

Nobody's Business

By BRUCE HAMBY

LEAVE it to a woman to get something where men have tried and failed; or have not tried because of ambition. Yesterday Hazle Corrgan, who has been pestering members of the Oregon basketball team for interviews during the past two weeks, waltzed into the office with a story about Ed Lewis. On the second page, down at bottom,

Ed Lewis was the following: "Coach Slats Gill named Lewis as center for an all-coast all-star quintet, prepared especially for the writer. Others named on the team were Jerry Nemer, U. S. C.; Lee Guttero, U. S. C.; Cap Roberts, Oregon; and Don Piper, U. C. L. A."

Of course, Gill may have other ideas on all-coast selections, but above is his first selection. And the choice of the coach of the northern division champions is always good for space in any coast newspaper. "You read it first in the Emerald." Or something.

I have always been a firm believer in the saying that it takes tall men to make a basketball player. I still am, but last night's game between Eugene high school and St. Mary's for the right to enter the state high school tournament at Salem just about blasted the theory. St. Mary's lost by some very low score, but the five midgets on its team showed what a bunch of short fellows can do. The little preppers scrapped like the dickens to get the ball and the minute they got it inside the center line let fly for the basket. Fortunately for their bigger and taller rivals, they missed about 85% of their shots. At that, I pity Eugene high when they come up against some of the other district champions at Salem.

To get out of high school sports and back into college is easy enough. Here's a bit of rumor that you can take for what it's worth. The Southern California Trojans are slated to arrive in Eugene tomorrow or the next day and are said to have a scrimmage game lined up with DeNeffe's, state independent champions. It may be a fine chance for some of the moneyless Oregon students to get a glimpse of the southern division champions.

Saturday night's results: At Eugene: Oregon State 34, Oregon 24.

At Moscow: Idaho 35, Washington State 32.

Sam Barry, Southern California basketball coach, will bring a squad of 13 players to Corvallis his week to meet Oregon State in the play-off for the Pacific coast basketball championship. The series will be held in the men's gym on the Beaver campus Friday and Saturday nights, with a third game Monday at Corvallis if necessary.

Mitchell, Spokane, and Folgate, Whitman, will officiate.

Tickets went on sale immediately after the Staters had won the title Friday night. The prices are $1 for reserved seats and 75 cents for general admission, according to an announcement by Carl Loddell, Oregon State graduation manager.

After the wild game at Corvallis Friday evening, Saturday's game was an anti-climax. Oregon State had won the championship and nothing was at stake but the game itself. As a result, both teams lacked the fire they had the night before and the crowd had little enthusiasm.

Oregon State Only Large School On Diamond Slate; Frosh Have Six Games

Here's the official dope on the Webfoot's baseball schedule for this year. Coach Bill Reinhart last night released the following list of games to be played by the varsity and freshman diamond squads:

April 28—Columbia at Eugene.
 April 29—Columbia at Eugene.
 May 5—Pacific at Eugene (tentative).
 May 9—Willamette at Eugene.
 May 12—Linfield at Eugene (tentative).
 May 13—Linfield at McMinnville.
 May 16—Willamette at Salem.
 May 19—Oregon State at Eugene.
 May 20—Oregon State at Corvallis.
 May 23—Columbia at Portland.
 May 26—Oregon State at Corvallis.
 May 27—Oregon State at Eugene.
 June 2—Oregon State at Eugene.
 June 3—Oregon State at Corvallis.
 June 2—Rooks at Corvallis.
 June 3—Rooks at Eugene.
 Workouts will begin soon after the first of next term, and will give the squad almost a month of practice before the first game.

Ed Lewis, Oregon State's high scoring center, needed but six points in the final game to break the all-time scoring record of the coast. He was held to only two points in the first half, so he came back with a vengeance in the second half and started the score-keepers working by converting a free throw on Houghton's foul. He managed to grab three more points before the game was over to hang up a new record of 143 points, to supplant the old one, set by Stowell of Idaho and tied by Gordon of Washington State.

"Cap" Tops "Turkey" Capt. Charles "Cap" Roberts outscored Lewis in the final game of the season to win second-place honors among the individual scorers of the conference. Cap finished a successful three-year career on northwest basketball courts Saturday night and will hang up his Oregon uniform forever. He was a valuable alternate for Capt. Jean Eberhart in his sophomore year and has been the big shot ever since. He is sure to place on numerous all-coast selections.

Kermit Stevens is the only other Webfoot to finish his college competition Saturday night. Steve has been a fiery, aggressive little player and his place will be hard to fill next year.

"Spook," Gib Shine Olinger and Robertson have both turned in excellent performances this year, and either would well merit the honor of next season's captaincy. Gib has been the more consistent of the two, but Jack has had streaks of brilliance that are not often surpassed in collegiate basketball circles. He had one last Friday night against the Aggies that made more than one spectator's eyes bulge.

Watts, Simons, Berg, Miller, Rutenberg, Houghton, Donin, Terjeson, Clarkon, and Rourke will all be back next year, with which Reinhart will attempt to wrest some of his lost glory. Many promising freshman players will add their names to the list of next year's prospects.

Novice Runners Show Good Form In First Trials

Schomp Is Star Performer With Two Victories; Fast Events Clocked

Weather favored Oregon's novice track athletes Saturday and enabled them to hang up enviable early season marks in the seven events run off at Hayward field. Prizes, presented by Eugene merchants, were presented to first and second place winners.

Ralph Schomp carried off the day's high scoring honors when he dashed to victory in two events. Summary:

75-yard dash—Won by Schomp; second, Mears; third, Rickabaugh. Time, 8 seconds.
 Shot put—Won by Kostka; second, Smith; third, Gagnon. Distance, 42 feet, 8 inches.
 Three-fourths mile run—Won by Ludington; second, Paddock; third, Chorioch. Time, 3:31.
 330-yard dash—Won by Bowerman; second, Thompson; third, Kendall. Time, 33:1.
 Discus throw—Won by Eagle; second, Reichmuller; third, Gagnon. Distance, 109 feet, 4 1/2 inches.
 150-yard dash—Won by Schomp; second, Mears; third, Nye. Time, 16.1 seconds.
 660-yard run—Won by Ryan; second, Arey; third, Wentz. Time, 1:29.
 May 27—Rooks at Corvallis.
 June 2—Rooks at Corvallis.
 June 3—Rooks at Eugene.
 Workouts will begin soon after the first of next term, and will give the squad almost a month of practice before the first game.

The freshman schedule: May 12—Linfield at McMinnville.
 May 13—Linfield at Eugene.
 May 26—Rooks at Eugene.

Donut Sports Gain Interest Of Students

Volleyball and Wrestling Provide Many Thrills During Term; Bailey Is "Bad Boy"

BY BEN BACK

It isn't often that donut sports enjoy the kind of popularity which they attained this year. According to records in the intramural office which were released yesterday, intramural sports have reached their highest success since their inception on this campus.

During the season just concluded, two major sports occupied the minds of donut athletes, wrestling and volleyball. One crowd at this year's final wrestling show was estimated at close to a thousand spectators, the largest ever to witness any kind of a contest

Colonel Hayward Recovers From Week of Illness

Colonel Bill Hayward, who last week was confined to his bed with a cold, was "up and at 'em" again Saturday when his novice trackmen showed their stuff in the initial time trials of the season. The veteran Webfoot cinder mentor just couldn't keep away from the field which bears his name, and even a severe cold could not stop him from being on hand to watch his proteges go through their paces.

Yesterd, in the best of spirits, he was back at his accustomed task of molding future Duck track "point-winners."

Advanced swimmers, under the direction of Mike Hoyman, head swimming instructor at the men's pool, and Jean Eberhart, yesterday completed the necessary requisites demanded by the Red Cross life-saving tests

Probably the most outstanding players of the tournaments were: Kjosness and Omart, Yeomen; Fletcher and Edwards, Phi Deltas; and Wishard of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

ILLUSION:
 In India, the fakirs present a spectacle to tourists. Two lovely performers break bottles and lamp chimneys before the eyes of the audience, and throw the jagged pieces into a box already filled with broken glass. They step barefooted into the box and do an Oriental dance in the glass without injury.

EXPLANATION:
 The performers toughten their feet in a strong solution of alum water and thoroughly rub them with pulverized resin before they appear. They throw the freshly broken glass around the edges of the platform. The glass on which they actually do dance is very thick, heavy, and fixed or ground so that the sharp edges are rounded off. The girls just pretend to dance on the sharp glass.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED

...IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW

One of the tricks of cigarette advertising is to pretend that "Heat Treatment" is an exclusive process, making one cigarette better than any other.

EXPLANATION: All cigarette manufacturers use heat treatment. It is a routine process of manufacture. The first Camel cigarette ever made was manufactured under the heat-treating process. Every one of the billions of Camels produced since has received the necessary heat treatment.

Harsh, raw tobaccos require intensive processing under high temperatures. The more expensive tobaccos, which are naturally mild, call for only a moderate application of heat. Heat treatment never can make cheap, inferior tobacco good.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

This is the most important statement ever made in a cigarette advertisement. Weigh its words. Consider what it means. Then try Camels. Camels are fresh... in the air-tight, welded Humidor Pack.
