

Dean Issues New Student Regulations

Rules Must Be Observed, Says Mrs. Schwering

Parents' O. K. Required for Long Distance Drives; Residence Laws Given

The dean of women's office has released several University of Oregon regulations which are to be explicitly observed by students, according to Hazel P. Schwering, dean of women.

They are as follows: written permission from parents to drive long distances and to attend out-of-town football games must be on file in the dean of women's office before students leave town. Students are to leave the campus as soon as they have completed their examinations unless they have permission to remain, in which case they must keep all house rules and University regulations. If girls remain on the campus or in Eugene during vacations, they are to make arrangements to do so through the office of the dean of women.

Those students who are planning on living "out" winter term, or on changing their residence, must come to the dean of women's office before the end of the term. Students do not have to make out petitions this term.

Women students who do not live with relatives in Eugene or in sorority houses are required to live in the dormitories for the academic year. They may pledge sororities, but may not move from the dormitories to sorority houses until the expiration of the year unless granted permission in writing by the housing committee. Women students living in the dormitories also take their meals there.

Men students in the freshman and sophomore years who are not living with relatives in Eugene or in the regularly organized fraternities must live in the dormitories, unless given a special exemption in writing by the housing committee. Men students living in the dormitories also take their meals in the dining rooms provided for them in the men's dormitory building.

STUDENT MISTAKING CLASS ONCE AT O. S. C.

(Continued from Page One)

been playing safety for the Oregon Aggie aggregation against W. S. C. on the Vaughn street field in Portland. On the first play of that game several W.S.C. tacklers met Shadduck with the result that Shadduck spent the four following weeks in the hospital with a dislocated hip and collar bone.

Shadduck modestly explained that in 1910 he beat McClure, later the University's contender in the Olympic games of 1912, on the Eugene field. He also made the startling statement that at that time, one had to win all of his matches, in other words, emerge northwest champion of his class, which in Shadduck's case was 158 pounds or middleweight.

Shadduck recalled that there was only one fraternity house, Kappa Sigma Nu, on the Corvallis campus during his time, and that track jerseys were white, football dark blue, basketball red, and baseball black. When the wrestling team selected pearl gray as the color of their jerseys, the baseball team rose up and asked that theirs be changed to pearl gray. After the dispute which followed, all O. A. C. teams adopted the colors orange and black in 1911.

Following his schooling at Corvallis, Shadduck was a fireman for the Southern Pacific railroad for eight years and then engineer for 15 years. He is now married, chairman of the local committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, and occasionally pilots a train up the Willamette valley just to keep in practice.

When asked his reason for returning to school, Shadduck explained that he is the victim of "technological" unemployment.

Correspondence Study Aids Many On U of O Campus

Extension Division Service Used By Students Wishing More Hours of Credit

The extension division services of the University of Oregon, when used by University students, has the patronage of those ranking high scholastically rather than of the people who wish to make up flunks, according to Miss Mozelle Hair, head of the department.

Miss Hair explained that this is because it is harder to make up credit by correspondence study than to enroll in a regular course. The better students, however, use it to make up additional hours of credit or courses which they cannot work into their regular schedules.

Some special students on the campus are making up entrance requirements so that they can enroll as regular students.

One of the customers of the department is a lady, over 60 years of age, who is studying verification. Miss Hair says she finds in the work and the letters of this woman one of the delightful compensations which go with this usual hard work of any position.

MIKULAK RATES ON ALL-AMERICA TEAM

(Continued from Page One)

to a halfback post to make room for Mikulak.

Five Coasters Chosen

Perry selected five Pacific coast stars on his first team, while the United Press selection included only three gridders from the far west, Rosenberg, Warburton, and Franklin.

Jorgensen of St. Mary's won a tackle post on the Consolidated Press second team, which contained no other coast player.

Mikulak Selected

Smith of Washington, Corbus, and Jorgensen made the second all-American United Press aggregation. Schwammel of Oregon State, Canrinus and Wilson of St. Mary's, and Mikulak were included on the third team picked by McLemore.

Palmer, Erskine, and Griffith of Southern California, Moscrip and Grayson of Stanford, Siemerling of San Francisco university, Coats of U. C. L. A., and Paglia of Santa Clara were the Pacific coast stars obtaining honorable mention on the United Press selections.

SAN JOSE VERSE CHOIR WILL APPEAR HERE

(Continued from Page One)

United States and England have sprung up in answer to this situation.

Teachers have found that choral treatment of verse is a desirable method of stimulating interest in and appreciation of poetry. The dullness of silent reading and the terrors of single reading are done away with in group interpretation. Students have responded to the method with the enthusiasm usually given singing choruses and glee clubs.

Since verse speaking is seldom heard here, the drama department is proud to be sponsoring this program. An evening of enjoyment on a par with that of a music program is guaranteed.

A GOLDENWEISER, MOLL AND WILLIAMS TO TALK

(Continued from Page One)

Townsend named three of the speakers who will appear on the early part of the schedule.

E. G. Moll, assistant professor of English at the University, will deliver one of the early lectures on some subject dealing with the appreciation of poetry.

Alexander Goldenweiser, who is connected with the University's extension school in Portland, is scheduled to speak on the subject, "Our Economic Complex."

Professor Roger Williams of Oregon State college, another of the scheduled speakers, will present some recent discoveries that have been made in bio-chemistry in one of the first of the series of lectures.

Gleemen and Choir to Give Music Events

Concerts Scheduled for December 3, 10

Oregon, O.S.C. Groups Combine to Sing Yule Music; Eugene Men Will Follow

(Continued from Page One)

graduate students at the University, will be the soloists. Bishop is a baritone, and Eva is a tenor.

Program Presented

The Gleemen's program follows:

I
Hodie Christus Natus Est. Nanino O Fili et Filiae Leising
Dauk Sei Dir Herr Handel

II
Solos by George Bishop

III
Suabian Folk Song Brahms
One Who Has Yearned Above Tschakovsky
Calm As the Night Bohm
A Brown Bird Singing Wood

IV
Duet—
Solenne in guest'hora Verdi
Don Eva, tenor
George Bishop, baritone
Liebesträume Liszt
Three solos and chorus
Cora Moore, pianist
Don Eva, tenor
George Bishop, baritone

V
Turkey in the Straw Schaffer
.....arranged by Schaffer
Bird Songs at Eventide Coates
Comrade Song Bullard

DUCK, GAEL ELEEVENS WILL CLASH IN GAME

(Continued from Page One)

with such men as Jergensen, "Kear Tower" Yezerski, former Washington high star of Portland, and the Canrinus brothers, gives Coach Madigan the heaviest line in collegiate football circles. The Moraga "beef trust" averages 210 pounds against 185 for the Eugene gridders. This great weight advantage will prove helpful to the St. Mary's chances for victory.

The Galloping Gaels have tasted defeat twice this year. Madigan's squad was nosed out by California, 14 to 13, and lost a hard fought battle to El Trojan by a score of 14 to 7. They held victories over such teams as Fordham, S.F.U., U.C.L.A., Nevada, and College of the Pacific.

Ducks on Top

Madigan, a disciple of the late Knute Rockne, coaches a style of ball similar to that which his former mentor taught. The Oregonians will have to watch out for off-tackle thrusts, a feature by the Notre Dame system.

The Ducks, who ride along with Stanford at the top of the conference, ran up a string of eight consecutive wins until they fell before the men of Troy two weeks ago. Among the Oregon victims are such teams as Washington, Oregon State, U.C.L.A., Utah, Idaho, and Gonzaga.

Gael Lineup Named

The starting lineup for the Gaels, as announced by Coach Madigan, is as follows: Fred and George Canrinus at the ends, Jergensen and Yezerski at the tackle positions, Nebb Elduayan and Ed Gilbert at the guards, Merv Yates at center, Sid Ahern will call signals, Wilson and Michelini at the halfback posts and Gordon Partee will do the line plunging.

The Oregon lineup will be the same that started the Trojan tilt, with Butch Morse and Bud Pozzo watching the flanks, Alex Eagle and Gardner Frye at the Tackle posts, Bree Cuppoletti and Dutch Clark flanking Bernie Hughes at the pivot position, Bob Parke at quarterback, Mark Temple and Leighton Gee doing the halfback work, and Mikulak at fullback.

St. Mary's Wins Four

The Moragans have emerged victorious in all four tilts played between the two institutions. In 1929 they walked all over the Webfoots to win by a 31 to 6 score. The following years the Ducks outplayed the Gaels but lost, 7 to 6. In 1931, the southerners

Caffein Stimulant Bad for Students, Says Caniparoli

Decrease in Mental Efficiency Is Noted Some Time After Taking Drug

"Taking a stimulant in the form of caffeine tablets or caffeine citrate to keep awake for studying is a very poor practice, because although a student is able to keep awake, he is physiologically tired, and his mind can not function as well as it would when rested," stated Dr. Sante D. Caniparoli, of the University health service.

Following the taking of this type of stimulant there is a considerable let down. If the stimulant is taken the beginning of the week there is a marked degree in efficiency which may be noted in the examinations at the close of the week.

An average cup of coffee contains a grain and a half of caffeine, which will not harm any one, but one cup will hardly keep a person awake. Caffein is a mild stimulant to the central nervous system which causes insomnia, but one grain and a half is too small an amount to fight off sleep, he said.

Caffein may be purchased as straight caffeine in tablets form containing three grains, or as caffeine citrate, which is half as strong and contains citric acid, and contains five grains. It is not advisable, Dr. Caniparoli concluded to take more than three tablets in 24 hours, which is ordinarily 15 grains.

Five of Emerald Staff Earn Theater Passes

Five members of the Oregon Daily Emerald staff were awarded passes to the Colonial theater for outstanding work on the campus daily last week.

Winners of the awards were Dorothy Dill, Hilda Gillam, Gertrude Lamb, Marie Pell, and Cliff Thomas.

Tryouts for ROTC Rifle Team to Be in January

Again this year sweaters will be awarded to the ten best marksmen on the R. O. T. C. rifle team. Tryouts for the team will begin on January 1. Any student of military science is eligible and those who so desire should report to Sergeant Harvey Blythe at that time.

The Oregon team completed a successful season last year, placing second in the national corps area, which consists of nine western states, and taking seventh place in the national competition. Out of 32 matches in which they participated, they took first place in 27.

Classified

LOST—An Elgin wrist watch with brown strap. Call L. M. Fox at 1024. Reward.

LOST—A blue Conklin fountain pen. Phone Kikks, 485.

DRESSMAKING—Ladies' tailoring, style right, price right. Petite Shop, 573 13th Ave. E. Phone 3208.

FOUND—A durned good place to get the latest Brunswick records. The Music Box, 68 West Broadway.

PATTERSON—Tuning. Ph. 3256W.

Tonqueds to Give Christmas Dance On December 23

Ball Planned for All Townspeople, Students Not Going Home Over Holidays

The annual semi-formal Christmas ball given by Tonqueds, town girls' club, for all townspeople and students not going home for the Christmas holidays, will be held this year on Saturday, December 23. The scene for the dance has not been definitely decided upon, but it will be either at the Osburn or Eugene hotel.

Admission to the dance will be 75 cents a couple. The decorations and programs will be in keeping with the Yuletide spirit, and a campus orchestra will furnish the music.

The committee in charge of the dance is: Catherine Coleman, general chairman; Mae Schnellbacher and Eunice Elliott, ticket sale; Virginia Endicott, decorations; Eloise Knox, programs; Janet Hughes, patrons and patronesses; Ruth King and Dagmar Haugen, publicity; and Lois Platt, decorations.

Tryouts for ROTC Rifle Team to Be in January

Again this year sweaters will be awarded to the ten best marksmen on the R. O. T. C. rifle team. Tryouts for the team will begin on January 1. Any student of military science is eligible and those who so desire should report to Sergeant Harvey Blythe at that time.

The Oregon team completed a successful season last year, placing second in the national corps area, which consists of nine western states, and taking seventh place in the national competition. Out of 32 matches in which they participated, they took first place in 27.

Scanning the Cinemas

COLONIAL — "Tugboat Annie," Marie Dressler, Wallace Beery, Robert Young, Maureen O'Sullivan. Also "King Neptune," Disney Silly Symphony, Sunday, "Only Yesterday," and Disney's "Three Little Pigs."

McDONALD — "I'm No Angel," Mae West, Cary Grant, Kent Taylor, Gregory Ratoff, Sunday, "The Prize Fighter and the Lady," and "After Tonight."

It may be true, we don't know. We wouldn't admit it if we did.

The fact of the matter is that almost any average college man would be scared to death of a person such as Miss West portrays on the screen, and you mugs might as well admit it. However, none of us mind seeing what she has to offer on the screen. We don't mind placing ourselves in an atmosphere of badness. It is actually entertaining.

This can be proved by a canvass of the box offices after a West show. We, my frans, and about 75,000,000 other gullible males pay coin of the realm to get a couple of eyefuls (or should it be eyesful?)

Just human nature, that's all.

By J. A. NEWTON

Having seen "Tugboat Annie," one is put to it to decide whether Marie Dressler or Wallace Beery has the better part. Not performance, but part.

Beery figures very prominently in the climax. He crawls into the steaming boilers and nearly gets broiled alive in order to stop some leaks in the steam compartment. Marie figures prominently the rest of the time, what with trying to keep her husband sober and keeping peace, or some semblance of it, in the family.

"King Neptune," the Colonial's silly symphony for this week, again bears proof that Walt Disney has an artistic soul. The scene of the mermaids swimming for the king's amusement is full of rhythm and graceful movement. And let all screen charmers look to their laurels when the red-headed mermaid swims by.

Mae West, whose very own show, "I'm No Angel," is to finish the week at the Mac, evidently begins with the supposition that a girl can be quite entertaining (who gave that horse laugh?) and still have a good heart.

SPIRIT OF THANKSGIVING

(Continued from Page Two)

for!" queried Barney Clark, humor editor of the Emerald, emphasizing the "I." "I'm profoundly thankful that the millrace and I have not tangled this quarter, but I have my doubts about next term. Also, I think Virgil Earl is a very noble gentleman, but I'm thankful that I haven't had occasion to meet him formally."

Quick as a flash, Mary Jane Jenkins, day editor on duty for this morning's Emerald, answered, "What have you to be thankful for?" with five simple words: "That I can sleep tomorrow."

Sterling Green, Doug Polivka, Joe Saslavsky, and Don Caswell, whose names also appear on the Emerald masthead had but one great joy: "This is the last issue of the Emerald!"

"Patronize Emerald advertisers."

Dunn Gets Notification Of Quota Acceptance

Frederic Dunn, professor of Latin, has been notified of the acceptance of the quota assigned to him for the preparation of the British Medieval Latin dictionary.

This quota consisted of a collation of all applicable words, phrases, and idioms to be found in the chronicle "De Gestis Edwardi Tertii," written by Robert of Avesbury.

"It was a most delightful task," said Dunn. "I thoroughly enjoyed the naive and drollness of the scribe Robert. Edward the Third," he explained, "was a hero of the demi-god type, a king who could do no wrong."

Professor Dunn spent the entire summer on this work.

HARRINGTON ENJOYS TESTING OF REPORTER

(Continued from Page One)

seems to have the high lights on Harrington's favorite pastime, but he would not reveal the truth to the inquisitive interviewer. However, he does play chess, bridge, poker, and the only thing he enjoys at the movies is the Mickey Mouse comedies.

"Patronize Emerald advertisers."

CAMPUS Grocery
—and—
LUNCH COUNTER
1249 Alder St.
Try Our Turkey Dinner

WARM KNITTED GLOVES
Scotch and English Knitted Novelties

Bright Shades - - - colorful for winter wear. And they do keep your hands warm. 59c to $1.39 pair

THE BROADWAY INC.
30 EAST BROADWAY

"Not like others"

"I HUNTED all day long... and just knocked 'em cold."

"I smoke Chesterfields all the time and I'll tell the world...they're milder!"

Chesterfield
the cigarette that's Milder the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

© 1933, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

When You Go Home

ASK THE FOLKS IF THEY WOULDN'T LIKE TO HAVE A COPY OF THE EMERALD sent to them each day for the rest of the school year.

A CHRISTMAS SUGGESTION - - -

Give your folks a subscription to the Emerald for Christmas. They will appreciate nothing more than to be able to read a copy of your paper daily - - -

SUBSCRIPTION RATE $1.75 TWO TERMS
BEST OF LUCK IN EXAMS AND A HAPPY VACATION

Oregon Daily Emerald