The first regular squad meeting will be held in room 13, Friendly hall, on Tuesday, October 17. The meeting will be important, and all squad members should be present, reports Dahlberg.

New Officers Elected At Novel Club Meeting

"El Dia de la Raza," the anniversary of Columbus' discovery of America, was commemorated by the campus Spanish club last night, at the Y. W. C. A. hut. The meeting was conducted entirely in Spanish, and a feature of the evening was the singing of the Mexican group, in which everyone present participated.

Laura Olivia Goldsmith, outgoing president, presided, and officers for the coming year were elected. Marie Louise Saccomanno was made president, Dorothy M. Hindmarsh, secretary-treasurer.

Dill Pickle Club Elects Ruth Carlton President

Ruth Carlton was elected president of Dill Pickle club at the meeting Wednesday. She is to sit on the upper-class commission cabinet. Hazle Corrigan presided over the session as temporary chairman. Other officers elected were Betty Huntley, vice-president, and Ruth McCormack, secretary.

Numbers were sung by Miss Carlton, June Hanson read a humorous history of the club, and Margaret Norton, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., read "Tales of Tajar," that interesting animal who taught teacups to take death-defying leaps through the trees.

Mrs. Barker Visits

Mrs. Burt Brown Barker, wife of the vice-president of the University, is staying at Hendricks hall during her visit in Eugene. Mrs. Barker was a member of the receiving line at the faculty tea yesterday afternoon.

Poets Called in to Describe Charming Entrant in Contest

By HENRIETTE HORAK
"She was a phantom of delight, When first she gleamed upon my sight"—charming, vivacious, yet possessing dignity and poise—a fit subject to inspire poets and "launch a thousand ships" is Maryline New, one of the five girls chosen Saturday at the Varsity ball for the University magazine All-American girl contest.

Miss New is a petite blonde, has blue eyes, and is five feet, two inches tall (at least three inches taller when wearing French heels). She is well accustomed to the role of queen and leading lady. While attending Grant high school in Portland she was prominent in

Dick Neuberger, editor of the Emerald last year, whose article on "The New Germany," printed in The Nation and now being reprinted in the Emerald, has caused widespread discussion.

Talk by German Consul Slated for Villard at 8 P. M.

International Relations Club Will Sponsor Dr. W. L. Reinhart in Assembly Tonight

"The Ideas and Principles Governing Present Day Germany" is the topic on which Dr. W. L. Reinhart, German consul in Seattle, will speak this evening at 8 in Villard assembly, under the auspices of the International Relations club, of which Dr. Victor P. Morris is chairman.

Although Dr. Reinhart has not been in Germany for some time, he has kept close contact with situations, both economic and political, in that country.

Dean Onthank stated that his talk should be most interesting and valuable to students and faculty members of the University as well as the general public.

Several members of the University faculty are acquainted with Dr. Reinhart, having met him when he was consul at Portland a number of years ago.

It is understood that the German consul has been recalled to Germany to be assigned to work in some other country and that he expects to leave in the near future.

His lecture this evening will be the first of a series of talks on foreign countries which are to be held here from time to time, sponsored by the International Relations club. Dr. Reinhart himself will speak at a later date on the German poet, Goethe.

Round Table Club Hears Henderson

Dr. L. F. Henderson, curator of the herbarium in Condon hall, spoke Tuesday evening at the meeting of the Round Table club in Eugene, on the subject of "Reconstruction in the South following the Civil War." Dr. Henderson lived in the South immediately after the Civil war and is thus well equipped to discuss that subject.

The Round Table club is composed of 25 selected members of the University faculty and 25 men in Eugene who are graduates of the University. It is an interesting coincidence that the club has been organized for 25 years.

E. E. DeCou, professor of mathematics, is the president of the club for the present year.

Oregana Drive To Commence Next Tuesday

Prizes Will Be Given to Winning Houses

SALES GAIN LIKELY

Announcement of Committee Held Until Later; McCall Heads Campaign

Plans for a four-day campaign to secure subscriptions for the 1934 Oregana were announced last night by Bill McCall, subscription manager of the campus yearbook. The drive is scheduled to start at 4 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon, and will continue until the end of the week, when prizes will be awarded the living groups first attaining the 100 per cent mark.

Two silver loving cups will be awarded the winning houses this year in place of the permanent prizes that have been given previously. The first fraternity signing up all of its members for a copy of the book will receive one trophy, while the first 100 per cent sorority will be awarded a similar cup. The cups stand seven and a half inches high, and will go each year to the winning houses in the subscription contest.

Business Manager Ed Cross expects the drive in the living organizations to come to an end by Thursday evening, giving the solicitors the remainder of the week to contact the independents on the campus.

Last year more than 900 copies were subscribed for and the sale (Continued on Page Three)

YWCA Situation Becomes Normal After Hectic Days

Dispute Ended as Far as Campus Is Concerned, Say Both Warring Factions

Conditions at the campus Y. W. C. A. appeared to have returned to normal yesterday, following the resignation of four Y.W.C.A. cabinet members last Monday and Tuesday, due to a dispute over this year's budget.

The publication of statements of Helen Binford, president of the campus Y. W. C. A., and Geraldine Hickson, president of the upper-class commission, in the Emerald yesterday, defending the cabinet from charges preferred by the resigning members, together with explanations from Jean Failing, Gwen Elsemore, and Mary Snider, three of the resigned cabinet members, appeared to have quieted the situation on the campus.

Miss Binford last night made the following statement to the Emerald in regard to Tuesday's developments in the dispute: "Everything is settled as far as the campus is concerned. Everyone who has been involved is quite satisfied to let the matter remain as it now stands."

The four resigned members of the cabinet, including Marygoide Hardison, told the Emerald last night that they believed the situation ended as far as they were concerned.

Conklin Talks at Meet of University Mothers

Dr. E. S. Conklin, head of the psychology department, spoke to the University Mothers Tuesday on the subject of false reports which circulate regarding student behavior.

He stressed also the importance of a student schedule and told the mothers about the classes and work being done here.

Midnight Paint Party Bestows Annual Daub Upon Historic Bench

The senior bench received its annual daubing of green paint last night, and as in former years the Emerald was apprised of the fact by anonymous phone calls by the perpetrators.

The bench was marked with the numerals "37." The painting, ostensibly done by freshmen, was carried on about 11 o'clock.

Old U of O Album Depicts Campus When in Infancy

When the trees on the campus would have done nicely for Christmas trees, what did this University look like? The question is answered in an album of Oregon pictures unearthed recently in the registrar's office by Clifford L. Constance, assistant registrar.

Many views of Oregon's first two buildings, Villard and Deady, are included in the album. Interiors as well as exteriors are shown, depicting the oldest buildings on the campus as they were many years ago. The tall trees under which students now stroll are shown in these photographs when they were so small that they can hardly be said to look other than ridiculous.

Eleventh and Thirteenth streets, now two busy highways, appear in the pictures as narrow dirt roads. Several small buildings are pictured that exist no more, such as the old gymnasium, where Bill Hayward taught both men's and women's gym.

The album was sent to the library last week by Constance and will be added to the University of Oregon collection there.

Football Rally to Be Staged at 4:45 In Front of Co-op

Celebration Will Be Continued at Station; Band to Give Noisy Sendoff

"The greatest rally that Oregon has ever seen" are Mickey Vail's own words for the celebration that the rally committee is planning to hold in front of the Co-op beginning at 4:45 today.

The inimitable Mickey and his able assistants are not sparing the horses, and all that remains for the rally to be a big success is the fullest cooperation by Oregon students.

After all the possibilities for a big noise are exhausted at the College Side there will be a general exodus to the station, where another attempt will be made to impress on the city of Eugene that something is happening, with the purpose of giving the team a noisy sendoff. The band will be on hand to take a large part in the festivities.

Plans were completed at a meeting of the speakers' committee yesterday for an organized canvass of living groups to advertise the rally. Speakers, under the direction of Bill Davis, chairman of the committee, will call at each house during the lunch hour to make every attempt to get as large a turnout as possible.

Another rally is planned to welcome the team at the station in Seattle upon its arrival there.

Law School's Smoker Scheduled for Tonight

The third year law school stag smoker will be held at the Craftsman club tonight. Plays, speeches and musical numbers presented by the three classes will be features of the evening, and refreshments will be served.

In addition to the faculty members and students, the Lane County Bar association has been invited to attend, according to Orland J. Hollis, faculty member in charge of the smoker. Bill Goodwin, president of the law school student body, has appointed committees to arrange for the program.

Rebec Describes Operation of New Graduate Council

Green, Neuberger as Members of Press Are Barred From First Faculty Meet

A report by Dr. George Rebec, dean of the graduate division, covering the organization of the newly created graduate council, occupied the entire time of the October faculty meeting yesterday afternoon in Guild hall. Another meeting has been set for next Monday at 4 o'clock, at which time the discussion of the graduate council will be resumed.

Sterling Green, editor of the Emerald, and Dick Neuberger, campus correspondent for the Oregonian, sought admission to the meeting, but were requested to leave because of faculty regulations denying admittance to representatives of the press.

Chancellor W. J. Kerr, who presided, asked for a decision from the faculty as to whether the press should be permitted to remain for the meeting, and Dr. Earl M. Pallett, secretary, produced from the minutes of former faculty meetings, legislation indicating that the press has in the past been barred.

Upon a motion from the floor, it was decided that Green and Neuberger be requested to leave, and the question was referred for final decision to the advisory council.

O. and supervisor of the election, praised the members of '37 for their orderly attitude and spirit of cooperation.

Sixty Bandsmen To Head Oregon Rally in Portland

Steh's Musicians Are Booked for Rose City Stop-Over on Way to Husky Tilt

The University band will leave for Seattle at 5:30 tomorrow. Arriving in Portland at approximately 9 o'clock it will lead a rally parade there for an hour and a half and then entrain again for Seattle. They will arrive there Saturday morning. After the game the band members will be at their leisure until 11:55 p. m., when they will start back for Eugene again, arriving here about noon Sunday.

Band Director John H. Steh has requested that the members wear their band uniforms when they start, in order that they will be ready to play immediately upon arriving at Portland. He also requests that they eat dinner before they leave, as no food will be served on the trip until breakfast Saturday.

Sixty members of the band make the trip to Seattle on Friday. The competition for these positions has been keen.

Honorary Gives Banquet Tuesday

Alpha Delta Sigma, national advertising honorary, held its annual fall term banquet Tuesday evening at McCrady's cafe.

The main feature was the formal pledging of four newly elected members: Don Thompson, Ed Labbe, Elden Habermann, and John Zehnbauer.

Several Alpha Delta Sigma alumni attended the banquet.

Business Department Has Large Enrollment

Last year at this time the business administration school had 443; social science, 443; arts, and letters, 363; and fine arts, 273.

The fine arts department seems to have held its own to a greater extent in comparison with last year, than have the other three, which have shown a considerable drop.

Hammond Gets Presidency of Yearling Class

One Dimmick Candidate Successful

ELECTION PEACEFUL

Stevenson, Rhinehart, and Cook Other Winners of Offices After Voting Done

Fred Hammond of Portland was elected president of the freshman class of the University yesterday. The other yearling officers' successful in their quest for office were Jean Stevenson, vice-president; Dorothy Rhinehart, secretary; and Cy Cook, treasurer.

Hammond polled a total of 189 votes to 171 for his opponent, Tom Dimmick. Miss Stevenson received 200 votes for a plurality of more than 40 over her rival, Jean Burnett. Miss Rhinehart had the closest battle of the day; she collected 182 votes, six more than the other candidate for the secretaryship, Marjorie Smith. She was the only member of the Dimmick ticket elected. Cook's name was placed on 193 ballots, giving him a plurality of 28 over Bob Knapp. The election at the Y. M. C. A. hut was without mishap or trouble. Neal Bush, vice-president of the Associated Students and supervisor over the balloting, complimented the class of '37. "The election was well conducted. No attempts were made at stuffing the ballot box, and corrupt practices were not tried."

Hammond stated to the Emerald last night, "I want to express my gratitude to my fellow-workers. I think we have students of outstanding ability and initiative in the freshman class. If we all work together, we can do big things. I will appoint capable men for any positions open. I hope that the class of '37 will make a name for itself as a progressive unit throughout its four years at the University."

Dimmick also made a statement to the Emerald last night, "I wish to take this opportunity to congratulate Fred Hammond on his victory and to assure him that my party and I shall back up his policies to the utmost of our ability."

Here Is Hysterical History About an Admirable Admiral

By ONE WHO SHOULD KNOW BETTER

Once upon a time, my (our?) dear kids, there was a Genoese guy named Cristoforo Colombo. He was a weaver but after 20 years of sea life he fancied himself as an explorer. He went after the big bugs in the countries close by to let him be an admiral and find some new lands for them.

When he went to Spain—after cooling his heels in the waiting rooms roundabout—he got to be admiral and have three ships, the Pinta, the Nina, and the Santa Maria. Then his name was Cristoforo Colon.

With 120 men, 90 of them sailors, most of them picked from the favorite jails of Spain, he poled his scows out from Palos (not Palo Alto), on August 3, 1492. On October 12 (same year) he landed on an island somewhere in the West Indies.

Americus Vesputius and others followed, including a few pilgrims, patrons, cavaliers, puritans, and other communists (as the D.A.R. sisters might have said if they'd been there at a state convention.)

Then the Genoese guy's name was Christopher Columbus. And some do say today's a holiday at banks, post offices, and court houses—but not the University of Oregon.
