

Nobody's Business

"PIGGING" to spring athletic events, baseball and track, is OK as far as the Order of the "O" and the Associated Students are concerned. This, according to Red Bailey, president of the lettermen, and Bob Hall, student body president. While the varsity athletes have not voted on the matter, Bailey said he thought the idea would be favorable to the group and that no action would be taken by the lettermen at any spring events. Hall made his statement in behalf of the A. S. U. O.

That clears the way for those who feel they would like to date to the ball game or the track meet. Hugh Rosson, graduate manager, and Bill Reinhart, baseball coach, both expressed hope yesterday that such action would be taken. At present attendance at both track and baseball is deplorably low. While the lifting of the "no-pigging" rule is not expected to cause an overflow attendance or "S. R. O." signs, it is hoped that an increased patronage of these two sports will result.

Some of the more rabid baseball fans are whetting their appetites for the opening of the varsity season by attending the daily practice contests held on Reinhart field. Yesterday the varsity met Johnny Londahl's freshmen in a six and a half contest, with all the pep and thrills of a regular game present. And the frosh put one over by winning 12 to 8. While Bill Reinhart had his regulars in, with Cece Inman on the mound, the yearlings couldn't push over a run. But after the regulars went out and Reinhart put in his reserves, the frosh scored nine runs in the sixth and three in the last to score a victory over their elders.

One of the outstanding players on the frosh nine is Joe Gordon, former American Legion all-star and now holding down the shortstop berth for Londahl. Two weeks ago against Lincoln high school Gordon had a perfect day at bat in the double-header with six hits in six times at bat. Yesterday he repeated with four out of four. Besides wielding a dangerous bat, Gordon is one of the best infield prospects to enroll at Oregon for some time. He is in a class by himself as far as classy fielding is concerned. He is a sure regular for the 1934 Webfoot varsity.

The plan of Steve Smith and heads of the physical education department to revive minor sports on the campus is receiving serious consideration by Hugh Rosson and the A. S. U. O. chieftains. While no attempt will be made to appropriate funds this late in the year, Rosson stated that he will endeavor to place the requested $200 allotment in the budget for the coming school year. He suggests to the sponsors, however, that they be more explicit in their stating of money requested. A prepared budget covering estimated expenses in each of the minor sports would hasten action, he stated.—B. H.

Frosh Wallop Varsity Nine By 12-8 Score

Yearlings Score All Runs In Two Innings

Webfoots Shut Out Londahl's Babes Until Regulars Leave Contest

By BOB RIDDLE
 Johnny Londahl's Oregon Ducklings took five full innings before overcoming their stage fright enough to swing some wicked bats on two rookie varsity pitchers yesterday, and win a 12 to 8 victory in a whirlwind finish. The frosh counted nine runs in the sixth, and added three more in the seventh and final inning.

A rejuvenated varsity Duck nine started the game in great style, scoring five runs in the last of the third on two hits, as many errors, three walks, and a sacrifice. The regulars continued its onslaught during the next canto, scoring three runs on hits by Inman and Garbarino, coupled with frosh errors.

The Ducklings went completely through their batting order in the sixth inning, scoring nine runs on six hits and two errors. Copp, Gordon, Stroble, and Butler were the heavy hitters during this great rally. Gordon and Butler each knocked out triples, while Copp and Stroble connected for doubles.

Coach Reinhart shifted his lineup throughout the game. For four innings he used a lineup composed of Inman, pitcher; Hoag, catcher; Chester, first; Chatterton, second; Sears, shortstop; Garbarino, third; McKelligen, left field; Clausen, center; and Shaneman, right field. During the last two innings "Lefty" Kneeland pitched and Homer Goulet caught. The other new-comers were Wishard, first base; Elliot, second; M. Vail, shortstop; and McCully, third base. The outfield was composed of Greene, left; Van Dine, center; and Muller, right.

Frosh To Meet Rooks in Annual Relays on Friday

Team Weak Due to Ineligibility And Lack of Interest In Track

Frosh tracksters will be given a chance to show their powers when they meet up with the Oregon State rooks Friday on Hayward field in the annual Frosh-Rook relays.

The frosh team this year is comparatively weak to what it has been in past years, due to ineligibility and lack of interest. If Bill Hayward's yearlings figure on taking the Beaver babes they will have to make better times than have been made in practice so far this season.

Following the time trials yesterday afternoon, Coach Hayward announced the Duckling lineup as follows: 440 and 880 relays—Patterson, Rickabaugh, Donnelly and Mears; mile relay—Thomas, Ewen, Arey, Humphreys; 3 mile relay—Ryan, Scharf, Ludington and Paddock; medley relay—Patterson running the 220, Thomas the quarter mile, Ryan the half mile, and either Paddock or Ludington covering the mile.

Moliere's Farce Will Be Given By Campus Players

A new company of campus players who call themselves "I Pagliacci" or "The Clowns" will present Moliere's fast-moving three-act farce, "Physician in Spite of Himself," next Tuesday evening at 8:00 at the Methodist church. Every member of the troupe, with the exception of Professor John L. Casteel, has taken part in some capacity in one or both of this year's Guild productions.

Wilbur Walker as the unwilling "physician" is supported by a cast of such campus dramatic favorites as Don Confrey, Inez Simons, Cynthia Liljeqvist, George Andreini, Louise Marvin, Hagen Moore, and Professor John L. Casteel. The play is sponsored by the Wesley club of the Methodist church. Admission 15¢ 20 cents.

Laundry Bag Held

A student laundry bag without a name or address is being held at the Eugene post office. D. E. Yoran, postmaster, said that anyone identifying the clothes may have his bag.

Thacher Will Be Concert Soloist At Igloo Sunday

Pianist To Appear at Presentation Of University Orchestra in One of Series

Jane Thacher, concert pianist and member of the music faculty, will appear as soloist with the University Symphony orchestra at McArthur court next Sunday afternoon. As one of the series of concerts sponsored by the A. S. U. O., the program will be free to students and the public.

Mrs. Thacher has chosen the Grieg concerto for piano and orchestra, which will be presented as the concluding number of a brilliant program planned for the orchestra by Director Rex Underwood. Dvorak's "New World" symphony will be played in entirety except for the short scherzo movement. The opening number will be a Gomez overture, "Il Guarany," as typically Spanish as its noted composer.

Popularity in previous programs of numbers by small stringed ensembles leads to an encore next Sunday in a Grieg Norwegian folk song to be played by a double string quartet directed by Delbert Moore.

More than 120 players, hurt during professional and municipal matches, received payments from the St. Louis Soccer Players' Protective association last season.

The Kappas wopped the Alpha Omicron Pis to the tune of 13 to 12 in a whoop 'em up baseball thriller Wednesday afternoon.

Independents cross hickory sticks with the Tri Deltas in a baseball game today at 4, at Gerlinger hall.

The sophomores and senior majors in physical education held their track meet Wednesday afternoon. The girls were divided into two teams, the yellow team, and the green team. The yellow team, swarming all over the place, came out on top of the spectrum, having the total points of 1,051 to the green team's 972. Gene Way and Louise Beers gallantly led the Lemon and the Emerald.

Beta Phi Alpha, with fire in their eyes, will meet the Independents today, Susan Campbell hall vs. Zeta Tau Alpha, Kappa Deltas vs. Hendricks hall, and Alpha Phi's vs. Sigma Kappa.

Zeta Tau Alpha, banging out a neat game, won the singles match over the Alpha Delta Pi's, 6-1, 6-3.

Hall Softball Nine To Meet Phi Deltas For Donut Crown

A CLOSE contest is predicted today when Omega hall tangles with Phi Delta Theta for the championship of the softball division of the donut league. The hall nine will make its bid for victory through its tremendous hitting power as its lineup boasts of the best hickory-wielders in the league. Ferd Fletcher, who has pitched well in every contest thus far this season, will again be on the mound for the Phi Deltas. Bill Hammond, peppery little catcher, will be Fletcher's battery mate. Ed Wheelock and Mason will form the battery for Omega hall.

Passing Game Gives Gridmen Hard Workout

Callison Originates Novel Football Game

Blues and Whites Battle Fiercely In Rivalry for Points In New Grid Game

The battle of the age is on! Last night on the field just east of the Igloo, two teams of spring football enthusiasts began a competition that is to run on for the remainder of the term. A new sort of practice has been instituted, and takes the form of a sort of touch football passing game.

The teams—the Blue Shirts captained by Prink Callison, and the White Shirts under the joint leadership of Gene Shields and Johnny Kitzmiller, assistant coaches—will compete each day to see which aggregation can amass the most points during the rest of the season.

Each team is allowed four passes in which to try to make a touchdown, or at least make some yardage, and points are awarded for the completion of passes as well as for touchdowns scored. Last night Callison's bunch put on two fine scoring drives that netted them 14 points, while the White forces could only threaten the Blue's goal once.

A field has been marked out on the grass, and managers with yard sticks and score books will be busy keeping tally as the two squads battle each other. Practice will be held only three times a week—on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays at 4:30—and will run until the end of the term.

Infirmity Has Five

The number of students confined to the infirmary is shrinking rapidly since yesterday. Alice Hesler, Alexander Schneider, Rodney Butler, Harry McCullum, and Charles McCormack are now the only patients.
