sunday the Cardinals battled Red Grange's Bears to a scoreless tie at Wrigley field, Chicago. Headlines in Chicago papers of last Monday state that "Lillard was only back to do much."

"Joe Lillard, who played two games last year at Oregon before he was declared ineligible because of professionalism, was the best ball carrier for the Cardinals," the story ran. "Lillard, a triple-threat, had his difficulties with the mud, but he did quite well on returning punts. . . ."

"Lillard also pulled the Cards out of a spot in the last quarter after a punt out of bounds on the Cards' one-yard line. He booted 50 yards. . . ."

Sounds like Joe. And look who he was playing against. The Bears' backfield included Red Grange, Bronco Nagurski, Herb Josting, and Al Moore, former Portland high school star.

Football dope books can sometimes be interesting despite their eulogies on every coach on the conference and bright outlooks for every team from the Cottage Grove Tigers to the San Jose Teacher's college. Here's some interesting bits from one received.

Woodrow Wilson, war-time president, known at Princeton as "Tom" Wilson, was coach of the first Tiger eleven to defeat Harvard and Yale. That was in 1878. Wilson introduced the double pass into American football and originated modern eligibility rules. . . . which may account for some criticism of the Democrats.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was a guard and tackle at Groton prep school and was a member of the Harvard squad. Herbert Hoover managed the Stanford coast championship team of 1894. Clifford Pinchot, governor of Pennsylvania, was a member of the varsity at Yale. Rodman Wanamaker, the New York department store magnate, was a tackle at Princeton. Arthur Scribner, the publisher, was another Princeton tackle.

Frosh Set to Go in Fray With Chemawa Here Tonight

Injuries Fail To Kill Spirit Of Yearlings

Leemans Likely To Be Out With Sprain

Chemawa Looms as Threat in Initial Battle; Schulz Dubious

LET'S GO, FROSH!

With injuries playing the role of jinx, as they have with the varsity, the 1932 frosh gridsters will take the field tonight against the Red Skins of Chemawa with a sadly weakened lineup. Last night, "Toughy" Leemans, versatile backfield ace, sustained a painfully twisted ankle, and although it won't keep him from the game altogether, it will undoubtedly slow him down considerably.

Last night the yearlings finished off their practice with only a comparatively light workout. They ran through their complete bag of tricks, and although the rain caused them some trouble in hanging onto the ball, they nevertheless looked more like a finished team than they have at any time this season.

Warner System Used

The weather is likely to prove an ally to the Ducklings—that is, if the rain continues—for the Indians use the Warner system, with its multitude of spinner and reverse plays. Unsure footing makes it difficult for the backs to spin and twist in the approved fashion, and for quick opening holes, mud is not the best foundation for linesmen's cleats.

The game starts tonight at 7:30, and a slight admission is being charged. Students will be admitted on their student body cards.

Coach Schulz has numerous reserves who will all probably see action tonight. The squad is all fired up over what will be their first "big league" game, and mud should fly high when they come in contact with the Red Skins. These Indian lads still possess some of the primitive instincts of their forefathers, and with all their cleverness and speed, will give the freshmen something to think about on their own account. In the game last week with the Rooks, two men who stood out on the Indian squad were Mulder and Smith, left half and fullback, respectively, and they will bear watching in the affray tonight.

Foreign Trade Pupils Make Portland Trip

Students in foreign trades are meeting in Portland October 22, to make a study of the harbor and watch the motor and steam ships load and unload.

The students are going to investigate the character of goods carried by the ships, and the devices used for loading and unloading. They are going to view the interiors of the ships and study their construction.

These Lads Are Pointing for Oregon

And they're pretty mean when they get started. The one on the left is "Pants" Livesay, sensational sophomore halfback, and Mike Frankovitch, the quarterback who will oppose Bill Bowerman both on the gridiron and elsewhere, as the two have a blood feud regarding the same co-ed. They will fight it out tomorrow in Portland when UCLA and the Webfoots meet in Portland.

Sports In Review

DAME rumor has it that Lenny Bergdahl, star quarterback of last year's U. C. L. A. team, will be in uniform and all set to go when the Bruins meet Oregon in Portland next Saturday. Len's injury has improved so much since early season that he is out for practice every day, although he is laying off the rough stuff at the Doc's orders. His name was not included in the traveling list sent out today, however.

Again women take to sports. Women students at Southern Methodist university in Dallas, Texas, play football every morning of the week.

A Northwestern professor recently advised some young men to marry a woman if she could run the 100 yard dash in 13 seconds.

In a recent Shrine baseball game in Wichita Falls, Texas, the two umpires, Clarence Rogers and Mayor "Tad" Wilson of Archer City, took no chances with the on-lookers. They showed up to umpire the game encased in suits of medieval armor.

Don Olson, Phi Delt golfer, pulled a two iron out of his bag at the Eugene Country club yesterday and rammed down a hundred and eighty yard shot for a two. The hole was the thirteenth, a mere 446 yards and a par five. Phil Mulder, Dick Good and Irving Manasse were practicing with Don for the all-campus championship which is to start next week. Manasse is defending champion, but with so much strong competition there are no favorites.

Marquette players will not have to wait long when they call for water while on the gridiron this year. The new water boy is none other than Ralph Metcalf, America's star in the sprints at the Olympic games last summer.

Arrangements are being made to have the banquet at the men's dormitory this year. It will be held after the Oregon-Gonzaga football game, which is scheduled for 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Preparations are being made to have the Dad's day banquet one of the most inviting affairs possible. It is expected that approximately 500 Dads will be on hand for the annual gathering.

Chi Psis Win Easily From Beta Mermen

Yeomen and Phi Psis Also Victorious

Race Narrows Down as Three More Teams Go Down To Defeat

Last night's donut meets saw a surprising upset when the Chi Psi squad soundly whipped the Betas by a score of 33 to 9. In the other meets the Yeomen were victorious over the Phi Delt outfit by a score of 26 to 13 and the Phi Psi team defeated the S. A. E.'s by the same score, 26 to 13.

Ross Is Star

Despite the heroic efforts of Jack Ross, Phi Delt star, his organization lost to the Yeomen. Ross won two first places in this meet and Swan as anchor man in the final relay. He lost in this final event by a fraction of a yard. If he had won this event his team would have tied the Yeomen and this would have necessitated another meet for the two teams.

The Yeomen appeared to be composed of exceptionally fine swimmers and might turn out to be the dark horse of the meet.

The Phi Psi squad, through an early lead, led in the second of last night's meets, maintained their standings in the intramurals by defeating S. A. E. The Phi Psi squad took the play away from the S. A. E. team and led in points throughout the whole meet. Warrington was the leading star of the Phi Psi while Lindner was the best S. A. E. bet.

Reismuller Looks Good

One of the surprises of the third meet last night was the exceptional swimming ability of Reismuller of Chi Psi. Reismuller defeated highly-touted Mr. Simpson of Beta three times. These defeats eliminated Simpson from swimming against Tom Blankenberg of the Fijis.

Due to the game this Saturday in Portland there will be no more contests until next Monday, according to an announcement of the administrative board late last night.

Davis Continues Interpretations

Frederick K. Davis, Eugene writer, will present the fourth in a series of six character interpretations of outstanding New Testament personalities before the upperclass group at the Westminster house at 9:45 Sunday morning.

Cupid Scheduled To Play Big Part In Saturday Tilt

William Bowerman, quarterback for Mr. Callison's football team, wants it to be made public that he is going forth next Saturday on the field of honor to fight for his lady fair.

Bill Bowerman lady is a co-ed at the latter school.

According to Mr. Bowerman, Mr. Micheal Frankovitch, who also plays quarterback, but for the Bruins, has the greatly mistaken idea that William's girl is also his beloved.

At present Mr. Bowerman thinks one good poke in Mr. Frankovitch's face would be quite in order. The sudden determination of William to exterminate Mr. Frankovitch on Saturday has taken many of the wrinkles out of Mr. Callison's forehead for he has been worrying about Micheal quite a bit lately. It seems Mr. Frankovitch is one of Mr. William Spaulding's best ball-carriers.

Mr. Bowerman refuses to be responsible for what happens Saturday. Love is a great thing—especially when mixed with quarterbacks.

Adoption Plan Saves Gridmen for College

EVANSTON, Ill.—(IP)—An "adoption plan," explained by Athletic Director Kenneth L. Wilson, is being used at Northwestern university this year to save for the varsity football team a number of players who would be unable to attend college without financial aid.

"We told the business men of Evanston," Wilson said, "that many of the players did not have enough money to stay in school unless they had jobs. We asked them to 'adopt' the boys by giving them work."

Vandals Are Set For Grizzly Fray

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Oct. 13.—Idaho's unexpected defeat, 20 to 7 by Gonzaga has not hurt the morale of the Vandal squad, declares Leo Calland, head coach of the Moscow gridmen. The Idaho team made several costly errors in the Bulldog contest and Calland expects the defeat to make his men more determined than ever to beat Montana, Idaho's next conference opponent, in Missoula Saturday.

The Montana game last year was the most costly one on the Idaho schedule. Three of Calland's regulars hung up their suits for the remainder of the season after the battering sustained at the hands of the heavy Montana line. This year Calland probably will take no chances on a recurrence of the same mishaps. Idaho's fleet backs will concentrate their work on the ends and will probably give the Montana backs a chance to bat down a few passes if the weather is suited to that style of attack.

Practice will occur three times a week until the candidates reach a physical condition which will warrant daily rehearsals. Reinhart expects to put practice on a daily basis within three weeks.

Veterans Back

Six lettermen will be on hand Monday night with a host of last year's reserves and freshmen turning out. The lettermen include Capt. Charles "Cap" Roberts, Kermit Stevens, Gilbert "Gib" Olinger, Jack Robertson, Jim Watts, and Cliff Potter. Others are La Grande Houghton, Don Siegmund, and Homer Stahl, part of the reserve strength last year, and Henry Simons, Maurice Rotenberg, and Ed Kunkle, a trio of promising aspirants who are reporting for varsity practice for the first time.

'Didn't Play First Game' Cries Star; Can't Tell Story

"I never played my first game," was the statement of Charles "Sphynx" Wishard, stellar end of the Webfoots, when asked yesterday by Jupe Prescott for the story of his first game.

"That first game was so remarkable that I have been offered large sums several times for the story of it," he continued. "But it is against the principles of my backers and I can't do it. I should like to tell you all about it, but I can't do that."

Some of the other fellows in the dressing room said that the game was played in a village known as Watertown. They didn't know whether it was in North or South Dakota, but thought that it was somewhere thereabouts. At any rate, it was a town where all freight trains stopped to take on water.

Complete equipment except shoes will be issued to all candidates Monday night. Organization of the squad and a few fundamental drills will take up the balance of the evening, according to Reinhart, who expects from thirty to thirty-five players to report.

A Bite at night

IT'S only natural. You crack the books through a long evening. And at bedtime you're hungry. So you eat.

It's a great institution—this midnight snack. Dietitians say it's healthful—if you eat proper food.

Kellogg's PEP Bran Flakes are more than just good to taste. That flavor of toasted whole wheat means health. For whole wheat is nature's storehouse of nourishment. A body-building food that digests easily and quickly. Aids sleep at night. Gives enough good bran to be mildly laxative.

Try Kellogg's PEP—with milk or cream. Have it the next time you feel the urge to eat at night. Get these better bran flakes at any campus lunchroom or canteen. Always fresh. Always good. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

The most popular ready-to-eat cereals served in the dining-rooms of American colleges, eating clubs and fraternities are made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. They include ALL-BRAN, Corn Flakes, Rice Krispies, Wheat Krumbles, and Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit. Also Kaffee Hag Coffee—real coffee that lets you sleep.
