

Nobody's Business

By BRUCE HAMBY
 WELL, the game was there, but the Webfoots passed it up. If ever Oregon had a chance to win a basketball game, last night was it. The Beavers had no spark and played far from the form that put them in the league - leadership. Cap Roberts bottled Ed Lewis as he has for the past three years. Yet every time Oregon appeared on the way to a rally, Emil Piluso's whistle would blow, a Beaver would sink a couple of foul throws, and so on for 40 minutes. Oregon didn't appear to be trying to kill off any Aggies, but their driving and ball-hawking tactics led them into 13 called fouls, most of them resulting in the two tries at the basket. The Orangemen made 15 good and that was more than enough to win.

The Aggie rooters didn't like Oregon's young co-ed sitting in back of the press bench went so far as to insinuate that Bill Reinhart had imported a select bunch of thugs and black-jackers. Except for two or three flagrant fouls, most of the violations were minor ones.

At that, we're glad to see the boys down on the Farm make good. What with farm relief falling through and all this over-production, the farm boys need a little encouragement. As for their winning the championship—why, it's in the bag. For has not Mr. Barometer said so? And what's more, he said Oregon's quintet was composed of mediocre players.

Mr. What's-his-name prints the following in his column concerning Oregon State's victories over Washington last week: "Slats (Gill) knew that he had to win those Washington games to stay up in the running for the coveted crown. . . . According to the column, nobody told Slats, either. Such intuition!"

Maybe I'm easily bothered, but everytime I take a look at Red McDonald I want to laugh or sneer—I don't know which. . . . The intermission stunt last night was even worse than anything ever seen over here. . . . Prize remark of the evening. . . . Bill Reinhart to Skeet O'Connell as Skeet lost the ball to Gib Olinger after some pathetically "ky" dribbling. . . . "Skeet, you're just too clever. . . . One nice thing about Corvallis. . . . it's so nice to leave. . . . Eleven minutes elapsed before Oregon State got a tip-off."

Oregon still has two more good chances to win a ball game. Next Friday and Saturday night the peppery Idaho Vandals appear at McArthur court. It will give Oregon fans their first chance to see Bill Reinhart's new offense, which looked good both against Multnomah and Oregon State. Last night it continually drew the Beaver defense to one side and gave Oregon players many chances to get set for long shots. Stevens and Olinger, on the outside, shift and snap the ball back and forth in order to draw Lewis over on one side, so that they can get a long shot on the other side without Lewis there to stop it with his height.

WEBFOOTS DROP OPEN-ING FRAY TO BEAVERS

(Continued from Page One)
 Robertson, Roberts, and Olinger, but the Beaver lead was far too great. Only three minutes remained to play when the high-scoring Lewis managed to get his first field goal, a long shot thrown when he was unable to pass the ball. McDonald was high point man for the Beavers with 10 points, followed by O'Connell with 8. Stevens led the Webfoots with seven points. Roberts totaled six, and Robertson four. Hank Simons was ejected from the game in the

Frosh Squad Looks Better In Rook Tilts

Yearlings To Meet Club Team This Week

Multnomah Intermediates To Play At McArthur Court on Thursday Night

By JACK CHINNOCK
 Rogers' frosh quintet pulled a surprise last week-end, when they upset the highly-touted rooks and almost made it two straight. The first game, played at Corvallis, was all in favor of the frosh from the beginning. It was a good game, but it didn't compare with the second encounter, which was played there, for thrills and excitement. The frosh came from behind in a brilliant rally that almost dumped the rooks.

In both the games the score was close, the frosh winning the first 21-27, and the rooks the second 29-27. Marv "Marvel" Stroble was the big factor in the Corvallis game for the frosh, coming into the game with only seven minutes to go to put on a shooting exhibition that netted more than a point a minute, giving the frosh a safe lead. The frosh jumped into an early lead, and although threatened at times, were never headed.

Rooks Nearly Caught

In the second game the situation was reversed, with the rooks taking a lead in the first few minutes to hold it throughout the rest of the game. The frosh scored ten points in three minutes in the second half to come within one point of the Orange Babes, but were unable to get the extra basket and take the lead. Pete Buck staged a one-man scoring show similar to the one Stroble put on the night before, scoring eight points in three minutes during the big duckling rally. A last minute shot by Stroble bounced out of the basket to end the evening's thrills.

The frosh scored more field goals in both of the games, but personal fouls robbed them of their chance for victory in the second game. Rogers' outfit committed 11 personal fouls, and the rooks took advantage of the break to drop in seven free throws out of 16 tries. The rooks only made four personals, and although the frosh capitalized on three of the five throws, it wasn't enough.

Sanford Stars for Frosh

The frosh were checking closely, and forced the rooks to take mostly long shots. Sanford allowed Palmberg, star rook forward, only five close in shots in the second game. Palmberg made two of these chances good, and also two long ones from the middle of the floor. In the second game Palmberg took 17 shots at the basket from somewhere in the vicinity of the center circle, and only two of them were good.

Out of 24 baskets, the frosh worked the ball in to make 21 of them. They only scored three baskets from the center of the floor. On the other hand, the rooks were forced to make 8 of their baskets from away out. The rooks, though, had the better average on shots, making about one out of three in the first game, and one out of four in the second. The baby ducks held an average of one out of four throughout both games.

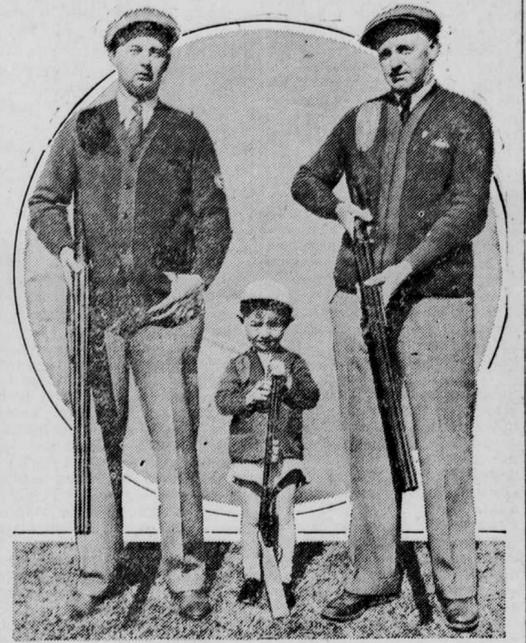

Schedule Mapped Out

The frosh had the advantage on the tip-off, with big Bill Harcombe consistently getting the jump. This was a big help to Rogers' outfit, giving them the first chance at the basket most of the time. Close checking on the part of the whole team forced the orange sharpshooters to take long shots. Coach Rogers has a hard week planned out for the team. Thursday night the ducklings will go up against the crack Multnomah intermediate quintet at the Igloo. Later in the week he hopes to stage another battle with the Oregon Yeomen, who took the frosh earlier in the season.

Oregon (21)	Fg	Ft	Pf
Berg, f	1	0	1
Stevens, f	3	1	1
Roberts, c	2	2	3
Simons, g	0	0	4
Olinger, g	1	0	3
Watts, g	0	0	1
Robertson, g	2	0	0
Totals	9	3	13
Oregon State (31)	Fg	Ft	Pf
O'Connell, f	1	6	1
Hibbard, f	1	1	0
Lewis, c	1	4	2
McDonald, g	4	2	3
Lenchitsky, g	1	2	0
E. Davis, g	0	0	1
Totals	8	15	7

Referee: Emil Piluso, Portland.

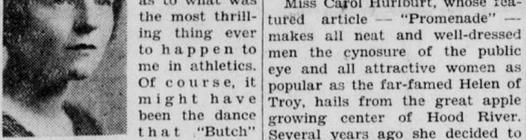

Death to Bluerocks

Here are three generations of trapshooting Trochs—Oregon's claim to fame in the shot gun sport. On the left is Earl, Oregon's leading professional. At the right is Frank, No. 1 gunner of Oregon, and one of the outstanding amateurs of the country for the last 21 years. George, pictured in the center, is learning fast.

My Greatest Thrill in Athletics

By CAROL HURLBURT
 (As told to Ned Simpson)
 ASIDE from the fact that the sports staff of the Emerald allows me to use their room to write my masterpiece, "Promenade," I am at somewhat of a loss as to what was the most thrilling thing ever to happen to me in athletics. Of course, it might have been the dance that "Butch" (the Great Lover) Morse took me to last spring. Ah, but that certainly was a thrill, and it would have qualified as an athletic contest, too, for he can dip and glide like no other man on this campus—that I know of, anyway!

The greatest thrill of all, however, came from inviting the famous Senator Raymond Joseph (Back from Salem) Morse to our formal. Mr. Morse, a friend of the celebrated and terrible Dr. Spears, is one of the leading citizens of the state and is reported to have great influence with the governor and other influential men (didn't he and Dick Neuberger and Steve Kahn save the infirmary?).

Miss Carol Hurlburt, whose featured article—"Promenade"—makes all neat and well-dressed men the cynosure of the public eye and all attractive women as popular as the far-famed Helen of Troy, hails from the great apple growing center of Hood River. Several years ago she decided to come to Oregon, and the campus has known the spell of her fatal charm ever since. Carol says that while she was attending the Convent of the Holy Heart she played basketball and tennis. She also won fame as a high diver in a canoe fete high diving contest. Miss Hurlburt, in case you'd like to know, is 21—yes, that's authentic—5 ft. 2 in., has brown hair and greenish-grey eyes, and weighs 111 pounds. So there!

Women's Sports

By ROBERTA MOODY

Susan Campbell squeezed out a 28-to-25 victory over the Kappa Deltas in a swimming meet Tuesday afternoon. Elaine Untermann, Susan Campbell, took the 40-yard free style; Marjorie Black, Susan Campbell, the 40-yard single overarm and racing backstroke; Juanita Young, Susan Campbell, won the 20-yard breast stroke; Helen Taylor, Kappa Delta, the plunge; Dorothy Jeff, Susan Campbell, the diving contest.

Elaine Untermann, Juanita Young, Marjorie Black, Margaret Veness, and Dorothy Goff represented Susan Campbell hall. Evelyn Hays, Grace Brandt, Helen Taylor, Evelyn Schmidt, Marjorie Landru, and Ellen Endicott completed the Kappa Delta swimming team.

Alpha Omicron Pi will compete against Susan Campbell hall in a swimming meet today at 4 in the women's pool at Gerlinger hall. Beta Phi Alpha will swim against Kappa Alpha Theta. These meets will be held simultaneously.

Delta Gamma smothered the Alpha Xi Deltas 38 to 11 in an inter-house basketball game Tuesday afternoon. Hendricks hall will meet Zeta Tau Alpha in an inter-house basketball game today at 5 o'clock in Gerlinger hall.

Miss Thompson Visiting
 Miss Elinora Thompson, head of the O'Connell school of nursing in Portland, is spending the day on the campus holding conferences with the fifth year nursing students of the school. Miss Thompson makes periodic visits to the campus, during which time she conducts conferences and classes of instruction.

Novice Meet Is Scheduled For Spikemen

Hayward Announces Plans For Competition

Beginners To Get Chance; Track Season Is Just Around the Proverbial Corner

A novice track meet, something new in Oregon athletics, will be held this year on Friday and Saturday, March 3 and 4. Bill Hayward, varsity track coach, announced yesterday. The meet will be open to all students except track lettermen, place winners in any meets here, and freshmen with high school reputations. In other words, it is for ambitious but inexperienced students.

Hayward states that he has secured a large number of prizes from Eugene business men for winners of first and second places. So far Paul D. Green, De Neffe's, Lieutenant E. W. Kelly, Preston Hale, and Dave Graham have donated articles to be awarded.

Eleven Events Planned

Present plans include 11 events. There will be a 75-yard dash, 150-yard, 300-yard, 600-yard, three-quarter mile, high jump, broad jump, shot-put, javelin, discus, and pole vault. The only restriction to be placed on participants, Hayward announced, is that they must furnish proof of gymnasium or intercollegiate work. Hayward will accept no one who is not in first class physical condition.

Workouts Start Soon

Hayward also announced that the first call for varsity and freshman track will be given soon. A number of candidates are already working out three times a week, when weather permits.

Record Lures

If General Alvin Crowder wins his opening game this year he will tie the American league record of 16 straight victories now held jointly by Joe Wood, Walter Johnson, and "Lefty" Grove. Crowder pitched the Washington Senators to victory 15 times in a row last fall, and was only stopped in his winning "streak" by his enforced winter vacation.

The present varsity schedule opens April 29 with the annual relay meet with Oregon State at Corvallis. On May 13 the Web-foot varsity will travel to Seattle for a dual meet with Washington. The meet with O. S. C. here will be held either May 19 or 20, depending upon the date set for the high school relays. The final meet is the northern division conference meet, which is to be held at Pullman, Washington, this year at the invitation of Washington State college.

Frances Brockman Recuperating

Miss Frances Brockman, student at the University and well known Eugene violinist, is getting along nicely, according to reports from the Emanuel hospital in Portland, where she is recuperating from a recent automobile accident.

Gridsters Meet Tonight at Igloo; Practice to Start

Prink Callison, genial head football mentor, last night reiterated his previous announcement of a meeting of all varsity and freshman football players. The conclave takes place tonight at 4:30 at the Igloo. After the meeting the varsity players will elect a captain for next year. Callison said that spring practice will definitely begin Thursday night, and that he plans on finishing up all scrimmages and strenuous drill this term. However, he plans on organizing several teams from amongst the ends and backfield men next term, and will have several tough football games in an effort to build up a strong passing attack and defense.

Oregon Not Only Cellar Five; Bill Haarlow Is Hope

CHICAGO, Feb. 3—(AP)—While the current University of Chicago basketball team flounders in an admittedly hopeless effort to get out of the Big Ten cellar, there is one gleam of hope for the Maroons' 1934 quintet. Bill Haarlow, with one of the most amazingly versatile records of any prep athlete ever developed in Chicago, is coming up next year Haarlow, while at Bowen high school here, set the extraordinary records of 51 points in one basketball game his senior year, and in 13 games that season had a percentage average of 23½ points. His junior year he averaged 19¼ per game and the season before that 18¾.

In baseball he was captain, pitcher and first baseman, hurled one no-hit game, played errorless ball at first and cracked 16 home runs. Besides that he was twice captain of the school golf and fencing teams, winning a grand total of 14 varsity B's. His father, Dr. A. W. Haarlow, played football at Minnesota in 1907-09.

Yeomen, SPE Sextets Win Donut Titles

Phi Delt Beaten in Both Volleyball Leagues

Independents Annex "A" League Crown; Phi Come Within One Point of Victory

Today's Ping Pong Finals
 2:00 p. m.—Eva vs. Winner of Newman-Kjosness match.

By BEN BACK
 Tough luck seemed to pursue the Phi Delt representatives in both the "A" and "B" volleyball league finals last night. Both Sigma Phi Epsilon and Yeomen succeeded in overcoming them and thereby won the campus titles in the swatting sport.

After coming within one point from winning the second game, the Phi Delt "B" team watched Sigma Phi Epsilon forge ahead and also take the third game by a very narrow margin. So close was this second game that many sensational plays were the only methods with which Sigma Phi Epsilon could have possibly won the contest. If it had not been for Janky "Sphinx" Wishard, S. P. E. ace, his team would have lost time after time and it was his spectacular playing which really decided the championship. Wishard bolstered up a lagging team during the final minutes of the second game when S. P. E. was behind eight points and by some hard playing managed to come out on top. In the final game of this series Wishard and his teammates had very little trouble in taking the title.

The Yeomen proved to be too tough and rough for the Phi Delt "A" team, which could not cope with killing smashes of Omart and Kjosness. Two other boys who made life miserable for a time for the Phi Delt team were Rutherford and Crockett.

Phi Delta Theta could not function in the only two games of this series. The outstanding players for the Phi Delt were Ferd Fletcher and Al Edwards.

Hurry! Hurry!
DeNeffe's
 Offer
Heavy Shoes at
ROCK BOTTOM PRICES
 The Famous LOTUS and
JNO. WINTER
 Brands Participate in This Sale
For Example
 No. 734 Jno. Winter
 Colors, Brown and Black
 Regular $14.00
 Now $7.00
 No. 992 Jno. Winter
 Black Only
 Regular $13.00
 Now $6.75
 No. 784 Lotus Pac.
 Regular $14.50
 Now $11.50
 No. 775-777 Lotus
 Black and Brown
 Regular $13.00
 Now $6.75
 No. K8763-8791 Lotus
 Black and Brown
 Regular $14.50
 Now $7.25
 Here Is Your Opportunity to Get the Greatest Possible
 Shoe Value
 for Your Money
 Come While
 Sizes are Complete
DeNeffe's

Your Own Drama!

Events pile up in the papers—fires, murders, divorces—things unexpected, that happen to others, happen not often, and entertain you because they haven't happened to you.

Yet elsewhere in the papers are things to make happen to you—every day—in the way you want them—happen pleasantly, intimately, and at once! Advertised things. News in the advertisements helps you make your daily drama please you most. Helps you find the talcum and shaving lotion that can act best for you. This cream for smooth skin; this gasoline to enliven your car; a richer flavor to your ice cream; here a more comfortably built shoe. When you breathe, dress, eat, shut a door, ride to school, you can use the best conveniences the world offers you to use—if you read the advertisements and take advantage of their news. Honest news. Their facts proved honest by the thousands of enjoyers of each product. Prices of products made low because thousands enjoy them with you. Don't slight that part of the paper that is FRIENDLIEST.

Read the advertisements. They make you pleased about the daily things you do

Oregon Emerald
 "Influencing 3,500 Moderns"