Delts Offer Trophy to Winner of Donut Hoop Race; Who Will Give?

INTRAMURAL basketball champions will certainly have something to show for their efforts this year. To the winner of the donut hoop tournament now in progress, Delta Tau Delta will present a 24-inch silver trophy, which will grace the mantle of the champions each year.

This emblem of intramural supremacy will be known as the "George Homer Stahl Memorial Trophy" in honor of the man whose name it bears. Students will recall that Stahl, a varsity hoop player and a member of Delta Tau Delta, had just attained his ambition of earning an "O" last winter when he fell a victim of pneumonia and died.

The trophy is offered in part to preserve the memory of this fine character in the sport he loved.

This is truly a fine gesture on the part of the Delts; not alone because of the sentiment involved, but also because of the crying need of such a trophy. Intramural athletes are human beings. When they play, they want to win. And when they win, they want to receive something for their efforts.

Many plans have been advanced to provide trophies or cups to the winners of the various donut titles, but little has been done to really secure these awards. Solicitation of the needed funds from downtown merchants is as impractical as it is unsuccessful. Students cannot very well expect Eugene business men to dig down into their already worn pockets and donate funds for an activity which in no way touches them nor interests them.

On so through the gamut of useless suggestions: fees, admission prices, and on to cooked-food and rummage sales. But how will the trophies be financed? If you can't get people to give, we must give ourselves.

It wouldn't be too much of a strain upon the treasury of any campus living organization to take the responsibility of providing a trophy for one intramural champion. There are many more competing groups on the campus than there are donut winners, so this leaves plenty of room to see which of the hall, fraternity, or independent groups have the greatest generosity and spirit of giving that which has but a 20 to 1 chance of returning to them.

All right, who will be the second to set up a shiny goal for this intramural race?

Graduates in History Plan Work for Degree

J. C. Branaman, a graduate student in history in 1930-31 recently returned to the University to complete his work for a master's degree in history.

Joh Cox, graduate assistant in history during 1931-32, is specializing in recent American history this year at the University of California under Professor Frederick L. Paxson, whom he serves as assistant. He plans to write a master's thesis on the history of the lumber industry in the Pacific Northwest.

Cox obtained his master's degree in history at the University of Oregon in 1932 and spent the year of 1932-33 at the University of California in graduate study.

Captain Lee Coates Only Man on Coach Bill Spaulding's Injury List

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Los Angeles, Calif., Oct. 26. —(Special)—Coach Bill Spaulding, Bruin football mentor, has been drilling his men daily in preparation for the oncoming Oregon game to be held Saturday at the Coliseum.

Last week the Westwood grid-ders showed plenty of offensive power when they took the Lions from little Loyola college by a 20 to 7 score. The Bruin offense gained 228 yards from scrimmage and passes against the Catholic boys.

Bruin Captain Out
The tentative line-up for the game as released by the U. C. L. A. mentor shows plenty of power. With the exception of Captain Lee Coates who injured his shoulder in last week's combat, the squad is in excellent physical condition.

Verdi Boyer and Sam Storey will hold down the left and right guard positions, respectively. Boyer is a demon on defense while Storey has been one of the main bulwarks both on offense and defense.

Tackle Berth Strong
The tackle berths will be held down by Sam Stawisky and Tom Rafferty. The latter has come through until he warrants Spaulding's confidence in starting him. Stawisky, playing his first year of varsity ball, is hailed as one of the greatest tackles in the history of the Los Angeles institution. In MaGue and Yearick, Spaulding has two axes in reserve.

The Westwood college has four of the strongest wing men on the coast in Muller, Maxwell, Lott and Caldwell. Lott and Caldwell will probably get the starting call but the other two boys, Muller and Maxwell, who starred against Tom Lieb's Loyolans, will see plenty of action.

Cheshire Threat
Chuck Cheshire, who ran Trainer Lieb's Lions well, will get the starting call at one halfback position. This is Cheshire's first year on the varsity and the Webfoots had better watch out for this fleet-footed sophomore. At the other halfback position will be Ramon "Pants" Livesay, blocking back that ran Frankovich's pass to a touchdown to beat Oregon last year at the Rose City, Cliff Lightner, Bob Hendry, a drop kicker of note, Joe Sarver, who starred against Utah, Stan Reel and Willy Wilton will undoubtedly get into the fray.

Frankovich at Quarter
Mike Frankovich, well known by all Oregonians, holds down the starting quarterback position. Mike's passing is one of the big threats of the Bruin offensive attack. Spaulding's trump card, no other than Joe Keeble, will start in at the line driving post. Local fans consider "Jolting Joe" greater than Oregon's "hammer," Mike Mikulak.

The Webfeet are scheduled to arrive here Friday morning and work out on the Coliseum turf in the afternoon. Coach Callison is bringing 28 men with him.

Clark Asked to Sketch Life of Harvey W. Scott

R. C. Clark, head of the history department, has been asked by the Dictionary of American Biography, the volumes of which have appeared as far as the L's, to prepare a biography of Harvey W. Scott, famous editor of the Oregonian, from 1865 to his death in 1910.

The biography of Scott's sister, Abigail Scott Duniway, woman suffrage leader in Oregon, written by Clark, has already appeared in this series.

Roget's 'Thesaurus' Is Now on Sale at Co-op

Fifty copies of Roget's Thesaurus were received by the Co-op last Saturday, October 21, and only 17 are left. The regular $3.50 edition has been revised and is now selling for $1.00.

This book contains synonyms, antonyms, phrases and all words and phrases that are in any way related. The edition is especially recommended to journalism students.

UCLA TEAM READY FOR OREGON

Gaels Leave for East Following Nevada Contest

SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE, Oct. 26.—Coach Edward P. "Slip" Madigan's crack Galloping Gael eleven, the team that was nosed out of victory 14-13 by California, that played one of the closest contested games of the season when they lost to Southern California, 14-7, will take on the Nevada Wolves Friday prior to invading the East to play Fordham in New York Saturday, November 4.

After a week's rest following the Trojan game the Gael coach will field the same backfield that scored twice against California, and once against the Jonesmen and the same line that withstood the power drives of the two major coast teams.

Ahern, quarterback; Wilson and Nichelini, halves; and Dodson, full, will carry the burden against the Nevadans. Yates at center, Gilbert and Elduayan at guards, Yezerski and Jorgensen at tackles, and Fred and George Canrinus at ends will comprise the forward wall.

Nevada is Saint Mary's oldest football rival. Back in 1909 Saint Mary's and Nevada met in rugby and have met in football ever since with the exception of 1930 and 1931 when Nevada was rebuilding her football team and was left off the Gael schedule at her own request. Since the beginning of the Madigan regime in 1921, Nevada has only won one game and tied one out of the ten games played.

U. of O. Graduates Find Employment

According to bits of information that the alumni office in Friendly hall has received from various sources, more and more recent University graduates are finding employment.

The following are some of the latest news items received by the office:

Dorothy Lou Mac Millan, '32, is employed as recreational secretary of the Portland Y.W.C.A.

George C. McFarland, ex-'32, is in the export business in Portland. McFarland recently married Margaret Ellison, ex-'32.

Carleton A. Hands, ex-'30, who married Alice Irene Connel, ex-'31, is in the merchandising business at Silverton, Oregon.

Celia E. Brennan, '33, is teaching in the Pine City school at Echo, Oregon.

Mildred Widner, ex-'34, is teaching physical education in the grade school at Newberg, Oregon.

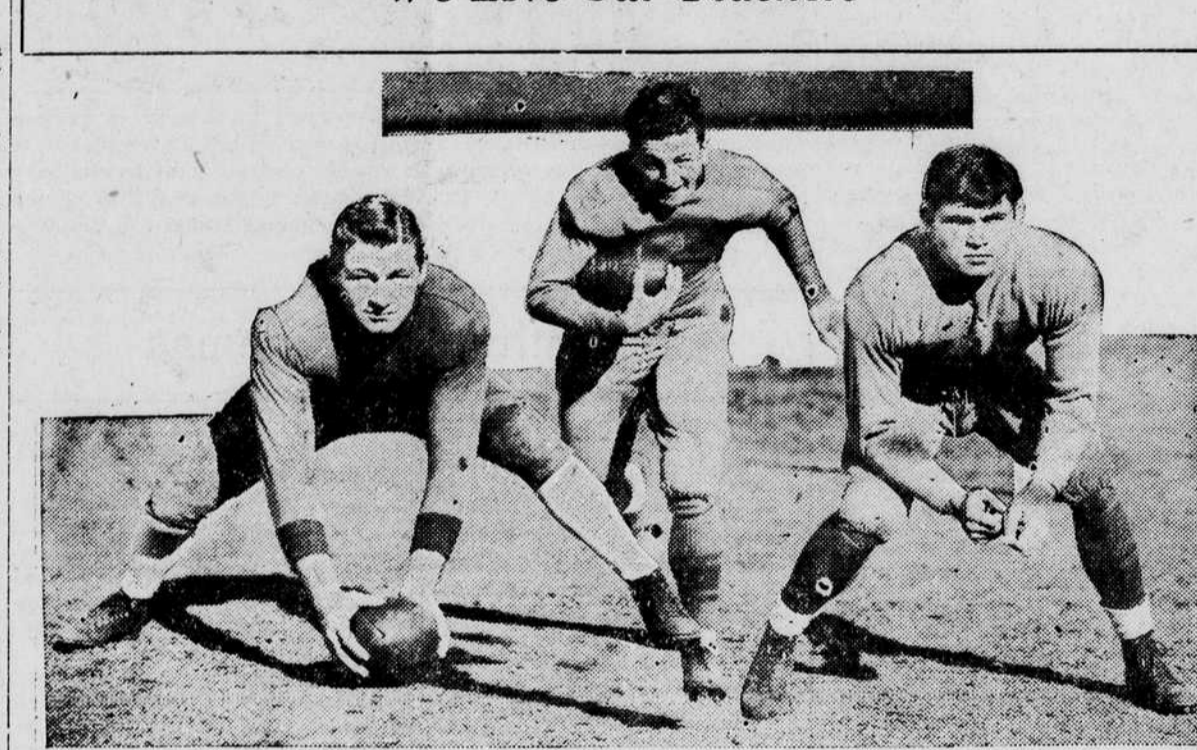

Louise Howard, '33, is teaching at Grants Pass, Oregon.

H. Kenneth McClain, '28, who received his Ph.D. degree in chemistry from the University of Washington last June, has joined the laboratory staff of the Proctor-Gamble company in Ivorydale, Ohio.

We Love Our Teachers

These three Oregon yearlings will play a main part in tomorrow's game with Howard Hobson's Southern Oregon Normal eleven. They are, from the left, Farrar, center; Borden, triple threat halfback; and Wilson, end. All three are regulars on the Duckling squad.

Campus Sports Must Be Finished Before Saturday

Chatterton and Coad in Finals of Handball Tourney; Tennis Program Advances

A seeming lack of interest and cooperation on the part of the participants has kept the all-campus sports program somewhat behind schedule this year. A large turnout for this competition marked the advent of the sports season but interest seems to have lagged.

All sports with the exception of tennis doubles and the horseshoe singles are way behind schedule. The horseshoe contest is now in the finals and will be played off for the title on October 30. Nye and Elliot are the boys who will vie in tossing the ringers.

Last week the Newton and Hutchinson tennis doubles team defeated LaBarre and Onslow for the honor of appearing in the finals against the winners of the Mountain-Robbins v. Robert-Bucknam contest.

The biggest upset of the season, was recorded in the handball semi-finals when Chatterton defeated Whitely to advance into the finals against Coad. The Caldwell-Gearheart team will oppose the winner of the Donn-Whitely vs. Schneider-Coad match in the doubles finals.

The golf players have been the slowest to turn out and their tournament will be called off unless it is speeded up.

According to Paul R. Washke all games that are behind schedule must be made up by Saturday, or it will be necessary to call a halt to the tournaments.

John Stehn, director of the band, is very enthusiastic over the production and expects to have the band render it publicly some time during the winter term at Cottage Grove.

It is written about the activities of Joe Meek, famous pioneer. Although the book has been long out of print, it is still of interest because of its thrilling narrations of the life of a hunter and trader. The manuscript will be in readiness by April, 1934, Clark said.

Women's Athletics

By BETTY SHOEMAKER

Independents defeated the Alpha Delta Pi volleyball team yesterday at 5 p. m. to the final score of 51 to 26.

Schedule of games for next week will appear Tuesday.

Recreation hour sponsored by the W.A.A. and open to anyone wishing to come will be held this afternoon from 4 to 6 p. m. in the women's gym.

Badminton, ping-pong, volleyball and swimming will be offered.

The first hike of the season will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30. All wishing to go please meet in front of Geeringer hall.

Audrey Beamer, hiking manager, announced that many interesting treasure hunts have been planned.

University Band Plays Cochrane's New Piece

The "Medallion," a new concert piece composed by Charles Cochrane of Cottage Grove, was just recently played for the first time by the University of Oregon band.

Cochrane is an expert cornet player and at one time was director of the Cottage Grove municipal band. He brought the selection to the University to be tried out and have all desired changes and corrections made.

John Stehn, director of the band, is very enthusiastic over the production and expects to have the band render it publicly some time during the winter term at Cottage Grove.

Sammies Defeat Pi Kappa Alpha in High-Scoring Tilt

Sigma Phi Epsilon and Fijis Win Other Games; Keen Rivalry Expected Today

Today's Basketball Games
Beta Theta Pi "A" vs. Delta Tau Delta "A"
Phi Delta Theta "A" vs. Sigma Nu "A"
Theta Chi "A" vs. Yeomen "A"

Showing superior strength both offensively and defensively the strong S. A. M. quintet completely trounced Pi Kappa Alpha by a score of 40 to 1. In the other events of the day the S.P.E.'s walked away from Sigma hall 23 to 5, and the Fijis won a close 16-15 decision from the Alpha Tau Omega.

Led by Ike Donin, who scored 12 points, the Sammies outplayed their rivals in every phase of the game.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon-Sigma hall affair was a slow one with neither team breaking into the scoring column until late in the second quarter. At the beginning of the third period the S.P.E. outfit led by Lingren, started to hit the hoop from all angles and ran up a one-sided score.

The closest and hardest fought contest of the present schedule was played between the Fijis and A.T.O.'s.

It was the clever playing of White that accounted for the Fiji victory. Karstens of the A.T.O.'s led the scoring parade with 7 points. Casey, Fiji guard and former Columbia university letterman was ejected from the game on fouls.

Showing of Notre Dame Grid Squad Causes Criticism

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 27.—Owing to the poor record of the Notre Dame eleven, many are wondering if and when the change in coaches will result.

At the start of the season the Irish were lucky to get a scoreless tie with the Kansas Jayhawkers, as they were on the defensive during the entire contest, and in general failed to come up to the showing of other Irish teams. The following week they took Indiana into camp, 12-2, and seemed to be back on the victory trail. However last Saturday, they bowed to Carnegie Tech, as a touchdown via the aerial route gave the Tartans a 7-0 win.

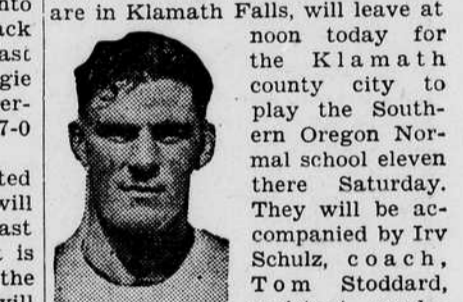

Father O'Donnell has indicated that Hearty (Hunk) Anderson will be retained as head coach, at least until the end of the season. It is thought that at the end of the present campaign, Anderson will take over a job coaching pro football. Madigan, Clipper Smith, Kizer, and Crowley are mentioned prominently as successors.

Yearlings to Meet Worthy Foe in Sons

Contest Is Scheduled for Klamath Falls

Squad Will Return to Eugene on Sunday Morning; Schultz In Charge

By DON OLDS

Twenty-six frosh football players, including three whose homes are in Klamath Falls, will leave at noon today for the Klamath county city to play the Southern Oregon Normal school eleven there Saturday. They will be accompanied by Irv Schultz, coach, Tom Stoddard, assistant graduate manager, and Paul Golden, manager. Bill Reinhart, who is Schultz's co-mentor, left for California yesterday and will not accompany the yearlings.

The final practice here before the game was held last night. The team is reported in fair shape, Konopka, Owen and Hamaker heading the list of injured.

The three Klamath Falls men who are making the trip are Estes, Berry and Hamaker. The complete list follows:

End, Wilson, Murray, Cross, Adams; tackles, Bjork, Fury, McAdam, Vander Zander; guards, Burchard, Hardesty, Estes, Davis; centers, Farrar, Berry, Cauler.

Fullbacks, Bishop, Jacobs, Konopka; quarterbacks, Owen, Penn; halfbacks, Nye, Borden, Hamaker, Shingler, Rix, Sprague.

The squad will start the return trip to Eugene at 6 a. m. Sunday, arriving here about noon.
