

Commission Will Propose New Policies

Proposals for Sentences in Crime Cases Given

Outlawing of Cross-Examination Without Defense Attorney To Be Considered

At the Crime commission meeting, which Wayne L. Morse attended last Friday, reports were made by the chairmen, including recommendations to be submitted to the legislature. The commission decided to list the various recommendations on a ballot and submit them to the individual members of the commission to be voted upon. Approved recommendations will be put in bill form and submitted to the legislature.

The committee on the Reform of Criminal Procedure, of which Dean Morse is chairman, reported that it had adopted the policy of recommending a few major reforms in criminal procedure rather than favoring a policy whereby an attempt would be made to make many changes. The committee's report contains the following recommendations: First, that the Crime commission approve the principle of the proposal that Article I, Section 11, of the Constitution of the State of Oregon be amended so as to provide for a conviction in criminal cases, except in capital offenses, if 10 or 12 jurors vote for the conviction.

The second recommendation of the committee proposes that Article 7, Section 18, of the Oregon Constitution should be amended by providing that all offenses heretofore required to be prosecuted by indictment or information.

The third recommendation proposes that a law should be passed permitting the state the same number of peremptory challenges in selecting the jury in criminal cases as is allowed the defense.

The fourth recommendation proposes a law whereby prosecutors should be allowed to comment without prejudice on the fact that the accused has not taken the stand in his own defense.

The last recommendation proposes that the commission consider the principle of the law whereby confessions should be declared inadmissible in evidence and a law whereby persons arrested shall not be cross-examined by police or prosecutors except in the presence of a defense attorney.

Commenting upon this recommendation, Dean Morse stated that he is not prepared at this time to commit himself upon the efficacy of such a proposal. Such laws do not exist anywhere in the United States and are being proposed by those who seek to curtail third-degree methods. In many instances arrested persons are cross-examined in police stations and in prosecutors' offices and do not enjoy the advice and protection of counsel. It is as important that we protect those accused of crime in the stage of criminal procedure prior to trial as it is to protect them in the actual trial of the case, by a presumption of innocence.

Another recommendation, submitted by the committee on probation and parole, was that each county in the state provide for an

SPECIAL THANKSGIVING DINNER

- Turkey with Dressing
- Cranberry Sauce
- Mashed Potatoes
- Vegetable
- Hot Rolls
- 35c
- Hot Turkey Sandwich
- Mashed Potatoes
- Cranberry Sauce
- 20c

Campus Cafe
1249 Alder St.
Phone 578-W

Change Is Made In 'B' Schedule Of Donut League

All "B" league basketball games scheduled for December 8 will be played this Friday afternoon, it was announced by the intramural boards last night.

The games which have been moved up, because of the fact that classes will be held this week-end, are: Pi Kappa Alpha vs. Delta Tau Delta at 4 o'clock; Kappa Sigma vs. Sigma Chi at 4:30; Beta Theta Pi vs. Phi Kappa Phi at 5; and Phi Kappa Psi vs. Sigma Nu at 6:30. All games concern "B" league teams only.

Music Students Present Varied Talent in Program

By BETTY OHLEMILLER
Five students, Janet Fitch, pianist; Sally Reed, pianist; Betty Evanson, soprano; Maxine Hill, pianist; and John Spittle, tenor, were presented in joint recital at the music building last night.

Miss Fitch played Schumann's "Romanza" and Chopin's "Mazurka." The first, stressing the base patterns, had a hint of tragic grace, while the latter was quick and light with the melody in the treble clef.

Miss Evanson's three numbers were all in French. In the last of her group, "Charmante Oiseau" by David, the flight and songs of birds were represented.

Maxine Hill, president of Tau Delta Delta, music honorary, played three modern piano numbers. The first, Guion's "Lonesome Whistler," suggested something of the lone whistler's melancholy. Van Dyke's "Surf," with its runs speaking of the tide, and Liadov's novelty number, "Music Box," similar to the dainty melody of the old fashioned music boxes, concluded this group.

Three numbers in andante tempo, Scarlatti's "Sento nel core" in the original language, Handel's "Where e'er You Walk," and Stanford's "My Love's an Arbutus," were sung by John Spittle. The last number was a short romantic love song.

Sally Reed, whose group concluded the recital, played two brilliant numbers, "Nocturne in C sharp minor" by Chopin and "Novellette in F major" by Schumann.

officer who will be in charge of the task of advising the judges in regard to sociological data concerning the defendant which the judge should know before sentence is passed. In case of probation this official would be charged with the duty of administering probation requirements set by the judge. The recommendation is not meant to create a new office, but it is believed that the county probation officer could perform other functions as well as do the probation work.

The committee on penal reform made recommendations for the establishment of a reformatory farm and an institute for youthful offenders between the ages of 16 and 30 years, as well as the introduction of an educational program in penal institutions. No excessive cost would be made because the state has land near Salem, and the present prison farm could be remodeled into a suitable reformatory.

Questionnaire Results To Be Published Soon

Answers to the student-faculty questionnaire distributed the past week to 100 campus leaders will be filed early next week. Tabulated results will be made and published as rapidly as they are available.

Members of Skull and Daggers and of Mortar Board have been collecting the information. The object of the questionnaire is to determine reasons for lack of close relationship between faculty and students.

SOCIETY

ELOISE DORNER, Editor

International House Holds Formal Dinner

The three Japanese Good Will debaters were honored Tuesday evening at the International house with a formal dinner. Other guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Burt Brown Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Noble, the three Pacific Basin debaters, David Wilson, Bob Miller, and Roger Pfaff, the Japanese consul of Portland, Mr. Nakamura and Mrs. Joseph Kanzler, president of the Oregon Mothers, Kazumi Hirao, president of the organization and Dave Wilson were in charge of the affair.

Pledges of Sigma Phi Epsilon were honored at a semi-formal grille dance at Lee Duke's Friday night.

Ed Schjesser was in charge of the dance. Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Burrell, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Riddiesbarger, and Mrs. Gerda Brown.

Zeta Tau Alpha entertained their pledges with an informal dance Friday evening at the chapter house. The house was decorated with wall panels showing pictures of distant buildings and streets to represent a Paris street dance.

Patrons and patronesses were: Mrs. Mary K. Wiggins, Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Huestis, Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Scobert, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Huntington, Mary Teresi and Shirley Sylvester were in charge.

Debate Group Selects Slogan For Introduction of New Plan

"A maximum amount of training to a maximum amount of men in sound analysis, accurate briefing, research, and public utterance" is to be the slogan for the men's forensic department when it initiates a plan whereby complete revision of the programs and schedules in varsity debating will take place, according to W. A. Dahlberg, director of men's forensics.

In this revision of the plans of the department, there will come about a modification similar to those made at the Oregon State college, Pacific college, and the University of Washington. This was made necessary by curtailed budgets and the growing demand for a realistic approach to debating with the hope of eliminating certain objectionable features which have existed for some time. Among these undesirable features was the critic judge for meets. This system will be omitted in the new plans, by which process the members of the speech division hope to eliminate any temptation to submerge valid evidence of the opposing team.

The proposed new plan will be consistent with others all through American colleges, and should promise good results, say the investigators on the local campus.

Only very vital questions of local or state interest will be used this year. The state teams will meet in various Oregon towns and there will discuss problems pertaining immediately to that section of the country. The question of the high protective tariff will be a prominent one this winter. Since only state problems will be debated, there will be very little traveling necessary, and consequently the expenses incurred by

Mildred McAlister To Wed Thursday

The marriage of Miss Mildred McAlister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. McAlister, to Merion Folts of Portland will be solemnized Thursday, Thanksgiving day, at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Clay E. Palmer of the Congregational church will officiate.

An informal reception will follow the wedding. Miss Violet Judy will attend Miss McAlister, and Verne Folts will be best man. The bride is affiliated with Beta Phi Alpha and Mr. Folts is a member of Alpha Tau Omega.

Members of International house entertained Friday, November 18, with an informal dance. Decorations carried out the fall motif. Chains of leaves and flowers were used. Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. Virgil D. Earl, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Tillman, and Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Shumaker, Louis Grafious was chairman of the dance.

Thespians, freshman women's honorary, will honor all the women in the frosh class at a get-together party Wednesday, November 30, in Gerlinger. The affair will start at 7:30. Dancing, bridge, and ping pong will be the main features of the evening, with surprise features as intermission numbers.

the team will be negligible, and the questions lively. Some twenty men have turned out for squad work, and each one who works on the questions will have at least one opportunity to participate in the varsity debates which will begin toward the latter part of February.

CROWD ATTENDS GOOD. WILL MEET IN GERLINGER

(Continued from Page One) people earnestly desire to maintain the friendship and good will of America.

Roger Pfaff, adviser for the young men, in a short talk emphasized that the new Manchukuo government will keep the "open door" open, contrary to many reports and rumors.

The assembly was concluded with a pep rally for the football team preceding its departure for the South, at which students were called upon by Robert Hall, student body president, to show its visitors what real Oregon spirit is like.

Jay Color Crepes 1295
Campus Shop
H. LIEBES & CO.
149-151 Broadway
Portland

THANKSGIVING DINNER

Served All Day Thursday, Nov. 24 50c

- Grape Fruit Cocktail
- Cream of Tomato Soup
- Celery Ripe Olives
- Fresh Crab Salad
- Combination Fruit Salad
- Mayonnaise Cream Dressing
- ENTRES
- Fried Pacific Oysters
- Shredded Cabbage
- Roast Young Turkey
- Dressing Cranberry Sherbet
- Roast Prime Ribs of Beef Au Jus
- Dinner Steak
- Mushroom Sauce
- Roast Leg of Young Pork Baked Apple
- Snow Flake Potatoes
- Buttered Asparagus
- Hot Rolls

DESSERTS

- College Side Hot Mince Pie
- Pumpkin Pie
- Fruit Jello
- Apple Pie a L' Mode
- Chocolate Cake a L' Mode
- Maple Nut Sundae
- Caramel Parfait
- Peppermint Ice Cream
- Tea
- Coffee
- Milk
- Buttermilk

Also 35c Plate Dinner Including Turkey and Dessert Complete a L'Carte Service

The St. Mary's-Oregon Game on the Radio

Many Students Attend Annual Campus Dance

The annual Sophomore Informal dance attracted most of the campus last Saturday evening, and this week the attention will turn to Thanksgiving dinners, and house dances this week-end. The Igloo was decorated in blue and carried out a Dutch idea for the informal. Programs were covered with cellophane and pictured a Dutch windmill.

Temenids, Eastern Star organization on the campus, held a breakfast Sunday morning at the Green Lantern following the formal initiation. Miss Gertrude Larson, national inspector of the group, was a guest of honor. Other honored guests were Mrs. S. S. Dunn, Mrs. F. G. Weinrick, and Mrs. Edith B. Pattee.

Mrs. Hallie Huntington was toastmistress. Other speakers were Mrs. W. J. Kerr and Mrs. Gladys Chase, president of the organization.

The initiates of the organization are Daphne Matthews, Twyla A. Stockton, Irwanda M. Bateman, Edith Tucker, Maude Long, and Dorothy E. Winter.

Phi Gamma Delta entertained their pledges at a dance Friday evening. A "nut house" idea was carried out. Rooms in the house were decorated to represent a padded cell, the nut's play room, and the operating room. Mark Thomas was in charge of the dance.

Books Selected For B.A. Students

A special shelf for books relating to department store management and salesmanship is to be set aside in the main library. The books are to be selected so as to run in conjunction with the series of lectures just started, which will include talks by a number of prominent department store men. The first of this series was staged yesterday by the A. W. S., and Harold F. Wendell, president and manager of Lipman Wolfe spoke on "Opportunities open to women in department stores."

The books are to be changed at each lecture, so that they will refer to topics being taken up by the current speakers. They will be on reserve on a special shelf for the purpose in the main reading room of the main library.

The order for the first assortment of books was to be sent in today by Katherine Kneeland, employment secretary.

School of Journalism Gets Gifts From Villard

A framed copy of the New York Evening Post of September 15, 1815, has been shipped from New York and will hang upon the walls of the department of journalism lecture room. A copy of the centennial issue of the Post, which is really a valuable document in journalistic history, reviewing the evolution of the profession in America for 100 years, is also on its way.

No Turkey in Infirmary

Students are looking forward to Thanksgiving, as far as the infirmary is concerned, and are steering clear. Word must have gone around that there would be no turkey dinner, but possibly word that there would be goose instead has failed to penetrate. At any rate, only three students, Eleanor Clark, Alma Flaig, and John Kavanaugh are now under treatment.

Books Selected For B.A. Students

A special shelf for books relating to department store management and salesmanship is to be set aside in the main library. The books are to be selected so as to run in conjunction with the series of lectures just started, which will include talks by a number of prominent department store men. The first of this series was staged yesterday by the A. W. S., and Harold F. Wendell, president and manager of Lipman Wolfe spoke on "Opportunities open to women in department stores."

The books are to be changed at each lecture, so that they will refer to topics being taken up by the current speakers. They will be on reserve on a special shelf for the purpose in the main reading room of the main library.

The order for the first assortment of books was to be sent in today by Katherine Kneeland, employment secretary.

School of Journalism Gets Gifts From Villard

A framed copy of the New York Evening Post of September 15, 1815, has been shipped from New York and will hang upon the walls of the department of journalism lecture room. A copy of the centennial issue of the Post, which is really a valuable document in journalistic history, reviewing the evolution of the profession in America for 100 years, is also on its way.

These gifts came from Oswald Garrison Villard, president of the New York Evening Post, son of the great war correspondent, journalist, and empire builder who gave Villard hall to the University, grandson of William Lloyd Garrison, also a maker of history, and himself one of the most forceful journalists of his time.

Emerald Of the Air

The "newspaper of the air" comes to you today at 12:15. Tomorrow the Emerald-of-the-Air features Carl Dixon, vocalist, and a pair of big-time saxophone players from Lenny Hoyt's Royal Collegians. Friday, Bruce Hamby brings you his weekly sports talk at 12:15. Saturday's program has not been completed, but it probably will be a special of some sort, and it will come to you at the usual time, 12:15.

Sigma Xi

By ANN REED BURNS

(This is the first of a series of articles by Miss Burns on honorary societies, local and national, which are represented on the Oregon campus.)

All you who spend your time in the art department or who are struggling with Latin conjugations—don't read this. It is not for you. But all science students—Stop! Look! Listen!

The greatest honor a student can attain in science is to be elected to Sigma Xi, national science honorary. This organization was founded in 1886 at Cornell University, to encourage original investigation and research. It was established to give recognition to those who have done something original in the world of science, the same as Phi Beta Kappa gives recognition to those who have had outstanding scholarship in the literary world.

In order to be elected to membership in Sigma Xi, a student must have done some productive work: found a new technique, made some discovery, which is acceptable for publication. Undergraduates rarely become active members, for by the time a student has been able to accomplish any satisfactory piece of research, he is as a rule a second or third year graduate.

But, undergraduates, don't become disheartened! There's still a chance. For every year a number of associate members are chosen for Sigma Xi. Any student who shows the capacity and the ability for research but who has not yet actually completed any work, may be elected as an associate.

An important feature of Sigma Xi—and this may be a surprise to many—grades are not of primary importance. They may play some part in the selection, but in themselves they will never enable a student to make Sigma Xi.

Students majoring in physical science, natural science, or psychology are eligible to membership. A committee of the active members of the honorary looks through the records of students and selects about 25 of those who have shown the greatest capacity and promise.

The present officers of Sigma Xi at the University are Prof. L. F. Henderson, curator of the herbarium, president; Dr. Rosalind Wulzen, secretary; and Dr. F. L. Shinn, treasurer.

The Eugene chapter of Sigma Xi was founded in 1923. It was formerly very large, electing to membership both Oregon State and University graduates, since there was no chapter at Corvallis. At present, however, due to the shifting of sciences to Oregon State, the size of the organization has been extremely diminished, only 14 active members remaining here. Whether the chapter will be transferred to Corvallis or what else may be done is as yet unknown.

But, whether the organization remains here or not, there will always be somewhere a chapter of Sigma Xi to which the lovers of science can aspire. And, while it doesn't follow that you'll be a second Einstein—still, it's a good beginning.

Campus Calendar

Phi Kappa Psi announces the pledging of John Tabbot of Portland.

Frosh Discussion groups led by Eula Loomis and Nancy Suomela meet at bungalow at 3 today.

Social swim for both men and women will be held as usual this coming Friday at the women's pool from 7:30 to 9 o'clock. Suits and towels will be furnished free of charge.

Alpha Delta Sigma luncheon today at College Side. All members and pledges be there. Urgent business.

Rae Visits Tillamook
Professor Arne G. Rae was in Tillamook over the week-end on personal business. He also visited the newspapers there.

— Patent
— Kidskin
— Suede

SHOES

1.98

Your shoes should make a perfect contrast against the fussiness of new frocks. Ward's shoes follow that idea exactly—and they're well made and finished inside. Suede ties with patent striping; Oxfords with delicate perforations...operas of kidskin or suede and kid combined. These are a few in our extensive collection. Sizes 3 to 8.

We now carry all sizes

MONTGOMERY WARD & Co.

1059 Willamette Street
Phone 3220

YOU CAN DEPEND ON A LIGGETT & MYERS PRODUCT

LOOK READ SAVE

HOUSE MGRS.

This Next Week-end is the Time to Have Your Tong Repaired

Repairing of All Kinds
Call 85 for an Expert

BOOTH-KELLY LUMBER CO.

FIFTH & WILLAMETTE PHONE 85