

Arrangements For Memorial, Bust Are Made

Straub Dedication Times Set by Committee

PLANS INCOMPLETE

New Dorm Will Get Dean's Name And Statue During Week-end Of Commencement

At a commencement committee meeting, held yesterday in Johnson hall, arrangements were discussed for the dedication of the men's dormitory to the name of John Straub Memorial building and the dedication of the Dean Straub bust in honor of the late dean emeritus, which will stand in the lobby of the dormitory, it was announced yesterday by Dr. James H. Gilbert, dean of the school of social science.

Other committee members who attended the meeting were Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel; Dr. Earl M. Pallett, executive secretary and registrar; Hugh Ross, graduate manager; Professor Maude I. Kerns, Professor Frederic S. Dunn, Robert Allen, alumni secretary, and Cecil Espy, president of the senior class.

Dedication During Commencement

Dedication of the memorial building and bust will take place at 11:30 Saturday morning of commencement week-end. Dr. Gilbert stated. Espy and Dr. Burt Brown Barker, vice-president of the University, are working in conjunction to select a speaker who will preside over the ceremony. Prior to the event there will be a semi-annual meeting of the University alumni at 10:30 a. m. in Johnson hall. Immediately.

Tonqueds To Sponsor Movie Program Today

The Tonqueds, organization of Eugene women attending the University, are presenting Lee Tracy in "Private Jones" at the McDonald theater today as a benefit show to raise money for their Scholarship Fund. Walter Winchell, Bing Crosby, and Burns and Allen will also be featured in "Network on Parade."

Anyone interested in attending the show may obtain tickets for 35 cents from any member of the Tonqueds.

Yearbook Ready For Distribution Saturday at Igloo

THE 1933 Oregana is here. Saturday morning from 8:30 to 12, all subscribers to the yearbook will be able to get their copies at McArthur court. "More than 900 copies of the annual will be distributed," says Tom Tongue, business manager. "No more copies are available for sale, as all those printed have now been spoken for," he added.

One of the features new to the yearbook this spring is the announcement of Quincy Scott's selections for the handsomest man and the most attractive woman in the senior class, chosen from photos submitted to him several months ago.

Lofty Lingo Hurlled as Law Aces Challenge BA Valiants

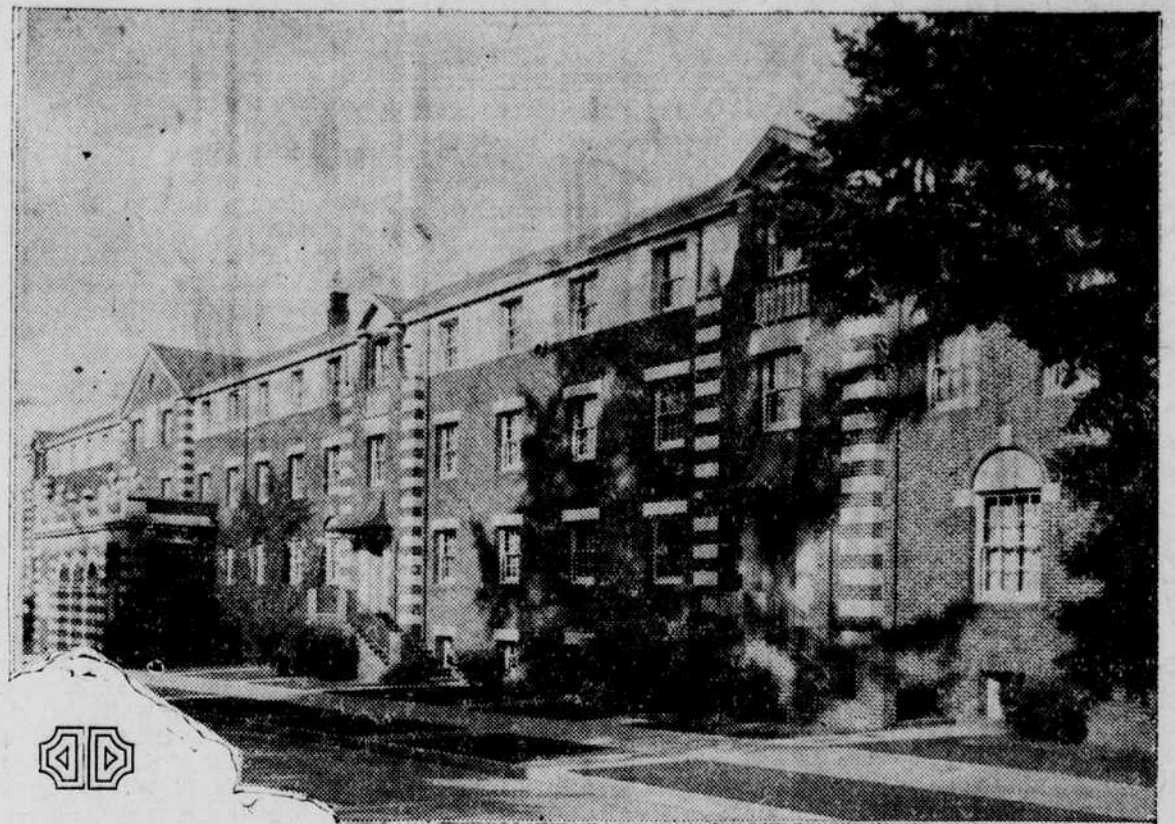

While the law student is dividing into numerous and sundry opposing factions in preparation for the coming election of officers, it has taken time off to unite itself into one strong group on another question, and has, under the leadership of Bill Dashney, chairman of the athletic committee, issued the following challenge to the students of the business administration:

TO THE LAW STUDENTS OF THE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION:

"Now come the members of the Law School Student body for the purpose of maintaining their paramount position on the University of Oregon campus. In order to demonstrate this superior position, we, the members of the said Law School Student body do hereby declare and resolve as follows, to-wit:

WHEREAS, it has been called

Now It'll Be "John Straub Memorial Building"

Not as the "new men's dorm" but as "John Straub Memorial building" will this structure be known after Saturday of commencement week-end. The dedication will be held at 11:30 in the morning. In the lobby will be placed a bronze bust of the beloved dean emeritus for whom the building is to be named, the gift of the senior class and the handwork of Rex Sorenson, sculptor. Final permission to rename the building was given by the state board of higher education at its meeting in Portland Monday.

Nominating Body Picks Candidates For Law Officers

Bill Dashney, Karl Huston Selected As Aspirants for President Of Law Students

Members of the law school student nominating committee, appointed by Preston Gunther, president, named eligible candidates who will be voted on at a regular law school student body election to be held tomorrow at 11 a. m.

The committee, consisting of George Layman, chairman, Otto Bowman, Bill Goodwin, and Howard Bobbitt, has submitted the following names to the students: for president, Bill Dashney and Karl Huston; for secretary, Corwin Calavan and Gus Elbow; for treasurer, Bill Kinley and Bill Palmer; for sergeant-at-arms, John Casey and Jack Vaughn; and for barber, Frank Swayze and Hobart Wilson.

While these are the official nominations, rumors circulate freely concerning opposing parties which are springing up to put more names on the ticket. Yesterday at a late hour three parties had notices on the law school bulletin board concerning party caucuses to be held last night. So far the factions in the field besides the regularly nominated group includes the Independent Voter's League of America, the Marion County Tax Payers' league, and the Independent Democrats' league. Whether serious action would be taken by these groups was a matter of much conjecture.

Zoology Class To Pay Visit to Bay Region

Members of Dr. H. B. Yocom's class in invertebrate zoology are planning a trip to Coos Bay this week-end, in order to study marine animals.

Students will leave Friday, and may return either Saturday or Sunday. Dr. and Mrs. Yocom and Miss Marian Pettibone, assistant in the course, will accompany the party.

According to Dr. Yocom, this is a most favorable time for the trip, since a very low tide will make it easier to study the sea life.

to our attention that the members of your particular student body, concerning an unjustified victory won by your school in the year 1932, have constantly, continuously, and confoundly bragged, blown and blabbered as regards the athletic prowess of your notorious members; and

WHEREAS, at first the said law school was of the opinion that such ignominious mouthings were not worthy of our notice or contemplation, yet we, the said law school, realizing our lofty position and further feeling that such blasphemous and libelous statements were unbecoming and detrimental to the prestige and prominence of the noble and lofty legal profession:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that we, the said law school, do hereby challenge and

No, Lads! Sigma Chi Hasn't Hung A Pin on R.L.N.!

It's happened, folks, the year's gigantic!

Who should be seen ambling down 13th street yesterday with a Sigma Chi pledge pin on? You'd never guess. No, not Santa Claus. Guess again. It was Mr. Dick Neuberger, the editor himself. For a while the local boys thought the recent honors won by Mr. Neuberger's paper had effected his head. Great consternation reigned.

Then someone remembered that Mr. Neuberger lives with Mr. Rosie Gagnon, a Sigma Chi pledge. So they rightfully concluded Mr. Neuberger was wearing Mr. Gagnon's leather jacket. A delegation crossed the street to see Mr. Neuberger. "Congratulations," they said.

Neuberger looked puzzled. Then he looked down at the pledge emblem and blushed. Silence was in force for a minute. Then the militant editor drawled, "By gosh, I thought it was a Red-Cross button." He hastily removed the pin and handed it to Red Wilson, who was passing by.

Both Sigma Chi and the land

Law School Body Spikes Uprising

Spiking all chances of an uprising before they had scarcely started, officers of the law school student body called a meeting early Tuesday morning to transact necessary business which has been pressing and over which opposing factions threatened to rise in revolt.

Business considered included the election of officers, the annual spring term dance, and the softball game with the business administration school. It was decided that the dance would be held on the evening of Wednesday, May 17, and that the election of officers would be held next Monday, May 15.

Preston Gunther, law school student body president, appointed the following committees: Nominating committee, George Layman, chairman, Otto Bowman, Bill Goodwin, and Howard Bobbitt; dance committee, Gus Elbow, chairman, P. K. Hammond, Bill Whitely, and Art Clark. Bill Dashney was appointed to take charge of the ball game, while chairman of the band committee is yet to be named.

Rose Simons To Repeat Part of Recital on KOAC

Rose Simons, who appeared in recital Tuesday evening, will present a part of her program over KOAC tonight at 8 o'clock. The broadcast, lasting for half an hour, is sponsored by the University music department.

Her program follows:

Canoe Teams To Race for Cups in Events Saturday

Living Organizations Must Have Entries in Today by 5:00 To Be Eligible for Prizes

Canoe races down the Mill-race from the portage to the Anchorage will be a feature of the Water Carnival to be held Saturday morning starting at 10 o'clock, as a part of Junior Week-end.

Living organizations have been paired off for the canoe teams, with each women's organization paired with a men's organization for each canoe. All the entrants must turn in their names to Bernice Baynard by 5 p. m. today, at Phone 1307.

Eddie Field, chairman of the Water Carnival committee, yesterday issued the request that all organizations that are able enter private canoes, as there may be a shortage of canoes Saturday morning when they are issued at the Anchorage. Canoes for the race itself are being furnished free by the Anchorage.

The swimming races for men and women will be open to all students, who may enter by calling Bernice Baynard at 1307. The races will be over a course similar to that traversed in the canoe races, but shorter, due to the time limit.

Prizes for all of the races are on display in the Co-op window. They will be awarded to the winners Saturday night at the Canoe Fete.

The living organization pairings for the canoe teams are as follows: Pi Kappa Alpha and Alpha Xi Delta; Yeomen and Tonqueds; Sigma Pi Tau and Alpha Omicron Pi; Phi Gamma Delta and Alpha Delta Pi; Sigma Alpha Mu and Beta Phi Alpha; Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Beta Tau Alpha; Theta Chi and Chi Omega; Phi Delta Theta and Delta Zeta; Sigma Phi Epsilon and Gamma Phi Beta; Alpha Tau Omega and Delta Delta Delta.

Delta Tau Delta and Alpha Chi Omega; Phi Kappa Psi and Delta Gamma; Friendly hall and Pi Beta Phi; Kappa Sigma and Alpha Phi; Sigma Chi and Kappa Delta; Chi Psi and Kappa Alpha Theta; Sherry Ross hall and Phi Mu; Omega hall and Kappa Kappa Gamma; Sigma Nu and Sigma Kappa; Beta Theta Pi and Alpha Gamma Delta.

Juniors To Be Campus Hosts For Week-End

'Fantasie des Fleurs' To Be Friday Night LUNCH FIRST EVENT

Gerlinger, Koyl Cups To Be Given Outstanding Students; Friars To Pledge at Noon

The campus and visiting Oregon Mothers will become the guests of the junior class tomorrow as Junior week-end, the traditional spring festival, begins its three days of student functions.

Friday, Campus day, will be featured by the all-campus luncheon, a tennis court dance, a baseball game, a tea for Oregon Mothers by the Y. W. C. A., and will end with the Junior Prom in the evening.

Saturday starts off with the painting of the "O," the froshoph tug-of-war, the water carnival, and a mass meeting of the Oregon Mothers. A tea for mothers will fill the afternoon, with a Mother's banquet at 5:30, and the Canoe Fete at 8:30.

"La Fantasie des Fleurs," the 1933 Junior Prom, is to be the big social event of the season. Following a motif of futuristic flowers in all the decorations, and with many noteworthy features on its program, it promises to be a spectacular affair.

All Set for Prom!

Jim Ferguson, chairman of the Prom committee, yesterday announced completion of plans for the decoration and service at the Prom.

McArthur court is to be transformed into a fantastic flower garden, with a blue canopy covering

Women Will Vend Flowers at Lunch

Carrying large trays containing sprays of spring flowers, calling "Ten cents a spray," about fifteen girls will walk among those present at the all-campus luncheon, to be held on the lawn between the old libe and Friendly hall tomorrow noon.

These girls are under the direction of Janet McMicken, who is in charge of sales for the Y. W. C. A. frosh commission flower sale. This sale, begun last year at the campus luncheon in order to satisfy the desire of students and mothers for "something springy to wear," has developed into an annual project.

Glady's McMillan, president of frosh commission, is in general charge of the sale. Assistants are Virginia Younie, chairman of getting flowers; Elma Giles, chairman of making the corsages; Janet McMicken, chairman of sales; and Ann-Reed Burns, publicity.

Ex-Teacher in Russia Will Speak Tonight

International Relations club and the Student Socialist club will sponsor tonight's talk by Miss Elsa Mehlman on "My Observations in Russia."

The meeting will be held at 7:30 in the Y. M. C. A. hut, and is open to the public.

Miss Mehlman was instructor of English at the University of Moscow; she served for 10 years as head of the English department at Polytechnic high school in Oakland, California, before going to Russia. In 1922 she went to Siberia and was for two years director of education in Koosbass colony.

Students interested in International and economic problems are especially urged to attend.

Formal Motion Congratulates Campus Paper

Athletes To Get Passes To Home-Team Events

BE IN EFFECT SOON

Editor Introduces Discussion of A. S. U. O. Fees; Most of Members Present

A formal motion passed unanimously by the executive council yesterday congratulated and praised the Emerald for the All-American honor ranking recently conferred upon the campus daily by the National Scholastic Press association.

The motion was addressed to Dick Neuberger, editor of the paper, and lauded the publication for its high rating. The motion was introduced by Karl W. Onthank, faculty member on the council and a former editor of the Emerald himself. It passed without argument.

At the same meeting the council also passed a report of the athletic committee awarding five-year passes to all athletic contests at which Oregon is the host team to all Webfoot athletes who have competed on varsity teams for three years. It is required also that the athletes be lettermen. It will go into effect with

Pauline George Wins First Prize In Speech Contest

Pauline George, sophomore in journalism, won the first prize of $20 in the Jewett after-dinner speaking contest last night. Her topic was "If I Should Die Tonight." Cynthia Liljeqvist, sophomore in English, took second prize of $10 with a speech on "Frailty, Is Thy Name Woman?" The $5 award went to Helen Harriman, sophomore in biological science, for her description of the American habit of "Living By Radio."

By humorously showing how the most remote human tendencies and desires would become paramount if death were approaching, Miss George revealed everyone's hidden fancies and stated among them her own desire to push a large pie into the face of certain professors. "It would be far more effective than words," she stated.

Twisting the facts so that woman seemed the driving force in the universe, Cynthia Liljeqvist proved her point by saying, "In desperation, the United States legislators declared a beer holiday and then inflated the currency in an attempt to counteract the depression Garbo made when she left for Sweden."

Helen Harriman revealed how the American public depends upon the radio for its daily schedules and how upset they'd be if the morning exercise and recipe programs were discontinued.

Wally Campbell exploited the honors of toastmaster (toasted master, as he expressed it) in place of Mrs. Sally Allen, who was ill. The judges were Prof. John H. Mueller, Prof. P. V. Morrisette, Hugh E. Rosson, Mrs. Genevieve Turnipseed, and Miss Mollie Hair.

Schenk Severely Cuts Hand Washing Dishes

Harry Schenk, business manager of the Emerald, is today sporting a bandaged left hand. Last night the Emerald was unable to get in touch with Schenk, but according to Robert Allen, alumni secretary and editor of Old Oregon, Schenk cut his hand while washing dishes at the Sigma Pi Tau house when he attempted to catch a falling milk bottle.

Schenk lost approximately a quart of blood by the time he had reached the hospital. Fifteen stitches were taken.

Oregana Editor

Miss Madeleine Gilbert, daughter of Dr. James H. Gilbert. She is the new editor of Oregana, having been named yesterday by the executive council.

Male Beauties To Vie for Glory at Dance Tomorrow

At last, gents, a beauty contest for men!

This is to be the unusual feature of the Tennis Court dance tomorrow, which will be held as a part of Campus Day of Junior Week-end.

Dick Wallsinger, chairman of Campus day, last night announced plans for the competition. Prizes are to be awarded for the most beautiful male in co-ed's clothing to enter the contest. Men who wish to enter, or houses that wish to display the pulchritude of their fellows should get in touch with Bill Douthitt, at the A. T. O. house.

Another feature of the tennis court dance, which starts at 3 on the courts behind the main library, will be a dancing contest, for which there will also be prizes. The winner will be chosen by elimination. The judges will pass among the dancers eliminating the couples until only one remains.

Fred Peterson and his Rhythm club will furnish the music for the dance.

Plans Discussed for Annual Frosh Picnic

Plans for the annual freshman picnic, tentative in nature until appropriations from each member of the class are made, were offered at a gathering of the frosh last night in Villard.

Jack Miller is chairman of the affair, should the picnic be held. The present plan is to hold it on May 30.

Those in charge of collecting the assessment in each house are asked to turn the money in to John McConnell tonight.

Miss Rebec Returns

Betty Rebec has returned home after a year's study in California. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Rebec.

June 1 Deadline For Graduation Fee, Says Lyon

SENIORS have until June 1 to pay the graduation fee, recently reduced from $10 to $6.50, it was announced by E. P. Lyons, cashier.

Mr. Lyons said that the fees could be paid at any time previous to this date, however.

One-Time Oregana Editors Express Approval of Choice

Four former editors of the Oregana, still on the campus, last night expressed their pleasure at the selection of Madeleine Gilbert as editor of the Oregana, announced yesterday afternoon by the executive council.

Henrietta Steinke, editor of the 1930-31 yearbook, said, "Madeleine Gilbert has always shown great interest in this type of work and should make a good editor. I remember her as an assistant editor for the 1930-31 Oregana, when she was a freshman. Such interest so early in college would indicate that she is well qualified for the position."

New Editor Has Held Positions On Publications

Yearbook Head Is Honor Student

APPOINTMENT LATE

Council Passes Motion Instructing Forwarding of Resolution on Mimeographed Sheets

By JULIAN PRESCOTT

Madeleine Gilbert, junior in sociology, was named editor of the Oregana for 1934 when the executive council accepted the recommendation of the publication committee yesterday. She will succeed Virginia Wentz as editor of the yearbook.

Miss Gilbert has held positions on the staff of the yearbook for two years and has been a member of the Emerald staff. Besides being an honor student she has been elected to several honorary societies.

Appointment Delayed

Appointment of the Oregana editor was delayed several weeks when the council refused to name either of the two candidates who filed at the first call for applications. Bob Zurcher and Parks Hitchcock had put in petitions. Zurcher was recommended by the publications committee but later was found ineligible because of grades. The council later declined to appoint Hitchcock on the grounds that it did not feel the best possible candidates had been heard. A second call was put for petitions and about eight students filed.

The council yesterday also passed a motion instructing the secretary to forward to the discipline committee the resolution of the publications committee concerning the placing of mimeographed slip sheets by Dave Wilson and "unknown persons" in the Emerald on election day.

Forensic Awards Changed

Changes in the rules for making awards to students taking part in forensics were adopted by the council. Certificates will be given for the first and second years of work; a pin or key for the third year, and a plaque for the fourth year. Forensic managers will be awarded a pin.

This year's manager for the golf team will be selected from the managerial staff on the recommendation of the golf team.

One-Time Oregana Editors Express Approval of Choice

"I have every confidence in Madeleine Gilbert's ability to edit an outstanding Oregana. She has a great deal of originality and initiative. Her personal qualifications and experience give her every claim to the position."

Virginia Wentz, editor of this year's edition, which will be distributed Friday, had opportunity to judge Miss Gilbert's qualifications from personal experience. Her comment was: "Madeleine has worked for three years on the Oregana and has done very good work. As secretary and assistant to the editor in previous years she proved herself very competent. The ability shown in previous years in other positions should be carried over into the editorship. I think the choice of the publications committee and the executive council was very wise."
