'Bill's' Friends Gather At Fete Here Tonight

Banquet at Eugene Hotel To Begin at 6:30

OVER 400 EXPECTED

Vere Windagle To Represent High School Coaches of State; Foster To Be Present

By BRUCE HAMBY
Stories such as never existed in the most far-fetched fiction books and on sporting pages, will be in order tonight as between 400 and 500 of Bill Hayward's friends gather at the Eugene hotel to signal the start of the thirtieth year at the University of Oregon.

And all the stories about Colonel Bill will be true. His early life is a legend—running back through history before the University had a track team. Many of the tales have been printed, but more untold ones will be unrecalled tonight. Men who have known Hayward since he came to the Pacific coast in 1900 will be on hand to tell of his dim, dark past. Some of his greatest track stars will be there, with stories of Bill's accomplishments as Webfoot coach and trainer.

Many Messages Received
Since the announcement of the banquet reservations from all over the Northwest have been pouring in to Paul Starr, banquet chairman, and his committee. Telegrams from fellow coaches, former pupils and friends have been received from all corners of the country—Texas, New Hampshire, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York.

Tonight's affair will be more in the nature of a reunion—it will be strictly informal, for men only, and long speeches are absolutely taboo. All speakers have been allotted three minutes. Hugh Rosson has been asked to act as toastmaster.

The complete program for the banquet was announced last night.

King's Men Turn Furniture Movers For 'Winter's Tale'

The king's men yesterday turned furniture movers and dumped the king's palace, Queen Hermione's chamber, the shepherd's cottage and Pauline's house onto the king's 1933 truck-horses and moved down the street from the Guild theatre to the MacDonald. And skeptical as the onlooker may have felt at sight of the Shakespearean scenic hash, George Andreini promises that it will resolve itself into five spectacular settings for the matinee opening of "A Winter's Tale" next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Although this work is unique for its lack of any absolute leads, Charles Shoemaker as Leontes, king of Sicily, Hagen Moore as the king of Bohemia, and Daisy Swanton as Queen Hermione have key parts. Two other fine characterizations are given Tye Hart-

Wilbur Thibault Dies Yesterday After Operation

Prominent Campa Shoppe Band Member Passes; Theta Chi Cancels Dance

Wilbur Thibault, third-year student, died at 6:30 yesterday evening at the Pacific Christian hospital, following an appendicitis operation a week ago at the hospital.

Thibault was not in school this term, although he lived on the campus and maintained his affiliation with the Campa Shoppe dance band. During his freshman and sophomore years he maintained an active interest in dramatics, taking part in various productions of the drama department.

Thibault's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Thibault of Portland, and his sister Ethel were called to Eugene early yesterday when it was apparent that death was imminent. The body was taken to Portland last night, and funeral services will be held in that city from the Peninsula Funeral home. Members of Theta Chi fraternity, with which the boy was affiliated, have cancelled arrangements for their spring dance Saturday evening and are planning to attend the services.

Thibault was 22 years old and a graduate of Jefferson high school in Portland. Representing that institution, he won the Pacific coast oratorical championship and a trip to South America in the annual contest sponsored by the Morning Oregonian.

Fendrich Passes Honors Exam
Lewis Fendrich, Eugene, physics major and member of the senior six, passed his examination for honors yesterday. The exam was given by members of the science and mathematics staff: Dr. F. L. Shinn, Dr. O. F. Stafford, Dr. Andrew Moursund, Dr. Will V. Norris, and Dr. Hilber J. Unger.

Publications Group Named For Next Year

Hollis, Turnbull, Allen Reappointed

KERR WILL RATIFY

Tongue, Hall Rename Non-Student Members Who Served During This Year

The last edition of the Emerald for the school year will be issued tomorrow, Saturday, May 19.

At a late hour last night Tom Tongue, new student body president, reported the following as his proposed publications committee for the 1933-34 school year: Madeleine Gilbert, Robert K. Allen, Sterling Green, Orlando J. Hollis, Neal Bush, George S. Turnbull, Tom Tongue, chairman.

This list will be sent to Chancellor Kerr today for the customary approval of the head of the University, according to Tongue. Gilbert, as editor of the Emerald; Green, as editor of the Oregonian; Bush, as vice-president, and Tongue, as president, all will serve as required by the A. S. U. O. constitution. Hollis was named as faculty representative by Tongue and Bob Hall, retiring student body president.

The two A. S. U. O. presidents chose Allen, secretary of the alumni association, as alumni representative. Mr. Turnbull was selected from the school of journalism and will act as adviser for the Emerald. Both Mr. Hollis and Mr. Turnbull were on this year's publications committee.

It is expected that the list will be formally approved by the head of the University, as has been customary in the past. Virtually all members of the Emerald and Oregonian staffs expressed their pleasure and satisfaction over Tongue's and Hall's selections.

Dick Neuberger, editor of the Emerald, whose term expires tomorrow, said: "I know this group will insure a strong, fearless student publication for the coming year. I congratulate Tongue and Hall for appointing it."

Fewer Than 150 Students Attend ASUO Assembly

1933-34 Student Officers Installed At Meeting; Dr. V. P. Morris Speaks on Trust

Fewer than 150 students attended the A. S. U. O. assembly yesterday morning in McArthur court to witness the installation of the 1933-34 student body officers and to hear Dr. Victor P. Morris of the economics department speak on the subject of "President Roosevelt's So-Called Brain Trust."

Prior to turning the president's gavel over to Tom Tongue, Bob Hall, retiring president, stated that the students should come to the graduate manager's office with their problems and to learn to depend more on the graduate manager. Since there is a decided de-

Tom Stoddard Elected Demo League Prexy

Last night Tom Stoddard, assistant graduate manager, was re-elected to an office he had never held! It was the post of president of the Young Democratic league of Lane county. He was elected two weeks ago to replace Nathan Berkham, graduate student, in economics, when his resignation should have taken effect June 1, but a change in the league constitution made last Thursday set the annual elections ahead to last night.

More than 50 attended the meeting, which was held at the Eugene hotel. Other officers elected were: Ethel Armitage, woman vice-president; Versel McCauley, man vice-president; Elise Schroeder, secretary; and Ray Martin, treasurer.

Speaks on Peace

Rev. Clay Palmer, pastor of the Congregational church, who analyzed the Roosevelt disarmament plan, Hitler's equality of arms proposal and other recent movements pertaining to disarmament of last night's meeting of the International Relations club.

Palmer Hopeful That Roosevelt Will Aid Peace

Pastor Speaker at International Relations Club Meeting Last Night

"I am hopeful that President Roosevelt will crystallize the peace forces of the world in such a manner that we may have genuine security," Rev. Clay Palmer, pastor of the Congregational church, told the International Relations club at its meeting at the International House last night.

"The position that Roosevelt has taken is that the main problems of the world are international, problems which can be solved by international action," Mr. Palmer said. "The world needs a leader. Roosevelt, up to the present time, has been a leader. I don't know how long he will continue to be, but, regardless, the people want a leader more than anything else."

"It is the nations that have built up empires that are blocking disarmament, not the small nations. The smallest and in many ways the happiest nations of the world, such as the Scandinavian countries and Switzerland, are willing to go the limit towards disarmament," Mr. Palmer told the international group.

Mr. Palmer does not believe that Hitler is dangerous to world peace. What he said in his message to the Reichstag was quite conciliatory to peace, the speaker explained.

Officers for the coming year were selected at the meeting. Howard Ohmart was elected president, and Clark Irwin was named secretary.

Charlotte Winters Will Head Language Group

Charlotte Winters will head Pi Delta Phi, national French honorary, as the result of recent elections. Alice Olmstead has been named vice-president and Daphne Matthews, secretary-treasurer. Rogers Tells Policy
Ralph Rogers, delegate from Washington State college, explained the policy regarding the sale of year books at his school. He stated that this year's book fees have been taken out of the regular damage fees, and by so doing 1800 books were sold, which is the largest amount recorded in the history of the institution. On many campuses, it was learned, the school annual is included in student fees.

A long discussion was held concerning the harmony between the school paper and student body executives. It was brought out that frequent because the editor was a

Students Uphold Principle Of Separating Judicial and Executive Power At Oregon

Principle or Pallett?

EDITORIAL
SO clear and articulate is the principle at stake with Mr. Pallett holding office on both the executive council and judiciary committee that we are certain Chancellor Kerr will recognize this fact and appoint some other faculty member to represent him on the A. S. U. O. executive group.

As we have pointed out before, it is in direct violation of a fundamental principle of the United States government when one man is connected with both the executive and judicial branches of government. Mr. Pallett has been in that position on this campus for several years. It is high time that it be stopped immediately. If we are going to have student government, we are going to have it right. And to permit open contradiction of principles upheld in the national government is not the right way to operate a student government.

The constitution requires Mr. Pallett's connection with the judiciary committee. Thus he must not continue on the executive council. Valuable though his presence may be there, principle must not be deviated from. We know and hope the chancellor will recognize this fact. Mr. Pallett is only one of approximately 200 faculty members. Surely Chancellor Kerr can find someone among that group to be his delegate.

Mr. Pallett's unwillingness to resign, when he is so apparently violating a fundamental premise of self-government, does not sit well with us. We do not wish to risk our democratic student government by the continuance in office of a faculty representative who has shown his disapproval of a fundamental principle of American democracy.

This has become a major issue. The final decision now rests with Chancellor Kerr. Mr. Pallett has not resigned. So it is up to the chancellor to select another faculty member to replace Mr. Pallett. We hope he will do so. We would not want to see the representative of the head of the state system of higher education holding office on the executive council in direct defiance of a major premise of the United States government. We await action.

Pirate and Period Costumes for Ball Available at Co-op

WASH-BUCKLING pirate costumes and dainty Queen Anne robes used in the Beggar's Opera may be rented from the Co-op bacony for the Beaux Arts ball, admitted S. Stephenson Smith, associate professor of English, in an exclusive interview with the Emerald last night.

"For a mere four bits," said the well-known critic-coach, "campus Don Juans may be the cynosure of all eyes this evening by assuming the masterful role of Captain Kidd."

All of the costumes are different, it was announced, and students were urged to make their selection early for only about twenty outfits are available.

University Band Will Give Concert

John H. Stehn has bravely picked the lawn south of McArthur court as the scene for the concert his University bandsters, 70 strong, will give next Sunday evening at 7:30, weather permitting.

The first and second divisions of the band, combined in their last concert of the year, will play from the terrace just south of McArthur court. There will be room on the lawn and in parked cars along University street and 18th avenue for a large crowd of spectators. The music will be clearly audible at distances of several hundred yards, according to Stehn, for the sheer wall of the court will make an excellent sounding board.

Stehn has arranged a light, rhythmic program, suitable for an outdoor concert. On the following Sunday, May 28, the University Symphony orchestra will present an outdoor concert in the same setting. This will be the last of the 12 free Sunday concerts sponsored this year by the Associated Students.

In previous years the band's outdoor concerts have been staged along the mill-race. Superior parkette facilities caused the change to the McArthur court site.

Pallett Will Take Post If Put On Council

Neuberger, Green Both Condemn Procedure

SEEK NEW MEMBER

Decision Now Up to Chancellor; Editor-Elect Is Ready To Fight Next Year

BULLETIN!

THE ing students late last night declared that they thought the judicial and executive branches of the student government should be kept separated and one man should not be connected with both: Doug Polivka, Chuck Wishard, Cecil Espy, Ned Kinney, Butch Morse, Dick Neuberger, Jack Cate, Thornton Gale, Dave Wilson, and John H. King. As leaders of the student paper for this year and next, Green and Neuberger expressly asked that Earl M. Pallett resign his post on the executive council and confine himself to the judiciary committee, as is specified in the A. S. U. O. constitution.

Earl M. Pallett will continue on the executive council next year as the chancellor's representative if he is reappointed. The executive secretary, who is also a member of the judiciary committee, indicated his attitude in an interview last night when he declared: "I haven't any idea whether I'll be reappointed as a member of the executive council, but if I am named on the list, which will appear in print Saturday morning, I probably shall accept."

Resignation of Pallett from the executive council was demanded early in the week by the Oregon

Sigma Delta Chi To Purge Campus of Year's Scandal

A deep silence fell among those on the campus who would conceal their secret loves, iniquitous conduct, and clandestine midnight gatherings yesterday when Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalism fraternity, announced it would publish a "Green Goose," famous scandal sheet of the organization, Wednesday, May 24.

Ray Clapp, junior in journalism and radio editor of the Emerald, who, it is alleged, has an intimate knowledge of all major scandals during the year, was chosen editor of the organ by acclamation. He will select a staff of competent writers well versed in the art of ferreting out the deepest and darkest of questionable acts, to assist him. Under his direction all the dirt will be swept from the campus and sifted for choice bits of scandal for readers to dole on.

Not a keyhole on the campus will be sacred, not a boudoir, or reputed love nest will be allowed to go unscrutinized when these demons of the tabloid marshal their forces to give the campus a thorough purging for hot paragraphs. Nothing will be held too mighty to be touched upon. Even the powers that be, faculty members, student officers and others of the purple, will not be spared. Names heretofore spoken only in hushed tones will be blazoned in flaming headlines, where it is warranted, that all the campus may read and gloat over. Sufficient copies of the sheet, which will be four full pages in size, each containing a double portion of dynamite and T.N.T., will be printed that all may have a copy. Copies will be on sale at various places on the campus and at the journalism building.
