

Trade Group Of Pan Xenia Will Convene

International Affair to Be Held at Berkeley

Oregon Representatives Include Dudley, Gregory, Comstock; Lomax, President

An international convention of Pan Xenia, foreign trades honorary will take place at Berkeley, California, Saturday, April 14. These conventions are held every two years by the organization in the interests of fostering good international feeling and foreign trade.

Representatives from the University of Oregon chapter will include Arthur Dudley, president of the local group, Sherrill Gregory, secretary, and Roger Comstock. A. L. Lomax, professor of business administration, is the international president of the organization.

The Oregon chapter will take a leading part in the proceedings this year when it instigates a proposed plan whereby the business men of San Francisco and those of Seattle will be able to cooperate more efficiently with their respective organizations of Pan Xenia in their localities. The University of Oregon has accomplished a great deal through its close harmony with the foreign trade advisory board, consisting of many of the leading foreign tradesmen of Portland.

A dinner-dance will be held at the St. Francis hotel in San Francisco Saturday night in honor of the out-going officers.

BOVARD GIVES PLAN FOR FACULTY CONTROL

Since the committee had not been requested to adopt any definite plan, but merely to hear the proposals from various viewpoints, no vote or expression of opinion was recorded, although a majority of student and alumni opinion was obviously opposed to the Bovard suggestion.

Principal objections were based on the fact that the plan removed from student hands almost all control over extracurricular activities, that it did not meet certain intricate problems of athletic policy, and that it offered no solution to the financial relief of those needy students, crippled students, or those who for other reasons are unable to participate in student activities.

Jobs Open on Campus Daily; Students Asked To Report at Emerald

Anyone with journalistic ambitions who desires to do reportorial work on the Emerald is urged to see Malcolm Bauer in the Emerald news room between 1 and 1:30 p. m. today. Several positions are open on the reporting staff, and all those desiring positions on the staff of the campus daily next year should take this opportunity to gain experience.

It is not required that a student be a journalism major to serve on the staff.

Various other proposals were brought forth and discussed only briefly, since the greater part of the evening was given over to presentation and discussion of the Bovard plan. However, all the solutions suggested will be completed and drafted in written form, to be presented at a subsequent meeting of the committee, if President Boyer sees fit to call one, or submitted to President Boyer to be forwarded to the board.

Among the proposals were:

1. Continuation of the A. S. U. O. in its present status, under a plan of complete optional membership.

2. Collection of fees by the state board of higher education, and assigning them directly to such stated specific items in the budget as upkeep of athletic fields, coaches' salaries, and so forth. This would be a legal solution, since money collected as fees would not pass through the hands of the A. S. U. O.

3. Designation of the president of the University as the agent of the board in controlling student activities, with power to allot funds to each of the various activities.

4. A proposal for a half-optional, half-compulsory student fee. That is, a compulsory fee would be levied upon all students for those activities which cannot support themselves, as debate, musical organizations, and so forth, with students retaining the option of buying books of admission to athletic contests and similar activities.

Various other suggestions are in process of formulation. As a representative of the University alumni, Lynn McCready asked the privilege of preparing a separate plan, to be submitted within a few days.

If you want the final word in snap-brim smartness, try on a Stetson "Lakehurst." Rakish style built-in. The brim curls slightly at the back. And on the sides it narrows just enough to give that alert, clean-cut look that college men demand. In all the new spring shades. Now being shown, with other Stetson styles of the season, at your favorite men's shop.

Stetsons for spring are priced at $6 (unlined), $6.50, $8, $10 and upward. Also the Stetson MITY-LITE, new extremely light-weight "crusher," at $5.

RADIO CONTEST ENTRIES WILL BE DUE APRIL 11

The chairman for the contest and the judges will be announced later in the week.

Three years ago the last contest of this kind was held between the living organizations on the campus and proved very successful, much talent being shown in the presentation of the programs.

COLONIAL — "Cross Country Cruise," Lew Ayres, June Knight, Alice White, Minna Gombell, "Puss in Boots." By J. A. NEWTON

"Cross Country Cruise," as you no doubt gathered from the title, is another trans-continental bus story. "Fugitive Lover's" was the final one.

This one has one purpose, anyway, and that is to introduce June Knight. A nice girl—and adequate.

Story: Wealthy young man takes fancy to beautiful blonde who spills all her lacy underthings into his lap from a bus-top. He follows her and boards the same bus for S. F. Girl finds that the man she's running away with is a rat, and has a wife already, so falls for young man.

So in Denver the villain's wife is shot with an arrow, and as blond is an expert archer she's suspected. Young man to the rescue.

Alice White is swell.

Not Seen

Hal LeRoy, the Broadway hooper who portrays Harold Teen in the latest movie of that name which is at the Mac today, is a long, lanky lad who seems to be mostly legs when he starts dancing. He has appeared before in a few movie shorts.

Everybody is familiar with the comic strip, "Harold Teen," of course. All the familiar characters are represented in the show. The climax, so I'm told, is in a dance number in which the boy does his stuff.

And in the second place we have "Lazy River," a southern plantation affair. The teaser would indicate that the two (Jean Parker and Robert Young, (a couple of outstanding 'juvenile' screen personalities) imagine themselves up the lazy river, the picture dealing with this.

This may not be correct, but the teaser gave that impression. Full report tomorrow.

A. W. S. ELECTS NEW OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Many Votes Cast
Yesterday's voting marked one of the best turnouts there has ever been in A.W.S. elections, according to Jean Failing, A.W.S. president. Miss Failing stated also that she considered the elected officers a very good group of girls, and that she was sure they would carry on the work of the A.W.S. efficiently.

Catherine Coleman will begin the work of her office April 15, when she and Jean Failing attend the A.W.S. district convention in Tucson, Arizona. The old and new vice-presidents, Virginia Hartje and Virginia Howard, will attend the A.W.S. state convention in Ashland April 20. Installation of officers will take place shortly after they return.

Home Economics Head to Visit OSC Campus Saturday

Mabel Wood and Mary Starr to Attend Meeting in Honor of Visiting President

Miss Frances Zuill, president of the American Home Economics association and head of home economics at the University of Iowa, will be the guest of the school of home economics at Oregon State college Saturday. Professor Mabel A. Wood and Miss Mary E. Starr of the department of home economics at the University of Oregon, and Miss Janet Smith, dietitian at the Eugene hospital, will attend the meeting.

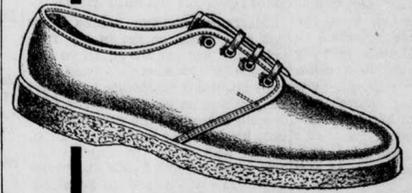

Miss Zuill will be entertained at a luncheon at 12 o'clock in the college tea room at the Memorial Union building. She is also listed to speak on the program following the luncheon. Other speakers listed are Miss Maude Wilson, research worker in the school of home economics at Corvallis; Edna R. Maples, president of the Oregon State Home Economics association; and Claribel Nye, state leader of home economics extension. Miss Nye will present an account of the housing conditions in Oregon and their significance from the standpoint of program planning in secondary schools.

Dean Ava B. Milam, of the Oregon State college school of home economics, wrote Professor Wood that they expect to have representatives of the home economics clubs, Omicron Nu, the national home economics honorary, clubs from high schools, home economics teachers, home demonstration agents, dietitians, institutional managers, home economics journalists, and home makers present at the meetings.

"It's toasted"
✓ Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

These are the Center Leaves—the Mildest Leaves—the heart of Lucky Strike

As you can see from this picture—Luckies' fine, smooth quality doesn't just happen—for we use only the center leaves! Not the top leaves because those are under-developed—not ripe. Not the bottom leaves because those are inferior in quality—they grow close to the ground and are dirt-covered, coarse, sandy. We select only the center leaves—for which farmers are paid higher prices—for the center leaves are the mildest leaves—they taste better—then—"It's toasted"—for throat protection. And every Lucky is fully packed with these choice tobaccos—made round and firm—free from loose ends—that's why Luckies do not dry out. Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat.
