Did You Know That:

DICK BLACK, captain of the Dartmouth football team of 1928, was so seriously injured playing ping-pong he had to be taken to the infirmary? Don't let this fact discourage all of you manly exponents of the game, however. It might spoil the tournament now in progress. Dick, by the way, ran a large splinter into his forearm.

Jack Sharkey's real name is Josef Paul Cukochay? Schmeling's correct cognomen is Herr Maximilian Siegfried Victor Schmeling? If you called Jack Dempsey, William Harrison Dempsey, he wouldn't object? That happens to be his don Henry.

In 1929 they were planning to use white boxing gloves in Illinois?

Several members of the University wrestling team are going to Portland soon to compete in the Pacific Northwest Amateur? Anyone interested in wrestling (afraid women can't get in on this) should go over to the men's gym afternoons at 4 and work out with the boys.

Mike Mikulak Unable To Play With All-Stars

Because of some official "crying" Mike Mikulak will be unable to play with the Oregon All-Stars when the team makes an invasion of Portland and vicinity this week end.

Mikulak will accompany the team, however, as referee.

The Stars will meet four teams on the trip. Tomorrow night they play Pacific college. In Portland they tangle with Murel Nehf's Columbia All-stars and Union Oil, the latter game taking place Saturday night. Monday the Stars journey to Tillamook for an encounter with the ocean city champs.

Duckling Hoopers Clash With Rooks Tonight At Igloo

Yearling Tilt Holds Sports Interest Here

Frosh Have Edge on Eve Of 'Civil War'

University and Eugene High Fives To Meet in Preliminary; Tilt Starts at 7:30

The Ducklings of Oregon and the Beaverlings of Oregon State will tonight renew the "little civil war" series at McArthur court, the first meeting between the two fives this year.

Gene Shields yesterday stated that the only frosh hoopers certain to start were Sam Liebowitz, guard from Brooklyn, New York, and John Lewis, of Seattle, who holds down a forward position. Helmken or Murray will start at the pivot post. At the beginning of the season, Murray, because of his superior height, was given the call, but Helmken has been coming along with a rush during the past few games, and is somewhat more of a scoring threat than Murray. Williamson appears to have the call at the other forward, while Faust is encountering stiff opposition from Hardisty at the other guard.

Rooks Work Hard

At Corvallis, George Scott, rook mentor, has been working overtime the last week to develop a defense. The team has been strengthened by the return of Art Merryman to the squad, giving Scott three good forwards—Torgerson, Merryman and Tuttle. Tuttle, who played quite a bit of football for the college yearlings, will probably pair with Merryman. Wellington will play center, and Deming and Kebbe guards.

Looking over the comparative scores of the two teams, one is forced to give an edge to the frosh. In the six games played thus far, the frosh have rolled through all opposition, defeating Longview high, 33 to 19; Eugene high, 22-19; Franklin high, 47-18; University high, 46-18; the Wendling Townies, 46-23; and Commerce high, 47-16, a total of 207 points to 113 for opponents.

Rook Record Impressive

The rooks, while winning only two and tying two, seem to have played a shade tougher opposition. Victories over Albany college and Corvallis high grace the baby Beavers' escutcheon, while they were smacked down by Salem high in an overtime tilt, and lost to Albany in a return game. The two defeats can be overlooked, however, as Salem is recognized as one of the best prep school organizations in the state, and if the rooks were hoopers enough to split with Albany the shade given to the frosh will be very slight.

Shields' reserve material, as well as his first string, seems to be superior to that of the rooks. The honor of being the outstanding man on the frosh squad lies between Liebowitz and Lewis. Liebowitz is easily the best floor player, and uses a deceptive change of pace. His main difficulty so far has been in getting acquainted with the Oregon system of basketball. Lewis has been outstanding in every game, and is

Yeomen and SAE Volleyball Teams Win 'B' Victories

Fijis and Delta Upsilon Go Down In Only Games of Day; Four Forfeits Are Recorded

Things were quiet on the donut volleyball front last night as four of the six scheduled games went the forfeit route. The Deltas won from Sigma Nu on a forfeit, Sherry Ross holds a forfeit victory over Omega hall, Theta Chi won when Alpha hall didn't appear, and Phi Gamma Delta annexed an unearned victory when La Casa Filipina forfeited.

The one interesting game of the evening was between Sigma Alpha Epsilon and the Phi Gamma Delta "B" team. The former won, 15-9, 15-12. Prospects were rather dark for the S.A.E.'s until Vander Zanden came along. It was his prowess that netted them a win over the Fijis.

The Yeomen "B's" had no difficulty in trimming Delta Upsilon two straight, 15-3, 15-5. Good-nigh did a big share of the net work for the independents.

well towards the top in the scoring column.

This game between the green yearlings should be, as other "civil war" contests, fiercely fought. The dope is liable to be upset, which may mean that the rookies might walk off with everything except the referee and Hayward field.

A preliminary game sees the perennial local prep rivals, Eugene high and University high, battling it out in the first of the series. These fives always put on a colorful, fast contest. The Purple Horde of Eugene once more has Ford Danner, center, who was ineligible for the first semester, available for the tete-a-tete.

Preliminary Starts at 7:30

The Eugene players have a fair record, smacking over all opposition except Oakridge, but said opposition has been nothing to scream about. University high has had a rather spotty season thus far, downing some opponents, and being trimmed in return by others. The return of "Bugs" Faust to the lineup ought to help the slipping Golden Tide, which lost to the farmer boys of Oakridge high the other night.

The high school contest starts at 7:30, and the yearling game at 8:30. Student body cards will admit the holder to both games.

Washington State Pennant Hopes Dashed by Vandals

Cougars Doped to Win Plenty More Games

Editor's note: This is the fourth and last of a series of articles by Dan E. Clark, Jr., Emerald sports writer, concerning the respective strength of basketball teams in the Northwest division of the Pacific Coast conference.

By DAN E. CLARK, Jr.
Washington State's pennant hopes took a nose dive last Saturday at the hands of the cellar-position Idaho Vandals, but we pick the Cougars to get some mighty sweet revenge before the season is over.

With Kenneth Wills and Huphtly McPhee, second and third in the Northwest scoring parade respectively, Jack Friel's boys give advance notice that they are yet to be reckoned with in the race.

The Pullmanites took two on the chin from Washington last week, yet this writer wouldn't be a bit surprised if the Cougars cleaned Washington in the remaining two and let Idaho down on the short end of a three-one series.

In Wills, Friel has one of the hardest men in the Northwest conference to guard. He is deadly accurate with that one-handed push shot of his from all corners from the floor, and anyone who has played against him will vouch for the fact that they wished they had a helper.

McPhee, the other high-scoring forward is a howitzer expert. His high looping long ones from near the center of the floor are likely to cause the Oregon Staters and their zone defense plenty of trouble when the Beavers and Cougars

Managers of Varsity Sport Events Named

Receive Honored Posts For Good Work

Birkinslaw, Woodin, and Golden Win Major Berths; Juniors Also Selected

The appointments of the student athletic managers for varsity sports were confirmed yesterday by the executive council of the Associated Students. The men selected as senior managers for the major sports are as follows:

Track—Hal Birkinslaw.
Swimming—Eldon Woodin.
Football—Paul Golden.

These men received this honored position following their good work in previous years in the capacity of junior manager. They will, of course, make all the trips with the varsity squads and receive a manager's letter award for the work connected with the position.

At the same meeting the executive council also announced the selection of junior managers from the group of candidates who were eligible for the position following their work as freshmen and sophomores in the capacity of first and second year managers. Any interested man may tryout during these first two years and the final selection of junior managers is made from the best of the group.

The men winning the coveted football places were: Sterling Boyd, Harold Peterson, Benton Hargreaves, Donald French, and Alfred Eames.

For swimming John Zehnbauer and Tom McCall will act as junior managers.

James Ringrose, Reed Swenson, and Tom Jones were selected last spring to act in that capacity for track and will retain their position.

Talk about one grand swimming meet! The Alpha Phis placed first in five (all) of the events, against the Chi Omega swimming team.

The 40-yard crawl was won by Caroline Card, and the 40-yard breast stroke ended with Dorothy Cunningham the winner.

Jean Burnett and Mary McCracken made the competition pretty stiff in diving, both of them trying for first place. Jo Poor, Chi Omega executed some good dives.

They say that Mary McCracken had never done the back stroke before yesterday afternoon but she placed second in that event.

Just another note: Alpha Phis hold first place in spectators, too. Too bad somebody doesn't donate a cup for them.

Second Place Ducks Set to Halt Huskies' 'Always Win' Habit

Webfoot Machine Most Logical Quintet To Upset Conference Leaders At Seattle This Week

The Webfoot invasion into the territory of the Washington Husky for the crucial two-game series between the first and second place clubs, tonight and Saturday at Seattle, becomes of even greater importance than heretofore as a result of the split in the two-game Oregon State-Idaho series, Tuesday and Wednesday, at Moscow.

Idaho, after quelling the Beavers in the first game handily, virtually eliminated themselves from further title consideration by dropping the Wednesday night struggle to the Staters. Oregon State drew a notch closer to the fatal elimination line by losing their third game in six starts.

To Reinhart's men must go the responsibility of stopping the undefeated purple-jerseyed five. The Webfoot machine appears not only as second to Washington in the conference standings but as the most logical five to halt the Huskies' winning streak.

The Reinhart system, with capable men to execute it this year, is fashioned perfectly for Coach Hec Edmundson's man-to-man defensive style. Although winning but two games out of 16 last year, one of the victories was an overwhelming drubbing inflicted to the Huskies at the close of the season, 41 to 26. Just what the far superior Oregon darkhorses of 1934 will do tonight and tomorrow will undoubtedly depend on their success at guarding the sharpshooting Husky forward, Bob Galer. Ken Wills effectively checked the flashy Galer in the first game at Pullman, which went to overtime and nearly resulted in a win for the hard-working but relatively weak Staters.

Oregon State to Play

The Oregon State five tangles with W. S. C. at Pullman tonight and tomorrow evening in the final two-game series of their present road trip. The Beavers lost the first game to Idaho Tuesday, when the Vandals began penetrating the zone defense of the invaders at will in the second half and went on to win the game, 31 to 25. The score at half time was 16 to 11 in favor of the Gillmen. Klumb, Vandal forward, scored eight points, and Fisher, guard, nine, to lead the winners' attack. Folen, Beaver center, garnered 10 points for the losers.

The next night the Beavers staged a comeback and downed their rivals, 32 to 23, with George Hibbard running wild to score 13 points for the winners. The Moscow team enjoyed a slight lead at half time, 13 to 12.

Series Crucial

The impending series with Washington State is the crucial reversal for the Beavers, as two reversals to the Cougars will eliminate the Corvallis team from the
