Delts Offer Trophy to Winner of Donut Hoop Race; Who Will Give?

TODAY is the day that all Pacific coast gridiron fans have been waiting for. What a treat!

Bill Spaulding

Here's how they line up:
 At Los Angeles, Oregon vs. U. C. L. A.
 At Berkeley, Southern California vs. California.
 At Corvallis, Oregon State vs. W. S. C.
 At Moscow, Idaho vs. Montana.
 At Seattle, Stanford vs. Washington.

The dope favors the heavier Webfoots to continue in their victory march, and hand Bill Spaulding's Uclans a trimming at the Coliseum in Los Angeles. Feeling is high in the Bruin camp, and many Los Angeles fans are betting that Spaulding will win through the aerial route. The Ducks have pretty well mastered a tight pass defense in the past week's scrimmages, however, and it will be tough for the midgets, Frankovich and Livesay, to duplicate their scoring plays of last year.

The mighty Trojans again trek northward. This time only as far as Berkeley, to meet Bill Ingram's Golden Bears. Southern California may be slipping, but the experts don't think so. The dope favors the Thundering Herd to keep in the running for the national title after a tough fight.

Stanford's Indians will have their fingers crossed when they meet Washington's Huskies in Seattle. It looks like a tough year for California teams in the north. With the breaks even, Phelan's machine should pull out ahead here.

Idaho and Montana will meet on even terms in their traditional fracas. The loser, as things stand now, will be doomed to the inglorious lower rung in the conference ladder, while the winner will retain an outside chance to make a mark for itself in conference circles with a late season pick up. Both teams are composed of featherweights, and aerial attacks are

Ducklings, SONS Set For Grid Battle In Klamath Falls

Frosh Will Be Underdogs in Normal Game

Fast Offensive Stressed By Irv Schulz

Reserve Strength Will Be Given Attention; 28 Yearlings Make Trip

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Oct. 27.—(Special)—The University of Oregon freshman football team will enter the game here Saturday against the Southern Oregon Normal eleven the underdog. The Oregon yearlings' hopes for an upset rest mainly on a speedier offense than was used by them against the Oregon State rooks two weeks ago.

Predictions favoring the Sons are based on the showings of both teams against the rooks, the teachers winning 39 to 0 and the frosh winning 7 to 3. Hobson's Sons also have the advantage of having played in more games this season. The Ashland eleven lost its first contest 21 to 0 to the Oregon State varsity, and won the next two, defeating Pacific 19 to 0 and Monmouth Normal 12 to 7.

Frosh Stress Speed
 Since the rook game the frosh have been working toward a speedier offense, the frosh-rook game being unusually slow for the "little civil war" series. Reserve strength has also been given considerable attention by Coaches Irv Schulz and Bill Reinhart. Only 12 men were used against the rooks.

The frosh squad of 28 men, Coach Schulz, manager, trainer and graduate manager, arrived here tonight. The Southern teachers will be here Saturday morning. The game will start at 2:15 p. m. on Modoc field.

This is the first contest of this type to be held here, the affair being sponsored by the local junior chamber of commerce. Klamath county is holding a football weekend, Klamath Falls high school playing tonight as a preliminary event.

Lineups Given
 Probable starting lineups are:
 FROSH Pos. SONS
 Wilson LER Ayers
 Murray LTR Anderson
 Hardisty LGR McClain
 Farrar C Mahony
 Bernhard RGL Patterson
 Bjork RTL Carter
 Cross REL Rasmussen
 Penn Q QC McAnich
 Borden RHL Brown
 Nye LHR Bradford
 Bishop F Lancaster

Frosh substitutes include: Adams, end; Fury, McAdam, Vander Zander, tackles; Estes, Davis, guards; Berry, Caulter, centers; Owen, quarterback; Hamaker, Shingler, Rix, Sprague, halfbacks; Jacobs, Konopka, fullbacks.

In the Sons' lineup, Beach may play part of the game at fullback in place of Lancaster.

being planned by both Leo Calland, Vandal mentor, and Bunny Oakes, headman for the Grizzlies.

Montana should win with a superior offense.

Just how will this five-ring circus effect the present conference standings? Here's how they look this morning:

Moves to Portland
 Mrs. Vinton Hall, formerly Janet Thecher, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. W. F. G. Thacher, and baby son have moved to Portland to join her husband. Mrs. Hall has been residing at the home of her parents since the birth of her son.

"You Can Be Had"

That's what Oregon's Webfoots will chant to these defenders of the University of California at Los Angeles as they prepare for their battle today in the Los Angeles Coliseum. Above, about to toss a forward pass, is Mike Frankovich, quarterback, the Bruin whose last-second pass spelled defeat for the Webfoots last year at Portland. On the right, top to bottom, Ernie Patterson, fullback; Walter Muller, right end; and Charles Chesire, halfback. Casire is the newest Bruin ball-carrying sensation. In the lower left hand corner are Clayton Yearick, right tackle, and Verdi Boyer, left guard.

Nation's Grid Fans to See Many Important Tilts Today

Thousands of fans throughout the states will flock to the various college stadiums to watch the leading eleven of the country go through their weekly gridiron battles.

The feature game of the west coast will be played in Berkeley when Bill Ingram's Golden Bears play host to El Trojan from Southern California. The "Thundering Herd" was held to a scoreless tie last week by the Oregon Aggies for the first time in 26 starts and are out for revenge. The Jonesmen are favorites to take the ex-sailor's eleven.

Other west coast games today are Oregon and U. C. L. A. at Los Angeles, Oregon State vs. Washington State at Corvallis, Montana vs. Idaho at Moscow, Gonzaga and U. S. F. at San Francisco, Stanford vs. Washington at Seattle, Denver vs. Colorado college at Denver, Wyoming vs. Colorado at Laramie, Utah vs. Utah Aggies at Salt Lake.

Guild Hall Entertains
 Plans have been made for the Guild Hall players to present their second C.C.C. entertainment Monday evening at the Brice Creek camp at Rajada. The same farce that was given at Oakridge will be used in this instance.

St. Mary's Hands Nevada Invaders 61 to 0 Drubbing

Moragans Run Wild Over Team From Reno; Touchdowns Made at Will

KEZAR STADIUM, San Francisco, Oct. 27.—(Special)—St. Mary's steam roller eleven trounced an overrated Nevada team tonight 61-0 in a game which saw the Gaels completely outplaying their weaker rivals from the opening kickoff. The Wolves showed none of the power that characterized their win some weeks ago over S. F. U. and the small crowd that witnessed yesterday's skirmish were content to sit back and watch Coach Madigan's second and third string play most of the game.

Business Matters Of Independents To Be Discussed

Milligan Opposes Prescott in Golf Finals Tomorrow

Playing against a man for whom he formerly caddied, Sid Milligan, campus golf luminary, will oppose Bert Prescott, Eugene business man, Sunday morning at 9:30.

The match, which will be played on the Laurelwood course, is the final one of the annual City Golf tournament. Milligan will be defending the crown he now holds while Prescott, a former titleholder, fights to regain it.

Both men have waded through strong opposition to enter the finals. Milligan defeated Don Olsen and Prescott downed Phil Mulder in the semi-final bracket in two close games.

University High Falls Before Fast Eugene Gridders

Led by Leonard Brown, the light Eugene high squad completely routed the favored Golden Tide of University high in their annual game at Hayward field last night. The final score was 26-6 in favor of Kramer's eleven.

Pushing over two touchdowns in the first few minutes of play, the Purple horde had the heavier campus men at their mercy the rest of the evening. Kramer's men showed a flashy offensive with Brown running wild for good gains and crashing over for three of their touchdowns. Perkins made the other.

The University high men fought hard all during the contest but could not seem to stop the hard-driving Brown on his off-tackle slants.

During the second quarter it looked like anybody's game but the Purple came back strong after the half. The score by quarters: Eugene 13 0 6 7-26 University 0 6 0 0-6

Phi Delts Lose To Sigma Nu In Fast Game

Yeomen Advance by Win Over Theta Chi

Beta Theta Pi Takes Uninteresting Tilt From Delts; "B" League Stars Monday

Monday's "B" Basketball Schedule
 4:00 Alpha Tau Omega vs. Beta Theta Pi.
 4:40 Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Chi Psi.
 5:20 Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Delta Tau Delta.

A Sigma Nu basketball team that just couldn't be beaten, overpowered an equally strong Phi Delt quintet by a 16 to 14 count in the feature game on yesterday's donut slate. With just three minutes to go, Phi Delta Theta held a 14 to 10 lead, but three timely goals from the field cinched the victory for Sigma Nu. Kelly, mid-get southpaw forward for Sigma Nu, tossed the deciding basket with just seconds to go.

Beta Theta Pi took a 17 to 5 decision from Delta Tau Delta in a very dull and uninteresting game. "Wee Willie" Jones, giant center who starred with Ashland normal last year was decidedly off form, but the Betas managed to pull through with a win.

The Yeomen hoop artists took a clean-out victory from Theta Chi in the final game on yesterday afternoon's schedule. The independents played a consistent brand of ball, and appeared to have another strong team this year.
