

Dr. W. J. Kerr To Head Body Studying Pact

Chancellor To Guide State Student Forum

High Schools Will Take Course in Kellogg's Treaty; Prominent Citizens Named

Dr. W. J. Kerr, chancellor of higher education, has been appointed chairman of the Oregon Committee of the National Student Forum, an organization which has for its purpose the promotion of the study of the Kellogg pact in high schools, it is announced by Dr. C. P. Claxton of Washington, D. C., chairman of the national organization.

Dr. Kerr will head a committee of prominent citizens of Oregon, who are supporting the forum. Last year 2,800 high schools, of which 44 were in Oregon, were enrolled with the organization for study. In 1930 Ray Steubing of Jefferson high school, Portland, was winner of a free trip to Europe for his essay on the Kellogg pact.

Educators Laud Program
The work the forum is doing is endorsed by William J. Cooper, United States commissioner of education, and by prominent educators throughout the country.

Other members of the Oregon committee are Rex Putnam, Albany; George A. Briscoe, Ashland; E. D. Towler, Astoria; G. W. Ager, Bend; Mrs. Martha E. Mulkey, Coquille; H. W. Adams, Corvallis; R. R. Turner, Dallas; H. R. Gould, Eugene; John Francis Cramer, Grants Pass; Paul T. Jackson, Klamath Falls; John C. Johnson, La Pine; W. N. Byers, Odell; J. L. Turnbull, Ontario; Austin Landreth, Pendleton; Hopkins Jenkins, Charles A. Rice, Portland; C. W. Boettcher, The Dalles; Frank B. Bennett, Tillamook; and G. E. Finnerty, Vernonia. J. J. Handsaker, Portland, is secretary.

The two essential articles of the Paris pact, which will form the basis of study and topics for essays are:

Pact Articles Given
The high contracting parties solemnly declare in the names of their respective peoples that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations to one another.

The high contracting parties agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means.

The pact was brought forth August 27, 1928, at which time it was signed by the United States and 14 other nations. Since then 47 other nations have officially adhered to it, making a total of 62 parties to the treaty.

Attempts By Kahn To Make 'Debut' Aæ Foiled Early

COINCIDENT with the appearance of Dean Landsbury as guest soloist before a highly appreciative audience of 3,000 at McArthur court Sunday afternoon, Sen. Stephen Bertram Kahn, of back from Salem fame, made a deplorably unsuccessful debut before a small and disdainful gathering at Gerlinger hall. The piece which Sen. Kahn chose to play on one of the grand pianos in alumni hall was the martial "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Scarcely had the senator arrived at the "Glory, glory Hallelujah" refrain, when one of the attendants came forth and requested him either to cease his playing or depart from the hall. Upon being informed that another tune, preferably one of classical nature and softer notes, was necessary, Senator Kahn removed himself from the vicinity of the building.

It is rumored that the song he played is the only one in his repertoire. The report has not been confirmed, however.

Yeomen's Dance Heads Appointed

Initial plans for the "Yeomen's Tavern Brawl," annual dance given by the Oregon Yeomen, organization of independent men on the campus, were begun last night with the appointment of major committee heads by Howard Ohmart, general chairman of the affair. The dances will be held at the Craftsman's club, February 25.

The complete list of committee heads who will arrange all details for the dance follow: Ethan Newman, music; Lloyd Green, features; Verne Adams and John Crockett, refreshments; George Bennett, decorations; Julius Rehal, ticket sale and Oscar F. Munger, publicity manager.

Editorial Policies Of Weekly Sheets Contest's Subject

Oregon Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi Sponsor of Competition For Kelly Cup

Sigma Delta Chi is sponsoring the presentation of the Paul Kelly award, at the summer session of the Oregon State Editorial association, to the weekly or semi-weekly newspaper published in the state of Oregon, which shall have exhibited, in the opinion of the judges, the most noteworthy editorial skill.

The silver loving cup is offered by Paul R. Kelly, editor of the Portland Oregonian. For four years Sigma Delta Chi has offered a cup for the best weekly newspaper, and the award has been presented to the following papers: The Hillsboro Argus, The Hesperian Gazette-Times, The McMinnville Telephone-Register, and the Hood River News.

Judging will be based on (1) Interest in home affairs; tendency to write with interest and judgment about events within the home and community. It will be suggested that judges weigh this point most.

(2) Skill in selection of outside topics for comment, and ability to make the nearest possible local application. (3) Literary qualities of brevity, humor, surprise, pungency, sentiment, clarity, and ease of expression. (4) Mechanical attractiveness of page as displayed in balances, readability, choice of types, heads, etc. (5) Variety on editorial page as displayed in selection of material, departments, editorial features, etc.

(6) Ability to take a line of policy and follow it up; skill in securing the necessary repetition without monotony. (7) Intellectual leadership shown throughout the page. (8) Community leadership shown.

(9) Differential in favor of newspaper's locality, size, etc., so as to give smaller papers, which are unable to devote a full page to editorial matter, a fair chance.

The committee in charge of handling the contest and selecting the judges are Embert Fossum, Jim Evans, Ed Stanley, and Arne G. Rae, professor in journalism.

CINEMA

By BOB GUILD
Those two funny men, Laurel and Hardy, are still holding forth at the Colonial. At one time their inane piccolo prelude heralded something light, fast and generally amusing for the movie audience consumption, but with the growth of their ambition and the expansion of their reels much that was humorous about them has gone by the boards. They no longer zip through a natty two reels of cracks and counter-cracks, but stagger through seven reels of repetitive comedy.

FINAL LECTURE OF LOVE, MARRIAGE SERIES GIVEN off, as years go on, into friendships. In these we find sympathy, confidence, and loyalty—all factors necessary to a successful married life. However, there are two definite factors, he showed, that are contained in marriage, and not in friendship, which are the unity of purpose, in which all factors of the two lives are linked together for one goal, and the fact of concern with the rearing of children.

Marital life can be just what the couple attempts to make it. Therefore, as a forewarning, Dr. Conklin outlined the possible difficulties entering into the institution of marriage, emphasizing the importance of each in its maximum possibility.

These he enumerated as the failure of one of the pair to grow up, dealing with the idea of uneven development, in which case a person fails to develop emotionally; the insistence of women for a vocation; the establishment of habits of single living, habits of slapstick to make 'em laugh.

Lawyers' Shuffle Is Slated Tonight At Campa Shoppe

Baby Barristers To Begin Brawl At 9:15; Especial Imported Acts Will Feature

At 9:15 tonight the doors of the Campa Shoppe will open wide to admit Oregon's crop of future lawyers and the ladies which the law dance date committee has chosen for them to escort, for final and complete arrangements have been made and all is ready for the "Barrister's Brawl," the winter social splurge of the law student body. Pretentious and extremely official looking summons have been received by a considerable number of campus queens in lieu of invitations.

It promises to be a real evening with an eight-piece band and numerous features to pep up the crowd. Included in the list of feature events is a specially imported Fanchio and Marco act that bids fair to be worth the price of admission in itself.

Bill Dashney, chairman of the dance committee, issued the following statement late yesterday, "Doubtless this will be the biggest event of the year, and all is sure to run off smoothly. The one problem left to insure the success of the dance is to choose just the right date for Preston Gunther, president of the law student body. The date committee is swamped with applications from girls from every corner of the campus, and we must pick the right one."

Patrons and patronesses will include Dean and Mrs. Wayne L. Morse, Mr. James D. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Howard, Mr. Orlando John Hollis, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy S. Claire.

Mez Talks on Economic Tyranny Before Forum

Dr. John R. Mez, former professor of political science at the University, spoke before the adult forum of the Congregational church Sunday morning.

He based his talk on "Tyranny on the Economic Frontier" as it exists in the world today. He also declared that high protective tariffs defeat their purpose and do not aid home industry nor hasten the return to prosperity, but work for the interests of the strong.

Fireside Forum Talks To Be Given Tonight

The third meeting of the Fireside Forum series will be held tonight at men's living organizations. The schedule of houses and speakers is as follows:

Ristow Speaks on Adequate Faith at All-Campus Meet

Truth, Beauty, Goodness Cited As Essential Realities To Fullest Life

"What is an Adequate Faith for Today" was the topic discussed by Rev. Cecil F. Ristow, pastor of the First Methodist church, at the joint meeting of the student religious group Sunday evening at the Y.W.C.A. bungalow. The service was sponsored by the Student Christian council.

"An adequate faith for today must include faith in the highest values," the speaker said. "I cannot see how anyone can live a full and complete life unless he sees the highest realities in truth, beauty, and goodness."

"An adequate faith must also include belief in the divine goodness of human personality," Mr. Ristow said. "The universe exists for personality. The world stands on either side no wider than the soul is wide."

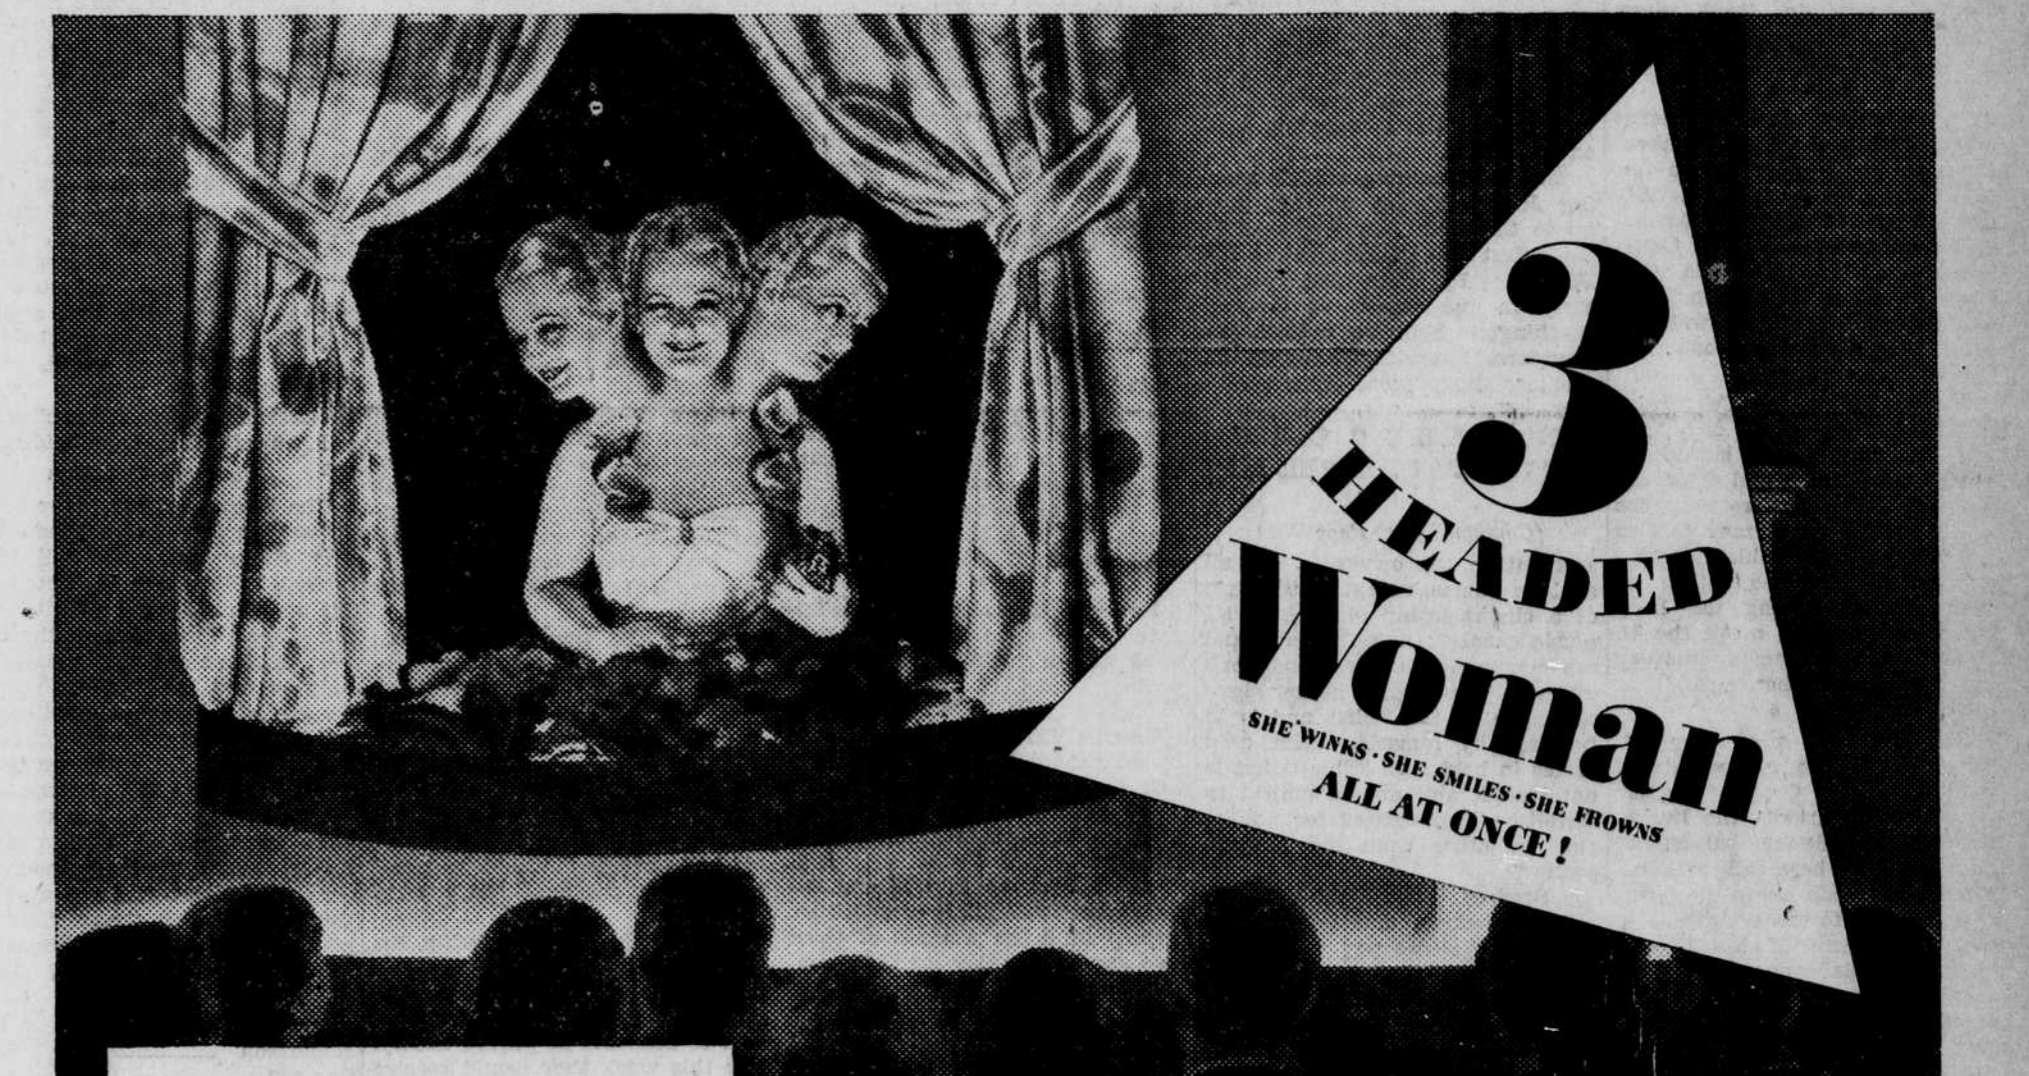

"An adequate faith must also include belief in the possibilities of human cooperation, and faith that there is a God of purpose and love."

Donald Saunders acted as general chairman of the affair; Eleanor Wharton was in charge of the worship service, and Mary Ella Hornung was in charge of refreshments.

The meeting was one of thousands all over the world on February 19, set aside by the World's Student Christian federation from its headquarters in Geneva as the Universal day of prayer.

ILLUSION:
Look at this remarkable lady... with three lovely and perfect heads... all attached to a normal body. She appears to sit on the stage, with the lower part of her body concealed by flowers. She can wink, smile, and nod. She can talk, laugh, and sing—all at the same time. Thousands of people have seen this feat of magic and pronounced it a wonderful sight!

EXPLANATION:
Audiences used to pay an extra fee to go behind the scenes to see how this trick was worked. They discovered that the three-headed woman was merely a reflection in a mirror. The glass showed the heads of three girls but the body of only one. The other two were cleverly hidden so that only their heads showed in the mirror.

CAMELS
It's fun to be fooled... it's more fun to KNOW
This "three-headed woman" trick goes way back to the early days of magic. And old is the suggestion that protection for your throat and freedom from coughing can be achieved through some magic trick.
THE EXPLANATION: The easiest cigarette on your throat is the cigarette that is made from the choicest, ripest tobaccos. Cheap, raw tobaccos are, as you would naturally expect, harsh to the throat. Ripe, costly tobaccos are mild, mellow—gentle. The question is whether a cigarette is made from cheap tobacco or the more expensive grades.
It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.
American men and women have smoked more billions of Camels than any other brand because of the appeal of more expensive tobaccos and matchless blending. Won't you stack up your own experience with a cigarette made from milder, costlier tobaccos... against magic claims about "cigarettes and your throat"?
Try fresh Camels—in the air-tight, welded Humidor Pack that seals the freshness and coolness, the mildness and flavor of Camels... inside.
