

Nobody's Business

By BRUCE HAMBY
FOR Sale or Rent, Cheap: One badly battered crystal and one still more badly battered predicator.

That silver dollar of the editor's used in guessing scores of last Saturday's game must have been a phoney. From now on this column will predict Saturday's scores the following Tuesday.

At that, if it hadn't been for a U. C. L. A. sophomore by the name of Ramon "Panta" Livesay, the most important guess of the bunch would have been right. For 29 minutes in the second half it looked like the right guess, 7 to 6 for Oregon. Then Livesay had to spoil a chance for some great bragging. Purdue played square and knocked over Doc Spears' Wisconsin eleven 7 to 6. We guessed 6 to 0. Stanford beat West Coast Army 26 to 0. Our guess 20 to 0. Brown humbled Yale 7 to 2, despite our guess that the final score would be 7 to 6.

Oregon has neither alibis nor excuses to offer for last Saturday's defeat. The Webfoots played great football for 59 minutes and 50 seconds. What happened in the last ten seconds was unfortunate. The Bruins deserved a victory after their courageous fighting comeback in the final period. Their passing attack was perfectly executed despite a soggy ball and ankle-deep mud. A week's practice with a water-soaked ball was the reason for the accuracy of the passing.

For thrills the game could not be beaten. From the very first play when Joe Keeble broke through center for 46 yards until Livesay's motion-picture finish the contest was full of great football. Mark Temple, Bill Morgan and Pepper Pepelnjak starred for the Webfoots Temple's consistent punting, which averaged 32 1-2 yards for 16 tries, was one of the features of the game.

Morgan was forced to leave the game late in the second quarter but was easily the outstanding lineman on the field. He broke his left wrist when someone stepped on his arm in a pile-up. That leaves him with both arms in bandages.

Pepelnjak's perfectly executed 45-yard run for Oregon's only score was the sophomore's first play in conference competition. Newspaper writers covering the game were unanimous in declaring that the play on which he scored was one of the most perfectly executed plays they had ever seen. Every Oregon interloper got his man.

Not since the Santa Clara game has Prink Callison had his most powerful backfield combination

Twenty-Seven Answer Call for First Basketball Turnout

Initial Report Shows Many Vets on Hand

Reinhart Sees Prospects Of Good Team

Six Lettermen Available Around Which To Build Team; Others Promising

By BILL EBERHART
Basketball season was launched last night on the University campus as 27 candidates reported to the Igloo in response to Coach Bill Reinhart's call for the inaugural practice.

Conspicuous because of their absence were Capt. Charles "Cap" Roberts, Kermit Stevens, and Cliff Potter, lettermen from last year, who will undoubtedly turn out before the season gets under way. Jack Robertson, Gilbert Olinger, and Jim Watts, the other three eligible lettermen, answered the first call.

"Green Wave" Back
Members of the "green wave," super-varsity players last year who wore green jerseys in contrast to the yellow of the regulars in their "cannon-fodder" work, who reported last night were Homer Stahl, center, Don Seigmund, forward, and La Grande Houghton, forward.

Maurice "Red" Rotenberg, clever, hard working Portland player, Henry Simons, husky guard from Marysville junior college in California, and Ed Kunkle, a rangy center from a middle western junior college, reported for varsity practice for their first time.

1932 Frosh Report
Six representatives from Prink Callison's last frosh contingent were included among those present, along with two others who were ineligible for freshman play last year. The six include Rolly Rourke, sharpshooter from San Francisco, Bob Miller, frosh center of 1932, Chuck Clay, guard, who starred for Medford high two years ago, Arne Lindgren, forward from Astoria's state championship five of 1930, Wayne Jameson, center, and Wes Clausen and Joe Walsh, two fine prospects who were ineligible last year.

Austin Colbert, three-stripe football man and all-coast tackle, who played on Eugene high's hoop team that went to Chicago in 1927, is in school and reported last night. Others were Hubert Allen, track star, Walt Wilks, intramural player, Don Olson, Bernard Faunce, Bud Thomas, Marion Weitz, Don McKim, and Ralph Ray.

Activity in the first practice was definitely confined to fundamental drills, designed to get the men into shape gradually and to toughen condition of the feet.

Eberhart To Assist
Bill Reinhart was well pleased with the turnout, an unusually large one for an opening practice, and looks forward to a successful season. Jean Eberhart, director of athletics at University high school, was on hand to assist Reinhart in the handling of the recruits. He will spend most of his time with the freshmen as soon as they report for practice.

Practices will be on every Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights at 8:30 o'clock until the Christmas holidays.

together. In the Bronco contest Bowerman, Temple, Kostka and Mikulak started. Kostka is in shape to start next Saturday. Mikulak will most likely be kept on the bench for another two weeks. The Oregon State game on November 5 will be the first opportunity for Callison to start the same four. Of course, Temple and Bowerman still have three weeks in which to get a broken leg, dislocated shoulder or some type of case for Doc Caniparoli.

Infirmary Ready for Rest of Football Men

Business has again fallen off at the infirmary, and the nurses are getting rested up for the next influx of football men.

Those confined at the present time are Helen Catherine Sargent, Laura Goldsmith, Dorothy McMillan, Arthur Riehl, and Billy Stevers, all of whom are mild compared with the banged-up heroes of the football field.

Sports In Review

By DUD LINDNER
AMOS ALONZO STAGG, retiring athletic director and football coach of the University of Chicago, has a record that many coaches would give a right arm to own. His football teams have played a total of 385 games in 40 years. Statistics show that they won 253, lost 104 and tied 28.

Here's something to be proud of. Phil Klein and Jim Keefer, two of Bill Ingram's backs, have carried the ball 54 times between them and have gained a total of 193 yards without losing an inch.

Hank Schaldach is the leading ball carrier for the Golden Bears this year. He has carried the ball 23 times for a total gain of 152 yards or an average of 5.2 yards.

An experienced time-keeper held the watch for the Washington-Oregon game two weeks ago and claims that the ball was in actual play less than 12 minutes. The game was played in two hours and eleven minutes, while the game with the Bruins was played in two hours and seven minutes. Some one must have given up a cup of tea.

It seems that Eddie Toian has no right to the title of the fastest human in the world. Al Kelly, weight 200 pounds, and the fastest man in the Georgetown blackfield, has beaten the colored flash three times in foot races. However, that was several years ago.

Sing Sing prison is in high spirits today as a result of their victory over the Port Jervis police team this week-end. With John Law behind them the prison boys took the policemen into camp 7 to 0.

John Law, their coach, was star of the late Knute Rockne. He played for "Rock" and Notre Dame in 1929. Since that time he has helped the boys "up the river" with physical education. He hopes that several of his starts will have a try at professional

Frosh Point For Struggle With Rooks

Schulz Pleased With Work Of Squad

Yearlings To Resume Hostilities At Corvallis This Week-End

With their first game successfully behind them, Coach Irv Schulz's yearling gridsters tonight began pointing for their game with the O. S. C. Rooks Friday night in Corvallis. The Ducklings are in first class condition and will enter Friday's "little" big game with their full strength.

Practice Is Long
Practice last night consisted of strenuous drill, with the teams calling play after play. It was long after dark before they finally went to the showers. Schulz, in commenting on the game last Friday night with the Indian lads from Chemawa, said that although his charges had every opportunity to show their offensive power, they had not been given stiff enough opposition to show what they could do on the defensive. Whether the team is strong on the defense or not is unknown.

Hogan Wants Cast for Emerald Air Program

Are you susceptible to "mike" tremens? Are you just a little dramatic—or a bit of an elocutionist?
If not, and if so, respectively, Mike Hogan (not tremens) would like to see you in the studio room of KORE this afternoon at 3:30.

Don't think Mr. Hogan preposterous, this meeting is for strictly business purposes—namely, the selection of a cast for tomorrow's Emerald-of-the-Air program.

All-Campus Informal Planned by Soph Class

Plans for an all-campus sophomore informal dance to be held November 19 were started at the meeting of the class last week. The dance will be held in McArthur court. Charles Clay was appointed chairman of the committee in charge of the dance.

The class unanimously elected Ed Meserve treasurer to fill the vacancy left by the failure of Merle Sleeper to return to the campus. Sleeper was elected last spring.

"Nature in the Raw" is seldom MILD

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies ... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.
