

Campa Shoppe New Scene for Journalism Jig

Annual Affair Scheduled
For Friday Night

NO-DATE MADE RULE

Willard Eberhart to Be in Charge;
Event Given Jointly by
Two Honoraries

The Journalism Jam, annual all-campus dance of Homecoming week-end, will be held Friday night at the Campa Shoppe. It was originally scheduled for McArthur court.

The Jam, which is open to all students, will be the windup of a big night of rallying and celebrating for the Homecoming game with Utah on Saturday. The big rally will disband before the starting time for the dance, and direct connection with the festivities of the evening is to be made.

Willard Eberhart, senior in journalism, is to be general chairman for the dance, which is sponsored every Homecoming week-end by Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, professional journalism honoraries.

The Jam is to be an informal affair, with no-date rules in effect. Admission will be 40 cents for men, 35 cents for women. Sherwood Burr's nine piece band will furnish the music.

The dance will carry out its traditional theme of decoration by being done in a newspaper idea. Newspapers, newspapers and more newspapers will cover the walls and ceilings, and all appointments will pertain to the "fourth estate."

G. R. Kirkpatrick To Give Address Tomorrow Night

Open Forum After Speech to Be Held on Questions About
Phases of Socialism

George R. Kirkpatrick, one of the country's most eminent socialists, besides making the public address that is scheduled for 8 o'clock Thursday evening in Villard hall, will appear at an open forum directly after the address, according to an announcement made yesterday by Wallace J. Campbell.

Campbell, who is president of the campus socialist group that is sponsoring Kirkpatrick's campus visit, said that the visitor will be open to questions on any phase of socialism.

Kirkpatrick is, according to Campbell, a widely known socialist, having run for the vice-presidency of the United States in 1916 on the same ticket with Eugene V. Debs, who made a number of sensational campaigns for the presidency.

Thursday's campus visitor is also the author of several books that have gained wide attention, outstanding of which is "War—What For?"

Special Session of Drama Is Planned

The director of the University drama department, Mrs. Ottilie T. Seybolt, and her assistant, Horace W. Robinson, will participate in a special drama session for public school teachers to be held in the Very Little Theater next Thursday at 7:15.

This special meeting is arranged in conjunction with the Lane County Teachers' Institute, an annual event, which is to be held in Eugene.

Subjects for consideration will be stage lighting, scenery construction, theatrical makeup, and rehearsal procedure.

Warrington in Charge Of Westminster Meet

Dr. E. W. Warrington, professor of religion, had charge of a meeting of the heads of the religious organizations on the campus and led the discussion on "Chief Current Problems of This University." The group met at Westminster house at 1 yesterday.

The next meeting will be Tuesday at 1 and Eugene Stromberg, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., will have charge. He will present data on foreign students attending the University for discussion.

Robed Friars to Pick Leading Male Seniors At Homecoming Dance

Black-robed Friars will march Saturday night at the Homecoming dance, it is rumored.

Reports reaching the Emerald yesterday carried the information that several prominent seniors will be bidden to fall in the march of Friars, indicating their selection to the most coveted of campus honorary groups. Membership in Friars is made up of the outstanding senior men, chosen on the basis of leadership and ability.

'Get-Wise' Party Slated for Tonight At Gerlinger Hall

Frosh Councillors Will Be Escorts
For 'Little Sisters' at Annual Party

Frosh councillors will be escorts to their "little sisters" at the annual "get-wise" party, to be held from 7 to 10 this evening in Gerlinger hall. Marygolde Hardison announced yesterday afternoon that all frosh councillors, who can do so must take their "little sisters" to the party, which is being given by Kwama and the councillors for all new women students, both freshmen and transfers.

Television and radio will be the theme of the four acts which constitute the evening's main feature, intended to acquaint the students with phases of campus life: honoraries, publications, hobbies and sports, manners and clothes. Hazel P. Schwering, dean of women, takes a prominent part in the acts.

Ten or fifteen members of the executive council of the Oregon mother's club are expected to attend the party in order to get an idea of women's campus activities, according to Mrs. A. M. Dibble of Portland, president of the council.

Kwama, women's sophomore service honorary, is financing the "Get-wise" party, which will consist not only of the four acts, but will also include special features and dancing for all who attend. Cider and doughnuts will be served in keeping with the time of the year, the day after Halloween.

Henriette Horak, sophomore journalism major, is general chairman. Assisting her are Ebba Wicks, Adele Sheehy, and as adviser, Marygolde Hardison.

Girls in charge of acts are Betty Allen, Roberta Moody, Louise Labbe, and Valbourg Anderson. Other committee chairmen are Mary Jane Jenkins, decorations, Virginia Younie and Evelyn Hayes, refreshments; Ruth Mae Chilcote and Helen Dods, invitations; Eleanor Elde, posters; and Ann-Reed Burrs, publicity.

Heads for Frosh Commission to Be Elected Thursday

Nominating Committee Members
Selected From YWCA
Frosh Groups

Candidates for offices in the Y. W. C. A. Frosh Commission were nominated late yesterday by a committee consisting of representatives from each frosh discussion group.

Those nominated are: president, Martha McCall, Grace Peck; vice-president, Mary Ellen Eberhart, Marian Smith; secretary, Charlotte Olitt, Glendolene Vinyard; treasurer, Elaine Comish, Jessie Long.

Members of the nominating committee, each of whom was chosen by the leader of her group, are: Frances Watzek, Starla Parvin, Rose Gore, Leona Davis, Barbara Smith, Jo Skene, and Gertrude Watson.

The polls will be open Thursday from 10 until 4 at the Y. W. C. A. bungalow. Maxine Goetsch and the old cabinet members will be in charge of the election. Only members of the Y can vote.

Survey of Movements In Religion Is Planned

At a meeting Monday of the religious groups sponsored by the Student Christian Council, of which the local Y. W. C. A. is a member, it was decided that a survey of modern thought movements in religion will be conducted. The Oxford group movement, a subject which is receiving widespread attention in religious circles now, will be the first to be studied.

Miss Lenore Casford, reserve librarian, has compiled a shelf of recent magazine articles on the subject, which are available to students.

Sales Satisfactory

Tom Stoddard, assistant graduate manager, who reported last night that sales of the newly issued "piggy" guide" are progressing in a satisfactory manner.

Alpha Delta Sigma And Gamma Alpha Chi to Have Float

Pledges of Men's Honorary Will Carry Sandwich Boards as
Pre-Initiation

At a joint meeting held yesterday afternoon at the College Side, Alpha Delta Sigma and Gamma Alpha Chi, national advertising honoraries, decided to sponsor a float in the Homecoming parade which is to be held this Friday.

Ed Cross, president of Alpha Delta Sigma, presided over the meeting, at which Louise Barclay and Tom Clapp were appointed co-chairmen of the float.

The six pledges of the men's advertising honorary will carry sandwich boards as pre-initiation, which is the custom of the fraternity before the formal initiation takes place.

It was decided to support the campus movie, "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," which is to be held at the Colonial Friday night.

Plans for greater cooperation between the two organizations in support of the annual winter term dance, the Krazy Kopy Krawl, and other campus functions in which the two units participate was decided on.

O. F. Stafford Returns From California Trip

Professor O. F. Stafford, of the University chemistry department, has returned from a trip to San Francisco, where he attended the quarterly executive meeting of the Pacific coast division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

At the meeting plans were laid for the yearly national meeting of the association, which is to be held at Berkeley, California, this year. During his stay Professor Stafford visited the Stanford and University of California campuses.

Faculty Member Meet Scheduled Today at 4

The regular monthly meeting of the University faculty is scheduled this afternoon in Guild hall at 4 p. m., it is announced in the latest issue of the faculty news bulletin.

Included in the business expected to be transacted at the session will be a statement of changes made in the graduate school by Dr. George Rebec, director of graduate work in the Oregon state system of higher education.

Mrs. Tuttle to Leave

Mrs. H. S. Tuttle, former house mother of the International house, is leaving for New York Thursday to join her husband at Columbia university. Mr. Tuttle was previously on this campus and is now doing research in education.

Ticket Sale Now Open For Homecoming Tilt Between Oregon, Utah

Tickets for the Oregon-Utah football game, a special feature of Homecoming day, are now on sale at the Co-op, the A.S.U.O. ticket office, and the Club Cigar store in downtown Eugene. An intersectional tilt, this game should attract a capacity crowd, Tom Stoddard, assistant graduate manager, said.

Allen Declares Discussions of Strife Useless

American and Japanese
War Improbable

DANGER ELSEWHERE

Dean of Journalism School Tells
Eugene Rotary Club of Trip
To Orient in Summer

There is no valid reason for talk of war between the United States and Japan, Eric W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism, told the Eugene Rotary club yesterday noon. Dangers rising from conflicting interests of Japan with Russia and Great Britain are more serious, he said.

The dean, who traveled with a party from the University in the orient this summer, explained the conflict between Great Britain and Japan. Recently, he said, Japan has come out ahead of Great Britain in the manufacture of cotton goods. Japan has paralleled every steamship line of the British and has forged ahead in other ways. Meanwhile, Great Britain, losing out in industry, is fortifying and strengthening her naval base at Singapore.

Diplomacy Needed
Unless skillful diplomacy is used, Dean Allen added, trouble is likely to result if, at a disarmament conference in the near future, Great Britain refuses when Japan asks naval equality and that the British neutralize Singapore.

Hurt feelings, he commented, are almost the only basis for any supposed conflict between Japan and the United States. Friendship between the two nations is exceedingly possible and desirable. There is no commercial rivalry between the two nations, their trade being of a cooperative sort.

As to the source of the "hurt feelings," Dean Allen pointed out that the Japanese were hurt at the United States exclusion act. America in turn became greatly concerned over the treatment of the Chinese. The United States wrote notes, and the Japanese were hurt; the Japanese ignored them, and the United States felt hurt; and so it went.

Party Well Treated
Attention and courtesy beyond imagination was shown the party from Oregon in its travels in Japan, Dean Allen told the Rotarians. "I feel that someone ought to say something for China, too, however," Allen remarked. "China may be disorderly, ragged, and poorly organized. Yet everyone admires, likes, and respects the country and its very remarkable people."

Chinese are the original "rugged individualists," he said, and it is impossible to govern and manage them except through their own methods. China is an old country, its history dating back thousands of years. Even their households today are much the same as they were before the birth of Christ.

The answer given by any Chinese to a question about his opinion on Japan in Manchuria invariably is about like this: "The Japanese are well-organized; they

Approves Project

Virgil D. Earl, dean of men, yesterday signified his approval of the new flaming 'O', which will replace the traditional bonfire of past Homecoming celebrations.

Dean Earl Favors 'Flaming O' Over Traditional Fire

Freshman Project to Light Sky
From Skinner's Butte as
Tribute to Old Grads

Virgil D. Earl, dean of men, yesterday expressed himself in favor of the new flaming "O" of the freshman class as a substitute for the old frosh bonfire. "It is a great improvement over the bonfire, not only because it will make a better display, but because it will save the freshmen time and work," he said.

Al Davis, appointed general chairman of the frosh flaming "O" by Fred Hammond, yearling president, selected his committee chairmen. They are Wallace MacGregor, assistant chairman; Don Thomas, business manager; Dick Bowe, assistant business manager; Emmet Onslow, chairman of construction; Harry Ragsdale, publicity chairman; DeWitt Peets, chairman of the guard; Bob Hollowell, chairman of lighting; Ted Blank, chairman of cleanup; and Jack McCullough, chairman of safety.

The flaming "O" will light up the sky from Skinner's butte Friday night as a spectacle for Oregon's returning grads.

Local Religion School To Hold First Meeting

The Eugene leadership training school, which is to be held in the First Baptist church weekly for six weeks, begins tonight.

Faculty members of the University are well represented in the school. Nelson L. Bossing, professor of education, is dean; E. W. Warrington, professor of religion, and B. W. DeBuck, professor of education, are faculty members.

The school is an annual institution and is intended as a training course for all church school workers, prospective workers, and any adults interested.

An entire shelf of books has been added to the old library for the use of the students interested in religious education.

Roscoe Nelson to Talk At Student Assembly On Thursday Morning

Roscoe C. Nelson, Portland attorney and chairman of the Oregon state board of higher education, will speak at a student body assembly tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Classes at that hour will be dismissed, the University administration announced.

The subject on which Nelson will speak is unknown as yet.

Plans Completed For Winter Study In C.C.C. Groups

University of Oregon Extension
Division to Sponsor Group
Work in Units

Plans for winter group study in the Civilian Conservation Corps camps of the Eugene district are being perfected by the University of Oregon extension division and hundreds of men in the camps are planning to take advantage of the work.

Miss Mozelle Hair, of the extension division, has made two visits to camps in this area and has discussed the plans with the men themselves. As a result of these investigations, she is able to map out regular study plans for the camps.

While the regular extension courses will be available for those C.C.C. men who can afford them, the extension division plans to sponsor group study within the camps. Materials will be furnished at no cost to the camps and reading courses will be mapped out. Officers and men selected within the camps will conduct the classes.

Miss Hair accompanied the drama department players to Brice Creek camp Monday evening and gave a short talk to the men. Mrs. Ottilie Seybolt, head of the drama department, and Horace Robinson, her assistant, presented a one-act play featuring Gertrude Winslow and Ethan Newman. Stewart Riddell sang, accompanied by Frank Ardell, and Dorothy Ann Clark gave short readings.

Major Charles H. Corlett, district commander, was present at the affair. Lieut. Roy Craft acted as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. G. Warner Arrives in Eugene After Visit in East

Director of Oriental Art Museum
Brings Back Choice Books
For Collection

Very early yesterday morning—3:45 a. m., to be exact—Mrs. Gertrude B. Warner, director of the oriental art museum, and Miss Marie Klockars, her assistant, arrived in Eugene after a summer spent in the East. They have been gone since early in July, a week after the Prince Lucian Campbell Memorial art museum was closed.

Mrs. Warner explained an untrue report that she had gone to England this summer: "My son Sam, who is a professor of law at Harvard university, and his wife went to England. They took their car with them and had a lovely trip. I stayed in Cambridge, Massachusetts, with my grandchildren while they were gone."

Mrs. Warner found a few choice books on oriental art for the museum library in New York, Boston, Chicago, and Los Angeles. At the world's fair she was interested chiefly by the art exhibition, which consisted of famous paintings by great masters from the best collections in all parts of the United States.

A careful reproduction of a Chinese temple was the only noteworthy exhibit of oriental art she mentioned having seen in Chicago.

Nine Campus Houses Will Lend Support to Homecoming Parade

The following living organizations yesterday pledged 100 per cent support to the Homecoming rally parade with the men's houses signifying their intention to participate in the pajama parade and the women's houses agreeing to cooperate by following their respective floats in costume:

Theta Chi, Alpha Tau Omega, Chi Psi, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Chi, Kappa Sigma, Delta Gamma, and Gamma Phi Beta.

Other houses wishing to pledge 100 per cent support may add their names to this list by calling local 271.

Pajama Parade to Feature Mammoth Rally Friday Night

Prizes for Floats to Be Given on Basis
Of Display and Noise Produced;
Mass Celebration Planned

A men's pajama parade will be the feature of the gigantic rally parade to be staged Friday night, November 3, when the entire campus swings into the spirit of Homecoming, according to an announcement made last night by Ed Schweiker, line of march chairman for the event.

Strictly noise-producing floats will not be considered in the prize competition, but prizes will be awarded on the basis of display and noise accompanying the display.

Every effort is being made by the line of march committee to see that all men students are in pajamas and in the line of march which will follow directly behind the floats. Women's houses will be represented by their membership in automobiles following their respective floats.

A fleet of automobiles, furnished by the Eugene Chamber of Commerce and carrying prominent alumni, will head the parade. The parade will form at 11th and Alder streets at 6:30 p. m. Friday.

A mass rally will be held between 6th and 7th on Willamette street, where the parade will terminate downtown, and judges will make their decisions from the reviewing stand.

Dance Is Planned
The annual Journalism Jam, sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, will put the finishing touches on Friday evening's gala celebration.

Costumes are to be in order at the Jam, which will be a no-date affair with admission prices of 35 cents for women and 40 cents for men. Women are urged to take part in the rally parade in costume in order to conform with the Jam admission requirements.

Bill Russell, rally parade chairman, last night urged that all houses turn in their float ideas with their budgets by 5 p. m. Thursday.

Rules Given
Floats will be judged by the number of women represented as a group following their respective floats. Rules governing prize competition are:

1. Appropriateness and originality shown in the creation of the float.
2. No team will be allowed to compete for prizes if it has not filed a budget before November 2 with Bill Russell. Cost is limited to $10 per each competing organization, $20 per team.

Many Students Enroll In Extension Branches

Registration fees for a group of 14 Roseburg students in required English have been received by the extension division. This group took the entrance English examination and all passed.

The fees for two groups in first term French in Bend were also received. These groups are to be led by Mrs. Clara Jasper Simerville, formerly of the University of Oregon. The group leader is not an instructor but helps in the discussion. Papers are prepared individually and sent to the correspondence department on the campus.

Mrs. Doris Buxton, graduate of the University of California, is leading a group of 18 club women in introductory short story writing at Klamath Falls.

Freshman Hand Book May Be Printed Soon

At a meeting of the Frosh Commission held last night, John Holloway was appointed chairman of a committee to look into the possibilities for the printing of a freshman handbook.

The commission, composed of representatives of the various living groups, in its last night's session also discussed general plans for the year an appointed Tom Dimmick publicity chairman.

The next meeting of the commission is scheduled for next Tuesday.

Former Guild Theater Player Now Magician

Ten years ago tonight, Virgil Mulkey was playing the part of Major Crespin in a Guild hall play, "The Green Goddess." Ten days from tonight he will be in Eugene again—this time at the armory, with a troupe of magicians and beautiful girl assistants.

He will put on a complete two-hour program of ancient and modern illusions, a few of which he first performed when he was a University student.
