THE Masked Ball, which is being sponsored by the Associated Women students, will be held tonight in Gerlinger hall. The affair will start at 9 o'clock and promises to be one of the outstanding social affairs of the winter term.

It is to be the last dance of the term, and if rumors prove true, a good time is to be had by all. A mask and a ticket are all that is needed to gain entrance.

Masked Ball to Be Held

The Masked Ball, sponsored by the Associated Women students, will be held tonight in Gerlinger hall after the Oregon-Oregon State basketball game.

Art Holman's orchestra will furnish the music, and special features will include Jack Hammond, tap dancer; Ned Simpson, crooner; and Louisa Perry, blues singer.

All Oregon State students and members of the faculty have been invited to attend the dance, and many of the students are expected to remain after the game. Virginia Hartje is general chairman of the affair.

Above is Rosalind Gray, who was named to the presidency of the campus Y. W. C. A. at an election last week.

Graduate Wed

At an impressive ceremony held Saturday night at the Town club, Miss Elizabeth Lauretta Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Shepherd Martin, became the bride of Cecil Dayle French, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur LeRoy French of Grants Pass, Oregon. The service was read by Rev. Oswald W. Taylor before the large fireplace in the lounge.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a simple dress of ivory satin, made with long sleeves, a cowl neck, and a long train. Her veil of white tulle, edged with duchess lace, was caught about the head with a single narrow band of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Her attendants were dressed in similar dresses of white crepe and carried loose arm bouquets of Mason roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held. The bride's table was centered with two long, narrow silver bowls of miniature callas, and lighted by white candles in crystal holders.

Following the reception, the young couple left on a short wedding trip, after which they will be at home in Portland.

Mrs. French is a graduate of the University of Oregon and is affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta.

Patrons and patronesses were Miss Sue Badollet, Mrs. Alice B. Macduff, Mr. and Mrs. Dan E. Clark, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shumaker.

Roosevelt Kin Is Globe Trotter

On the last lap of a motor caravan trip around the world, Leila Roosevelt, cousin of President Roosevelt, arrived in San Francisco aboard the Mariposa determined to establish her standing as an independent traveler and explorer. Miss Roosevelt, on the right, was accompanied by Edna Olmstead, friend and "mechanic." Since leaving New York, the young women drove more than 16,000 miles from France to Australia.

Six-Fold Plan for Life Presented to Business Women

Author of "Life Begins at Forty" Offers New Rules for 1934 Working Girl

(Editor's note: The following is an excerpt from the San Francisco Chronicle in which Walter B. Pitkin, professor in the Columbia university school of journalism, author of "Life Begins at Forty," sets forth the new rules for the 1934 business girl.)

When the times settle down and women re-invade the business world, some of them will find that machines have taken over the routine jobs that used to be theirs. Today, the girl who wishes to succeed and remain in her position must use her brains, and create her own job. Originality, initiative, enterprise will be the means of her success and survival. So argues Professor Pitkin.

In order to accomplish this she must first study herself thoroughly until she knows wherein her strong and weak points lie. Next she must find out what were the mistakes of the women during the boom years. According to Walter Pitkin, her greatest mistakes lay in useless expenditure, not only of the dollar, which was used before the "famine years" had hardly begun, but of her energy. Much of her vital force was dissipated after hours; she cultivated too many friends, went to too many parties, movies, and clubs.

"But I'm young, I want to enjoy life as much as I can," the young business woman answered, troubled. Pitkin's reply explained his stand.

"My plan is a six fold one," he answers her. "She may well have two hobbies. One of these should require considerable dexterity with her hands. It may be violin playing, portrait painting, rug making.

"Then she should have on hand, to take up as she desires, two kinds of reading: first, serious and informative; second, lighter and perhaps more diverting reading.

"Last, she should have skill in two out-of-doors sports or games. These six interests should supply enough variety for leisure time to keep the dulllest job from oppressing the worker."

Walter Pitkin advised these striking do's and don'ts for the girl who is interested in getting and holding a job:
"Do not discuss, in the working day, your pleasures of the evening before."
"Do not work for friends; do not do business with friends."
"Unless you are extremely

Choosing of New Y.W.C.A. Cabinet Almost Complete

Rosalind Gray Makes Plans for New Year; Installation Banquet Tuesday

The cabinet members of the Y. W. C. A. are almost all chosen. Definite organization among the new officers is seen by the new president, Rosalind Gray. Miss Gray stated that one of the purposes for the new year was to make it possible for every girl interested in the Y to find something that would appeal to her. She hopes that with the cooperation of her new officers she can make this a very happy and successful year for the Y. W. C. A.

The annual installation banquet will be held at the Y bungalow, this coming Tuesday. At 5:15 p. m. upperclass commission will be installed. Geraldine Hickson is in charge. The installation of the regular cabinet of which Helen Binford has charge, will be held at 6:45. At 7:30 the frosh discussion group leaders will be installed; Margaret Pollitt in charge.

Jean Lewis is in charge of the banquet which will be held at 6 o'clock. About 80 University women will attend. Members of the banquet directorate are: food, Theda Spicer; serving, Charlotte Oltit; clean-up, Pearl Johnson; tickets, Maud Daggett; invitations, Maxine Bond; programs, Lillian England; and arrangements, Dorothy McCall.

The first activity of spring term will be the Cabinet Training conference, which will be held either at Triangle Lake or up on the McKenzie. Arrangements are being made to have an outstanding speaker. About 50 members of the Y. W. C. A. will participate.

FLOWERS BLOOM SIX WEEKS EARLY HERE

her slender form daintily dressed in white individual blossoms.

Now art majors show in their court Daphne Odora, a cluster of pinkish blossoms with a fragrance second to none. Across the court and almost shouting for protection is camilia, which resembles a red rose, and is plucked so often that she fears never to grow up.

At the main entrance of the art museum is Viburnum Tinus Lacres Timus, a bush with clustered white winter laurels.

The University raises its own shrubbery in the backyard. From now on there will be many different flowers blooming, according to present plans.

OREGON, O. S. C. TO VIE FOR SECOND STANDING

Contest Draws Attention
The opening game of the series tonight will be the cynosure of all sporting eyes, it being predicted on all sides that the tilt will be what the sport scribes dub "a natural." Oregon's spectacular rise from the conference cellar, Oregon State's drop from the championship, the traditional rivalry, the teams tied for second place, and Robertson, Hibbard, and McDonald named on all-northwest teams are some of the factors that lend appeal to the contest.

Probable lineups tonight:
OREGON O. S. C.
Robertson ..... F ..... O'Connell
Berg ..... F ..... Hibbard
W. Jones ..... C ..... Folen
Olinger ..... G ..... McDonald
B. Jones ..... G ..... Lenchitsky who desired these changes, will take cognizance of the vote and let it be a lesson to them.

Because I recently attended a meeting of a group of students before they were organized and did so out of curiosity more than anything else some have wondered if I had forgotten the ancient and honorable principles of Jefferson, Cleveland and Wilson and had fallen into the ranks of bolshevism and communism. I emphatically state that I am still a sincere Democrat. I have no connection whatever with the self-styled "Oregon Radical Club."

I most vigorously assailed communism and bolshevism at the meeting which I attended and then withdrew when it was apparent to even the most foolish that it was a group of communists, socialists, communists and reds. I want it clearly understood that I have no connection whatever with them. I believe in the principles of American government that have prevailed since our foundation and I am a Democrat, but before I am a Democrat I am an American.

Very sincerely,
