

Nobody's Business

By BRUCE HAMBY

EVER since Washington landed on the Idaho Vandals last week and snowed them under by 60 and 70-point scores, and Oregon took two on the chin from Washington State, basketball fans have been moaning a bout the slaughter due tonight and tomorrow night when the Huskies appear here.

There is no doubt but that the odds are heavily in favor of the northern champions. They would be favorites if the Webfoots were in good physical condition. But why the concerted howl and towel-tossing? Oregon hasn't lost yet, and there's plenty of chances that it might not. Basketball is one game in which those last-minute rallies are easily possible. Remember the thrilling games last year with the Cougars and Oregon State when the Webfoots climbed from behind to win. Who knows when such thrillers might come along again.

The Webfoots are in one bad spot this week-end, and don't forget that. Bill Reinhart is up the well-known creek with three players, Watts, Kunkle and Stevens banged up. All three of these men could be put into tonight's game, but Bill doesn't know yet whether he will use any of them. According to Bill, it's a case of use them now and pray that nothing will happen to keep them on the bench the rest of the season, or keep them on the sidelines this week-end and assure their presence in the 12 conference games to come.

The reported loss of Pete Antoncich, tall Husky center, failed to bother Reinhart much last night. Pete was only a sub last year, while all-coast Johnny Fuller did the jumping. If Hec Edmundson decides to bench Antoncich until the Oregon State series he can still produce a first class ball club by moving Fuller to center, Jack Hanover to forward, and adding Bob Heaman as a guard.

Keep an eye on Fuller tonight for he is bound for all-coast honors again this year, according to report from eye-witnesses of the Washington-Idaho games. Fuller scored 32 points in two games. Last year he was chosen on every all-coast team named. He has been second leading scorer of the northern division for the past two years.

Granting Fuller a position on the northern division all-star, who are the others likely to be named? Ed Lewis of Oregon State is a certainty. Cap Roberts is a cinch if he plays anything like he did last year. Huntly Gordon of Washington State is in line for a third consecutive year. The fifth man? Your guess is as good as mine. It's far too early, anyhow, to start choosing or even guessing at all-stars.

Anyone who thinks Oregon's athletic situation is in a bad way might think about the University of Washington's. In a recent issue of the U. of W. Daily there appeared the request for all fraternities that could be donated to the A. S. U. W. Five track lettermen, the article stated, were unable to get suits due to inability to buy any equipment. With no money to buy more and a large turn-out expected later, the situation is acute.

TAMALE DANCE!

Eight Royal Highballs and Entertainers!
 Friday, Jan. 20 8-11
 College Night
 Saturday, Jan. 21 9-12
 FREE! Punch and Tamales Served
WILLAMETTE PARK BALLROOM
 Sunday 8-11

Ducks Ready To Outclaw Huskies In Hoop Tilt Tonight

Webfoot Five Crippled For Initial Game

Washington Squad Heavy Favorites To Win

Stevens, Kunkle, Watts May See Action Despite Injuries; Preliminary Set

By BILL EBERHART
 Oregon's basketball team faces a tough assignment tonight when they meet the high-scoring Huskies from Seattle in the first of a two-game series. With three first string men on the bench with knee injuries, the Webfoots enter the game under a decided handicap, but the rest of the squad are determined to take the bull by the horns and reverse the dope by at least holding Washington's score down to a reasonable figure, something that Idaho failed to do in two tries.

Pete Antoncich Out
 Word comes from the Washington campus that big Pete Antoncich, center, will be unable to play against Oregon. He spent the first of the week in the university infirmary with influenza and Coach Hec Edmundson plans to save him for the Oregon State series in Corvallis next Monday and Tuesday. In spite of the fact that Pete scored heavily against Idaho, his absence will not be greatly felt, inasmuch as Johnny Fuller played center all last year, and the Huskies won the championship with Antoncich on the bench.

Bill Reinhart announced yesterday that Stevens, Kunkle, and Watts would be able to play for a short while tonight, but he will keep them on the bench if it isn't absolutely necessary to use them. With 14 conference games still on the schedule, he thinks it would be foolish to risk further injury at this time.

Game to Start Late
 Coach Hec Edmundson and squad of 10 players will arrive in Eugene today. Those making the trip are Pete Antoncich, Mark Antoncich, Johnny Fuller, Virg Perry, Jack Hanover, Bob Heaman, Joe Weber, Harold Lee, Bob Balser, and Ed Ostling.

The varsity game is scheduled to start at 8:15 o'clock. A preliminary between the Oregon frosh at St. Mary's high is set for 7.

FROSH WILL MEET SAINTS TONIGHT IN PRELIMINARY

Rogers Outfit To Appear at 7 in Second Encounter With St. Mary's

Revenge will be the objective of the frosh quintet tonight when they meet St. Mary's high at 7 o'clock at the Igloo in a preliminary to the varsity encounter. The Saints handed the yearlings a 28 to 21 beating in the first game that the frosh played this year.

The Saints have a fast team, and should give the freshman a real battle. They have two outstanding stars in Christensen, guard and captain, and Tolman, forward.

Red Rogers plans to start his strongest lineup in this game in an attempt to wipe out the earlier defeat. At the forward positions he will start Pete Buck and Marvin Stroble. Buck scored 12 of the yearlings 18 points against the strong Fruit Growers association team. Stroble, the "Pendleton Flash," has shown well all season.

At center the call goes to Bill Harcombe, six feet three and a half inch lad from University high. Harcombe has shown lots of improvement in the last few games, both defensively and offensively. Stew Milligan, who will act as captain, and Glenn Sanford, all-state from Salem, will start in the guard positions. Both Sanford and Milligan are as strong offensively as they are defensively.

James and Hampton will probably see action in the forward positions, and Ward will probably substitute for one of the guards.

No, He Hasn't Hurt His Knee

Cap Roberts, Oregon's center and a leading contender for all-coast honors, is in first class shape for the games with the champion Washington Huskies tonight and tomorrow.

My Greatest Thrill in Athletics

By PRINK CALLISON
 (As told to Ned Simpson)
 It's kind of hard for me to tell which was the greatest thrill in athletics for me, for in the coaching group there are so many thrills of varying nature that picking an absolute "greatest thrill" is somewhat of a task.

The one that comes most easily to my mind, however, was the one I got from watching Mark Temple run 65 yards through the entire Beaver team over in Corvallis last fall. As you no doubt remember, the game had progressed into the last period and the score was 6 to 6. We had backed the Orangemen inside their own 20-yard line, and on third down Keith Davis, their great punting end, got off a beautiful kick. The ball was taken by Temple on our thirty-five, and with the help of nice interference, ran through them untouched.

It's easy for me to think of my greatest "negative" thrill, if you want that. That was also this season and occurred in Portland. Perhaps you have heard how a certain southern team beat us by means of a last minute pass? That was it! Another one of that same kind came down in L. A. when Southern California completed that pass for the first touchdown.

Prince Gary Callison, head coach of the Webfoots, began his football career right here in Eugene

Idaho To Retain All Spring Sports

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Jan. 19.—Sharp curtailment of spring sports being effected at other conference colleges will not upset the University of Idaho schedule to any marked extent, according to George E. Horton, graduate manager.

No change will be made at present in college publications, though other schools have cut theirs, according to the graduate manager.

SUPER-SPECIAL at the Campus Grocery

1249 Alder St.
 Sunday, Jan. 22
 Roast Turkey Dinner 25c
 12 to 2 5:30 to 7:30

Slip Madigan May Quit Post At St. Mary's

Veteran Mentor Reported At Outs With Board

Rumors Say Moraga Head Man Has Eye on Oregon State Coaching Job

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—(Special)—An article in the San Francisco Chronicle today reported that Edward (Slip) Madigan, for 12 years head football coach at St. Mary's, may resign when his contract expires in February. The paper reports that Madigan has been in secret conference with the officials at Moraga for the past week, and that finances seem to be the major subject for the rumored misunderstanding.

The dapper little mentor refused either to confirm or deny the rumored discussion when interviewed today. He, however, denied reports that stated he was contemplating accepting the coaching position at Oregon State college, which has been vacant since the resignation of Paul J. Schissler two weeks ago.

In more than a decade of coaching the Gaels, Madigan has built them from a little known eleven to one of the leading contenders for gridiron honors on the Pacific coast. Since the close of last season, which proved disastrous to some of the nation's greatest coaches and which did not prove successful financially for St. Mary's, the coaching situation at the Moragan valley institution has been shaky.

Dolan Mentioned for Job
 CORVALLIS, Jan. 19.—(Special)—Although Oregon State has made no active move to find a successor to the recently resigned Paul J. Schissler, reports continue to pour in as to the probable identity of the next Orange mentor.

Reports that Edward (Slip) Madigan, coach at St. Mary's might accept the position here caused little comment on the campus.

A dispatch from Klamath Falls today stated that Oregon State alumni of that city have proposed the name of Sam Dolan, member of the physical education department and well known Pacific coast conference official, for the Beaver coaching position. The alumni believe that the former Notre Dame grid star can pull the Staters out of their current slump and produce winning teams.

Pound Will Write Magazine Article

Dean Roscoe Pound of the Harvard law school, at a recent convention of the Association of American Law Schools, accepted an invitation to write a leading article for the Oregon Law Review, which is to appear in February. The subject of Dean Pound's article will be "What Use Can Be Made of Judicial Statistics?"

Commenting upon receiving the article from Dean Pound, Dean W. L. Morse of the law school stated that in his opinion, Dean Pound's willingness to write for the Review represents a compliment to the high standing of the journal.

"During recent years faculty writings and student notes, printed in the Law Review, have been cited with increasing frequency by courts and legal scholars. Dean Pound's article is undoubtedly the first of many scholarly articles which will be offered by the Law Review by some of the outstanding legal scholars of the country," Dean Morse stated.

Ed Lewis Holds Scoring Honors With 67 Points

Lanky Ed Lewis, Oregon State center, leads the individual scoring race at the end of the first week of conference play. Lewis scored 67 points in six games. Huntly Gordon, W. S. C. center, is in second place with 44 points.

The 15 high scorers of the northern division:

	G.	Fg.	Ft.	Tp.
Lewis, O. S. C.	6	28	11	67
Gordon, W. S. C.	5	14	16	44
Johnson, W. S. C.	6	17	8	42
Cross, W. S. C.	6	13	8	34
Lacey, Idaho	4	14	5	33
Fuller, Wash.	2	13	6	33
O'Connell, O. S. C.	6	12	5	29
Wills, W. S. C.	6	12	3	27
P. Antonich, Wash.	2	10	7	27
Lechintsky, O. S. C.	6	10	3	23
Hanover, Wash.	2	9	5	23
Scott, W. S. C.	6	11	0	22
Worner, Idaho	4	10	2	22
Barrett, Idaho	4	9	1	19
Hibbard, O. S. C.	6	7	3	17

Twenty-five Men Receive Football Letters for 1932

HERE is the official list of football lettermen for the 1932 season as released by the athletic department last night:

Elmer St. Clair Morgan, Bernard Hughes, Orville Bailey, Charles Bishop, Howard Bobbitt, William Bowerman, Robert Parke, Charles Wishard, Bree Cuppoletti, Charles Swanson, Gardner Frye, Mark Temple, George Pepelnjak, Raymond Morse, Michael Mikulak, Leighton Gee, Stanley Kostka, Alex Eagle, Bud Pozzo, Erwin Nilsson, Howard Clark, Roy Gagnon, Ted Giesecke, Ralph Terjeson, Oliver Pope.

Mermaids Ready To Churn Water For Seller Cup

Women's intramural swimming season opens officially with the first meet of the inter-house competition for the Seller cup, between Hendricks hall and Sigma Kappa, Friday, January 20, at 4 o'clock in the women's pool. All University women are invited to attend the contest.

It is not too late for houses to enter the competition for the Seller cup. The events include the crawl, racing back stroke, single over arm and breast, strokes for speed; plunges for distance; and diving. It takes only four entrants to make a team for these events. The point system is as follows: first place five points; second place three points, and third place one point. Those houses wishing to enter the contest call the W. A. A. head of swimming, and the meet will be scheduled.

To earn Women's Athletic association points, participants wishing to swim on class teams must have at least two practices a week. The pool is open at 4 o'clock for this purpose on Monday, with regular class instruction on racing technique and improving of strokes; on Tuesday for individual practice; on Thursday and Friday, for swimming meets. It is open every day except Saturday and Sunday at five for any women students who care to swim.

TIRED STUDENTS?

Are you getting tired of the monotony of house food? Then you owe it to yourself to have dinner at Seymour's.

A delicious four-course dinner served for .50, and roast turkey is served Sunday at this price. Fellows, if you want to be real smart, bring HER here to Sunday dinner, and your stock will be boosted about 100 per cent. An upperclassman who knows told us this.

Seymour's

Blackhawk

Helge Bostrom, captain of the Chicago Blackhawks, ice hockey stars, and is rated as one of the nation's best puck-chasers.

PIONEER PAGEANT MAY BE REPEATED AGAIN THIS YEAR

Project Will Be Almost Entirely Self Supporting if Held This Year

The question of whether the Eugene community will deem it advisable to repeat the Pioneer Pageant again this year, is one raised by the Eugene Pageant association. This is a project that has been of great success and interest, and is of great benefit to this community. The committee declares that it will be nearly entirely self-supporting this year.

Mr. W. F. G. Thacher, professor in English and business administration at the University, who has written the pageants given before, states, "This is the ideal time to present a pioneer pageant, embodying the essentials of the pioneer spirit which have gone so far in making the other shows the successes they were. If this community would get behind this project and sponsor this pageant, eliminating all expensive features and making it purely a community enterprise, it would establish Eugene in a position unequalled in any other city of the United States."

This is of interest to many University people, as summer session students and town students could participate, since local talent is used.

John Stark Evans, of the music department, who directed the music for the last pageant, declared himself heartily in favor of this plan. He is quoted as saying, "It is well worth a thorough investigation and consideration because of the fact that such a project, absorbing the interest of the community, as it would, would be of inestimable benefit to the city and county."

Initiation Time Set
 Initiation was set for Sunday, January 29, at the meeting of Phi Mu Alpha, men's national music honorary. A program committee of John Gribble, Larry Fischer, and Gene Fisher was appointed. Several members of the honorary have been presented on the weekly radio program over KOAC, which is sponsored by the music department.

DANCE

"After the Game"

CAMPA SHOPPE BAND

Fri., Jan 20
 50c Couple

Sat., Jan. 21
 75c Couple

Campa Shoppe
 PHONE 1379 for Reservations

S.P.E., Betas Provide Hot Donut Match

Mill Race Swatters Meet Defeat, 2 to 1

Yeomen Advance Nearer Title in Two Sports With Pair of Victories

TODAY'S SCHEDULES

"A" League Volleyball
 4:00—Phi Delta Theta vs. Delta Tau Delta; International house vs. Theta Chi.
 4:40—Alpha Tau Omega vs. Phi Gamma Delta; Pi Kappa Alpha vs. Friendly hall.
 5:20—Sigma Chi vs. Phi Kappa Psi; Alpha hall vs. Sigma Nu.

Handball
 4:00—Sigma Nu vs. Phi Gamma Delta.
 5:00—Kappa Sigma vs. Beta Theta Pi.

By BOB AVISON
 The outstanding set of volleyball games on yesterday's schedule were played between the Beta Theta Pi and Sigma Phi Epsilon sextets. S. P. E. defeated the Beta's in the first game by the score of 16 to 14, the Beta's reversed the decision in the second encounter by winning by the one-sided score of 15 to 7, but the S. P. E. boys came to life late in the third game and nosed out their opponents by a 15-to-13 count, thus winning the series.

In the other scheduled games, Delta Tau Delta defeated Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi took two straight from Phi Kappa Alpha, and the Yeomen decisively defeated the Sigma Pi Tau aggregation. The other two encounters ended by the forfeit route, Sigma hall forfeiting to Phi Sigma Kappa, and the Phi Gamma Delta team winning from Gamma hall by default.

Two handball games were played yesterday, the Yeomen defeated the Omega hall quartet 3 to 0, and the Phi Psi team nosed out Sigma Alpha Epsilon by a 2-to-1 count. The independents won two straight in each of the singles and doubles, while the Phi Psi team won the first singles and doubles. The S. A. E. was victorious in the second singles.

Here's Hoping

Oregon	Washington
Robertson	F. Lee
Olinger	(C) Fuller
Roberts (C)	Antoncich
Miller	Weber
Simons	G. Hanover

Elliott Grocery

13th and Patterson
Phone 95
 You Will Be Pleased When You Order Your Fresh Vegetables From Us

- Rhubarb
- Fresh Green Peas
- New Spuds
- Brussell Sprouts
- Green Peppers
- Spinach
- Beets
- Lettuce
- Celery
- Celery Hearts
- Cauliflower
- Sweet Potatoes
- Squash
- Hubbard Banana Table Queen

Try Our Fresh Meats for Your Sunday Dinner

Young Steer Beef
 Lamb
 Friers
 Large Hens for Stewing

Varsity Service Station
 13th and Hilyard
 WASHING GREASING GAS and OIL