AT 7:30 Saturday night, the doors of McArthur court will be opened, and all the thrill and novelties of an old fashioned carnival will be revealed to those who desire to partake of the gaiety to feature the A.W.S. Carnival. All forms of entertainment will be offered—from black jack to egg throwing, and dancing to Sherwood Burr's music may be indulged in for only a nickel. Among the amusements to be offered are bean board, bowling, basketball throwing, nail hammering, and the mighty sledge hammer.

Mary Snider is general chairman of the carnival.

Mortar Board Entertains
Tuesday afternoon members of Mortar Board entertained with an informal tea honoring all junior women and faculty members. The affair was held at the Chi Omega house from 3 to 5, and is given annually for the purpose of sponsoring student-faculty relations. Gertrude Hickson was general chairman.

Those in the receiving line were Lois Greenwood, Mrs. Alice Macduff, Mrs. H. A. Norton, Mrs. W. J. Kerr, and Mrs. C. V. Boyer; pouring were Mrs. May Harmon, Mrs. Charles Gray, and Mrs. James Blair; serving were Geraldine and Eileen Hickson and Virginia Hartje; assisting were Nancy Suomela, Helen Binford, Caroline Card, Ida Mae Nickels, and Eleanor Coombes.

Alumnae Wed
Betty Butler, daughter of Mrs. Wallace N. Livingston of Portland, became the bride of Carson Ganey Mathews, son of C. A. Mathews, Eugene, at a church ceremony held at the St. Michael and All Angels church in Portland, April 14.

The bride was given in marriage by her stepfather, Mr. W. N. Livingston, and was gowned in a lovely dress of Spanish lace. Betty Miner of Seattle was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Edna Mathews and Charlotte Redfield of Eugene. Frank Reid, also of Eugene, acted as best man.

A lovely reception was held at the Lake Oswego country club following the wedding. The couple enjoyed a short wedding trip up the McKenzie river and will make their home on the lake shore of Oswego.

Mrs. Butler is a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Mr. Butler is affiliated with the Sigma Phi Epsilon. Both attended the University of Oregon.

Spring Informal to Be Given
Tonight members of Delta Zeta will entertain at the chapter house with their spring informal. The decorations will portray a Scotch garden; Scotch plaids and "scotties" to be used. The music will be furnished by Sherwood Burr.

Patrons and patronesses will be Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Schwering, Mr. and Mrs. George Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Knollin, Mrs. Margaret Goodwin, and Mrs. Alberta Powell. Grace Rucker is in charge of the affair.

Spring Dance to Be Held
The John Straub Memorial spring informal will be given this evening at the memorial building. Sherwood Burr and his orchestra will furnish the music. Ben Saltzman is general chairman.

Concert Planned
The annual spring concert sponsored by the active chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, women's national music group, is to be held Tuesday, May 8. The event will be given in the campus music building at 8:15 o'clock. Featured artist on the program will be Aurora Potter Underwood, pianist. The Mu Phi Epsilon string quartet made up of Josephine Howard Chapman, violinist, Peggy Sweeney, violinist; Corinne Combs, cellist; and Ellen Dixon, violinist, will play. Edith Grim and Kathryn Orme, pianists, will also give numbers. Edna Whitmer, president of the active chapter, has named several members on committees for the concert. Mrs. Underwood, faculty adviser, is assisting in arranging the program.

Attend Meeting
Mrs. C. L. Schwering, dean of women at the University; Catherine Coleman, new president of the Associated Women Students; Mrs. Genevieve Turnpseed, director of dormitories at the University; and Jean Fallin, retiring president of the Associated Women Students, left Saturday morning for Tucson, Arizona. There they will attend the meetings of the western section of the association for deans of women and the associated women student presidents' group. They will be gone two weeks.

Wedding Held
Details of the wedding of Elizabeth Thacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. G. Thacher, to Eric Forsta have been received. The marriage was solemnized March 28, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Casey, formerly of Eugene, in Minneapolis. Dr. David Bryn-Jones read the service.

The fireplace of the Casey home, banked with greenery and early spring flowers and tall candles, formed the background for the service.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Dr. Casey, wore a dress of soft bronze-green crepe that had a gold thread through the braided trimming of self material about the neckline and sleeve cuffs. She wore a hat of gold lace and carried a large bouquet of freesia and sweet peas.

Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held at which several Oregon people were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Forsta will be in Minneapolis for a year. Both are graduates of the University of Oregon, where the bride is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma and he of Sigma Nu.

Social Evening
The Tonqueds club, organization of Eugene girls at the University of Oregon, met for a social evening, Tuesday, at the Pi Beta Phi house. Miss Helen Dodds was chairman for the meeting.

The program consisted of vocal numbers by Dorothy Parks, accompanied by Ida Mae Nickels, and numbers by the Pi Beta Phi trio, consisting of Helen Wright, Helen Osland, and Gertrude Boyle. The rest of the evening was given over to dancing and cards.

Mrs. Nelson F. Macduff, assistant dean of women, was a special guest.

The committee in charge included Evelyn Schaefer, Doris Bailey, Joy Carlisle, Alice Tillman, Joan Shelley, Elaine Comish, Lillian England, Ellen Hill, Madeline Giustina, and Agnes Ledahl.

Hendricks Hall Entertains
Girls in Hendricks hall entertained with an informal tea yesterday, for all girls on the campus. Alberta Wilson was in charge and Miss Hilda Swanson and Miss Helen Goodenow poured.

Phi Beta Tea Has Varied Program Of Music, Drama

Honorary Entertains Students and Townspeople at Affair in Gerlinger

Phi Beta, women's music and drama honorary, held its annual tea for campus women and townspeople from 3 to 5:30 yesterday afternoon in Gerlinger hall.

A musical and dramatic program was continued throughout the tea, under the direction of Frances Brockman and Mary Babson. A one-act fantasy, of Columbine and Pierrot, was presented by five members of Phi Beta: Helen Veblen, Mary Babson, Helen Harriman, Kay Briggs, and Pauline George.

During the afternoon several selections were played by the Phi Beta trio, which consists of Vivian Malone, violinist, Roberta Moffitt, cellist, and Theresa Kelly, pianist, and by the violin quartet, with Vivian Malone, Floy Young, Ellen Gale, and Clara Larsen. Robin Le Vee, soprano, gave a vocal solo, and Norma Lyons and Frances Brockman gave piano and violin solos.

In the receiving line for the tea were Mrs. W. J. Kerr, Mrs. C. V. Boyer, Mrs. O. H. Stafford, Mrs. Fred Chambers, Mrs. R. P. Dixon, Mrs. Howard Taylor, and Miss Patricia Sherrard. Mrs. Eric W. Allen, Mrs. James H. Gilbert, Mrs. James R. Jewell, and Mrs. Lyle Skinner poured.

Dinner to Be Last Kwama Function Before Pledging

Nineteen Freshmen Will Receive Membership in Honorary at Mortar Board Ball

The last social function of Kwama, sophomore service honorary, to take place before next year's pledges are chosen, will be a dinner to be held at the Anchorage at 5:30 Tuesday night. The dinner will be followed by a business meeting.

The women who will be Kwamas during 1934-35 will be tapped at the Mortar Board ball, April 28, where they will be presented with red tulips and red and black pledge ribbons. Until that time the names of the women who have been chosen are kept secret.

Nineteen freshman women are elected to Kwama each year, being chosen on the basis of service, leadership, personality, scholarship, and participation in activities. After the time of their initiation, which this year will take place soon after pledging at the Mortar Board ball, they will become active members, the old Kwamas automatically becoming inactive. However, during the remainder of spring term, both old and new members will work together on the different functions and projects of Kwama.

Student Teachers Should Apply Now

Prospective teachers are requested by Nelson L. Bossing, professor of education, to file their applications for student teaching with the school of education at once.

Professor Bossing said, "All students who expect to complete their work for a secondary school certificate next year and have not had supervised teaching are requested to file their applications for student teaching with the school of education at once. Forms for application may be secured at the office of the secretary of the school of education.

"All students concerned are urged to file their applications at once," he added, "because assurance of an opportunity to meet the state requirements for a teaching certificate can only be given qualified students if these applications are on file before the close of the spring quarter."

THE SAFETY VALVE

Of course we will try to appease our conscience with the argument that it was just a joke. But surely college students, who are about to step out into the world to assume positions of cultural leadership, should be capable of distinguishing between humor and base crudeness.

As I stated before, the students of the University, both as individuals and as a government have gravely erred. We should try to at least partly remove the ignominy that is ours today by according, to Richard Neuberger that which we owe him—a sincere apology.

Sincerely yours,
CLIFFORD B. THOMAS.

Scanning the Cinemas

McDONALD — "Jimmy the Gent," James Cagney, Bette Davis, Alan Dinehart. Also, "As the Earth Turns," David Landau, Jean Muir, Dorothy Peterson.

COLONIAL — "Forty-Second Street," Ruby Keeler, Dick Powell, Warner Baxter. Also, "Only Yesterday," Margaret Sullivan, John Boles.

By J. A. NEWTON

THE Colonial is pulling a surprise. And it is a honey! Bringing back "Forty-Second Street," and "Only Yesterday," both among the best pictures of last year. "Forty-Second Street" was within the first ten. It was second in the Time magazine listing, and I heartily agree with that position, except that it might have been first.

"Only Yesterday," while not among the first ten, is up pretty close. It served to introduce a new personality, Margaret Sullivan, who, if you ask me, is better than Hepburn, just to make a comparison.

"Forty-Second Street" plot: Baxter, a stage director, decides to put on one last show, despite physician's warning that it will be his end. Ruby Keeler plays the chorus girl who steps into the star's shoes when she fails the show.

Comment: An extraordinary bit of dramatic work. Warner Baxter does an incomparable job as the dynamic, machine-like director who burns himself out, practically, like an over-heated engine.

"Only Yesterday" plot: Boles and Sullivan carry on an affair in the trees by the lake one moonlight night when they've known each other only a few hours. Boles goes off to the war and doesn't remember the girl when he returns. Marries another woman while Sullivan bears it in silence. On her death bed she writes a letter to him retelling the story and refreshing his memory.

Comment: Bad morals, but fine dramatic material. Miss Sullivan without question is an outstanding actress. Young Jimmy Butler is swell, too.

Not Seen
The Mac pulled a fast one by not putting "Jimmy the Gent" on yesterday, nor "As the Earth Turns." "Wonder Bar" was held over.

So I can only repeat yesterday's breeze. In "Jimmy the Gent," James Cagney is a lawyer who looks up unclaimed estates and produces fake heirs for them. He takes a commission. Bette Davis leaves his employ to go to work for Alan Dinehart, also a lawyer, who doesn't look as crooked as Jimmy. "As the Earth Turns" is a homey saga of rural Maine life. Has three families and chronicles their loves and envies and hates, so Photoplay says.

Heads of Houses Has Meeting Thursday at 4

A short business meeting of the heads of houses was held yesterday afternoon at the Delta Delta house at 4 o'clock. The next meeting is to be at the Delta Gamma house.

It was emphasized at the meeting that women's houses do not go for any ticket 100 percent, and that all rushing dinners and teas for Eugene girls must be scheduled in the dean of women's office.

Dance Presented By Mortar Board Booked April 28

Ticket Sale Commences Today in Women's Groups; Kwamas To Pledge

One of the biggest dances of spring term is scheduled for the near future. The Mortar Board ball, sponsored by the senior women's honorary, will be held at the Osburn hotel Saturday night, April 28. At this formal dance, the Kwamas for the coming year are to be pledged. Nineteen outstanding women from the freshman class will be chosen on a basis of leadership and activities to be the new members of the sophomore women's service honorary.

The Mortar Board ball is one of those occasions when the women take the prerogative, and not only invite, but call for the men, as well.

Tickets for the ball go on sale in the various women's living organizations today. Eileen Hickson is chairman of the ticket sale. They are priced at $1 each, and a free ticket will be awarded to each representative who sells 20 or more tickets. A ticket will also be awarded to the coed who makes the greatest number of words from the letters of the words "mortar board."

The ball is the closing affair of Senior Leap week, during which the women are hosts to the men. Although the tickets will be put on sale at the Co-op next week, women students are requested to buy from their representatives when possible.

Ticket sellers in the various living organizations are: Alpha Chi Omega, Ruth May Chilcote; Alpha Delta Pi, Ruth Vannice; Alpha Gamma Delta, Elsie Peterson; Alpha Omicron Pi, Lee Chapman; Alpha Phi, Adele Sheehy; Alpha Xi Delta, Eleanor Wharton; Beta Phi Alpha, Gladys Gillespie; Chi Omega, Ruth Byerly; Delta Delta Delta, Bema Parker; Delta Gamma, Virginia Gaddis; Gamma Phi Beta, Gail McCredie; Kappa Alpha Theta, Cynthia Liljeqvist; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Nancy Archbold; Pi Mu, Betty Ohlemiller; Pi Beta Phi, Janis Worley; Sigma Kappa, Bobby Pickard; Zeta Tau Alpha, Mary Teres; Hendricks hall, Reva Hens; Susan Campbell hall, Betty Lou Lundstrom; Orides, Laura Goldsmith.

HELLO NOW! --

Well, everybody, tomorrow night is a big night, best you ankle down town for a brand new cool sport dress or a grand new hat to complete your outfit. Carnival nights are nights to celebrate, and you just can't celebrate unless you have something new. You do need several smart sport dresses, specially since most of the houses are wearing this type of dress for exchange deserts. It's so much cooler and awfully nice!

THE NEWEST WRINKLE --

Do you see the awfully smart Marinette dresses in all of the grandest shades—in other words the most important fashions of the season—and the variations in style make H. GORDON froeks more exciting than anything Sue has seen in ages. Some people are born with a taste for caviar—others have to acquire it! But this new delicacy—a mint phiz green dress with brown linen novelty collar and cuffs and brown buttons—well, try it and see if you're a born connoisseur! And then there is the sweetest red and white stripe dress with brown velvet trim. It's just a dream! Sue knows you'll like the swankiest blue and white number with a red leather belt and red buttons. It has a navy blue, three-quarter length coat with blue and white cuffs. It's a knockout! You'll just lose your mind about a dream of a yellow with brown linen trim. It has the cleverest tucking on the vest and sleeves of the jacket. Then there's a brown and white checked spectator sports with a brown taffeta jacket that fits like a glove and sort of does things to you. Individuality is the keynote of GORDON clothes and a black and white sheer wool with turquoise blue tie collar and buttons is ver' smart.

SOME BLURBS OF THE WEAK --

Sez Campbell (Beans) Larson to Tiny Estep, "Here's a swell mystery story. You said you wanted one that had a plot that was a secret until the very last. Well, in this one I guarantee that you won't know the butler did it until the very last page." . . . And then we hear that one of our dough heavy (?) campusites received the following telegram from his father: Send all available cash at once. . . . That is the height of optimism! . . . And then Marge Will sez that the old libe is our one skyscraper—10,000 stories—oh, my! . . .

TRUE SWANK --

Sue sez that E. HEIDEL HATS are the shortest route to the smartest heads on the campus. Here you'll find a collection that combines chic with economy. Do top off your sport outfit with an off-the-face sailor for the carnival tomorrow night. Perhaps you are one of those who looks just grand in one of the new shovel brims that dips over one eye and has a roll in the back. There is a perfect love in cream-colored rough straw with a brown ribbon trim. There are wide brims, small brims and no brims! You can't go wrong here. Be individual, get a hat that fits your type and enhances your personality. You budgeteers! You'll never know what your money can do till you try shopping at the E. HEIDEL SHOP. There is a perfect wide floppy brim of soft straw in shades of old Mexico. It's a real sun hat if you want to keep those freckles off the nose and it's awfully smart too. These hats are perfect in detail and style, all the latest and best colors, and intriguing details that make them all that you could ask in a hat—and as values go—they're irresistible!

SUE SEZ! --

Of course you noticed Elizabeth Bendstrup at the Frosh Glee in the best looking turquoise blue dress trimmed with brown grograin ribbon which extended around the neck and down the front in a bolero jacket effect. It had a brown belt. She wore a cartwheel brown straw hat and snake skin shoes. Awfully smart! . . . Pat Gallagher has a very good-looking deep coral-colored boucle suit with long sleeves and a high neck. . . . Sherwood Burr wears good-looking sweaters. . . . Music hath charms, they say, therefore the raison d'etre for Roberta Moody's smart brightly colored banjo-uke figured blouse! . . . WHAT PRICE GLORY? Don Thomas boldly and proudly declared in Social Science that he pays $17.00 for HIS shoes. Oh, Mr. Got Rocks! . . .
