

Nobody's Business

By BRUCE HAMBY

BILL GREGORY, a half-eaten apple in his hand, rose from his seat and let out a yell. Gaius Shaver, stocky and curly-headed all-American fullback from U. S. C., pounded the press bench. Bill Reinhart's mouth formed into a wide grin. George Bertz blinked a couple of times and started writing.

Jim Richardson Mark Temple, Oregon's dashing young halfback, had just taken Keith Davis' towering punt out of a murky sky and was threading his way down the side-lines 65 yards to the Oregon State goal. Big Bill Morgan shoved Davis out of the way and Temple crossed the goal line to add six points to Oregon's score, break the 6 to 6 deadlock, and put the Webfoots in front.

A young fellow with a megaphone shouted through the press box. "Temple's run good for 65 yards. Six and a half minutes left to play in the fourth quarter."

Harry Van Dine, writing the Associated Press play-by-play struggled furiously to get his portable typewriter going. Gregory settled down and scribbled a few notes on some yellow scratch paper. Bunny Oakes, Montana coach, scouting the Oregon State team, jotted down another diagram. Roy Craft, Register-guard sports editor, and Bill Duniway stopped pounding each other on the back.

The whole affair took up less than a minute, yet to those in the press box atop the Bell field grandstand, it seemed an hour.

To describe the activities of the forty or more witnesses of the Homecoming battle gathered in the small perch atop the stadium, would take pages. The color and fellowship found in the rooting section and grandstand are lost, it is true, but there is a certain tenseness and excitement present that defies description.

The score or so of front row seats were filled by representatives of papers and news services demanding immediate service. Down at one end sat Gregory from the Oregonian. A battered hat on his head, he sat calm throughout the game, using some hieroglyphic system of his own for future reference when writing the final story. An Associated Press writer, Clayton Bernhard, sat next to him, busily engaged in typing a running account of the game. Two Western Union telegraph operators kept their instruments clicking. Fellow operators along the line kept inquiring for the score.

Fred Shideler, Oregon State journalism professor and United Press correspondent, was having a tough time keeping his running account down to the requested word limit. But Forrester, Barometer sports editor, sat next to George Bertz of the Oregon Journal. The aforementioned young man with the megaphone occupied the end seat.

The back row was filled by scouts, coaches and those lucky enough to get into the press box for no good reason at all. Shaver, whose ball-carrying exploits last year for the Trojans won him national fame, sat very quietly at the end, watching every Webfoot play. He had a report to make. Howard Jones down in Los Angeles wanted to know just what Prink Callison had to offer.

Next to Bill Reinhart was Oakes, Montana coach. He filled a dozen sheets with diagrams of Montana plays. This writer was pressed into service by Harry Van Dine. Dave Epps, former Oregon student, paced up and down behind the second row. A group of Western Union messenger boys clustered in the center, enjoying a few moments of the game.

In the next booth Jimmy Richardson could be heard describing the game over the N. B. C. microphone. Aaron Frank, donor of the Oregon water cart, and Henry Blanc, KGW announcer, sat close by. Dick Neuberger aided Richardson, identifying Oregon and Oregon State players.

Where you get the best and more for your money.
CAMPUS SHOE SHINE PARLOR
Shine-a-Dime
Prices are changed—but not the work.
13TH STREET

Oregon, Southern California, Washington, and Washington State Win Conference Tilts

By DUD LINDNER

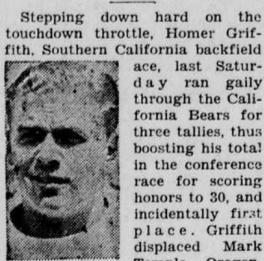

Mark Temple and Mike Mikulak turned defeat into a tie and a tie into victory last Saturday as Oregon defeated Oregon State 12 to 6, and added another worry to the many facing Howard Jones, U. S. C. head mentor, before his eleven claim another coast title. The Webfoots face El Trojan next Saturday afternoon in the Olympic stadium at Los Angeles in the feature game of the coast.

CONFERENCE STANDINGS

Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
So. California	4	0	0	1.000
U. C. L. A.	3	0	0	1.000
Wash. State	4	1	0	.800
Washington	2	1	1	.667
Oregon	2	1	1	.667
California	1	2	0	.333
Stanford	1	3	0	.250
Idaho	1	3	0	.250
Oregon State	0	4	0	.000
Montana	0	3	0	.000

Griffith Tops List Of Coast Scorers With Five Tallies

Trojan Quarterback Ousts Temple in Touchdown Spree Saturday

Stepping down hard on the ancient rival, Washington State, when Jimmy Phelan's eleven upset Pop Warner at Palo Alto 18 to 1. It was the third defeat for Stanford in three starts. California fell back into the second division in circuit standings as the Trojans rode over them 27 to 7.

Temple Webfoot Hero
A 65-yard return of a punt by Temple in the fourth quarter of the Homecoming game at Corvallis turned the tide to Oregon. Mikulak had previously given Webfoot supporters hope by smashing down the field at the start of the second half to knot the score, 6 to 6. Oregon State scored early in the game after a fumble by Temple behind his own goal line.

U. S. C. Trims Bears
Southern California's victory over the Golden Bears convinced doubters that it still is a real championship contender. Homer Griffith, who stepped into Orv Mohler's position, proved himself an able successor by scoring three touchdowns and gave a great defensive exhibition.

Late in the fourth quarter Hank Schaldach, diminutive California halfback, tossed a 35-yard pass to Dave Meek, right end, for the only touchdown scored against the Trojans this year. Schaldach added the extra point with a drop-kick.

Cougars Handed Scare
Idaho lost a bitter game to its ancient rivals, Washington State, by the narrow margin of 12 to 0. The Cougars were held scoreless for nearly three quarters. Willis "Little Giant" Smith led the Vandals.

In addition to the Oregon-Southern California feature at Los Angeles, Washington and Washington State provide the Northwest with football excitement as they meet in Seattle. Both elevens are still in position to climb to the top of the standings in case the leaders should be upset.

U. C. L. A., tied with Southern California at the top of the standings, meets St. Mary's in a non-conference thriller Friday. Oregon State faces Montana at Missoula Saturday, Idaho meets California at Berkeley, and Stanford rests while the reserves meet the California Aggies.

LINE-PLAY, TEAMWORK BRING BACK BACON

(Continued from Page One)

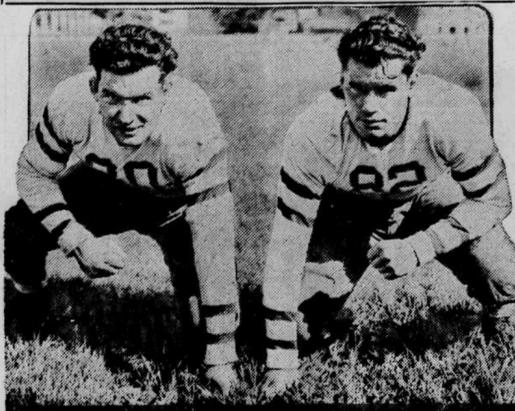

out-of-bounds fumble didn't click, and Oregon took the ball on the Staters' 33. Mikulak plowed through 25 yards of Benton county mud in four plays. And on those plays the three above-mentioned gentlemen saw to it that the whole right side of the Staters' line was temporarily annihilated to make room for the coming of Mike. That's the kind of cooperation that wins football games.

Practicing in the Bell field marsh for days before the game, the Beavers apparently learned to hang on to the ball better than the Hayward field home team. Oregon backs fumbled six times, but the Staters dropped the slippery ball only twice.

Left-tackle Curley Miller played a wonderful game for O. S. C. Nearly every time an Oregon line-smash stopped at the line or an Oregon back was stopped for a loss, Curley had his little finger in the pie. Second outstanding Beaver linesmen, Ed Schwammel, Miller's collaborator at right tackle. He broke up more interference than any other two men.

Funny pictures . . . Dignified "Sphinx" Wishard hobbling across the muck with a torn shoe, while six assistant managers looked frantically in the war-chest for a size 14 . . . four Oregon players holding Biancone's arm while Bill Hayward jerked a dislocated thumb back into place . . . and just before that Biancone sighting

Hammers Away

That's the theme song at the University of Kansas this year when Burt (Trip) and James (Sledge) Hammer are members of the football team. They're twin brothers and both play end. They can dropkick, too.

HOW THEY STAND

FOLLOWING are the standings of intramural basketball teams in the "A" league following the first week of play.

Team	League I	League II	League III	League IV	League V
Phi Gamma Delta	1	0	0	0	0
Yeomen	1	0	0	0	0
Sigma Chi	0	1	0	0	0
Delta Tau Delta	0	2	0	0	0
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	1	0	0	0	0
Alpha Upsilon	1	0	0	0	0
Theta Chi	1	0	0	0	0
Sigma Phi Epsilon	0	1	0	0	0
Sherry Ross	0	2	0	0	0
Omega hall	1	0	0	0	0
Phi Kappa Psi	1	0	0	0	0
Phi Delta Theta	1	0	0	0	0
Sigma Alpha Mu	0	1	0	0	0
Phi Sigma Kappa	0	2	0	0	0
Beta Theta Pi	1	0	0	0	0
Kappa Sigma	1	0	0	0	0
Sigma hall	1	1	0	0	0
Pi Kappa Alpha	0	1	0	0	0
Sigma Nu	0	1	0	0	0
Alpha Tau Omega	1	0	0	0	0
Sigma Pi Tau	1	0	0	0	0
Gamma hall	1	1	0	0	0
International house	0	1	0	0	0
Chi Psi	0	1	0	0	0

when Casey was working in the mines near Sitka. He fell and was instantly killed.

The Rosary was held at the Branstatter Simon chapel at 7:30 last night. Interment is to be at Mount Calvary cemetery. The young man was a member of Beta Theta Pi, social fraternity, on the campus. Last year he attended the Montana School of Mines at Butte. He was sent to the Alaskan mines last summer. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Casey, one sister, Sarah, and one brother, Emmett.

Democratic Club Will Entertain With Cards

A card party, at which cider and doughnuts will be served, is scheduled between the hours of 8 and 12 tonight at the Democratic party headquarters, according to Elise Schroeder, secretary of the Young Democratic club.

A radio will be provided on which the election returns will be received. All friends and members of the Democratic party are invited to attend.

Four 'B' Hoop Teams Score Initial Wins

Players of Second Squad Provide Thrills

SPT, Phi Psi, Chi Psi, and Beta Epsilon Victorious in Wild Games

Today's Schedule "A" League
Friendly hall vs. Sigma Chi, 4 p. m.
S. A. E. vs. Theta Chi, 4:40 p. m.
Omega hall vs. Sigma Alpha Mu, 5:20 p. m.

By BEN BACK

Two unusual basketball games featured yesterday's opening "B" league donut games with the S. P. T. boys winning one and Phi Psi the other. The first game between Sigma Pi Tau and Kappa Sig resulted in a 9-6 victory for S. P. T. In the next game the Betas beat A. T. O. 14 to 3. The last game was won by Phi Psi from Alpha Upsilon by a score of 4 to 1. Pi Kappa Alpha forfeited its contest to Chi Psi.

The first game of the evening was a real thriller with Harry Schenk, big Sigma Pi Tau man, playing in a starring role. During the first quarter Schenk was all over the court, snaring almost impossible passes and making unbelievable shots. His playing almost caused a riot with all the Kappa Sig men watching him closely.

Schenk Can't Take 'Em

Schenk's sensational playing was brought to an abrupt stop by the S. P. T. team manager, however, and by Schenk himself at the end of the first quarter. He had played so hard during the first quarter that he found it impossible to continue. Humphries made eight of the S. P. T. points. The A. T. O. boys were no match for the bigger Beta players and consequently lost by the worst score of the evening, 14 to 3.

In the last game of the night a frosh named Hawn stole the show with his hard tackling and furious pivoting. Hawn was a very good defense played and cracked Murphy, the man he was guarding, so hard that it wasn't funny to his Irish temper and a near riot nearby resulted.

Hawkeye Half

Howard Moffitt, halfback of the University of Iowa football team, boasts the distinction of being a star at two sports. In addition to the gridiron sport, he plays a mean game of basketball.

Iowa Center Has Persistent 'Jinx'

IOWA CITY, Ia. (AP)—University of Iowa football followers fear Marcus Magnussen may never get to play that third year of varsity football.

Magnussen, choice of some critics for all Big Ten center in 1929 and captain-elect in 1930, was ineligible for the latter season, and a year ago a broken leg kept him from seeing a minute of varsity service.

And on the first day of practice this year Magnussen was among the missing, with a leg infection.

Beat the Trojans Is Cry of Ducks As Big Tilt Nears

Prink Works Men Against Southern California Air Attack

By NED SIMPSON

Beat El Trojan! With this idea foremost in mind, Prink Callison's Webfoots—fresh from their great victory over the Black and Orange of O. S. C.—last night tore an imaginary Southern California line to shreds as they practiced an offense designed to work against a six-man defense such as the Trojans employ.

Every man on the Duck squad is in good condition, and the few men injured during the Beaver contest have already fully recovered. Captain Bill Morgan's hand came through the Orange fray unscathed and he will be rearing to avenge the 53-to-0 defeat of last year when the Webfoots and the Trojans meet on Saturday. George "Pep" Peplnjak, who suffered a slight concussion in last Saturday's battle, has decided to "wear a hat" in the future, and will undoubtedly help the Duck cause.

Minus the usual limbering-up races, practice last night started off with a bang. Callison had two teams lined up with the one on the defensive using a six-man defense. The Webfoots use a style of play somewhat similar to that employed by the Trojans, and their attack has been changed a little in order to make things a little harder for Southern Cal to fathom.

The team leaves Eugene Wednesday night and will arrive in Los Angeles sometime Friday morning. Regular practice is to be held Wednesday afternoon.

CLASSIFIED
FOR SALE—Ping pong tables and nets. Sims, 719-J.

Bruins, St. Mary's Meet in Natural

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 7.—The California Bruins, surprise leaders in the Pacific Coast conference championship race with three victories and an undefeated record, meet St. Mary's college here Friday, Nov. 11, in one of the greatest "naturals" of the current football season.

Casey Services To Be Held Today

Funeral services for the late Richard Casey, graduate of the University of Oregon in 1931, will be this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's cathedral, the Reverend F. P. Leipzig officiating. The death occurred last Monday.

McDONALD

"I like trees better than men. They're straight!"

Wild Girl
with CHARLES FARRELL, JOAN BENNETT, RALPH BELLAMY
TONITE

Complete Returns Direct Morning News Wire
Returns start 7 P. M. MID-NITE SHOW
WEDNESDAY — 9 P. M.
"Victory Rally" with Abbie Green and his "Whoopie Boys" Hot Tunes Galore!

COLONIAL BIG Election Bust
Election returns on school grab bill, national and local candidates will be announced between these pictures. The latest returns while you enjoy a lot of fun!
1. Red Noses
2. Sea Soldiers' Sweeties
3. Spanky
4. Strange As It Seems
5. Screen Song
6. Trout Fishing
Dime Nite
ANY SEAT 10c
Continuous from 8:30

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted" That package of mild Luckies

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTES
"IT'S TOASTED"

Copyright 1932, The American Tobacco Co.