

College Short Story Contest Is Announced

Prizes of $100 and $50 To Be Awarded

Rules Given; Entries to Be Made By April 15; Less Than 6000 Words

A college short story contest, open to all registered students of colleges and universities in the United States, has just been announced by Story magazine, which is sponsoring the competition, and offering prizes of $100 and $50 for the two stories considered best. The terms of the contest are as follows:

Stories submitted must not be less than 1500 nor more than 6000 words in length.

Each entry must be certified by a member of the faculty of the institution.

No college or university may submit more than two entries.

All entries must be mailed to Story on or before April 15, 1934.

The submitted stories are to represent the best selection, by qual-

200 Oregon Students Still Owe Installment; Deadline Set for Nov

fied judges, of the work of the students of the school year 1933-34. Such stories may be selected from the work done in English courses or they may be drawn from a contest specially designed to afford a selection. The story may or may not have first appeared in a college publication during the contest.

The editors of Story suggest the following procedure in the selection of stories to represent any institution: The English department may officially conduct the contest, extending throughout the school year, or calling for entries that may be judged in time to have the two selected stories sent to Story by April 15, 1934.

The English department in such cases may select judges for the campus contest. Or, if the English department does not wish to engage in the matter officially, a contest may be arranged through the application of some member of the faculty, or the campus literary periodical, or of a campus literary group or association. In the latter case faculty members should be represented on the board of judges.

All stories must be legibly written, preferably typewritten, on one side of the paper.

The winning story will be published in Story, September, 1934.

Story reserves the right to allow reprints of the winning story in short story anthologies.

Homecoming Treat

"College Coach," and "Hell and High Water" have been brought to the Mac in observance of homecoming. The former is very similar to "The All American" and other football shows.

"Hell and High Water" was written by the author of "I Cover the Waterfront," and concerns the character Cap'n Jericho. It is difficult to take Richard Arlen as an uneducated barge skipper, and Judith Allen, with her extreme eyebrows and generally overdone makeup, looks too artificial to be hanging about wharves.

McDONALD—"College Coach," Pat O'Brien, Ann Dvorak, Dick Powell, Lyle Talbot. Also "Hell and High Water," Richard Arlen, Judith Allen, Sunday, "Emperor Jones," Paul Robeson, Dudley Digges. Also "One Sunday Afternoon," Gary Cooper, Frances Fuller, Neil Hamilton, Fay Wray.

COLONIAL—"College Humor," Bing Crosby, Mary Carlisle, Jack Oakie, Mary Kornman, Sunday, "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," Buster Crabbe, Mary Carlisle.

By J. A. NEWTON

Among the song hits from "College Humor," are, "Down the Old Ox-road," and "Learn to Croon."

The Ox-road song is the one that'll stick with you. Crosby puts them across in his usual effective way.

In addition to the main feature, there is a comedy with Billy Gilbert, an imbecile very much like Ed Wynn. His hands are all over the place. He uses them about ten times as much as Zazu Pitts and quite as well.

"The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," coming Sunday to the Colonial, is another college picture, according to reports, but doesn't wander into the imaginative realm of today's show.

Buster Crabbe is a much better actor than most of the swimmers who have appeared in pictures. In fact, he compares favorably with a number of actors. Mary Carlisle, the sweetheart is also very good.

All stories must be legibly written, preferably typewritten, on one side of the paper.

The winning story will be published in Story, September, 1934.

becomes more and more degraded until he commits murder. He escapes from a chain gang and puts to sea as a stoker. He jumps overboard and swims to an island where he soon becomes emperor. He rules despotically until he oversteps himself.

In direct contrast to this is "One Sunday Afternoon," with Gary Cooper. It is laid in the '80's. The boy wonders if he's married the wrong girl for a period of some years. That's the story.

Card Stunts Will Be Shown Today By Rooting Group

Card stunts are to be revived at Oregon during today's game with Utah. A special rooting section in the center of the east grand stand has been specially organized to present the first card stunts of the year during the half.

The winning rally float and the two runners-up will be exhibited on the field between halves as a special feature of the Homecoming tilt, according to Tom Stoddard, assistant graduate manager.

Students will be admitted free to today's game on presentation of their student body cards, and will occupy stands on the east side of the field as usual. Rooters are urged to wear their yellow ties and rooter caps.

A number of general admission and reserved seats remain on sale at the Co-op, the A.S.U.O. ticket office in McArthur court, and Obak's restaurant and the Club Cigar store in downtown Eugene.

Tickets for the Utah game will be transferred to the box office at Hayward field after 11:00 a. m. today. Reserved tickets sell for $1.65, general admission tickets for $1.10, and children's admission 25 cents. High school students will be admitted for 25 cents on presentation of their student body cards.

Motto for Annual Event Demanded In Slang of 1923

"If any of you denizens of this institution of higher learning wish to glom them five kopeks, or scamper off with those pasteboards for the Homecoming game, you had better do an Iberian one-step on the keys of some one-lunged typewriter and then dash over to the little annex to the Ad building and deposit therein a slogan, fitting and proper for the Homecoming festivities before this day fades into the dewy and starry night."

With "Back to Honor Oregon" apparently established as Oregon's Homecoming slogan, students no longer see such paragraphs as this masterpiece of 1923 slang which appeared in the Emerald exactly ten years ago yesterday.

And how does this picture of Homecoming strike you? "Idea? Sure, we'll give you one—Oregon spirit, game with Aggies, bonfire, noise, crowd, and anything else that you want to take a chance on. Here's one—"Back again, Root again, Fight again, Broke again, Gone again, Flannigan."

Examinations Will Be Supervised by Taylor

Professor Howard R. Taylor of the psychology department has received a letter from Dr. Karl M. Cowdery of Stanford university, asking him to take charge of the Stanford entrance examinations to be given here and at Portland.

Applicants for permission to Pomona, Mills college, and Scripps' university will also take the examination, which is scheduled for next spring. Dr. Taylor has been in charge of these examinations every year since 1925.

Emerald Subscription Keeps Grad Informed On University Affairs

"It's Homecoming for me almost every day," one alumni—who doesn't live in Eugene, remarked yesterday.

"With the Emerald coming five days a week, I manager to keep pretty well informed about what's going on here."

He was glad to be back, of course. He says he thinks he's having a better time than usual because he knows what's coming next. For the benefit of other visiting grads who will want to know what the campus is doing this year, the Emerald business office will remain open from 9 to 12 today to take subscriptions.

Thespians-Frosh Dinner Postponed

The dinner for Thespians and freshman representatives from men's living organizations, originally scheduled for Thursday, November 9, has been postponed until Thursday, November 16.

Plans were changed at a Thespian meeting last night, since the dinner can not be held at the Delta Gamma house, where it was formerly expected to be given. It will probably be held at the men's dormitory.

Committees for the dinner which were appointed last Tuesday, are: entertainment, Betty Coon, chairman; Cynthia Cornell, Janet Hughes, and Elinor Stewart; reception, Doris Bird, chairman, Grace Peck, Margaret Rollins, and Eleanor French.

MORSE WILL REPLY TO ATTACK ON UNIVERSITY

The Journalism Jamboree last night, will be driven around Hayward field in order to give those who failed to see them an opportunity to do so.

Dance Tonight

Returning alumni will be guests of honor at dinner this evening at their respective living organizations. Complete programs have been planned for their enjoyment during the evening.

The annual Homecoming dance at McArthur court tonight will round out today's program. A concert at 3 p. m. tomorrow by the University band at the music auditorium will conclude weekend activities.

Registration of returning alumni will continue up to noon today. Alumni may also register at the alumni secretary's office in Friendly hall. Approximately 50 had registered at 5 o'clock yesterday, according to Robert K. Allen, alumni secretary.

The Student Church

ROSEBELLE HIMELSTEIN

With attempts at disarmament and other conflicting problems of the present day economic order, many perplexing questions arise.

From the pulpit down to the soap-box orator in the streets, we hear varying answers to the questions as to whether civilization can exist under the pressing octopus-like situations that make mere man feel cold, and almost lifeless in fact, that he is only comprised of a mechanistic make-up, stimuli and responses.

Several ministers in Eugene have selected current problems as sermon topics and they are attempting to prove that the morale of the people can be retained if a balanced spiritual attitude and level-headedness is maintained.

Presbyterian Church

"Is There a Personal God?" is the subject of the sermon that will be delivered by Rev. M. Weber at 11 o'clock. Preceding the service, a communion will take place and a reception to be held for the members of the congregation.

The Sunday school classes which are held at 10 o'clock, will be led by Dean Hazel P. Schwering who will speak on the social question; Dr. A. J. Mathews will speak about social perplexities; and Mrs. Genevieve T. Turnipseed selected as her subject "Today's Needs."

At 7:30, Rev. Weber will speak about "Christ in Great Literature."

United Lutheran

"The Heroic Passion of Christian People" is the sermon topic to be delivered by Rev. F. S. Beistel at 11 o'clock.

The Luther league will meet at 6:30. Their topic for discussion will be "Training for Leadership."

Christian

"Christ, the Way," is the sermon topic to be delivered at 11 o'clock.

Dr. Victor P. Morris will speak

First Congregational

"Why Man Fights" is the sermon topic selected by Rev. C. F. Palmer to be delivered at 11 o'clock.

At 6 o'clock, the student forum will present their round table discussion "What Hinders Disarmament?"

Fairmount Presbyterian

"The World Prays" is the topic that Rev. E. C. Clark will speak on at 11 o'clock. The young people's organizations will meet at 5:30 and at 6:30.

Westminster

At 9:45, James Bryant has selected as his topic for discussion

Drop back and let Charley or Mac cut your hair or shave your beard.

Why a Social Gospel?

A social hour will begin at 6 o'clock to be followed by a talk to be given by Dr. Howard R. Taylor on the "Free Will."

Unitarian

"Epics of Self-expression" is the sermon topic to be delivered by Rev. E. M. Whitesmith at 11 o'clock.

In continuing with the talks given by members of various denominations, Mrs. John M. Patton who will present the Episcopalian conception of religion and its ideals.

Methodist

"Science versus Religion" will be the theme of discussion that has been selected by the student forum to be held in the study of Rev. C. F. Ristow.

At 11 o'clock, the sermon "The Spiritual Price of Recovery" will be delivered by Rev. Ristow.

The Wesley group will have their social hour to be followed by a discussion led by Verne Brown, who has chosen as his topic, "The student attitude toward the church."

Christian

"Christ, the Way," is the sermon topic to be delivered at 11 o'clock.

Dr. Victor P. Morris will speak at 9:45 to the young people's organization. The Christian Endeavor will hold its meeting at 6:15. The meeting of the Young People's Missionary group will be held on Monday evening at the home of Eva Kulick, 1418 Olive street. Mrs. Haggman, a resident of China, will speak.

At 7:30, Rev. Childers will deliver the sermon, "How to Know God."

Grace Lutheran

In commemoration of the birth of Martin Luther, the founder of the Lutheran denomination and its ideals, Rev. M. C. Simon has chosen for his sermon topic, "How Long Halt Ye Between Two Opinions" to be delivered at 11 o'clock.

Advertising Honorary To Honor Five Sunday

A formal initiation of five members into Alpha Delta Sigma, national advertising honorary, will be held at 11:35 Sunday morning in Gerlinger hall.

Immediately following this meeting a banquet honoring the new members will be held at Lee Duke's cafe.

The men who will receive this honor are: Hubert Totton, Eldon Haberman, Don Thompson, Ed. Labbe, and John Zehnbauer.

Omega Entertains

Omega hall entertained Gamma Phi Beta Thursday evening with a dinner dance. The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Schumaker and Mrs. Josephine Stewart.
