

Oregon Daily Emerald

VOLUME XXXV

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1933

NUMBER 21

Annual Sale of Sinkers Slated To Start Today

Event to Begin at 9 A. M. And End at 10 P. M.

PRICE 2 FOR NICKEL

Booths to Be Placed at Various Locations on Campus; List of Vendors Announced

Doughnut days are here again—and what doughnuts! Luscious, succulent, and equivalent words from Roget's Thesaurus don't begin to express the sensations which follow a taste of the Y. W. C. A. crullers. So says Joyce Busenbark, All-American doughnut girl and general chairman of the sale, which begins at 9 a. m. and ends at 10 p. m. today.

The doughnuts will sell at two for a nickel, 20 cents a dozen, from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. at booths in front of the old library, between the Oregon and Commerce buildings, and back of Hendricks hall. From 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. booths will be open in front of the College Side Inn and the Colonial theater.

Passes To Be Given

Free passes to the Colonial theater will go to the three girls selling the most doughnuts today. Salesgirls on duty at the various booths will be as follows, except for a few last minute changes and additions:

Old library—10 a. m., Margaret Neilson, Josephine Poor; 11 a. m., Marian Moore, Maria Rich; 1 p. m., Katherine Gribble, Maxine Cobbs; 2 p. m., Janet McMicken, Betty Coon; 3 p. m., Portia Booth, Gretchen Gregg; 4 p. m., Alice Tillman, Helen Dodds.

Between Oregon and Commerce—9 a. m., Betty Bruhn; 10 a. m., Margaret Brown; 11 a. m., Ruth Hiburg, Donna Theda; 1 p. m., Roberta Moody, Virginia Younne; 2 p. m., Barbara Beam, Cynthia Cornell; 3 p. m., Charlotte Ollitt, Stora Parvin; 4 p. m., Mae Schneibacher, Mary McCracken; 5 p. m., Ruth May Chilco, Beth Holcomb.

Other Girls Named

Back of Hendricks—10 a. m., Winifred Johnson, Margery Kissling; 11 a. m., Theta Spicer, Phyllis Adams; 1 p. m., Frances Rothwell; 2 p. m., Barbara Henkle, Margie Smith; 3 p. m., Jessie Long, Lillian England; 4 p. m., Helen Riese, Peggy Rugh; 5 p. m., Helen Wright, Virginia Wapenstein.

Colonial—9 a. m., Ruth Weber, Margaret Veness; 10 a. m., Betty May Highby; 11 a. m., Joan Shelleay; 2 p. m., Evelyn Davis, Ruth Holcomb; 1 p. m., Elizabeth Rix, Maluta Read; 3 p. m., Iris Strom, Miriam Gilbert; 4 p. m., Chrysanthine Nickachio, Gail Hubbard; 5 p. m., Lee Chapman, Nan Smith; 8 p. m., Mary Jane Boyle, Jane Greenwood.

Directorate in Charge

College Side—9 a. m., Mary Margaret Lott; 10 a. m., Pat Gallagher, Claudia Bartram; 11 a. m., Gladys Robertson, Katherine Eiseman; 1 to 5 p. m., Doris Bird; 1 to 3 and 4 to 5 p. m., Peggy McNamara; 2 p. m., Louise Perry; evening, Kathryn Gribble.

The sale directorate consists of Miss Busenbark, Peggy Chessman, campus day chairman; Alberta Baldwin, promotion chairman; Henriette Horak, Emerald reporter; Merle Gollings, poster chairman; and Eleanor Wharton, finance chairman.

Campus Calendar

"If no job—what?" discussion will be continued today at 3 p. m. at Y. W. C. A. bungalow.

Wesley club cabinet meeting today at 7:30 p. m.

Dill Pickle club meeting today noon at Y. W. C. A.

Beta Alpha Psi, professional accounting fraternity, will meet in 101 Commerce today at 4 p. m.

Freshman class meeting at Villard hall tonight at 8:45. President Fred Hammond urged that all freshmen attend this short but important session.

Tonqued council will meet Thursday noon at Young's restaurant to complete plans for a membership drive.

Pairing for Floats To Be Determined In Drawing Today

Appropriateness and Originality To Be Basis for Judging Representations

Drawings to determine which men's and women's houses will work together in producing floats for the Homecoming rally parade, Friday, November 3, will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in 110 Johnson hall, according to an announcement made last night by Bill Russell, rally parade chairman of the Homecoming directorate.

Russell also announced Don Thompson as assistant rally parade chairman, and Peggy Chessman and Kathleen Bates, secretaries. Ed Schweiker has been named chairman of the line-of-march committee, and Ed Labbe and Walt Gray, directors. Committee members are as follows: Althea Peterson, Tom Dimmick, Fred Hammond, Drew Copp, Helen Ostrand, and Roberta Moody.

Grant Thuemmel and Mike Pinkstaff have been named to select the judges.

Bases for judging floats this year are as follows:

1. Appropriateness and originality shown in the creation of the float.

2. Amount of representation of membership of each fraternity and sorority team and originality shown in arrangement of such representation.

3. No team will be allowed to compete for prizes if it has not filed a budget before November 2 with Bill Russell. Cost is limited to $10 per each competing organization, $20 per team.

Prominent alumni will head the parade, according to plans released by Russell last night. The Utah football team is scheduled to take part in the ceremonies Friday, preceding the game with Oregon Saturday afternoon.

New loving cups for the winning men's and women's houses will be displayed at the Co-op the latter part of this week. Second and third prizes are being arranged for.

The complete Homecoming directorate as announced by Jack Cate, general chairman, follows: Pearl Base, secretary; Bill Russell, rally parade chairman; Ralph Schomp, accommodations chairman; Fred Whittlesey, Homecoming dance chairman; Robert Zurcher, decorations chairman; Anne Burns, alumni luncheon chairman; Elizabeth Bendstrup, reception chairman; and Doug Polivka, publicity chairman.

Activity Preferences To Be Filed by Women

Students and others interested in local governments will be privileged to hear one of the world's most prominent authorities tonight when G. Montagu Harris addresses a meeting to be held in Commerce building at 8 o'clock.

"What Is Happening to Local Government" will be the topic for the address. Harris will draw on his extensive background of travel, observation, and investigation in many localities and countries. He is the author of two books on the subject, and is vice-president of the International Union of Local Authorities.

Previous to his address this evening, Harris will meet several University officials, and Eugene city officials, with whom he will confer.

Montagu Harris To Give Address At Meet Tonight

Speaker Will Draw on Background of Travel, Observation In Many Lands

Students and others interested in local governments will be privileged to hear one of the world's most prominent authorities tonight when G. Montagu Harris addresses a meeting to be held in Commerce building at 8 o'clock.

"What Is Happening to Local Government" will be the topic for the address. Harris will draw on his extensive background of travel, observation, and investigation in many localities and countries. He is the author of two books on the subject, and is vice-president of the International Union of Local Authorities.

Previous to his address this evening, Harris will meet several University officials, and Eugene city officials, with whom he will confer.

Speakers' Group Shifts Announced

Due to resignations and new appointments several changes have taken place on the list of speakers making up the speakers' committee since it was announced at the beginning of the term. This organization is in charge of making announcements of various student body activities to the various living organizations.

The revised list consists of Bill C. Davis, chairman, Bill M. Davis, John Clabough, Ed Meserve, Dean Conway, Cosgrove LaBarre, Bill Schloth, Bill Paddock, Howard Ohmart, Bob Zurcher.

Women's committee is Althea Peterson, chairman, Adele Sheehy, Virginia Younne, Ruth Vannice, Josephine Waffle, Margaret Van Cleve, Helen Stinger, Alma Lou Herman, Nancy Archbold, Marvel Twiss.

Student Musicians Give Season's First Recital

With piano solos dominating the program, and the violin numbers providing a pleasant interlude, Elaine Moore, pianist, and Martha Moore, violinist, last night presented the first student recital of this year.

Student recitals will be henceforth held every Monday night at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the school of music.

Slips Will Replace Old Method of Calling for Reserve Books in Use

A picnic to be held by nature group Friday evening, November 3, was planned at a meeting yesterday afternoon.

Each member will bring her own food to the picnic, which will be held at 5 p. m., probably near the Willamette river. After the meal, the girls will hold a meeting, under the direction of Ruth Vannice, president, and will elect a vice-president and secretary for this year.

Doughnut Days Are Here Again!

Their baskets and bags full of crisp Mayflower doughnuts, these eight girls are out after campus nickels—and they guarantee five cents worth of goodness in every package. They are, reading from the girl in the light dress and black belt to the one in the dark sweater and light skirt: Maluta Read, Helen Nickachio, Edith Kroneman, Helene Beele, Jane Yates, Ruth Ford, Pearl Johansen, and Chrysanthine Nickachio.

Complete Sell-Out for Oregon - Oregon State Skirmish Anticipated

Jeanism Honorables Sponsoring Meeting of Noted Lecturer At Alumni Hall

Tickets for the Oregon-Oregon State football game to be held in Portland November 11, are selling rapidly, according to Tom Stoddard, assistant graduate manager. Those planning to attend are urged to secure their tickets early.

Reserved seat tickets may be procured at the Co-op, the A.S.U.O. ticket office in McArthur court, and at the Club Cigar store in downtown Eugene at the price of $2.20. A S. U. O. officials anticipate a complete sell out for the game before November 5. At the present time tickets in only five end sections remain for sale.

A limited number of general admission tickets will be sold at Multnomah stadium the day of the game.

Phi Betas Entertained By Talents of Pledges

Members of Phi Beta were entertained at their regular meeting last night by a program representing the talents of some of the new pledges.

Burlesque Mother Goose, Floy Young, Virginia Wappenstein, and Dorothy Smith gave a skit entitled "Little Red Riding Hood." Theta Spicer played a flute solo.

The speaker arrived here from Portland last night, and is to be the guest of Dean Eric W. Allen of the school of journalism at dinner tonight. It is expected that he will continue southward after his visit here.

Janet Fitch, Graduate, At Cornell University

Janet Fitch, graduate of the University of Oregon, is at the present time attending Cornell university at Ithaca, New York.

She is taking graduate work and is studying subjects which interest her personally, according to her mother, Clara F. Fitch, secretary of the graduate school. She will remain there a year.

Dr. R. Louise Fitch, dean of women at Cornell, is an aunt of Miss Fitch.

While on this campus Miss Fitch was prominent in University activities, and in her senior year won the Edison Marshall short story contest, was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and the Senior Six.

Tickets on Sale Today

Tickets for the Homecoming football game November 4 between Oregon and Utah go on sale today at the A. S. U. O. ticket offices in McArthur court, the Co-op, and the Club cigar store in downtown Eugene.

History of Doughnuts Short; Modern Rings Relatively New

The luscious powdered-sugar-covered confections to be sold today by the Y. W. C. A. have a history behind them worth relating, though, as histories go, it is not a long one. The earliest mention of them was in Washington Irving's "Knickerbocker Tales," published in 1809.

The scene was 1809. The featured performer was "an enormous dish of balls of sweetened dough, fried in hog's fat, and called doughnuts, or ollygoeks."

The second literary appearance of the doughnut was in 1892, with Thoreau as author and the Atlantic Monthly as producer. This quotation showed that the doughnut was well-known in 1847: "The window was the size of an oblong doughnut, and about as opaque."

The first mention of a Doughnut day was in the first volume of Hazlitt Brand's "Popular Antiquities." "At Baldock, Herts," he informs us, "the children call . . . (Shrove Tuesday) Doughnut Day, from the small cakes fried in brass skillets over the fire with hog's lard."

"Although calling the books should be returned are being given out in the English reserve of the library. The new system eliminates calling in books that are in wide demand.

"Each member will bring her own food to the picnic, which will be held at 5 p. m., probably near the Willamette river. After the meal, the girls will hold a meeting, under the direction of Ruth Vannice, president, and will elect a vice-president and secretary for this year.

"Tonqued council will meet Thursday noon at Young's restaurant to complete plans for a membership drive.

Loyal Rooters To Cheer Team With Big Rally

Tongue, Vail Plead for Support for Event

LIBRARIES TO CLOSE

Headed for Coast Championship Adopted as Team Slogan; Noise, Talks Feature

"Hit that line!" will be on the lips of all students tonight when a squad of revenge-seeking Oregon gridsters boards a train for Los Angeles, where the Webfoot eleven will battle U. C. L. A. Saturday, with the memory of the Bruins' last-minute victory in Portland last year still ranking.

All ordinary student activities are to be suspended at 9 p. m., when a mammoth rally will converge on the Eugene depot to assure the team and coach of its whole-hearted support and cooperation.

Libraries to Close

Tom Tongue, student body president, declared, "We want to make this big." Mickey Vail, yell king, asserted, "Anyone who pretends to have any of the old Oregon spirit will be there with bells on. The boys mowed 'em down at Washington, and they'll do the same at U. C. L. A. with the students behind them."

Hazel Prutsman Schwering, chairwoman of women, offered her support to the rally by granting permission to women students to participate in the celebration between 9 and 10 o'clock. M. H. Douglass, University librarian, volunteered to close all libraries at 9 p. m. Vail urges house presidents to close their houses during the rally.

Representatives for all living organizations are to be appointed today.

A concentrated drive for more Emerald subscriptions is to be launched immediately, announced Grant F. Thuemmel, business manager of the paper, yesterday. "We want to set a new high mark," said Thuemmel, requesting that all students try to get Emerald subscriptions to send to their parents.

Representatives for all living organizations are to be appointed today and awards will be made to those obtaining the most subscriptions. Tom Holman and Bill Perry, circulation managers for the Emerald, are in charge of the drive.

Tomorrow's Emerald will carry a list of the representatives chosen to solicit for subscriptions, which cost $2.50 for a year.

"The bigger the circulation, the better the paper," said Tom Holman. "Every student should have an active interest in the Emerald and endeavour to support it by seeing that it has a wide distribution."

Mum Sales to Be Helped by Means of Novel Publicity

Phi Mu Trio Will Sing at Houses; Posters Planned; Orders May Be Given Now

Novel publicity will be featured in this year's "mum" sales.

To the tune of "Hinky Dinky Parlez-vous," the Phi Mu trio, consisting of Margaret Lott, Margaret Ellen Osborne, and Lucy Ann Wendell, accompanied by Maxine McDonald, will sing the "mum song" at each living organization. The girls will leave copies of the unfoling of the plot.

Characters will be played by Carroll Wells, who is instructor of the play, Catherine Elms, Dorothy Ann Clark, Earl Bucknum, Bill Rice, Henry Roberts, Bill Ireland, and Tom McCall. Howard E. Kessler is writing the presentation.

From now until November 4, and 11, "mums" may be ordered. Cash must be paid at time of ordering.

They are to be worn at the Homecoming game at Eugene and at the Oregon-Oregon State game in Portland. For the Eugene game, the University florists will furnish the flowers, while Tommy Luke will furnish them for the Portland game.

A new plan in regard to the "mums" themselves is being followed this year. There will be a uniform price of 75 cents. The huge yellow chrysanthemum, bearing a green "O" with gay streamers flying from the stem.

One representative has been chosen in each living organization to sell the idea of buying a "mum" to the other members. Women are urged to buy the "mums" for themselves, while the men are encouraged to thrill their best girl by presenting her with a "mum" the day of the game.

The representatives for the houses are: Virginia Younne, Alpha Chi Omega; Marjorie Scober, Alpha Delta Pi; Phyllis Cousins, Alpha Gamma Delta; Virginia Gadis, Alpha Omicron Pi; Janet McMicken, Alpha Phi; Elizabeth Pen, Alpha Xi Delta; Carolyn Schink, Beta Phi Alpha; Mary Jane Kins; Chi Omega; Ruth King, Delta Delta Delta.

Margaret Van Cleve, Delta Gamma; Margery Powell, Delta Zeta; Kay Newell, Gamma Phi Beta.