Nobody's Business

By MALCOLM BAUER
SPORT fans who are interested in frosh athletics certainly have a prize dish awaiting them today. Both Duckling spring athletic squads, namely, the baseball nine and track team, go into action for the first time. And to make things the more enticing, the baby Ducks oppose the Oregon State rooks in both contests.

Ardent followers of the yearlings won't get to see all of this, however, for while Bill Hayward is sending his freshman trackmen against the Orange yearlings at Hayward field, Johnny Londahl will be putting his frosh baseball nine through its paces in Corvallis.

In both places the frosh will have to work wonders to come through on top; that is, if pre-season dope dished out by writers on both campuses can be depended upon. The frosh have the weakest track squad in years, and, although a few stars are available, it takes more than a few good men to win a relay meet.

On the diamond the frosh are more powerful, but they cannot match up in early performances to the Corvallis one-year-olds. Londahl has a galaxy of stars in DeLaunay at second, Gordon at short, and Strobe at first, but there is no hitting power. With the exception of Gordon, who is the one polished player on the squad, few of the yearlings can smack the apple with regularity. . . . And plenty of hits will be needed against the rook lineup of sluggers.

Bill Hayward will give his varsity spikers a rest this week. There is no competition of any kind on the slate, but it is doubtful if the boys will let their minds wander far from the cinder track what with such excellent entertainment as the Washington-Oregon State meet being staged just across the back fence. Just a week from tomorrow the Colonel will pack his athletes off to Seattle where they will tangle with the Huskies, and the Webfoot cindermen will probably not want to miss such a chance of seeing their coming opponents in action as will present itself tomorrow in the Benton county city.

As for the meet. Well, things look pretty dark for the Beavers though they did trounce Oregon's relay squad last week-end. Last year the Washingtonians smothered the Orangenemen under a 92 to 38 score, and, although Hec Edmundson wouldn't be justified in expecting such a slaughter this time, he expects to do dire things to Stiner's lads.

Well, Len, I guess you can take 'em, all right.

Commodore Bill Reinhart will chug out of Eugene at high noon today, headed, via auto caravan, to Monmouth where his sluggers will clash with the Monmouth Normal tossers. Here's the first chance to see how the Webfoots will look away from home, and also to see if Ike "Benny Baseball" Donin can get the breaks.

No more fence balls, Ike.

Yearling Classic To Be Held on Hayward Field at 3:30; Dixon Has Stars

By JACK MILLER
It has been eight long years since the Oregon freshmen have taken a relay meet from the Oregon State rooks. The last time the Ducklings took the Beaver Babes was back in 1925, and from the looks of things the young farmers may add another digit to their long list of victories when the two squads meet this afternoon on Hayward field at 3:30.

Jim Dixon, rook track tutor, is supposed to have a strong squad of runners and according to reports, they have shown good form but lack experience. Bob O'Donnell, former Grant high sprint star, is rated as the number one sprint man for the rooks. To date he has shown plenty of class in time trials.

Norm Reynolds, former Corvallis high school quarter mile ace, will run anchor lap for the Beaver frosh on the mile relay squad. In pre-season races against the O. S. C. varsity track, Reynolds has shown plenty of class.

Guggisberg Is Star
The rook three-mile team is composed of Noack, Reitz, Gilmore, and Ernie Guggisberg. Guggisberg, former Cottage Grove high school distance ace and state interscholastic champ in the mile last year, is one of the most promising rook track prospects to enter the Corvallis college in many a day.

Howie Patterson, who scored 15 points in the meet against the high schools last Friday, and Dick Mears, who covered the century in 10.2 in a trial heat last week, are Hayward's hopes to save the laurels in the 440 and 880 relays.

Bob Thomas, a husky young athlete from Jefferson high in Portland, is the only yearling on the frosh squad to show any promise in the quarter mile event. Last week Bob lapped the track in 55 flat and is showing consistent improvement.

Paddock To Be Busy
Bill Paddock and "Nurmi" Ludington will uphold the frosh honors in the three-mile relay. Paddock will have his hands full this afternoon when he runs the anchor lap against Guggisberg.

The tentative frosh lineup is as follows:

440 and 880 relay—Patterson, Mears, Milligan, and Rickabaugh.
Mile relay—Thomas, Humphreys, Ewen, and either Donnelly or Arcey.
Three-mile relay—Ryan and Sharf running the 880 and Ludington and Paddock running the mile.
Medley relay—Patterson (220), Thomas (440), Ryan (880), and either Paddock or Ludington the mile.
The rook lineup as given by Dixon:

440-yard relay—O'Donnell, Kidder, Stover, and Olsen.
Mile relay—Warren, Derbyshire, O'Donnell, and Reynolds.
880-yard relay—Stover, Kidder, Hoskins, and Olson.
Three-mile relay—Noack, Gilmore, Reitz, and Guggisberg.
Medley relay—Olson (220), Reynolds (440), Guggisberg (880), and Nichols (mile).

Books on History To Appear Soon
The history department has received notice of the publication in the near future of a group of books that should be of particular interest to those interested in the history of the Northwest. These books, which are to be published by the Pioneer Press of New York, deal with such topics as the early gold rush, fur trade, emigrant trails and Indian wars.

Four of these books are edited by Oregonians. These are: "Adventures on the Columbia," by Charles H. Carey, president of the Oregon Historical Society; "Astoria," edited by J. Neilson Barry, noted authority on Oregon history; "Fur Hunters of the Far West," edited by I. C. Elliott; and "Frances Fuller Victor's 'River of the West,'" edited by Dr. R. C. Clark, head of the University of Oregon history department.

One at Post; Other on Outside

Here are two important parts of the big show which gets under way at Churchill Downs tomorrow, where the fifty-ninth running of the Kentucky Derby will command the attention of sport fans the world over. On the left is Earl Sande, now a full-fledged trainer, and three-time winner of the American turf classic, who will view the race as a spectator. The thoroughbred is Head Play, which cost Willie Crump only $550 as a yearling and is the only western entry in the "Derby" who can come near matching the juvenile records of several eastern colts.

Washington State To Meet Vandals On Pullman Oval

Dual Track Meet Scheduled for Tomorrow; Many Sophomore Stars Will Perform

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, Pullman, May 4.—(Special)—Washington State and the University of Idaho will clash in the opening track meet of the season at Pullman Saturday instead of at Moscow, Earl V. Foster, graduate manager, announced. The contest was originally billed for Moscow, but was shifted by mutual agreement.

The Cougar freshmen will oppose Cheney Normal in a return meet here Saturday. The varsity and frosh affairs will be run together, forming one big track program for the day. At Cheney last week, the Washington State yearlings nosed out a thrilling 66-65 victory with Ted (Christy) Christofferson, the one-man team, providing the winning point in the javelin throw. He participated in four first places in addition.

The Idaho-Washington State meet will see several outstanding sophomore stars make their debut in varsity competition. George Theodoratos and Hal Dunker, weight men; Dick Nichols, quarter-miler; Kenneth Leendersen, half-miler; and Ray Herron, pole vaulter, are all potential champions with prospects of a brilliant career ahead.

With the moving of the Idaho meet to Pullman, all Washington State varsity track competition this year will be held on the home field. The Cougars will entertain the University of Washington here May 20, while Washington State will be host to the conference meet May 30.

Fees Must Be Paid

All registration and non-resident fees must be paid by Saturday, E. P. Lyon, cashier, said yesterday. This includes the third installment of registration fees.

The second installment of registration fees was due April 22.

All-Campus Golf, Horseshoes, and Tennis Planned

ALL MEN interested in participating in the all-campus singles and doubles tennis tournaments, all-campus horseshoe and golf tournaments are urged to sign their names on the sheets posted in the men's gymnasium as soon as possible, it was announced yesterday by Earl E. Boushey, instructor in physical education.

Since there are no more intramural sports this term, these tournaments will give all the men an opportunity to compete in further athletics for the remainder of the term. Competitions will get under way as soon as every one has signed.

Zoology Class Will Go To Coos Bay District

Members of Prof. H. B. Yocom's class in invertebrate zoology are planning a trip to Coos Bay the week-end of May 12-14, in order to study the marine animals of that district.

Seven members of the class will go, leaving on Friday, and remaining either until Saturday or Sunday. Professor and Mrs. Yocom and Miss Marian Pettibone, assistant in the course, will be in charge.

According to Professor Yocom, this will be a very favorable time to study the marine animals, since there will be a low tide.

Founder of Loan Fund Dies at The Dalles, 71

Albert Sturgis Roberts, 71, The Dalles, founder of the Roberts Student Loan fund, died at The Dalles Wednesday from injuries sustained in an accident. Mr. Roberts founded the loan fund which bears his name here in 1913. Since that time he has made several contributions.

He was born at White Salmon, Wash., April 29, 1862. He came to Oregon in 1865. He was a member of the state legislature from 1898 to 1901. Mr. Roberts was a farmer and stockman of The Dalles.

Beavers Tangle With Husky Spike Team Tomorrow

Meet at Bell Field Gives Oregon Fans Chance To See Seattle Squad in Action

Webfoot track fans will get an opportunity to see Oregon's next cinder opponents in action tomorrow afternoon when Hec Edmundson brings his University of Washington varsity track squad to Corvallis for their annual dual meet with Oregon State college.

The Orangenemen, heartened by their unexpected victory over Oregon's relay squad last Saturday, have high hopes of turning back the Huskies for the first time since 1919. Last year the Seattle athletes beat the Beavers 92 to 38.

Many individual battles promise to present themselves. In the broad jump, two champion leapers will vie for first place honors. Skeet O'Connell of Oregon State and Frank Rosenquist are the athletes who hold the spotlight here. Each has a victory over the other in past competition.

On the field the Orangenemen have a strong array of talent in discus throwers Don Anderson and Keith Davis, and javelin hurler, par-excellent, Capt. Everett Davis.

It was in the sprints that the Oregon State relay squads scored their margin of victory over the Webfoots last week-end, and the Huskies will find Norman Franklin, Skeet O'Connell, and Ned Gleason a hard trio to beat. Edmundson will pit against these speedsters Burton Barnes, Frank Plumb, and Ross Pederson, three veteran sprinters.

The meet is scheduled for tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. on Bell field.

Boardman Takes Leave

Announcement has been made from the office of Acting Dean Adams of the school of fine arts, that Arthur Boardman, professor and head of the voice department in the school of music, is taking leave of absence for the next year to study grand opera in Europe.

Freshmen To Tangle With Rooks Today

Fourteen Men Will Make Trip To Corvallis

"Little Civil War" To Begin At 4; Londahl Hopeful Of Win Over Rooks

If it doesn't rain today, Johnny Londahl will load his frosh baseball team into a bus and travel to Corvallis, where the opening of the baseball "little civil war" is scheduled this afternoon. Due to the lack of transportation, it will be only possible to take 14 players. Four outfielders, 1 catcher, 4 infielders, and 5 pitchers will make the trip.

In the outfield will be Hanley, Johnson, and either Eddie Vail or Fred Lieuallyn. Lieuallyn has been out for a couple of weeks with a bad stone bruise on his heel, and he may get back into action today. Vail has been playing good ball lately, and may break into the lineup in one of the other outfield berths, if Lieuallyn gets in.

Londahl's star infield will be in action intact, with "The Great" Gordon snaring them at short, Marv Strobe will play first, and Drew Copp, the fiery red-head will cover third. At second will be "Rabbit" DeLaunay, whose big bat broke up the game against Eugene high last week, when he smacked out a triple in the 10th with two men on.

Five pitchers will make the trip. "Speed" Thuneman will probably get the call for the opener. He has shown more every time that he has pitched this season, and if he continues as he has been, hits should be very scarce for the rooks. The other four hurlers, Whittaker, Kolkowski, Bucknum, and Holland, will be held in reserve in case that Thuneman fails to stop the heavy hitting rooks. The lone catcher making the trip is Bunny Butler of basketball fame. Butler has turned in some classy backstopping this season, and the rooks are going to find it hard to steal second.

The game is scheduled for 4:00 o'clock and the team will leave here at 12:30, going as far as Corvallis with the varsity, who are en route to Monmouth.

Noble Receives Set of Manchurian Posters

Dr. Harold G. Noble, assistant professor of history, has recently received a set of manuscripts and posters from the Bureau of Information and Publicity department of Foreign Affairs, Hsinking, Manchuria.

The posters are of brilliant color and are interesting from an artistic viewpoint. They are of a patriotic nature and are issued in commemoration of the anniversary of the new Manchurian government. They are clearly of a propaganda type, one showing children representing Japan, China, Russia and Korea joining hands in cheering for the new Manchurian flag.

Whitney Buys Kentucky Farm; To Move Stables

NEW YORK, May 4.—(AP)—The purchase of Old Hickory farm, near Lexington, Ky., by C. V. Whitney means that the famous young horseman will move his breeding and training quarters from Brookdale at Red Bank, N. J., to the blue grass country.

Although Whitney does not own Brookdale, the two names are synonymous, for both the father and grandfather of the present master of the Eton blue and brown silks bred and trained there the horses which made the name of Whitney important in turf history of the century.

From 1903 the Whitneys leased the farm from Col. William Payson Thompson.

Football's Loss

Johnny Erjavec would have been a promising prospect for Minnesota's grid team, but he has an even more brilliant career ahead of him in the ring. He is considered one of the best young light-heavyweights in the middle western states.

Webfoot Nine Plays Normal Squad Today

Game To Be at Monmouth; Ducks Leave at 12

Reinhart Not Yet Certain as to Starting Battery; Rest of Lineup Is Unchanged

Weather permitting, the Oregon Webfoot baseball team will leave today by automobile at approximately 12:00 o'clock, bound for the first game of a home and home series with the Monmouth normal school nine. The Ducks will return late tonight in readiness for the second contest with the Teachers on Reinhart field tomorrow.

Present weather conditions have made regular practice almost impossible, and Commodore Reinhart will doubtless be forced to start a "cold" team against the Teachers. Workouts have been held in the Igloo of late, and there have been no sessions on Reinhart field during the past two days.

Reinhart plans to take his entire pitching department on the trip. He has not yet decided on the choice for today's game, but it will probably be Ike Donin. Donin, the lad who was knocked out of the box in the first Columbia game last week, should be back in form again and show the Teachers some expert chucking.

New Hurler May Start

There is also a possibility that the Webfoot mentor may start one of the many new hurlers who answered his call this season. There is Cece Imman, a right-hander who lacks nothing but experience to turn into a finished moundman.

Then there is another right-hander in the person of Lorin Carmichael, who has already pitched one good exhibition in an earlier contest against the Eugene Townies. Others include: Bud Van Dine, who is changing off between an outfield berth and a hurling position; Ivan Ginther, recently turned out for the first time this year, who has quite a puzzling underhand delivery; and "Lefty" Kneeland, who has been bothered by a sore hurling arm all season, but might be in shape. He is the sole left-hander on the squad.

Gemmell, Charles Saved

Ed Charles and Ron Gemmell, the two remaining pitchers on a squad of eight, will undoubtedly be saved either for the Saturday game or some future contests. Both worked against the Cliff-dwellers last week and hurled great ball. Gemmell, the ace of the squad, is the probable starter tomorrow.

The starting lineup will consist of practically the same nine men that ushered in the baseball season last week. Unless Reinhart makes some unannounced changes, the Webfoot lineup will be as follows: Either Shaneman or Hoag, catcher; unannounced pitcher, probably Donin; Chester, first base; Chatterton, second base; Sears, shortstop; Garbarino, third base; Clausen, left field; Green, center field; and either Shaneman or Hoag, right field.

Office Checking Graduates

The graduate school office is checking graduate students for commencement.

Mrs. Clara Lynn Fitch, secretary, said that any student not certain of his standing should call at the graduate office and check the records.
