Nobody's Business

By BRUCE HAMBY
 PLENTY of sports on tap for the coming week. Bill Reinhart's baseball nine tops the list with four games, two here and two afield. Friday afternoon Oregon and Oregon State meet in their annual dual track and field meet and Saturday morning and afternoon state high school stars will compete in the annual interscholastic meet. Friday and Saturday's events will be part of "Bill Hayward Week-end." And you mustn't forget the banquet in honor of Hayward Friday night at the Eugene hotel.

The high school meet will be the top-notch attraction of the week. More than 200 entrants are expected and should the weather just happen to be nice some of the present marks are likely to be taken off the books. Washington high school of Portland will send down some of the finest prep athletes ever developed in the state. This year there will be no team trophies, so no one school will "win the meet." Everything is on an individual basis.

Friday afternoon's set-to between Oregon and Oregon State should be a battle, despite the Webfoots 35 or 40 point advantage on paper. According to times and previous performances Oregon should win all but two or three of the first places. The broad jump, the pole-vault and the half-mile are the only events in which the Oregonians have better times. But you can't always dope a track meet. It's too easy for one man to tie-up and lose valuable points, or have another show unexpected brilliance and beat favored opponents.

Oregon's victory over Washington last Saturday was one meet which came out just as many of the boys had hoped and figured. Early in the week some of the McArthur court gang estimated that Oregon would win by a score close to 67 to 64. Others of the "I told you so" group claimed it would be 72 to 59. Just before the meet Bill Hayward told his men the final score would be 66 to 65, with Oregon on top. All those scores depended upon every man coming through with his best. That's just what happened at Seattle. If the boys can do it again next Friday Oregon State will be just out of luck. But don't start giving away points.

If it don't stop raining before long, Oregon's baseball nine is going to have to start playing double-headers every day in order to complete their schedule. To date only four of sixteen or more games listed have been played off. Last week-end the Webfoots defeated Linfield twice. Yesterday they were slated to meet Willamette here on Reinhart field. As it now stands the Ducks will face the Monmouth Teachers this afternoon at Monmouth; Willamette here Wednesday, and Oregon State Friday and Saturday at Corvallis.

After dropping the first game of the season to Columbia Reinhart's outfit has pulled together and the last three starts have resulted in decisive victories. Much of the credit for the showing of the Webfoots must go to the hitting of Chuck Hoag, Lee Chester and Duke Shaneman. All three have been hitting at a terrific pace and that's what counts in baseball. Hoag is turning out to be one of the finest baseball performers seen here in many seasons. It's a real pleasure to watch his work, at bat, behind the plate or in the field.

Four Games To Be Played By Webfoots

Ducks Will Leave For Trip To Monmouth Today

Schedule Calls For Contest With Willamette, Oregon State; Bearcats Here Tomorrow

The Oregon Webfoots, after a winning streak of three straight games, will be given the big chance to prove their real worth this week when they partake in four games in five days. Today the Ducks travel to Monmouth to tangle with the Normalites on their home grounds in a makeup for the postponed game of last week. The Oregon team will then return to Reinhart field to engage the Willamette Bearcats in a game tomorrow. The final two games of the week are against the Oregon State Beavers, the first scheduled for Eugene on Friday, and a return tilt at Corvallis the following day.

The Webfoots will probably find the Monmouth nine the toughest competition yet encountered. According to advance dope the Teachers and the Willamette team are about on a par, having divided four games already.

Ducks in Good Shape
 The coming series with the Beavers this week-end will be a crucial one, and the Webfoots should be in excellent condition for the fray.

The boys will leave today at noon by automobile for the Monmouth invasion. Coach Reinhart is liable to start another recruit pitcher in this fray, having forced so well in the last Linfield contest. It will likely be either Lorin Carmichael or Al McKelligan. Two regulars, Ike Donin and Ed Charles, have not seen service lately and are also possible starters.

Reinhart seems to have a lineup that is fairly well set at this writing. After experimenting during pre-season drill and for the first regular game he has finally decided on shifting Capt. "Duke" Shaneman and Chuck Hoag between the catching and outfielding berths. Hoag will probably do most of the back-stopping, but with a week as full as the current one he will doubtless need relief.

Vail Is In Field
 Another recent addition to the first lineup is the presence of Mickey Vail in left field. When Reinhart decided to use Al McKelligan on the pitching staff the left field berth was left vacant and Vail fitted in the opening in great style. He owns a great throwing arm which will help a great deal in cutting off possible runs at the plate.

The remainder of the first team posts are pretty well sewed up with Lee Chester at first, "Chip" Chatterton at second, Freddy Sears at short, Ernie Garbarino at third. The outfield, besides Shaneman and Vail, includes Wes Clausen, small, but a great sparkplug in the Duck nine.

Challenge Sent By Law School Not Answered

Members of the law school student body and of its athletic committee in particular are wondering if the challenge sent to the business administration school for the annual soft ball game between the two schools was too harsh and awe inspiring, for as yet no reply whatever has been received.

As provided in the terms of the challenge, the business administration students have the privilege of refusing to accept the invitation to try out their prowess, but they seem to be too subdued by the eloquent and lofty wording to as much as answer, according to Bill Dashney, chairman in charge of the event for the law students.

For the first time in many years the Texas league has no Louisiana city as a member this season.

Duck Nine Makes It Two In a Row Over Wildcats

Hoag and Clausen Bat Reinhart's Squad to 9 to 5 Victory At McMinnville

The Oregon Ducks made a clean sweep of the two-game series with the Linfield Wildcats when they won the second conflict Saturday at McMinnville by a score of 9 to 5. The Webfoots had previously taken the Wildcats into camp on Reinhart field Friday by a 12 to 6 score.

Chuck Hoag and Wes Clausen were the leading batsmen for Coach Bill Reinhart's nine, each competing for two hits, and driving in six runs between them. Cece Inman, recruit pitcher, started his first game under Oregon colors, and hurled creditable ball for the entire nine innings. Although he allowed the seemingly large number of 15 hits during the fray, he kept them well scattered.

Saturday's victory was the third straight for the Webfoots with but one defeat charged against them. The current week calls for four contests on the Oregon schedule, the first being with Willamette day at Salem.

Law Review Sent To Bar Members

The April edition of the Oregon Law Review, journal of the Oregon Bar association, published by the University of Oregon law school, came off the press May 9 and was mailed to subscribers throughout the country. Professor Charles G. Howard is editor-in-chief and Otto J. Frohnmayer is student editor.

In this issue the leading articles are by James T. Brand, circuit judge of the second judicial district, on "Montesquieu and the Separation of Powers," and by Professor Charles G. Howard on "The Restatement of the Law of Contracts With Oregon Notes." Professor Howard's work is a continuation of his research into this field.

John H. Wigmore has contributed an editorial on "Privileged Communications—Employer and Stenographer," while Dean Wayne L. Morse has submitted a book review on Glueck's "Probation and Criminal Justice." Student contributors for this issue include the following: Otto M.

Ducklings Vie With Montana, Idaho Teams

Oregon Yearlings Run In Telegraphic Meet

Muddy Track And Field Cause Poor Marks To Be Made; Scharpf Does Well

Rain and a muddy track once more hampered Duckling cindermen from making outstanding track times, yesterday afternoon when telegraphic dual meets were held with the University of Idaho and University of Montana frosh track squads. The results of these meets will be published as soon as they are released by the Associated Press bureau in Seattle.

George Scharpf, former Eugene high half mile ace, looked particularly good in covering the two laps in 2:02. He bested Gillanders, his lone competitor, to the tape by 20 yards. This is the best time Scharpf has ever made.

Patterson Stars
 Howie Patterson, the iron man of the Duckling squad, looked impressive in the broad jump. He leaped 20 feet, 11 inches to take the board jump honors. He also captured first in the century and 220 yard dash.

Dewey Carpenter, field event star for the frosh, tossed the platter out 125 feet, 8 3-8 inches, hurled the javelin 144 feet 10 1-2 inches, and high jumped 5 feet 4 inches. All these marks should be good for places.

Shot Mark Good
 Stanford "Carnera" Smith, husky Klamath Falls shotputter, tossed the iron sphere out 42 feet 10 inches, which is quite a toss for a frosh. This should reserve the blue ribbon for the husky freshman weight star.

Times and distances sent in by the Oregon frosh are as follows:
 100-yard dash—Patterson 10.7; Mears, 10.8; Rickabaugh, 10.9.
 Mile run—Ludington 4:41.6; Paddock, 4:41.9; Butler, 5:01.
 880 yard run—Scharpf, 2:02; Gillanders, 2:15.
 Shot put—S. Smith, 42 feet, 10 inches.

440 yard run—Thomas 54 flat; Arey, 54.4; Donnelly, 54.7.
 High jump—Carpenter 5 feet 4 inches; Kaseberg, 5 feet 2 inches.
 120 yard high hurdles—Milligan, 17.1; Levings, 18 flat.
 220 yard dash—Patterson, 23.2; Michak, 24.2.
 220 yard low hurdles—Milligan, 28 flat; Levings, 28.2.
 Relay team, composed of Ewen, Arey, Donnelly, and Thomas. Time 3:38.1.
 Javelin—Carpenter, 125 feet, 8 3-4 inches.
 Discus—Carpenter 125 feet 8 3-8 inches.
 Pole vault—Nye, 9 feet 4 inches.
 Broad jump—Patterson, 20 feet 11 inches.

Students Named For Law Review

Professor Charles G. Howard, editor-in-chief of the Oregon Law Review, yesterday announced the new student editorial board of the magazine for the year 1933-1934. The selection, made on the basis of legal scholarship, was as follows: editor, Carl Davidson; business manager, Carl Coad; note and comment editor, Karl Huston; recent case note editor, James Landy; and book review and statute editor, Josephine Rice.

These students have all been contributors to the magazine during the past year, and they will be in full charge of the student section. The Oregon Law Review has more student production than any other law school of the same size in the United States, according to Professor Howard.

Members of the retiring student editorial board are: Otto Frohnmayer, editor; Otto Bowman, business manager; Urlin Page, note and comment editor; Kenneth Pro-

Eugene High Golf Squad Smothers Frosh Clubbers

Oregon Yearlings Run In Telegraphic Meet

Muddy Track And Field Cause Poor Marks To Be Made; Scharpf Does Well

Freshman golfers lost their first golf match of the season yesterday, when the Eugene high school linksmen beat them by a score of 8 points to 4. Johnny Boyd, frosh No. 1 man, turned in a card of 77 for low score honors. He was the only freshman to win his match.

The results are as follows: John Boyd beat Sid Milligan, 2 points to 1; John Hanley lost of Doc Near 2-1-2 points to 1-2; Ed Labbe lost to Bob Goodwin 2 points to 1; and Al Lours lost to Bob Rickabaugh 2-1-2 points to 1-2. He matches were played on the Eugene Country club course.

A return match will be played against the high school team on Thursday afternoon, and the frosh will be out to revenge their defeat. Tentative matches with the O. S. C. rooks and University high have been arranged, and will be played in the near future.

Orange Golfers Bow Once More To Oregon Team

Moe and Olsen Shoot Sparkling Golf As Webfoots Win By 23 to 4 Score

Scoring their second victory in two weeks Oregon golfers Saturday afternoon defeated Oregon State's best divot-digging crew by the score of 23 points to 4. The Webfoots garnered 9 points to the Beavers' 0 in the morning's best ball foursome matches, and managed to collect 14 points in the afternoon singles play.

In the morning play Moe and Adelsperger beat Cooper and Beardley; Bob Near and Leonard Anderson beat Arnold Heikenen and Brand; and Phil Mulder and Don Olsen won from Hoffman and Shellenbarger. The matches were all close, but the sparkling play of Don Moe and Don Olsen turned the tide in favor of the Webfoot team.

The singles matches saw Don Moe win 3 points from Heikenen; Anderson won 2 and lost 1 with Cooper; Bob Near lost 3 to Cooper; Dick Near won 3 from Hoffman; Adelsperger won 3 from Shellenbarger; and Mulder won 3 from Brand. Adelsperger and Mulder found their form in these matches and turned in fine scores.

The victory Saturday was the second one for the Ducks over the Beavers. Two weeks ago in Corvallis they won from O. S. C. by the close score of 10½ to 7½.

The team will leave for Seattle this coming Friday for a match with the University of Washington golf team, which will, in turn, play a return match in Eugene. Eight men will make the trip.

Rejuvenated Webfoot Cinder Squad Smacks Washington In 69 to 62 Dope Reversal

THE doleful jingle of an adverse dope bucket didn't mean a thing to Colonel Bill Hayward and his Oregon track squad last Saturday when they showed their heels to Hec Edmundson's University of Washington athletes to score a well-earned 69-to-62 victory. The championship-headed Ducks had one thought in mind when they went to their marks in Seattle, and had six blue ribbons to their credit before the bewildered Huskies woke up to the fact that a track meet was in progress. All in all the Webfoots accounted for nine first places to four for the northerners. Two events ended in a deadlock.

Captain Paul Starr showed the way for the victors when he opened the scoring with a fast 9.8 hundred. He divided high scoring honors of the day with his teammate Gardner Frye, who scored wins in both the shot put and discus throw. Starr remained undefeated for the season when he outclassed a fast field in the 220-yard dash to win in 21.3 seconds.

Warren Demaris, sensational Duck sophomore javelin ace, lived up to expectations in the spear event, breaking the Northwest dual meet record of 203 feet 8 inches.

Summary:
 100-yard dash—Won by Starr, Oregon; second, Plumb, Washington; third, Barnes, Washington. Time, 9.8 seconds.
 220-yard dash—Won by Starr, Oregon; second, Plumb, Washington; third, Barnes, Washington. Time, 21.3 seconds.

440-yard dash—Won by Burr, Oregon; second, Marrs, Oregon; third, Pedersen, Washington. Time, 51.7 seconds.
 880-yard run—Won by Galer, Washington; second, Zwiibel, Washington; third, Dolloff, Oregon. Time, 1:57.4.
 Mile run—Won by Hunter, Oregon; second, Preferment, Washington; third, Woodward, Washington. Time, 4:27.3.

Two-mile run—Won by Wagner, Oregon; second, Corbin, Washington; third, Preferment, Washington. Time, 9:44.
 120-yard high hurdles—Won by Nowland, Oregon; second, Brackey, Washington; third, McCoy, Oregon. Time, 1:51.
 220-yard low hurdles—Won by Bracken, Washington; second, McCoy, Oregon; third, Holman, Oregon. Time, 24 seconds.

Pole vault—Art Aud and Custer, Washington, and McCoy, Oregon, tied. Height, 12 feet.
 Broad jump—Won by Hossman, Washington; second, Palmer, Oregon; third, Pruzon, Washington. Distance, 23 feet ½ inch.
 Javelin throw—Won by Demaris, Oregon; second, Parke, Oregon; third, King, Washington. Distance, 203 feet 4 inches.
 Discus throw—Won by Frye, Oregon; second, England, Washington; third, Clarke, Oregon. Distance, 140 feet 11½ inches.

 High jump—Palmer, Oregon, and Swisher, Washington, tied for first; third, Nowland, Oregon. Height, 6 feet 13-8 inches.
 Shot put—Won by Frye, Oregon; second, England, Washington; third, Neader, Washington. Distance, 45 feet 10¾ inches.
 Mile relay—Won by Washington (Condon, Pruzon, Pedersen, Galer). Time, 3:26.4.

Books on Japan, Russia Reviewed By Harold Noble

History Professor Discusses the Treatises in Commonwealth Review Magazine

Two books, "Russia and Asia," by Prince A. Bobanov-Rostovsky, and "Awakening Japan: The Diary of a German Doctor," by Erwin Baelz, are reviewed by Dr. Harold J. Noble of the history department of the University in the April issue of the Commonwealth Review, official publication of the college of social sciences here.

The first of these books is an account of the Russian expansion eastward to recent years. Beginning with the conquest of Siberia, the account surveys early Russian relations with Asiatic countries. The author also compares Russia's problems affecting the Chinese Eastern railroad with American problems affecting the Panama canal.

The second book, "Awakening Japan," deals with the transition of Japan into the ways of westward civilization. The author spent many years in Japan, and the book is more or less a collection of letters and notes.
