

Betas Swamp Kappa Sigs To Annex 1933 Swimming Crown

New Records Are Set Up in Swim Finale

Reed Brothers Establish New Donut Marks

Newport Winner in Close Race For Lone Kappa Sig Victory

A crack Beta team, led by the two Reed brothers overwhelmed the Kappa Sigs by a score of 31 to 11 to annex the 1933 swimming championship yesterday afternoon.

The four-man team from the Beta house more than tore up the tank, breaking for intramural records. Jim Reed was first to establish a new record in the 40-yard back-stroke, and later in the meet, he bettered the time in the 60-yard individual medley. Chuck Reed established a new mark in the 40-yard breast-stroke, breaking Tom Blankenburg's record of last year. The final mark to fall was the 120-yard free-style relay.

Kappa Sigs Score
The only event which was not taken by the Betas was won by Newport of Kappa Sigma. The husky Kappa Sig barely nosed out Meyer in the 40-yd. free style in the most thrilling match of the day.

The Beta outfit steamed through the 1933 donut swimming with little effort, as they won all matches by large margins. The remarkable swimming of the two Reed brothers was the outstanding feature of the entire 1933 intramural swimming tourney.

California Wants to Play All by Itself, and Are We Hurt! Ohhhh!

Rumors drifting in from the south persist that the four California members of the Pacific Coast conference will soon break away from their "little" brothers of the northwest and form the nucleus for a new and greater Southwestern Conference.

That plan seems to be that California, U. C. L. A., Stanford, and U. S. C. will turn their backs on their partners in the north and join hands with Loyola of Los Angeles, St. Mary's, Santa Clara, and the University of San Francisco in an eight-team loop. The Californians claim that this would save money on traveling expenses, make possible more rivalry and "big game" spirit, and make for stiffer competition.

The originators of this scheme seem to feel, with no reason, that this would be a great blow to the "little fellows" of the Pacific Northwest, and therefore go whispering their plans behind closed doors . . . and with one finger to pursed lips. They almost come to tears when they think that, if their plan is carried out, the elevens of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Montana won't be permitted to taste of the thrills of playing the high and mighty Trojans, Bears, and Indians.

It's too bad . . . too bad, they sniffle. We get all the breaks down here. We really should permit them to play with us . . . BUT, tears when they think that, if their plan is carried out, the elevens of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Montana won't be permitted to taste of the thrills of playing the high and mighty Trojans, Bears, and Indians.

Yes, Sunny California, we'll be all broken up if we are cut away from you like that and allowed to do things are own way. Why, it's a great honor to play your mighty Trojans (it must be . . . we travel 1000 miles each year to do it) and humbly bow our heads before old Sol so that your galloping Hessians can add another notch to their victory totem.

And just think, you never would have to come up into our nasty rain any more, and you could keep your silk panties spotless. Of course, we would try and bear up. We see so much of you, you know, that at first it would be hard to orientate ourselves to your abode in our midst.

You could keep all of your profits at home then (because, you know, you really do earn all of the money and should be given the champion's cut of the gate receipts. It's scandalous to think that you have played all of these years up here in the snow and rain so that we might have your beautiful Rose Bowl at Eugene, our splendid Coliseum at Seattle, and the magnificent Kezar stadium at Pullman. Those are really your dollars, now stand up for your rights.

Then, too, we would have to give up football, because it would be no fun for anybody if just Oregon, Washington, O. S. C., W. S. C., Montana, Gonzaga, Idaho, and Montana had to play among themselves. We've just got to play against the "big shots" . . . And, anyway, how could we ever get our names in the paper.

Oh, please, fellers, don't turn us out in the cold.

Injuries Will Keep Temple On Sidelines

Lemon Yellow to Defend Undefeated Record

Heavy Vandal Squad May Prove Surprise to Local Football Fans

Old man injury who seems to be a permanent fixture around the Webfoot camp has again caught up on Mr. Callison and squad. Dr. Sante Caniparoli, team physician, has announced that Co-captain Mark Temple, star halfback, is definitely out of scrimmages for at least 10 days due to cut above the eye he received during the Washington game. This will keep the ace Oregon ball packer out of the incoming Idaho game this Friday night.

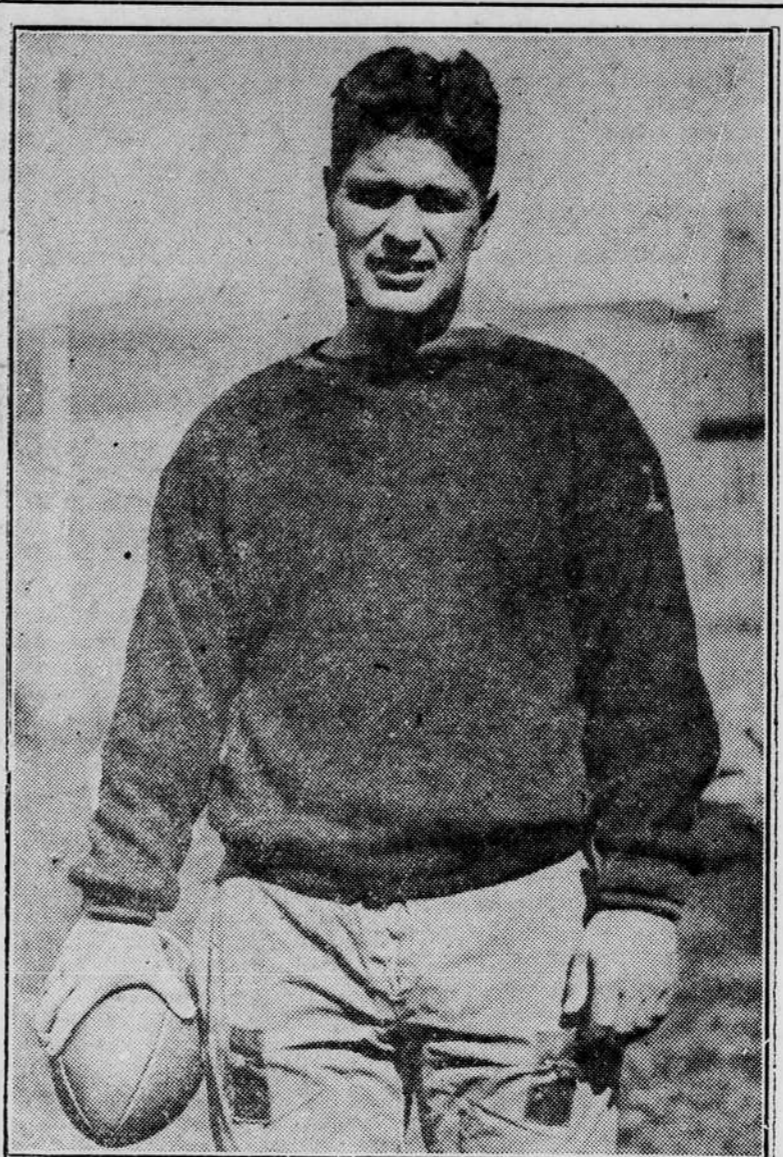

Bernie Hughes, co-captain and center, is nursing a broken thumb received during the Husky fracas, and Ralph Terjeson, substitute quarterback who did some impressive playing against Phelan's team, is laid up with a pulled back muscle. Hughes will undoubtedly see action against the Vandals, but if possible Terjeson will be kept on the bench.

It looks as though Callison will take to the air when the Webfoots meet the Vandals, as the whole of last night's practice session was taken up by offensive passing practice. The Webfoots have three great pass snappers in "Butch" Morse, Bud Pozzo and Leighton Gee, and it appears that Callison means to take advantage of this situation. Temple and Milligan are on the tossing end.

Callison was well pleased with Gardner Frye's showing at tackle against the Huskies, and with Nilsson laid up for another two weeks it looks like the ex-guard will become a permanent fixture at the position and alternate with the injured Duck tackle. In Clark, Cuppolti, Gagnon, and Fury, "Prink" has plenty to take care of the guard situation and with reserve tackles scarce, Frye will come in plenty handy.

The genial mentor is not taking

He Will Be Here Friday

Leo Callan, young mentor of the Idaho Vandals, will bring a heavier and more powerful eleven to Eugene this year. In past years the Moscow team has been a doormat for Pacific Coast conference teams, but this season, with a wealth of experienced and weighty material, Callan is planning great things for the Vandals. Idaho meets Prink Callison's Webfoots at Hayward field Friday night in the second conference clash for both teams.

the oncoming Idaho conflict as a "breather" game, on the contrary, Callison expects a tough battle from the Moscow boys who have shown a great deal of improvement since they were swamped by Washington two weeks ago. Led by "Wee Willie" Smith, hailed by many as the greatest broken field runner in the country, the Vandals have a powerful squad and may cause the tired Oregonians plenty of trouble.

Phi Psi Defeated By Betas in Initial Water Polo Event

Jim Reed Sinks 6 Goals to Lead Race Boys' Attack; Game Uninteresting

Today's Water-Polo Schedule
4:00—Phi Delta Theta vs. Yeomen.
4:40—Chi Psi vs. Delta Tau Delta.
5:20—Kappa Sigma vs. Sigma Pi Tau.

In the initial meet of the 1933 intramural water-polo matches, a strong Beta outfit swamped the Phi Psis by a score of 8 to 0.

Due to the lack of experienced players the game was a drab affair, and was featured only by the brilliant playing of Jim and Chuck Reed of the Betas. The former was the star of the game, making 6 of his team's 8 points.

Much credit is due to the Beta outfit for their remarkable showing, since they had to enter the water-polo meet just after they had completed in the final match of the donut swimming meet. Tomorrow will see three teams entering their first round in the water-polo event.

Exodus Hits Infirmary
The excitement from the results of the game must have made some of the patients at the infirmary a bit restless at being confined to their beds, so recoveries were made by Sunday afternoon, leaving the building empty. Those who were dismissed were Helen Davis, Lysie Smith, Bud Fisher, and Harry Ragsdale. But during Monday morning, Jack Hilrick moved in.

Oregon Team Meets Idaho Friday Night

Webfoot Mentor Plans Aerial Attack

Callison Pleased With Showing of Gardner Frye; Smith Is Vandal Star

Led by the "Little Giant," Willis Smith, the Idaho Vandals descended upon Hayward field Friday night for their annual clash with Oregon.

Idaho will be the under-dog in this tilt, but remember Washingtonians were spotting us three points and betting 2 to 1 on the Huskies last week. Tradition would seem to have it that the game here should always be a tough one while Oregon usually swamps the Vandals while playing at Moscow.

No longer are the newspapers able to say, "Coach Callan will bring his light but fast squad to Eugene." Callan now has a comparatively heavy as well as fast team. A line of husky lads averaging 190 pounds and a backfield combination both heavy and fast make the Vandals a dangerous team for any squad to meet. This fact was well illustrated recently when "Wee Willie" ran circles around the Whitman players to lead his team to a 60 to 0 triumph.

Idaho has a well balanced line with Randall and Garst at ends, McInerney and Moser at tackles, A. Berg and Nuttings at the guard posts, and Swann at center. The backfield is ably taken care of by Norby and Jacoby at the wing-backs with Cordon playing full-back, and Idaho's all-American prospect, Willis Smith, calling the signals from quarterback.

This game will be the first varsity tilt under the lights this year, and the Webfoots will be performing under the enthusiastic eyes of the Oregon Dads as Saturday is Dad's Day on the Oregon campus.
