

Oregon Frosh To Meet Rooks In Tilt Tonight

Only Few Minor Injuries Worry Coaches

LIST STARTING MEN

Strength of Rook Team Not Fully Known; Ineligibilities and Injuries Rumored

With the Seattle-bound varsity out from under foot, Bill Reinhart and Irv Schulz drove the frosh football squad hard last night in preparation for the game with the Oregon State rooks on Hayward field at 7:30 tonight. Another short practice will put the final touches on the squad today.

A few minor injuries remained to worry the coaches, but Hunt and Konopka are the only players definitely benched. Konopka was in uniform last night, but his left foot is a long way from being in the proper shape, and he will not play.

First Team Selected

Although there may be changes in end, halfback, and possibly other positions, the men who will probably rate the first team tonight are as follows:

Line Is Heavy

The line will be fairly heavy. The lightest men in the forward wall, Farrar and Wilson, are also rated as outstanding players of the line. With the two wingmen already mentioned and Frank Cross in reserve, the end department should be well taken care of. Another reserve linesman who is giving the guards some stiff competition is Alan Davis.

Bill Nye heads the list of backfield reserves. He may be used in place of either Penn or Borden. While Bishop is the best bet for fullback, Delmonico is willing and able to take over that department if he is needed.

Rooks Injured

Just what Slat's Gill will bring over from Corvallis in the way of a team is not known. Recent reports tell of an injury to Dick Joslin, fullback, which will prevent his playing. This is probably overstated, however, and the two Dicks

Jameson Writes Scientific Article

The July-August issue of the Sociology and Social Research magazine, a publication of nationwide distribution, contained an article written by Prof. Samuel H. Jameson, of the University's school of social science, and his wife, Mrs. Arden Jameson.

The article entitled "Musical Therapy in Social Control" pointed out and gave illustrations of ways in which music influences man's actions and suggested that music might be made to play an increasingly important part in man's life.

"If the lovers' hearts melt before music and make them forget all pain and future privations, may not properly arranged music salvage men and women by attuning them to the harmony or the discords of our social order?" was the concluding question asked by the writers.

Nominating Committee To Be Appointed Soon

A nominating committee will be appointed by Cosgrove LaBarre, president of the Y. M. C. A., to nominate officers for the Frosh Commission. A meeting will be held for this purpose next Tuesday evening at 7 at the Y. hut. A time for the regular meetings of the group will also be decided. The Frosh Commission includes one freshman representative from every fraternity, independent group, and hall on the campus.

Students Must Obtain Letter From Manager For Washington Game

Students who intend to go to the Washington game should call at the graduate manager's office in McArthur court some time today, according to Tom Stoddard, assistant graduate manager.

It is necessary to present a student body ticket and $1.00 to get a letter from the graduate manager's office which may be exchanged for a ticket at the Oregon students' booth at the Washington stadium. "All tickets at the A. S. U. O offices were sold out early yesterday," Stoddard said.

This is the first of a series of studies which Wright is submitting to this magazine.

Another article by Prof. Wright appears in the October number of the Hispanic Review on "The -se Verb Form in the Apodosis," in which is discussed a grammatical phenomenon concerning which there has been considerable speculation and debate.

The author takes occasion to mention in his article the doctoral dissertation recently completed by Dr. Perry D. Woods of Linfield college, who took his degree at the University in 1932.

Budget for House Dances Accepted

A budget which must be followed for all women's house dances was accepted yesterday afternoon by heads of houses. This was following a suggestion made this fall by the A. W. S. planning conference.

The budget, as it stands, will be used fall term in trial, before making out the final yearly budget. Rules are: 50-60 couples, $58; 40-50 couples, $51; 30-40 couples, $49; 20-30 couples, $43. Four dances a term will be allowed, as long as the house stays within the allowed expense.

No house is allowed to exceed the allotted sum; and each house must turn in a budget with an itemized list of expenses within one week after the dance.

A "get wise" party for freshman women to be sponsored by frosh councilors and Kwamas, under the direction of Marigolde Hardison, was also approved by heads of houses. This party will be held November 1, from 7 to 10 p. m. Henriette Horak is chairman of the affair, and is to be assisted by Ebba Wicks and Adele Sheehy.

Webfoot Fans Send off Team With Pep Rally

Six o'Clock Parade Halts Business Traffic

500 ROOTERS LEAVE

"Greatest Rally Seen in Years," States Yell King; "Nothing Can Stop Oregon"

With all the abandon of a New Year's Eve celebration, 500 shouting, cheering Webfoot fans poured through the streets of Eugene yesterday afternoon, assisted by the University band, numerous free-lance, noise-producing instruments of doubtful quality but self-evident quantity, blaring horns, and a realistic arsenal of automobile backfires. Running-boards hung out the S. R. O. signs as six blocks of cars sagged heavily beneath loads of students. Traffic was stopped for several minutes throughout the downtown business section.

"It was the greatest rally I've seen in years," was the verdict of Mickey Vail, cheer king. "If this spirit keeps up, there's nothing to stop Oregon from winning the Pacific coast championship as far as school cooperation goes."

Enthusiasm Strong

The rally reached its climax at the depot and turned into a throng of enthusiastic well-wishers gathered about the cheer leaders. As Coach Prince Callison, Mark Temple, Bernie Hughes, Mike Mikulak and Tom Stoddard ascended to the platform, ear-splitting raucous rent the air.

"I don't believe the Washington song will ring true," stated, Callison.

"We'll bring you all home a Husky dog," affirmed Temple. "I'll kill 'em," declared "Mighty Mike" Mikulak, when someone asked the smashing Oregon full-

Students May Use League Material

For the last two or three years there has been located in an obscure corner of the library a collection of material on international affairs about which students do not generally know.

It is the League of Nations Publications department in room 32 where are aggregated practically all publications of the League of Nations available to the public, as well as those of other societies affiliated with the League.

"Students who know about this department find it valuable in writing reports," stated Miss Pauline Walton, librarian in charge of the room, "for it contains material on a great variety of subjects only remotely related to the League."

The League of Nations publishes pamphlets on subjects having to do with international relations, such as economics, health, communication and transit, intellectual cooperation. These are all to be found in bound form in this special department.

The department's hours are as follows: from 2 to 5 p. m. on Monday to Friday, and from 9 to 12 a. m. on Saturday. At all other times the material is available through room 30 in the library.

Magazine Prints Article Written by Mathematics Prof

Part of Moursund's Thesis Included In Annals Published at Princeton

Dr. A. F. Moursund, instructor in mathematics, is the author of an article which is included in the current number of Annals of Mathematics, which is published at Princeton university. Dr. Moursund's 21-page article is entitled "On a Method of Summation of Fourier Series." This contains part of the thesis for his doctor's degree.

Two other articles, "On the Nevanlinna and Borel-Lincoln Summation Methods," and "On Summation of Derived Series of the Conjugate Fourier Series," have been accepted by the Annals of Mathematics, and will shortly appear in print. The latter is also to be presented by title at the October meeting of the American Mathematical society.

Dr. Moursund received his master's degree at the University of Texas, and taught for a while at the Texas Technological college, from which he went to Brown university, where he held a fellowship in mathematics for three years and obtained his doctorate. This is his third year on the Oregon campus.

Look at Your Calendar and Decide to Laugh or Shudder

By ELINOR HENRY

Knock on wood, throw salt over your left shoulder, and avoid ladders, for today is Friday the 13th. If you don't believe it unlucky, you may as well pretend you do; and if you do believe it is, you're probably one of 200 or more other students who believe in it too.

There are no recent figures on how many superstitions are abroad on the campus, but in a survey made in 1919 by Professor E. S. Conklin, psychologist, 299 out of 557 students reported that they believed in some superstition.

Knocking on wood led the list with a total of 92, 20 of them men and 72 women. Following in order came four-leaf clover, dreams prophetic, number 13, opening umbrella in house, fortune telling (cards, tea-cup, palm), sleep on wedding cake, black cats, post-

Gertrude Winslow, Ethan Newman, and two Guild Hall players are to be featured in the presentation.

E. G. Harlan of the chamber of commerce, and Ed Turnbull accompanied Lieutenant Craft to Oakridge last Wednesday evening to announce the event.

Frosh Election Irregularities Without Basis

Emerald Spikes Rumors Of Cheating

CHARGES ANSWERED

Tom Tongue, A.S.U.O. President, Describes Voting "Fairlest I Have Seen"

Reports of freshman election irregularities were circulated yesterday, and signed statements of alleged corruption were given to the Emerald, but after investigation the campus daily could not find sufficient grounds to justify the charges.

One of the statements signed by a Dimmick supporter said, "I went to the Y.M.C.A. hut before the polls closed and requested a ballot in a regular manner but was refused, the reason being that the ballots were all gone; and no more could be obtained. There were several persons following me in line."

Official Answers Charge

Another statement, also by a Dimmick man read, "I personally observed voting in the freshman election after the regular voting hours as represented by the election board."

In answer to these charges, Hal W. Birkinshaw, who was on the election board between 2 and 3 o'clock, stated, "I was personally in charge of checking the student body tickets and of giving out the ballots. We did not run out of ballots at any time, but close to 3 o'clock we turned away two freshmen who did not have student body tickets."

Other Charges Made

Other signed statements alleged that unethical electioneering was going on in the polls at various times, that all members of the election board were members of houses which were known to be backing Hammond's ticket, and that the ballot box was taken to McArthur court in a car which was advertising Hammond.

Tom Tongue, student body president, said, "I have seen several elections here, and this was the fairest that I have seen. I think it was the cleanest election possible."

Neal Bush, student body vice-president had left for Portland and could not be reached, but in yesterday's Emerald he was quoted as saying that "the election was well conducted and that no corrupt practices were tried."

Explanation Given

The person who was seen voting after 3 o'clock explained that he was inside the polls when the doors were closed at 3 o'clock and that his vote was actually cast at one or two minutes after 3 o'clock.

When he was interviewed, the person who witnessed the after-hour voting said that it took place at 3:00 p. m.

The students who submitted the signed statements to the Emerald were asked to get more information if possible, but at a late hour last night they had not returned and could not be reached on the phone.

University of Hawaii Considers Exchange

Letters received from the University of Hawaii indicate that they are interested in the plan proposed by the Y. M. C. A. for an exchange scholarship, but according to Eugene Stromberg, secretary of the Y, all plans are still under consideration.

This plan includes the sending of a University of Oregon student to the University of Hawaii for one year and the entertainment of a student of that University on this campus. The advisory board of the Y has recently adopted the resolution to support this move.

Oregon's Annual 'Pigger's Guide' To Appear Soon

Directory on Sale Wednesday; 2376 Student and Faculty Names Listed

A pale green, paper-covered book which will probably be used more by University students and faculty members than any other one publication. It is the annual University of Oregon student-faculty directory, containing the names, home and campus addresses and telephone numbers of 2116 students and 260 faculty members, administrators, and department secretaries.

The "pigger's guide," as it is more familiarly called, went to press Tuesday at the Koke-Chapman printing company. It will be on sale at 25 cents a copy at the Co-op on Wednesday until the edition is sold out.

A less ambiguous method of listing faculty telephone numbers has been used this year, Tom Stoddard, assistant graduate manager, said last night. The University number, 3300, will be put in front of every local number to distinguish it from off-campus numbers.

The change was necessary, since down-town operators and Eugene telephone owners with similar numbers have been frequently bothered by persons on the campus dialing "9" and asking for the local number.

Daly Fund Helps Worthy Students

Eleven students are attending the University this year under the auspices of the Daly Fund, provided under the will of the late Dr. Bernard Daly of Lakeview, Oregon. This fund is used to pay the expenses of worthy self-supporting men and women from Lake county.

Of the 23 selected from 27 applicants this year, there are four at the normal schools, seven at the University and twelve at the college.

German Consul Defends Hitler And Movement

Dr. Reinhart Justifies Nazi Actions

PREJUDICE DENIED

Speech Is Given Before Crowded Villard Hall Assembly; Open Forum Held

"Democracy in the western sense has been abandoned in Germany under the new German nationalist regime," declared Dr. W. L. Reinhart, German consul at Seattle, speaking before a crowded Villard assembly last night on the subject, "The Ideas and Principles Governing Present Day Germany."

Dr. Reinhart, who has just returned from Germany after spending the summer there, said that the new nationalist movement was the only way out of the depression as far as Germany is concerned. He said that defeat followed war in Germany, revolution followed defeat, and depression followed revolution.

Middle Class Stronger

"The rights of the middle class are coming to power under the Hitler regime," Reinhart said. "In the United States and England, the middle classes have had their rights for many years."

In Germany the middle class had been in the background until the year 1900, when industrial development began to flourish, according to Reinhart. The world war pushed the middle class into the background, resulting in the forming of communistic and socialistic groups.

Movement Begun

"Out of these factions grew 22 different political parties and a like number of economic parties," Reinhart continued. "Up until the summer of 1933, it was felt that a stronger authority was needed in Germany, and Hitler began his new nationalist movement. Through it a new feeling of brotherhood has formed in Germany with mass movements, ideas, and slogans."

"The different factions were fighting all the time, and only a strong central national government could halt the disputes. Hitler has done away with the old belief that there is a contrast between labor and capital. He has started the people of Germany working together for the same
