As a Woman Sees It

By CYNTHIA LILJEQVIST

Quoting from Vanity Fair: "Now that the feminists have fought and won their battle, feminism is not a la mode. The bright woman should do everything within her power to conceal her brightness. 'Careers' for women have become 'old-fashioned'; she now wants it clearly understood that her place is in the home."

From the tone of this statement it is clearly gathered that the author thinks of feminism as a fad that caught the fancy of the twentieth century woman when the machine age freed her from her burden of household cares. In reality, feminism was not something to be treated as blithely as a trend, as "a la mode." It was woman's coming of age.

The introduction of machinery was the means whereby she could triumph in her long struggle against masculine subjugation and outworn mores. Feminism was the climax of an evolution, not a spontaneous generation. It lifted her from the shadows of existence to a vital role in a pulsating world; witness her education on the same basis as man, witness woman's suffrage, and her general absorption into the man's world as examples.

Through feminism, her long sought opportunity of independence and self-expression came. That is why it is ridiculous to consider it as a trend that can be thrown aside like the unpopular dictates of dame fashion. That the bright woman should do everything within her power to conceal her brightness is clearly the precept of a man, the greater part of whose ego depends on his feeling superior to women; or a woman, who, unable to stand on her own two feet must solicit man's protective instincts for her security. For centuries the memorial to the most woman has been, from necessity: "also, Mary, wife of the above." Now the chance has come that it be: "Mary, teacher, author, artist, business woman, even Secretary of Labor, to conceal her brightness with such opportunities would be to throw away her 20th century inheritance.

Preparing herself for some "career" can never be deemed "old-fashioned," for the modern girl who knows that the vicissitudes of fortune may make self-support a necessity. She knows that if nothing else, becoming proficient in some line will give her a feeling of assurance and independence throughout her life, that she will always have something to fall back on when her children have flown and domestic duties no longer bind her.

Two Honoraries Have Joint Dinner

The first social function of the two sophomore honoraries on the campus took place last Tuesday night, when Kwama entertained Skull and Dagger at a dinner, held at the Alpha Phi house, from 6 to 7:30.

With Adele Sheehy, Kwama president, at one end of the long oval table, and Mrs. A. L. Wall, Alpha Phi house mother, at the other, thirty men and women enjoyed a dinner of banquet proportions and sang in lusty voices.

Between courses and after dinner the group danced. A ping-pong table was popular with several guests.

Eleanor Eide was in charge of arrangements for the dinner.

Petition Granted To Independents

A petition was granted the new independent women's organization allowing freshmen to attend its meetings after 7:30 p. m. by the A.W.S. council. Reasons for the petition, which was submitted by Margery Thayer, president of the independent women, were that many women can come to meeting only after 7:30, and that if freshmen were not allowed to come at that time, many women could not belong to the group.

Ordinarily freshmen women are not permitted to attend meetings after 7:30 p. m., in accordance with a recommendation made this summer at the A.W.S. planning conference and passed by the heads of houses. Exceptions to this rule can be granted by the A.W.S. council.

Silver Tea to Be Given For Benefit of Children

The fortnightly club of Eugene will give a silver tea at Gerlinger hall this afternoon. All Eugeneans are invited. The purpose of the tea is to raise money for the instruction of handicapped children living in and about Eugene. A project for aiding these children was launched recently by the medical auxiliary of Lane county.

Mrs. Louis Seggel will examine the children to discover their particular handicap, for instance, an impediment in speech. Individual training will be given them by Ruth Hansen, specialist in physiotherapy, Claire Bryson, former University student, and other Eugene women.

YWCA to Install Frosh Commission Officers

Newly elected officers of the Y.W.C.A. Frosh commission will be installed at the next council meeting, which will be held Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Y bungalow.

The officers are: president, Martha McCall; vice-president, Mary Ellen Eberhart; secretary, Charlotte Ollit; and treasurer, Elaine Comish.

Elizabeth Seruggs has been appointed council adviser, and Maxine Goetsch will act as president until installation of the newly elected officers. The group discussion will be attended by Helen Binford, president of the Y. W. C. A., who will act in an advisory capacity during the coming term.

Gertrude Lamb to Be Soloist on YWCA Hour

Gertrude Lamb, soprano, will be featured this afternoon on the regular Thursday half-hour of music sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. The program will start at 4:45 at the Y bungalow.

Numbers on Miss Lamb's program are "I Heard You Go By," Wood; "Gray Days," Sullivan; and "Someday, Somewhere," Clark.

Marjorie Scobert, accompanist for Miss Lamb, will play several piano numbers.

PORTLAND OREGONIAN RECOMMENDS CHANGE

(Continued from Page One) peared fair or right to those who held it. It was an honest although a mistaken, prejudice. And it has waxed constantly instead of waning as time went on. It is time now for action to save the situation that has become intolerable. It is apparent that nothing short of a change in the chancellorship will do any good. And the board needs to act courageously without delay, not as a surrender to the chancellor opponents, but to meet a situation and to rescue higher education.

ANOTHER weekend of pleasure! Last time it was Homecoming and now the great weekend in Portland when Oregon meets Oregon State college. What a game that will be and what a weekend! Dances are being given by several fraternities, and then there is to be the dance given by the alumni of the University and of Oregon State college at the Masonic temple. A large number of alumni will be there and old friends will greet old friends. See you there!

Alumni Dance Skated

The Shrine ballroom in the Masonic temple in Portland will be the scene of a dance to be given Saturday night, November 11, at 9 o'clock by the alumni of the University of Oregon. Music is to be by Sherwood Burr's orchestra while the features of the evening are being furnished by campus talent.

This is to be the only official University of Oregon alumni dance during the week-end. All University alumni, students, and friends are urged to attend.

The chairmen of the various committees are Jack Benefiel, chairman in charge; Brian Mims, patron and patroness; Henrietta Lawrence, reception; and Slug

Palmer and Art Potwin, publicity.

Chaperon Honored

Alpha Gamma Delta sorority gave a tea Sunday afternoon at the chapter house to honor Mrs. Elizabeth Ramsby, chaperon. Hours were from 4 until 6 o'clock, about 400 being invited to call.

In the receiving line were Miss Mary Stewart, president of the house, Miss Maude Kerns, Mrs. Ramsby, Mrs. Nelson F. Macduff, Mrs. R. W. Rundlett, Mrs. C. L. Schwing.

Pouring was done by Mrs. Frank L. Chambers, Mrs. Harvey A. Wheeler, Mrs. T. H. Mehl, Mrs. John Kitzmiller.

Miss Catherine Watson was chairman for the tea. Mrs. Ramsby is among the newcomers on the campus this year.

Faculty Tea

The Oregon Women's Faculty club gave a tea yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Jasper Kerr. Hours were from 3 to 6, all women of the faculty and administration being invited.

Mrs. Kerr, Mrs. Fred N. Miller, president of the club, Mrs. Charles G. Howard, and Mrs. Calvin Crumbaker were in the receiving line.

Pouring were Mrs. Louis F. Henderson, Mrs. H. C. Howe, Miss Florence Alden, and Mrs. W. F. G. Thacher.

Mrs. Andrew Fish of the social committee was in charge.

Exchange Dinners

Exchange dinners and desserts for the week are numerous. Wednesday, Alpha Gamma Delta entertained Phi Delta Theta; Alpha Phi, Phi Kappa Psi; Gamma Phi Beta, Beta Theta Pi; Delta Gamma, Sigma Nu; Kappa Sigma, Alpha Xi Delta, and Delta Zeta personal women guests.

Today Zeta Tau Alpha is entertaining Beta Theta Pi; Sigma Chi, Pi Beta Phi, and Sigma Phi Epsilon, personal guests.

Reception Given

Dean and Mrs. J. R. Jewell, of the school of education, entertained at an informal reception in their home Friday night.

Guests were Chancellor and Mrs. W. J. Kerr and members of the faculty of the school of education and their wives and husbands. The faculty includes that of Oregon State college and the University of Oregon. Sixty guests were present.

Portland Scene of Dance

Pi Kappa Alpha is giving a pledge dance at the Portland Clark country club Saturday evening. Patrons and patronesses will be Dr. and Mrs. C. Lieser, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Fields, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Green. Robert Zurcher is in charge of arrangements.

Banquet Given

Delta Delta Delta gave a Founder's day banquet at the chapter house November 4. Helen Everett was the speaker for the evening. Mildred Thompson was in charge of the affair.

Alumnae Entertained

Zeta Tau Alpha entertained alumnae after the Homecoming game at dinner, after which there was a fireside and skit, Saturday evening, November 4.

AWS Theme Song Is 'Buy A Mum'; Orders in Today

Chrysanthemums here, chrysanthemums there, chrysanthemums everywhere. Especially wherever the A. W. S. is seen.

So much has been said about the A. W. S. mum sale—through every medium, from the Emerald to a song to the tune of "Hinkey Dinkey Parlez Vous"—that there's not much more to say. And probably nobody'd listen if more was said.

But just as one last short warning—students get the mums from Tommy Luke's next Saturday, delivered if they wish. "Help the team beat the Beavers," cries the A. W. S. to the women—and "Win the best girl with a mum" to the men.

Anyhow, the theme song is "Buy a Mum." Yes, chrysanthemums everywhere. And orders must be in today.

Vice-President of Phi Beta to Be Entertained

Phi Beta, music and drama honorary, is planning entertainment for Mrs. H. E. Stevenson of Chicago, national grand vice-president of the honorary, who will be in Eugene from November 13 to 16.

A tea is to be given in honor of Mrs. Stevenson, and other functions are being planned. The date of the tea has not been set.

The CREAM OF THE CROP IT'S Crowning Glory

INSURING FINE TOBACCO FOR future Lucky Strikes

Not many smokers have seen a fine tobacco plant in full bloom, so we show you this picture. Only a few of these fine plants are permitted to flower and to produce seed. These carefully selected seeds reproduce the following year the "Cream of the Crop" for your Lucky Strike, for tobacco must be grown from seed each year. This careful breeding of fine tobaccos explains why Luckies maintain the same fine, uniform quality from year to year—so round and firm and fully packed—free from loose ends.
