

OREGON SWAMPS ORANGE FOR COLONEL BILL

Emerald Staff Choices Made For Next Year

Green, Thuemmel Name Major Assistants

34 TO GET NEW JOBS

Saslavsky To Be Managing Editor Replacing Hamby; Russell Advertising Manager

Thirty-four students were appointed yesterday to major staff positions on the Oregon Daily Emerald for next year by Sterling Green, editor-elect, and Grant Thuemmel, business manager-elect. Heading the list of 20 editorial staff appointees was Joseph Saslavsky, junior in journalism, who was named managing editor. He replaces Bruce Hamby, who was recently appointed to the position but is now in line for selection as director of the A. S. U. O. news bureau, vacated by the resignation of Sam Wilderman.

Chief appointee made by Thuemmel to the business staff was Bill Russell, freshman in business administration, who will be advertising manager of the Emerald next year.

Others Named
Doug Polivka, sophomore in journalism, was chosen associate editor by Green. Don Caswell, junior in journalism, will take the position of assistant managing editor. The selection of Malcolm Bauer, sophomore in journalism, as sports editor was announced several weeks ago. Parks Hitchcock, sophomore in journalism, and Francis Pallister, junior in journalism, were named to the editorial staff.

Day Editors Selected
Six day editors were appointed by Green. Ralph Mason, sophomore in journalism, was selected chief of the day editing staff. The others named include Ray Clapp, junior in journalism; Mary Jane Jenkins, freshman in journalism; Hazle Corrigan, sophomore in social science; Bill Belton, sophomore in social science; and Paul Ewing, sophomore in journalism. Green stated that many positions are vacant as yet and that they will be filled at the beginning of next school year.

Business Staff Chosen
Thuemmel as assistant managing editor Fred Fisher, sophomore in business administration, and Ed Labbe, freshman in business administration. The position of national advertising manager will be held by Bill Meissner, sophomore in biological sciences, and his assistant will be Eldon Haberman, freshman in business administration.

Tom Holman, freshman in business administration, was named circulation manager, with Bill Perry, sophomore in business administration, assisting him. In charge of classified advertising will be Pearl Murphy, sophomore in humanities.

Office Assistants Selected
The other appointments made by Thuemmel included Betty Hentley, freshman in humanities, office manager; Willa Bitz and Ruth Rippey, both freshmen in journalism, checking managers; and Jeanette Thompson, freshman in business administration, and Phyllis Cousins, freshman in social science, executive secretaries.

Donald Emry To Get Alpha Kappa Psi Award

Donald Wood Emry was selected by Alpha Kappa Psi, men's commerce professional fraternity, as the recipient of the annual Alpha Kappa Psi scholarship medalion. This award is made by each active chapter of the fraternity to the junior man in business who has the highest grade for his college work.

WAA Strawberry Festival Is Slated Next Wednesday

Don't forget the date—Wednesday, May 24. Bring your straws dimes and nickels to the tennis courts, if it does not rain.

Next Wednesday is the date of the annual W. A. A. strawberry festival which will be held on the faculty tennis courts. Inclement weather will place the affair in the Women's building.

Depression prices are still in vogue—10 cents for strawberry sundaes and five cents a dance, music provided by a well-known campus orchestra. Dinners in all living organizations will be served at 5:30, and sundaes are to be served at 6 o'clock. Dancing will begin promptly at 6:30 for one hour. Mildred Ringo is general chairman of the event.

Emerald Banquet Set for Monday At Lee Duke Cafe

Bill Tugman of Register-Guard Will Act as Toastmaster; Staff To Attend

BULLETIN!
L. H. (Bill) Gregory, famed sporting editor of the Morning Oregonian, last night accepted an invitation to attend the Emerald banquet, provided he will not have to make any speeches. It will be the first Emerald affair ever attended by him. While in Eugene he will be the guest of Sam A. Wilderman.

A fighting newspaperman, to use the popular vernacular, will be toastmaster at the annual Emerald banquet, to be held for all students who have served on the student daily Monday, May 22, at Lee Duke's cafe at 6 o'clock. W. M. (Bill) Tugman, managing editor of the Eugene Register-Guard, will wield the gavel. He accepted the invitation proffered by Dick Neuberger last night.

"Mr. Tugman's valiant efforts in behalf of the University ably qualify him," said Neuberger. "I am delighted that he has accepted."
All members are today requested to check the list which is posted on the journalism bulletin board, to indicate whether they will be able to attend the affair. At this time awards will be made to outstanding staff members, and the new Emerald business and editorial staffs will be introduced. Doug Polivka is in charge of arrangements. He said that he, Neuberger, Tugman, and Green would work to attain the most outstanding program ever presented at an Emerald banquet. A list of notable speakers will be announced.

Scabbard and Blade Honors 10 Freshmen

Ten outstanding freshmen in the military department were chosen by Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary, to receive merit badges given annually by the group. The names were released today by Marshall Wright, captain of Scabbard and Blade.

Those chosen included George Nash, Robert Morris, John Withrow, H. E. Lambert, V. W. Whitaker, Ray Morse, Edward Vail, Hugh McCredie, Howard Patterson, and M. C. Smith.

First Pacific Law Institute To Meet Here This Summer

Two years ago Wayne L. Morse, dean of the law school, submitted to President Arnold Bennett Hall a proposal that there be established on the Pacific coast a summer institute of Law and the Administration of Justice. The plan called for an institute of 10 days' duration, to which members of the bench and bar of Oregon, as well as social scientists in the fields of sociology, psychology, history, economics, and political science, would be invited.

The purpose was to promote the exchange of contributions of the various social science disciplines with the law. It is Dean Morse's opinion that members of the bench and bar are desirous of administering the law so as to give effect to scientific findings in the field of social science.

Change Pilots; The New and the Old

The new and old student executives who change posts now. Top row, left to right: Dick Neuberger, sophomore editor, under whose leadership the Emerald achieved national recognition; Bob Hall, popular and well-liked student president, and Harry Schenk, hustling Emerald business manager. They all end their terms. Below, left to right, are the incoming leaders: Sterling Green, new Emerald editor, honor student and winner of the prized Koyl cup; Tom Tongue, honor student and new student prexy, and Grant Thuemmel, named business manager of the Emerald, an unusual honor for a Junior.

Classes To Hold Three Elections On Next Tuesday

Fresh Only Group Able To Cast Of Two Complete Tickets, Led by Red-Heads

Only one class of the University of Oregon will go to the polls Tuesday with two complete tickets for class officers unless more nominations are made by petition. The present freshman class boasts two tickets, and if red hair is any indication of fighting instinct, this election should prove interesting, since both tickets are headed by red-headed candidates.

For senior officers: Jim Ferguson, president; Phoebe Greenman vice-president; Lucille Coate, secretary; Louis Vannice, and Hubert Totton, treasurer; Al McKelligon, barber.

For junior officers: George Birnie, president; Althea Peterson, vice-president; Gail McCredie, secretary; Ed Meserve, treasurer.

For sophomore officers: Jerry Denslow and Bud Johns, president; Peggy Chessman and Eunice Elliott, vice-president; Virginia Proctor and Dorothy Anne Clark, secretary; Bob Thomas and Dwight Nielson, treasurer.

The juniors will vote at the old library, the sophomores at the Y hut, and the freshmen at Johnson hall. Any other nominations must be made by petition by tonight.

Classes Excused On Memorial Day, Tuesday, May 30

TUESDAY, May 30. Memorial day, will be a holiday and no classes will be held, it was announced by the registrar's office.

Sophomore and freshman classes are planning picnics on that day.

Dean Received Calls

Mrs. Alice Macduff, assistant dean of women, announced that she had a few calls from people who wish to take care of houses during the summer session.

University Band Outdoor Concert Will Be Sunday

Rain Checks In Order If Gloomy Skies, Cold Winds Threaten To Dampen Crowd

If the gods of weather smile tomorrow, 70 University bandmen will take their stand on the terrace just south of McArthur court at 7:30 p. m. for the first outdoor concert of the year. If gloomy skies and cold winds threaten to dampen the crowd and the clarinets' reeds, rain checks will be in order. Director John H. Stehn has arranged for the concert.

THE UNIVERSITY COMMENCEMENT COMMITTEE

Pallett Now On Only One A.S.U.O. Body

Crumbaker Is Slated as Judiciary Member

SELECTIONS NAMED

Chancellor Kerr's Letter Tells of Pallett's Decision; Campus Leaders Pleased

Earl M. Pallett is no longer a member of the judiciary committee of the associated students. A letter from Chancellor Kerr to Tom Tongue, new student body prexy, indicated yesterday that Dr. Calvin Crumbaker would replace the executive secretary of the institution on the judiciary committee.

The letter said, in part: "... Some time ago Mr. Pallett indicated to me that he desired to appoint some member of the faculty in his place on the judiciary committee because of the heavy responsibility placed upon him in connection with his duties on both the executive council and judiciary committee. I understand Mr. Pallett has appointed Dr. Calvin Crumbaker as his representative on the judiciary committee for the coming year."

Students Raise Protest

Yesterday a group of representative students, headed by Thornton Gale, Sterling Green, Cecil Espy, Dick Neuberger, Ned Kinney, John King, Jack Cate, Chuck Wishard, Doug Polivka, Butch Morse and Dave Wilson, said they thought one man should not be represented in both the executive and judicial branches of government.

The matter was first brought up by the Emerald a week ago, when it was pointed out editorially that one person's serving on both the legislative and judicial branches was in direct violation of an underlying principle of the United States government.

Emerald Editors Pleased

Neuberger, who first brought up the issue, said last night, when informed of the chancellor's letter: "While it would have been more to the letter of the argument for Mr. Pallett to have withdrawn from the executive council, his resignation is a relief."

Edgar Goodnough Is Named Murray Warner Winner

Senior in History Given $250 for Paper on Conflict Over Manchuria

Edgar Goodnough, senior history major and recently elected Phi Beta Kappa, was yesterday declared the winner of the first prize of $250.00 in the Murray Warner Essay contest with his paper, "The Struggle for Manchuria During the World War." The committee of judges, Dr. Samuel Jameson, Dr. Victor Morris, and Dr. Harold J. Noble, chairman, were high in their praises of the essays submitted.

The second prize of $50 in the American division was won by Betty Anne Macduff, senior in journalism and also recently elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Her paper was on "The Green Goose."

'Green Goose' Will Reveal Awful Truth Next Friday

The "Green Goose," premier campus scandal publication produced each year by Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity, will blast the University to its very foundations when it appears next Friday, May 26, with four heartless pages of startling revelations.

Your best friends may not tell, but the "Green Goose" will. It matters not whether a clandestine love affair or an incorrigible case of halitosis be your affliction—or your friends—the "Green Goose" will find you out! None may seek favors. None may hope to be spared. If there is a shady spot in the whole of your make-up, beware! Faculty, student body officers, University officials, men, women, all will be shrieved and burned to their real dimensions in the merciless glare of the spotlight of truth.

ANNOUNCEMENT!
AFTER considerable deliberation and thought, we have decided definitely that the Emerald will not publish a special edition this year, advertising the advantages of the University for high school students. Such a project was undertaken at the state college several weeks ago, when a large edition of the Barometer, containing complete information on the state college, was sent out to the various high schools.

We believe the school paper should not be used as an organ of advertisement, and also believe that the University does not require that sort of advertising. If the state college wishes to do so, that is its business and we have no comment to make. For some time the state board of higher education enforced a ruling against the recruiting of high school students. Regardless of whether that is still in effect, we will do our utmost to observe it. The other schools of the system may do what they like.

Novel Pledge Plan For Fraternities To Be Used Here

Interfraternity Council Adopts System To Be Founded on Decile Ratings

Fraternities on the University of Oregon campus will select pledges during the fall term of next year with an entirely new system of pledging known as the Oregon system of selective rushing, it was announced by the Interfraternity council last night. The plan is still tentative and may be changed radically after or before it has been given a trial.

The Oregon system of selective rushing makes use of the decile system as a basis of selection in determining who is eligible for pledging. Men entering school are given a psychology examination on the first day of rush week, and as the decile system is composed of 10 different ratings, fraternities will be able to pledge only those in the upper nine ratings. Psychology examinations will be completed and compiled by Wednesday so eligible men may pledge on Friday of rush week as heretofore.

Those men in the lowest 10 per cent will be eligible for pledging at the end of the first term of school if they have made a grade point average of .75 in 12 hours or more. They may then be also pledged in any subsequent quarter that the .75 grade average is fulfilled.

Only Plan of Kind

This is the only plan of its kind in the nation's colleges and is a modified plan of deferred pledging. The committee appointed to work on the plan spent five months in preparing data and made an exhaustive survey of deferred rushing plans of every campus in the United States. Members of the committee are Ferd Fletcher, chairman, Harry Schenk, Parker Favier, Robert Hammond, and Preston Gunther.

In commenting on the plan, Fletcher said: "This plan combines all of the good features of both extremes, and its adoption by the Interfraternity Council is a landmark."

Duck Trackmen Score Revenge With Easy Win

Score Is 84 1-4 to 46 3-4 For Webfoots

ELEVEN FIRSTS MADE

Many Records Fall; Starr, Holman, Frye, Demaris, Wagner Lead Victors

By MALCOLM BAUER
Oregon's track and field athletes did their part in celebrating Colonel Bill Hayward's 30th anniversary at the University yesterday afternoon when they deluged Lon Stiner's Oregon State squad before a record-breaking crowd at the Hayward oval. The final count stood Oregon 84 1/4, Oregon State 46 3/4.

The Webfoots copped 11 firsts and tied for one more to put all hope for victory out of the Beavers' minds early in the afternoon. Captain Paul Starr, Art Holman, and Gardner Frye won high scoring honors for the day with two blue ribbons each. Holman also ran on the victorious Duck mile relay team.

Starr Stars for Oregon

Starr's performances were the most brilliant of the day. He broke one meet record and tied another, when he clocked the furlong in 20.9 seconds and the hundred in 9.8. Starr's time in the 220 was just 5 second more than the recognized world's record.

Warren Demaris contributed to the record smashing of his teammates when he hurled the javelin 204 feet 8 inches, to surpass the meet record by nearly ten feet. Bob Wagner, diminutive Webfoot two-mile ace, lowered the mark in the eight-lap grind, racing past Nickolson of Oregon State on the final stretch to win in 9:38.4.

Dunkin Wins Event

Mush Dunkin, giant hurdler, was the one Beaver star to turn in a record-breaking performance. He outstepped the Webfoot stars, Nowland and McCoy, by a full two yards to win in 14.7 seconds.

The summary:
100-yard dash—Won by Starr, O. S. C., second; Schomp, O. S. C., third. Time, 9.8.

150-yard dash—Won by Hunter, O. S. C., second; Heath, O. S. C., third. Time, 4:28.

440-yard dash—Won by Holman, O. S. C., second; Burr, O. S. C., third. Time, 4:46.

880-yard dash—Won by White, O. S. C., Dolloff, O. S. C., second; Connor, O. S. C., third. Time, 1:58.6.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Dunkin, O. S. C.; McCoy, O. S. C., second; Nowland, O. S. C., third. Time, 14.7.

220-yard dash—Won by Starr, O. S. C., second; Schomp, O. S. C., third. Time, 20.9.

Two-mile run—Won by Wagner, O. S. C., second; Nickolson, O. S. C., third. Time, 9:38.4.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Holman, O. S. C., second; Dunkin, O. S. C., third. Time, 14.6.

Pole vault—Coleman, Prahl, Wood, O. S. C., and McCoy, O. S. C., tied for first. Height, 12 feet.

Shot put—Won by Frye, O. S. C.

Cross Appoints 8 Oregonians Aids

Eight students were named last night by Ed Cross, new business manager of the Oregonian, to head the business staff of the yearbook for the year 1933-34.

Norman Mauritz, sophomore in business administration, was appointed assistant business manager to aid Cross in his work. Others who will head departments during the coming year are Thomas Clapp, Portland, advertising manager; Richard Shearer, Portland, organization manager; William McCall, Portland, subscription manager; Robert A. Moody, Eugene, office manager; Eblema Parker, Portland, distribution manager; Helen Stinger, Portland, circulation manager; and Malcolm Bauer, Pendleton, publicity manager.

Many good positions on the annual staff are still open, declares Cross, and anyone desiring to work next fall is asked to get in touch with him at the earliest opportunity.
