Stiner's Talk Calm, But Gridders Are Bit Jittery as Tilt Nears

MY players as well as myself consider Saturday's game at Portland just as we have other games on our schedule this year...

It is a little hard to take the youthful Corvallis mentor at his word and really believe that those Beavers are thinking no more of this game than they did of the Willamette tilt a month ago...

Crystal Ball, Jr., declines to pick the winner of this classic for fear that his school spirit will be blamed.

Fred Edwards, a Portland grocer will be one of the few neutral spectators at Saturday's "Big Game." Away back at the turn of the century Edwards was playing football for Oregon...

League Material Scanty Material of any considerable interest is coming in but slowly nowadays to the League of Nations publications department in the library.

Stiner Works On Offensive For Duck Tilt

Mitola Moves Up to First String in Shift

Orange Mentor Names List of Men For Portland Trip; Franklin To Do Punting

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Nov. 9.—(Special)—In an effort to end the Webfoot victory streak, Coach Lon Stiner spent most of yesterday's practice session polishing up his offensive.

Stiner has been giving Norm Franklin plenty of practice in punting to offset the brilliant kicking of Bobby Parke, Webfoot quarterback.

A last minute change last night saw Dan Mitola, second string tackle, moved to alternate right guard. Stan McClurg, ex-Franklin boy, fitted nicely into the gap left by Tomscheck during the W. S. C. game.

At the close of the practice, Stiner named the men making the trip to Portland. These included Tomscheck, Bowman, Woody Joslin, Bianco, Franklin, Pangle, Campbell, Clark, Heikenen, Pitts, Brown, Danforth, Wedin, Wagner, Devine, Bob and Bill Patrick, Kenna, Jarvis, Schwammel, Field,

Oregon Victory Is Predicted By Mikulak in Beaver Game

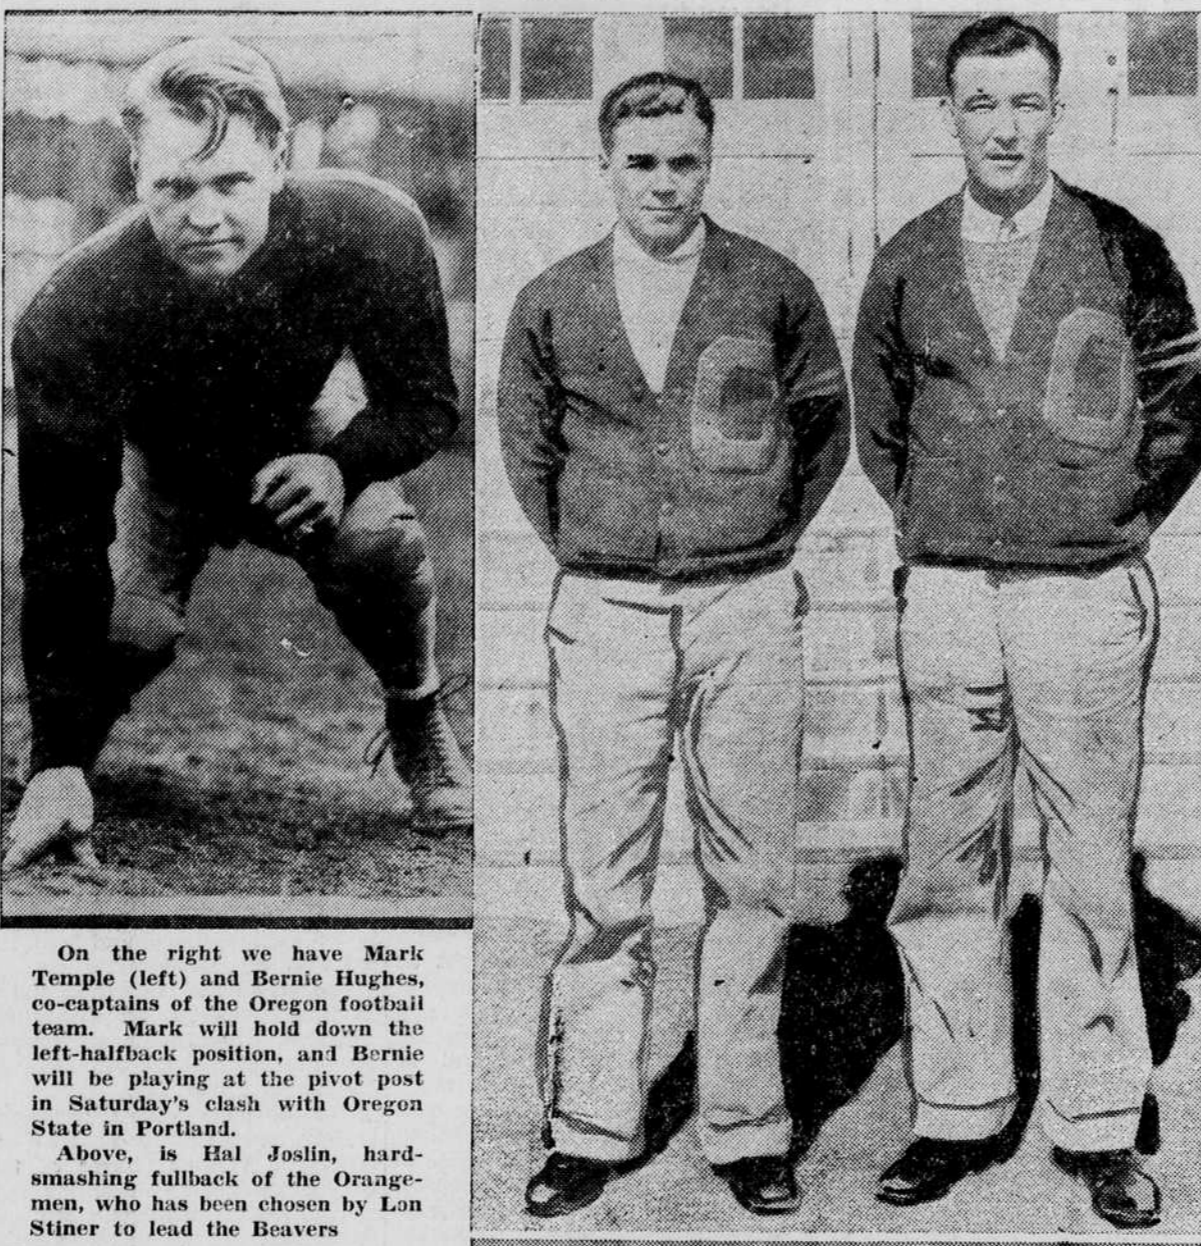

"We expect to win the game Saturday," is the opinion of Iron Mike Mikulak, Oregon's jolting fullback. "We aren't too confident for we know that the O.S.C. team is pretty tough, but we can't lose. The team is going to give everything they have in the line of plays, 'shoot the works,' in football language. We won't hold anything back because we are out to win."

Present Team Greatest It is said that the present team is one of the greatest of all in Oregon's history. Mikulak believes this is true because of the "spirit to win" that the fellows have.

"I would give 10 years of my life to play in the Pasadena Rose Bowl on New Year's day," stated the plunging fullback enthusiastically. "That is one game I would love to play, and I think that is the sentiment of the entire team. We have a very good chance to do it, too, everything depends on the 'big game' this Saturday."

Iron Mike came to Oregon in the fall of '30 with Doc Spears from Minnesota. As was rumored, at first this all-American aspirant thought of returning with Spears, but the Oregon spirit was so well

"Captains All!"

On the right we have Mark Temple (left) and Bernie Hughes, co-captains of the Oregon football team. Mark will hold down the train for New York, where they play Fordham, Nov. 18. Stiner has not yet indicated whom he will take east.

WEBFOOTS vs. BEAVERS Temple, Gee Team Is Rated Above Bowman, Franklin Combination

IN figuring advance dope on the Webfoot-Beaver game, it is possible to compare several Oregon players with the Orangemen who play the corresponding position, but the States have no combination to compare with Mark Temple and Leighton Gee, halfbacks. Oregon's co-captain and his running mate constitute a scoring threat no matter where they are on the field.

Pitted against them in the Orange halfback niches will be Norman "Red" Franklin and Pierre Bowman. Oregon has an edge when the halfback posts are considered together, and it may turn out Saturday that the Webfoot halfbacks

Johnny Bianco are each better than either Orange Mark Temple half. Nor is this any wild flight of pro-Oregon enthusiasm. Franklin was the star of the U. S. C. game, and that is enough to earn him almost as much praise as he has received. But look over this season's record of the Oregon halfbacks. Temple, injured, but leading his team on to victory over the Huskies. Gee consistently making long gains deep in enemy territory against strong conference rivals.

Bowman Shines Bowman has come in for only brief mention so far. As understudy for Hal Moe, Bowman won two letters, now he has joined the ranks of the regulars for the most dramatic season the State eleven has had in a long time.

Social Science Major "At first my major was social science, but on second thought it is economics." He has a year and a term of school before he will be finished, but he plans to work next fall at professional football, if he gets the opportunity, and then back here to finish.

Contrary to the popular belief that Iron Mike has a particular aversion for coeds, he thinks they are "swell." He particularly likes short girls who are rather quiet and not too talkative. "I'll be glad when training rules are over because I like to dance," added Mikulak.

Huskies Enroute South for Battle With Bear Eleven

SEATTLE, Nov. 9.—(Special)—Recalling eight years ago when they defeated both the Stanford and California elevens, the University of Washington Huskies headed south today with three full grid squads, intent on upsetting the Golden Bears at Berkeley on Saturday.

A week ago Saturday Phelan's men upset the dopesters with a 6 to 0 victory over the Stanford Cards and with this conquest under their belts hope to add another California scalp to their list by defeating the Berkeley men.

Phelan has been drilling his squad with scrimmages against California formations the last ten days. Following a final light workout the men were declared in fine shape by the Washington trainers.

downs on his first plays in two games. Van Vliet is probably the outstanding sophomore on the team. His end runs seldom fail to bring the spectators to their feet and he has recently polished up a dangerous passing attack. Jarvis is also a letterman and Clarke has the benefit of a year's experience. Milligan is a sophomore, but has had considerable experience this fall because of his specialty of conversions after touchdowns.

Ed Makela and Bill Patrick are the sophomore halfbacks on the Beaver roster. Patrick is a twin brother of Bob Patrick, reserve quarterback. Little is known of their work this year, although as rookies they showed considerable promise.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Beats Delta Tau Delta; Sigma Pi Tau Stops Chi Psi Hoopsters

No intramural basketball games will be played today as scheduled. Play will be resumed next week.

The strong undefeated Sigma Chi team added another victory to its list by trimming the Pi Kappas 46 to 2 yesterday afternoon. The other events of the day were the usual one-sided affairs with Sigma Pi Tau downing Chi Psi 18-10 and the S. A. E.'s winning over the Deltas 17 to 4.

Yesterday's tilts were featured by one fast game, a slow one, and a rough one. The fast game was played by the Sigma Chis. Led by Lewis and Faust, who scored 16 and 12 points, respectively, the Sigma Chis registered a one-sided victory.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Delta Tau Delta event was the slow one, with each team playing a ragged game. Once again little Freddie Lieuallen led his team to victory by scoring 8 points.

The roughest game of the day was played by the S. P. T.'s and the Chi Pisis. Fouls seemed to predominate in this tilt with both quintets committing many errors. Ballard of the winners was high point man with 7 counters to his credit.
