

Nobody's Business

By BRUCE HAMBY

WEBFOOT grid fans are not going to have as many chances to watch the 1933 Oregon football eleven in action as they did this past season. Only two games have been scheduled for Eugene and one in Portland. The remainder of the eight games listed on the 1933 schedule are all road games.

The coast conference schedule opens against Washington in the Husky stadium at Seattle on October 14. Idaho comes to Eugene the following Saturday. Then the Ducks travel south to Los Angeles for an encounter with the U. C. L. A. Bruins, who, incidentally should have an even stronger team next year.

An inter-sectional game with the Armstrong's colorful University of Utah eleven is slated for Portland on November 4. The annual Homecoming battle with Oregon State will be played on Hayward field Saturday, November 11.

University of Southern California closes the conference season in the annual game at Los Angeles on November 18. The encounter with St. Mary's will be played on Thanksgiving in the Kezar stadium in San Francisco.

Rosson stated yesterday that an inter-sectional battle with some outstanding eastern or southern opponent may be listed for early December. The return visit of Louisiana State university will not be played until 1934. No suggestion as to who the opponent might be was given by the graduate manager.

Here's another angle in the scheduling of games with Southern California. Oregon, nor any other team outside the "big four" of the coast conference can schedule a game with the Trojans and keep the week before open. That is, in order to get on the Trojan schedule, the Webfoots must play a tough game the Saturday before going to Los Angeles.

Next year Oregon meets Oregon State while Southern California faces Pop Warner's Stanford Indians. Howard Jones and the lads aren't taking any chances on having some smaller team lay for them while Bill Hunter, the athletic director, and his aides can dictate athletic schedules.

Oregon's 1933 schedule as completed to date follows:
Sept. 30—Gonzaga at Spokane.
Oct. 7—Open.
Oct. 14—Washington at Seattle.
Oct. 21—Idaho at Eugene.
Oct. 28—U. C. L. A. at Los Angeles.
Nov. 4—Utah at Portland.
Nov. 11—O. S. C. at Eugene.
Nov. 18—U. S. C. at Los Angeles.
Nov. 30—St. Mary's at San Francisco.

Frosh Called Out For First Hoop Practice

Reinhart and Rogers Plan Work for Yearlings

Race for Places on Varsity Hot; Sophomores Find Places

By BILL EBERHART
Freshman basketball candidates will meet in McArthur court at 4 o'clock this afternoon to receive equipment and go through their initial paces for the coming hoop season. This announcement was made officially yesterday afternoon by Bill Reinhart, varsity coach.

Although nothing definite has been done as yet about the appointment of a regular yearling coach, Reinhart and Rockwell "Red" Rogers, graduate student in physical education and a former member of the Webfoot squad, will handle the first year aspirants temporarily.

Varsity Works Out
Meanwhile, the varsity has been working out in hard daily practices and slow but sure progress is being made towards the strenuous holiday schedule in which it will come up against some of the best hoop teams in the San Francisco Bay region.

Practice Monday afternoon found Bill Berg, sophomore, on the first five along with Cap Roberts, Kermit Stevens, Jack Robertson, and Gib Olinger. This doesn't necessarily mean anything in the final selection of the team, but it does show that Reinhart isn't overlooking any bets. Berg has improved a lot over his play last year but will be forced to show more stuff if he expects to shove the dependable Jim Watts out of his place.

No Starting Lineup
The starting lineup hasn't been picked yet by any means and any one of the 20 candidates may be included therein when the opening game rolls around. Foremost among these, besides the letter-men, are Red Rotenberg, whose fight and all around ability make him a cinch for the squad.

La Grande Houghton looks better every day and will be a constant threat for a starting position. Ed Kunkle, whose clever ball handling and basketball sense make him an outstanding aspirant, and Homer Stahl, two-year veteran reserve, are two other outstanding prospects.

Simons Improving
Another who must be considered is Hank Simons, who doesn't look so good now on fundamentals, but wait until scrimmage starts! He's a husky boy and a fine defensive player who is at his best in scrimmage play.

Bob Miller, frosh center last year, and Joe Walsh, another center candidate, will undoubtedly understand Cap Roberts. At the present, Miller has a slight edge over Walsh but Joe is improving by leaps and bounds and either of them may get the call to help Cap over the rough places, although the genial captain seldom needs any assistance.

Illness Strikes at Indian Gridsters

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 14.—An epidemic of influenza swept the Stanford campus yesterday and threatened to cripple the Indian football team for its big game with California this Saturday.

Included among 150 students already in the hospital are four members of Pop Warner's grid machine. They are Bill Bates, center; Gordon Campbell, quarterback; Red Gribben, tackle, and Ernie Caddel, triple-threat half-back. Practice was restricted yesterday because of other players on the squad who felt slight touches of the disease.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT POLICIES ARE SET OUT

Temple Still Trails Griffith In Coast Race

Southern California Back Boasts 36 Points

Palmer, Warburton, Moe, and Moses Tied for Third With 18 Tallies

Homer Griffith, Southern California's slippery field general, skirted Oregon's left end for the first touchdown of Saturday's grid classic in Los Angeles, thus boosting his season's scoring total to 36 points, and adding six points to his margin of leadership for scoring honors in the Pacific Coast conference.

Nearest Griffith is Mark Temple, Oregon ace, who has amassed a grand total of 25 points from four touchdowns and one successful conversion. Temple was held in check by the Trojan machine last Saturday, but managed to hold a seven-point advantage over his nearest competitors for second place honors.

Four men, Palmer and Warburton of Southern California, Moe of Oregon State, and Moses of Washington State, are in a deadlock behind Temple with 18 markers. All of the leaders but Temple and Moe have chances remaining to add to their total, in coming games.

Following are the records of the 15 leading scorers, only conference games considered:

	Td.	Pg.	Fg.	Tl.
Griffith, So. Cal.	6	0	0	36
Temple, Oregon	4	1	0	25
Palmer, So. Cal.	3	0	0	18
Moses, W. S. C.	3	0	0	18
Warburton, So. C.	3	0	0	18
Moe, O. S. C.	3	0	0	18
Williams, Calif.	2	1	0	13

U. of O. Teachers Get Recognition

John L. Casteel and Bob Oliver, both of the speech division of the U. of O. English department, have had articles printed in the November edition of the Quarterly Journal of Speech, a magazine published by the National Association of Teachers of Speech.

The two articles were in the form of reviews on old books. Casteel's being written on "The Autobiography of Peter Cartwright, the Backwoods Preacher," and Oliver's on "Conversation, Its Faults and Graces." Oliver also wrote a story for the latest edition of American Speech, a story on hobo lingo, entitled "Jungles."

Leaves Here

Regarded as one of the finest scouts in football, Jack O'Brien has been forced to resign from the Webfoot coaching staff because of ill health. O'Brien came west with Doc Spears three years ago.

Women Meet in Hockey Games

Intramural hockey is well under way with two games already marked off the slate and another to be played next Thursday.

Last Thursday the team led by Katherine Lenck defeated the team managed by Mildred Widmer with a score of 2 to 0. The two teams played again last night and will oppose each other once more in the game on Thursday afternoon.

Rain was sufficient to daunt sturdy Republican and loyal Democrat and consequently the game scheduled for election day was never played. Announcement of the team line-ups for the rest of the season was also held over until later in the week.

Mildred Widmer's team is as follows: Naomi Marshberger, Bernice Wainwright, Bernice Shersinger, Edith Tucher, Eileen Moore, Thelma Sundrud, Bernice Bishop, Lois James, Esther Lisle, Irene Hoyman, Ethel Thienes, Elaine Untermyer, Zolpha Huston, Ruth Irvin, Marion Vinson, and Mildred Marks.

The team managed by Katherine Lenck is: Dorothy MacLean, Eleanor Coombe, Faye Knox, Doris Payne, Marjorie Black, Vera Roscoe, Lucile Carsons, Greta Kirkpatrick, Lois Howe, Katherine Quittmeyer, Edith Clement, Mary Elizabeth Gullion, Marjory Landru, Maude Lond, Alice Madsen, and Katherine Briggs.

University of Kansas is one of the few schools in the country that can claim an edge on games played with the Irish of Rockne fame. The two schools played one game and the Jayhawkers came out on top.

Beta 'B' Team Winner Over Phi Delt Five

Mill-Race Quintet Snatches Last-Minute Victory

SPE Beats Phi Psi; Phi Sig and Kappa Sig Squads Win By Forfeiture

Today's Schedule "A" League
4:00 p. m.—Sigma Nu vs. Betas.
4:40 p. m.—Sigma Pi Tau vs. A. T. O.
5:20 p. m.—Delta Tau Delta vs. Sigma Chi.

A new all-time scoring record was established last night when the Betas nosed out the Phi Delt by running up five points in the last four seconds of play and winning 11 to 7. In the other contest played last night S. P. E. won over Phi Psi by a 4 to 1 count. Pi Kappa Alpha forfeited to Phi Sigma Kappa as did Omega hall to Kappa Sig.

After battling through four hard quarters the Betas suddenly started scoring. The Phi Delt tried hard to solve the fast-moving offense of the mill-race five, but could not stop the last-minute field goals which formed the margin by which the Betas won the game. The finish of this game was by far the fastest seen in the do-not tils this year. Joe Walsh played a bang-up game at center for the winners.

More shots were tried in the Phi Psi-S. P. E. game, without results, than in any previous game on record this year. Both teams tried hard to score, but each side's basket was excellently guarded which accounted for the low score of 4 to 1.

Bruin Coach Has Initial Practice

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 14.—Coach Caddy Works, U. C. L. A. basketball mentor, called his first practice of the season last Monday afternoon. Six of his 1931 squad return in Piper, Rose, Maxwell, Binkley, Capt. Lemcke and Brotemarkle.

Eilers, standing 6 feet, 4 inches in the air and weighing 190 pounds, will be eligible this year. Hailing from South Dakota, Eilers is a center, and a real one, according to Coach Wilbur Johns. Tentative games already scheduled include Whittier, La Verne and the Los Angeles Elks, formerly the Pasadena Majors.

Two of the best coaches in the Pacific Coast conference, Howard Jones at the University of Southern California and Bill Spaulding at the University of California at Los Angeles, do not believe in haranguing their players.

Byrne Visits Campus
C. D. Byrne, head of the informational service for the state system of higher education, was a visitor on the University campus yesterday afternoon. He was here for a conference with Chancellor W. J. Kerr.

On the.... Sidelines

By BRIAN BELL

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(AP)—The University of Oregon has one of the heaviest football teams in the United States. The line-men on the Webfoots average 202 pounds and the backfield average is only a few pounds lighter at 191.

Kostka, one of the heavy weight backs, scaling over 200 pounds, is one of the Stan Kostka fastest men in football, his combination of speed and brawn making him a difficult proposition to handle at all times.

Temple, not so big as some of his fellows, but bulking large in an ordinary crowd, is a triple threat, passing, running or kicking with equal facility. Mikulak, another big boy, generates a lot of power.

Morgan, the Oregon captain, is a great tackle and while handicapped by an injured hand, making it necessary for him to wear it in a cast, his play has been a feature of the season.

Bill Ingram at the University of California is said to have the ability to pep up his men through the medium of the vocal cords, and Slip Madigan of St. Mary's knows a lot of Irish words, although he says he does not use so many as his friends claim.

The lamented Knute Rockne always poked fun at what he called "an act" and some of his best stories were about coaches who tried to get the boys to play a bit better than they knew how by appealing to their emotions. But it is a fact that after listening to "Rock," Notre Dame players always wanted to rush out and see if they could find their opponents.

Gold Medal Grade A Raw Milk

Pasteurized

Placed Second at the Pacific Slope Dairy Show held in Oakland, California, November 11th-15th, 1932.

Our Score of 98.5 is the highest score ever made by an Oregon entry at this show, which is next to the largest dairy show in the world.

This exceptional score was made in competition with hundreds of dairies from all over the United States and Canada. . . . Samples of Gold Medal Grade A Raw Milk, Pasteurized, were taken by the City Milk Inspector from one of our trucks on the streets of Eugene.

This is unquestionable evidence of the high quality of GOLD MEDAL GRADE A RAW MILK, PASTEURIZED—supplied by MEDO-LAND CREAMERY CO.—to the living organizations on the campus.
