Members Will Be Ready To Act

DRASTIC CUTS MADE

Cash Advances for Employees Of Schools Being Arranged

PORTLAND, Ore., May 4—(Special)—The state board of higher education will meet here Monday to act on the 1933-34 budget prepared by Chancellor Kerr's office. E. C. Sammons, chairman of the finance committee, stated that at that time the board members will have studied the submitted budget carefully and will be ready to act.

Real Cash Next Pay Day
Sammons announced that it is possible that the board employees at the various educational institutions may be getting real cash instead of warrants next pay day. Arrangements are being made with Portland, Eugene, and Corvallis banks for cash advances, he said.

It is necessary to operate the six institutions on a total of $2,278,788.19 of unrestricted funds, under the new budget, for the fiscal year beginning July 1, which is a reduction of $559,952.15 from the present fiscal year, or 20.1 per cent.

Institutions On Cut Budgets
As the institutions are already operating on budgets cut approximately 30 per cent under the peak of 1929-30, the additional cut of one-fifth for the coming year requires drastic slashes of service and personnel which cannot help but be felt by the people of the (Continued on Page Three)

Deadline on Cap, Gowns Today at Six, Says McClain

ALL those seniors who have neglected to order caps and gowns, and their announcements have been given until 6 o'clock Friday afternoon to do so. After Friday Marion F. McClain, manager of the Co-op, will absolutely refuse orders, it was announced last night by Cecil Espy, president of the senior class.

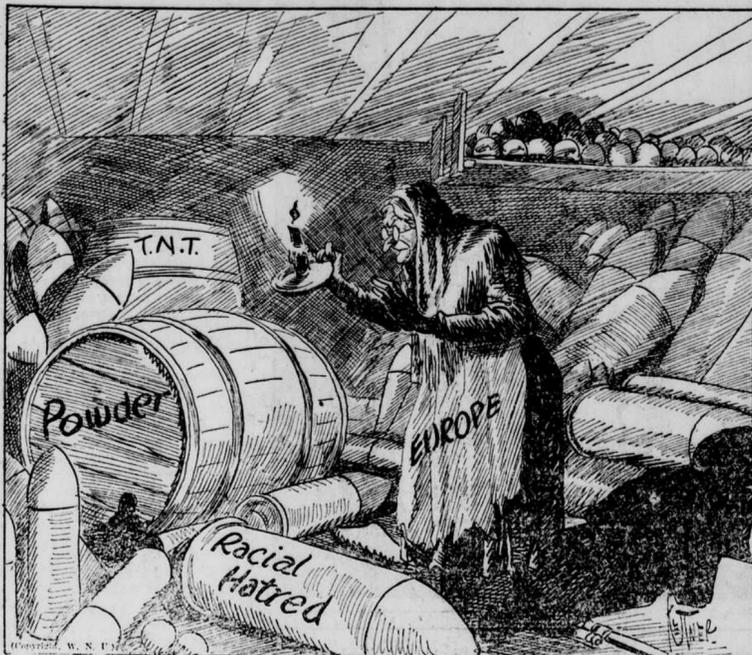

To date only 225 members of the class have placed orders for caps and gowns, and only 2400 announcements have been ordered, Espy stated. He urges all seniors to get busy and place their orders so that no one will be disappointed when graduation comes up.

Big 'He Men' Turn 'Pansy' For Men's Emerald Edition

Society and women's news will not suffer tomorrow, although the co-eds will take a holiday and let the men publish the annual Men's edition of the Emerald. In fact, a whole paper could be put out on society and kindred subjects were there enough news as there are enough up-and-coming society reporters.

Malcolm Bauer, whose antipathy to women and dancing was made known in the Frosh Emerald, will edit the society news. Several members of the staff nearly succumbed when the well-known "Shamus" Hamby made known his intentions of becoming assistant society editor. Barney Clark has signed up for women's editor, Ned Simpson wants to take care of fashions, Roland Parks

University, Co-op Arrive at Plan to Aid Senior Class

Cap and Gown Order May Be Applied on $10 Breakage Fund

Seniors who have been having difficulty in figuring out just how they will finance graduation will see a ray of hope in the announcement yesterday by Marion McClain, manager of the Co-op, and Orville Lindstrom, business manager of the University, that students may apply part of the $10 deposit on the obtaining of caps and gowns. Their announcement follows:

"The University Co-operative store in conjunction with the University business office is pleased to announce that the $10 general deposit made by each student at the time of registration may be used in renting caps and gowns for the coming graduation.

"Instead of requiring each student to deposit $2 when the caps and gowns are issued, the students will be allowed to have this charged to their general deposit. This arrangement has been made in the interests of students who find themselves in financial difficulties, and we sincerely invite students who may be kept from participating in graduation exercises on account of lack of funds to make use of this privilege."

Mr. McClain asked that students who want to go through with commencement and are deterred from ordering caps and gowns because of financial stringencies see him today. He believes that arrangements can be made whereby such students may order caps and gowns.

Dr. Sheldon Believes New Hitler Regime Temporary

By FRANCES HARDY

"I am disappointed in the Germans for repudiating their principles of liberal and democratic government, but it will probably be only temporary," stated Dr. H. D. Sheldon, professor of history and education, last night in commenting on the new Hitler regime in Germany.

Dr. Sheldon believes that the new dictator has, so far, imitated Mussolini in treating his political opponents with a strong arm—and in many cases has been rather unscrupulous. Whether he has the drive and lasting ability to maintain this stand remains to be seen.

"Hitler is a man of energy, of extraordinary ability as an organizer, and an agitator in general. He started as nobody, was backed by those of his own real class, and in pacifying these intolerant people has done some questionable things. He has indulged in racial persecution with very little excuse."

When asked if he believed that the Hitler rule is a step upward for Germany, Dr. Sheldon said, "No! It is a state of degeneration. Any state that has to submit to a charlatan like him, is badly off."

The persecution of the Jews has been merely a means of pacifying followers. In order to secure votes he talked against the Jews and after his election has followed through in order to keep faith with his followers. Dr. Sheldon does not believe the Jews have been actually hurt much. Hitler is intelligent and realizes that at some time he may need their financial aid, but it is an easy matter to blame them for the present economic situation.

"The idea of purification of national culture is plain bunk," added Dr. Sheldon. "If they persecuted all foreign races out of Germany they would find the culture gone also. It is just an example of the same kind of romantic conceit and egoism that causes German literature to be printed in Gothic type, and the handwriting to be so ornate."

Dr. Sheldon concluded that Hitler will not fight unless all the odds are on his side. His big talking is his chief success. Whether he is a second Mussolini cannot yet be determined. It is too early to know.

3 Musical Events Scheduled To Be Given Next Week

Three musical events are slated for next week beginning with Mrs. Jane Thacher's presentation of a program of music and dance, Monday at 8:15 p. m. With the assistance of Elizabeth Thacher and Lucy Ann Wendell, dancers, she will trace the art of dancing, with the corresponding music from the primitive to the modern. This latter is represented by the German movement which began within the last decade.

Since Mu Phi Epsilon, woman's national music honorary, is presenting this program for the benefit of the scholarship fund, admission will be charged. Seats will be 25c, 35c, and 50c.

All three programs will be held in the school of music auditorium. Rose Simons, outstanding contralto and graduate student, will offer her first recital of this year Tuesday, at 8 p. m. Though this is her first recital of this year, she has previously given successful programs.

Presenting a very different program, consisting of two groups of violin numbers and one of French horn, Delbert Moore will appear in recital Thursday at 8 p. m.

Frosh Are Assessed For Annual Picnic

An assessment of 20 cents for each freshman to defray expenses for the picnic May 30, was the decision of the frosh directorate at a "budget balancing" meeting at the Alpha Chi Omega house last night.

John McConnell, chairman of the finance committee, stated that there would be less than 20 dollars available from the freshman treasury.

Swimmer's Delight was selected as the picnic grounds. There will be opportunity for swimming, boating on a dose of the ball grounds without extra charge, according to Jack Miller, chairman of the affair. Ten-thirty permission has been granted freshmen for the occasion.

Stoddard urges all students to obtain tickets for themselves and their mothers since many outside applications are being received at the graduate office. General admission tickets may be obtained for 35 cents at the fete. With the reduction in price all tickets are expected to be sold out very soon, Stoddard stated.

The following are the students, selected at random from the list, who disclaimed any knowledge as to the use to which the sheet was to be put:

Council Names Martindale Head For Coming Year

Dean Earl Will Be Advisor; Bobbitt, Birkinshaw Get Posts

The inter-fraternity council yesterday asserted its independence from the University administration by electing a student to the position of president and broke a precedent in force since the council had its beginning.

Ed Martindale was named to head the group for the next year to succeed Dean Virgil D. Earl. It has been the custom in the past to elect a member of the faculty to the position of president rather than a student. Dean Earl was elected to fill the capacity of advisor of the council.

Vice-president was also selected from the ranks of the students in the person of Howard Bobbitt, as was the secretary, Hal W. Birkinshaw. Harry Schenck is the retiring vice-president and Preston Gunther is the former secretary.

426 CAST BALLOTS

Lack of Quorum Automatically Beats Amendments, Which Get Only Minority

The Student Body officers for 1933-34 are Tom Tongue, Hillsboro, president; Neal Bush, Vernonia, vice-president; Nancy Suomela, Portland, secretary; Helen Burns, Portland, senior woman; Dick Near, Eugene, senior man; and Myron Pinkstaff, Eugene, junior man.

In one of the most listless elections the campus has witnessed in many years, slightly more than one-fifth of the student body trekked to the polls yesterday to make the decision as to whom should compose the Co-op board, the sole office for which competition existed, and to vote on a set of proposed constitutional amendments. The selecting of the ticket headed by Tom Tongue was a mere formality, there being only one candidate for each post on the executive council. The only sprightly feature of an otherwise drab election was the sudden descent of the judiciary committee on the polls with orders for the removal of numbers from the ballots.

Bill Bowerman, vice-president of the Associated Students and chairman of the election, defended the numbering of the ballots when early voters criticized the practice. He claimed it facilitated keeping track of the number of candidates for each office. The judiciary committee, upon learning of the matter, called upon Bowerman and insisted on clipping all the numbers from the ballots, remarking that numbers constituted a means of identification and violated the guaranteed secrecy of franchise.

"A Winter's Tale," the spring production of the drama department, promises to be a colorful spectacle, according to announcements made yesterday by Mrs. Ottilie Turnbull Seybolt, director.

Wilson Admits Action; Copy Sent To Discipline Committee And Daily Emerald

The publications committee of the A. S. U. O. yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution condemning Dave Wilson and "other unknown parties" for their part in inserting unauthorized mimeographed sheets in yesterday's issue of the Oregon Daily Emerald. The committee also ordered that a copy of the resolution be sent to the discipline committee and that another copy be published in this morning's Emerald. The graduate manager's office accordingly sent a copy to the discipline committee and to Dick Neuberger, Emerald editor, who promised to publish the resolution in the paper.

The resolution stated that Wilson, who admitted his part without hesitation when questioned, and his aides inserted the sheets while the Emeralds were stacked in the University press building, which is the property of the state board of higher education. It further stated that the act was done without the sanction or permission of either the publications committee or any responsible member of the Emerald staff. It was feared by some that similar deeds in the future might lead to difficulty with the United States government because of the confusion in mailing regulations.

Seniors Urged To Register at YW for Annual Breakfast

ATTENTION, senior girls! The committee in charge of the annual junior-senior breakfast has been unable to contact all unaffiliated senior girls living off the campus to arrange for junior partners to take them to the breakfast.

All senior girls are invited to attend, and those who have not been reached are urged to sign up at the Y. W. Ungelow, and arrangements will be made for escorts.

The breakfast is to be held Sunday, May 7, from 9:30 to 10:30 in Alumni hall of Gerlinger. Virginia Hartje, chairman, urges all senior women not contacted to register.

The part of Paulina will be taken by Ty Hartmus, who has already jumped from the hard-boiled but soft-hearted May Daniels of "Once in a Lifetime" to the fragile and timid housekeeper in Berkeley Square. This part is one of the strongest women characters in all Shakespeare.
