Dads Here to See a Real Football Team; Big Games in North

This is the day the Dads begin their annual jaunt to the campus to see how Johnny and Jenny are getting along, and also (on the sly) to see that Oregon football team in action. They're coming from far and near . . . from Creswell and La-Grande . . . from Portland and Medford . . . and they will be looking for a real Oregon football team.

O. K., Dads, you'll get what you want. The victory-minded Webfoots go out under the lights tonight at Hayward field to act as vigilantes against the rumored attack of a horde of Vandals from the north. There are three minor injuries on the squad that beat Washington last week . . . Terjeson, with a wrenched back . . . Temple, nursing a four-inch cut over his right eye . . . and Hughes forced to flip the ball back from the center position with a broken thumb.

But the Ducks can take 'em, and two to one you see all of Prink Callison's champions in action tonight . . . a real show for the Oregon Dads, and a fine confirmation of all that their bragging sons and daughters have told them about the 1933 Webfoots.

It looks as if the northwest is being whole hog or none on the outstanding games this week-end . . . the "whole hog" seems to be the winner.

All of the big games on the coast will be played above the California line . . . and when the schools of Oregon and Washington can coax two California teams away from their sunny front yards, something is up. . . We'd say that the particular thing that was "up" this week was Washington State's long chain of wins on their home field. It is the Cougars' boast that they have never been beaten in Pullman, but Bill Ingram is heading into the north today to make the over-rated Holingbery men pull in their necks. They meet in Pullman Saturday.

But this is only one of the big games the Pacific Northwest offers football fans tomorrow. Oregon State puts up a bold front to Howard Jones' Trojans at Multnomah field tomorrow afternoon in what looks like the 26th straight for the Thundering Herd. . . But watch out, Jones, Warburton, Griffith & Co., if it rains the going is tough in the soggy Club gridiron. . . (See that black cloud over there.)

What's this we hear about the Stanford squad returning home for a Good HAIRCUT go to the VARSITY BARBER SHOP 11th and Alder

28 Idaho Gridmen Make Up Traveling Squad

Leo Calland's Cry is "Stop Mike Mikulak!" Heavy Scrimmage Sessions Held

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Oct. 19. (Special)—Two hours of the fiercest kind of scrimmage against Oregon plays Wednesday night wound up the heavy work on this week's Idaho Vandal training schedule. The Vandals meet the University of Oregon at Eugene tomorrow night in their second conference game.

Ross Sundberg, stocky freshman fullback from Idaho Falls, enacted the role of the mighty Mikulak, Oregon's great line-smasher, in last night's scrimmage. A "Web-foot" squad made up of reserves and freshman team members with Sundberg at fullback hammered the varsity line until long after the lights were turned on the field and the rest of the campus were at dinner. The pounding-Sundberg gave the varsity line a real taste of what they will have to stop in the personage of Mike himself Friday.

The Vandals leave tonight for Eugene, arriving there tomorrow noon. Coach Leo Calland will not decide on one or two places on his traveling squad until the final workout tomorrow. The 28 players certain to make the trip to Oregon include Nels Fowles, George Rich, Howard Hesse, Russell Garst and Orville Schmitz, ends; Harold Klumb, James Moore, Robert Moser and Robert McCue, tackles; Dick Nutting, Oliver Davis, Charles Wilson, George Hoggan, Don Spaugy and Alfred Berg, guards; Herschall Swann and Jack Barbee, centers; Harry Jacoby, Russell Honsowetz, John Norby and Paul Berg, halfbacks; Doug Cordon, Wendell Dayton and Theron Ward, fullbacks; and Willis Smith, Cy Geraghty, Earl Smith and Elbert Inman, quarterbacks.

DENIALS ARE MADE OF TALK WITH DIRECTOR

 very good. I would suggest that the superintendent of buildings and grounds call a meeting of the janitors to talk things over with someone qualified to speak for the administration, and come to an agreement. Foote gave us no chance to express an opinion, so far.

"At the noon hour we have always done a great deal of work, and the present arrangement makes it awkward."

"Foote says we all approved of it and yet I didn't and I don't know of one person on the force who did. It's a rotten deal. Sterling's plan is all right. We could get through much earlier by working at noon."

from Chicago with but one casualty . . . and that, their coach, Tiny Thornhill, who dislocated a shoulder in the Pullman on the way West.

"And how'd you like the World's Fair, Tiny?"

"Who said the world's fair?" returns the Indian chief. "We should have beat them guys a mile."

The Vandals Are Coming

Leo Calland, Idaho coach, will count heavily on these three pigskinners when he sends his eleven against the Oregon Webfoots at Hayward field tonight. From the left they are Doug Cordon, 183-pound fullback; Cy Geraghty, midget quarterback, and reserve for the half-pint sensation, Willis Smith; and John Norby, hard-hitting, 197-pound halfback.

Secret Order of 'O' Committee to Enforce Customs

Oregon traditions will be carried on and enforced this year again by the secret committee of the Order of the O. Gilbert Olinger, varsity basketball captain, will head this committee. The selection of Gib as chairman of the group was made at the meeting of the Order of the O at the Pi Kappa Alpha house at noon yesterday.

Bob Miller, varsity basketball star, was chosen to serve as treasurer of the group to fill the place left vacant when Chuck Hoag left school.

The president of the organization, Bob Hunter also announced that Ralph R. Huestis, who was appointed their faculty adviser about a week ago has been elected as an honorary member of the Order of the O. Dr. Huestis has during the past few years shown a constant interest in all sports and athletics that the Order of the O are interested in.

Women's Athletics

By BETTY SHOEMAKER

Independents defeated the Kappa Delta volleyball team in the closest game of the season with the final score of 50 to 49, yesterday at 4:30.

Notice to all P. E. club members. The mystery which has been floating around the women's gym will be solved October 26, at 7:30 in the woman's gym. Be sure to be there for the occasion.

Frosh Gridders Prepare to Meet SONS Next Week

Frosh football players were sent through a light workout by Coaches Reinhart and Schulz last night. Tonight the yearlings will scrimmage and next week they will start drill in earnest in preparation for the Southern Oregon normal school tilt.

The Oregon Babes will meet the Ashland school eleven at Klamath Falls on Saturday, October 28.

Allen to Address Club

Dean Eric W. Allen, of the school of journalism, will speak to the Springfield Lions club luncheon today at Taylor's hall in Springfield. His subject will be his oriental trip.

All-American Girl Contestant Spends Leisure Illustrating

The setting was perfect—the court of the art building flooded by late afternoon sunlight is perfect always, but yesterday a girl leaned against one of the pillars—the scene was complete.

Tall, queenly, golden-haired Margaret DeYoung, one of the five girls chosen at the Varsity ball for the all-American girl contest sponsored by the University magazine, looked a veritable goddess, like those charming mysterious ladies seen on priceless Grecian urns.

Miss DeYoung is a sophomore, majoring in fine arts. Practically all of her time, class and leisure is spent at the art building. She does drawing, painting, and fashion illustrating. Some day, perhaps, she will be in Paris, with Patou, Andre, or maybe Eric.

"What do I think of the present styles for women?" "Well, for my part," she laughed, "I am delighted with the broad shoulders; in life class I always drew my figures with terribly broad shoulders, which of course is impossible for a woman's figure; in sketching styles it is all right to exaggerate, which suits my type of drawing perfectly."

Will Hollywood become the style center for the world, and surpass Paris? "Of course I am not an authority, but I believe Hollywood will never gain that distinction. Hollywood styles are quaint and bizarre extremes, and can get away only on the screen. They usually are gross exaggerations of unique Paris modes."

Miss DeYoung has been photographed only twice in her life; astounding in this modern age! This is not because she is trying to follow the Garbo "no camera" policy, but because she just hasn't, that's all—no other reason.

She has a strong aversion for beans. It dates back to a Mt. Hood trip, when she and a party of girls were snowbound, and had beans for breakfast, beans for lunch, and beans for dinner. She also acquired a dislike for a particular garment, but that is a long story and Frances Wilson, one of Miss DeYoung's "sisters" promises to tell it upon request.

Miss DeYoung is from Portland, and is graduate of the Grant high school.

Trojans and Bears to Vie In Northwest

Three Coast Conference Games on Slate

U.S.C. Will Meet Oregon State at Portland; California-Cougar Mix at Pullman

Firing on the Pacific Coast conference football front will be resumed this week-end in the northern end of the grid circuit, with two great California teams making their first and final appearances in the northwest this year.

The mighty U. S. C. Trojans journey to Portland where they will meet Lon Stiner's fighting Oregon State eleven on Multnomah field. Washington State will entertain Bill Ingram and his California Bears on their home field at Pullman. These two games in addition to the Oregon-Idaho tilt at Eugene Friday evening are the only conference games on schedule this week.

The University of Washington will play College of Fuget Sound at Tacoma, Willamette university will clash with Gene Murphy's Columbia eleven at Portland, and Montana university will play Montana State at Butte in the other contests scheduled for the north.

Turning to the south, U. C. L. A. will meet Loyola, the team that nearly upset U. S. C. earlier in the season, in the Memorial coliseum in Los Angeles. Stanford will entertain the San Francisco Dons at Palo Alto, Santa Clara is pitted against the Olympic club at San Francisco, and California Tech and Occidental college will match touchdown drives in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena Friday evening.

"UNFAIR TO JANITORS!" DECLARE UNDERGRADS

 ufacturers, and others do," said Margilee Morse, freshman in journalism. "Janitors are citizens of the United States just like anybody else."

Back in the journalism shack again, the reporter met G. A. Shaduck, railroad labor leader and a journalism major. "With everybody else trying to get a six-hour day," he commented, "it looks as though we're out of step to ask a man to work 9 1-2 hours—or really 12, since the hours out in the middle of the day are no good to him."

Library Offers Books On Marriage, Family

Books not to be overlooked on the shelves in the lib are the collection labeled "Books on Marriage and the Family." In this group fiction as well as non-fiction is included, and the subject is discussed from many points of view, even to the financial.

Modern books by modern authorities on various phases of the subject largely make up the collection, although several essay-type works by older authors are also included.

A.T.O. Downs S.A.E. in Fast Water Event

Sigma Chi and S.P.E.'s Win by Forfeit

Hine and McCulloch Outstanding Stars for A.T.O.; No Matches On Schedule Today

Monday's Water Polo Schedule
 4 p. m., Phi Gamma Delta vs. Theta Chi.
 4:40 p. m., Beta Theta Pi vs. Phi Delta Theta.
 5:20 p. m., Chi Psi vs. Kappa Sigma.

Alpha Tau Omega advanced to the second round in the donut water-polo tournament with a 2-0 victory over Sigma Alpha Epsilon yesterday afternoon. The other two matches of the day both ended by the forfeit route with Sigma Chi and Sigma Phi Epsilon registering victories.

The A.T.O.'s led by Gib Hine and John McCulloch played a fast and exciting game. Hine scored both goals for the winners, and McCulloch's defensive play was the highlight of the game.

The first half ended with the boys from the hill holding a slim one-point margin. During the entire contest S.A.E. were continually threatening to score, but some great defensive play by Grout, goalie, prevented any scoring.

Owing to the Dad's day program there will be no games today, but the second round matches will be played Monday.

Lineups Named

Last night Coach Callison gave a light workout to his men under the arc lights on Hayward field.

Probable starting lineups:

from Chicago with but one casualty . . . and that, their coach, Tiny Thornhill, who dislocated a shoulder in the Pullman on the way West.

"And how'd you like the World's Fair, Tiny?"

"Who said the world's fair?" returns the Indian chief. "We should have beat them guys a mile."
