

MALE JOURNALISTS

Male journalists will prepare tomorrow's edition of the Emerald. Not a feminine hand will participate. Edited by Don Caswell, the paper will be issued by an all-men staff. The women's edition will be issued Saturday, May 19.

DAYS OF OLD

Frederick Dunn, professor of Latin, begins a series of articles on early student life at the University of Oregon on the editorial page of today's Emerald. The series will continue throughout the remainder of the term.

VOLUME XXXV

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1934

NUMBER 110

Council Given Reorganizing Plans at Meet

Revision of Association Committee Proposal

TWO VIEWS OFFERED

Department of Administration of Extracurricular Activities Proposed by Group

Two plans for the reorganization of the associated students' organizations at Oregon State college and the University, proposed by the committee on extracurricular activities recently appointed by Chancellor Kerr, which met in Corvallis Tuesday, were presented to the executive council for approval at its meeting yesterday.

Both of the proposed plans provide that a department for the administration of extracurricular activities be created by the state board of higher education.

A full time administrator is provided by one (plan I), and a committee of three faculty members by the other (plan II), to have supervision over the associated students organization and to expend fee money, which would be budgeted to the department of extra-curricular activities by the state board.

Legal Aspect Factor
The second plan had been submitted previously to the executive council and approved. The first plan was presented and approved yesterday.

The chancellor has the authority to approve one of the plans submitted and to communicate with Attorney-General I. H. Van Winkle in order to prevent legal difficulties from arising, after which the state board will act upon the plan approved by Dr. Kerr.

The report of the athletic committee in which Ed Vail was appointed varsity yell king and George Schenk, alternate, was approved.

The council approved the reissue of three student body cards, which were reported lost, not received on registration day or stolen. The graduate manager was authorized to reissue one other card when he becomes satisfied as to the conditions under which it was lost.

Refunds of the student fee, requested by 12 students, was delayed, according to the minutes of the finance committee, pending a decision by the judiciary committee on two questions: "Does the executive council have power to refund fees?" and "Does the executive council have power to refuse fees?"

Complete Plans Listed
The following are the two plans presented to the council for revision of the associated students organization in full:

Plan I
1. That a department for the administration of extracurricular activities be created by the board of higher education.

2. That the department of extracurricular activities function in a manner similar to that of any other department in the colleges.

(Continued on Page Two)

Deep, Dark Monarchy Plans Threaten 'Tongueism' Rule

By HENRIETTE HORAK

Vive le roi! Back to monarchy! Down with Tongueism! Long live the king! The campus populace has definitely expressed its desires for a royal ruler by yesterday's overwhelming, sweeping, magnificent victory at the polls of Campbell Larsson as queen of the May, but since Queen Larsson has abdicated in favor of Queen Josephine, giving as his royal reason physical handicaps, namely a wooden leg, and a red toupee, it is suggested by campus politicians that Larsson be made royal consort of Josephine, namely, his majesty Campbell I and jointly rule with the fair queen. Wooden legs and red toupees are permissible for kings, point out the plotters, since some famous crowned heads of the gilded past have been known to be "block and figure heads."

Midnight peerings into the archives of the monarchists, deep in their secret dens, located 30 degrees east of the north-east-south-west prime meridian, in close proximity of the College Slide, have disclosed revolutionary plans to set up a campus monarchy! Aye, the

Guild Players in Action

Above are shown a number of the Guild hall players as they appear in "The Chief Thing," Russian comedy which is to be given at the Guild theater tonight and Saturday night. The players are, from left, Pauline Conradt, Neville Biden, Curtis Barnes, Gertrude Winslow, Rex Faust, Henry Roberts, Cynthia Liljeqvist, Bindette Nicklaus, Milton Pillette, Gwendolyn Caverhill, Maurice Pease, Helen Harrison, Bill Thienes.

President Boyer Addresses Club On Liberal Arts

Ideals of Education to Individual, Society Outlined to Group; Motives Named

C. V. Boyer, president of the University of Oregon, spoke before the Active club luncheon Thursday noon at the Eugene hotel, discussing the work of liberal art colleges in education, and revealing the need for increasing the scale of work done by the Oregon college of liberal arts.

Outlining briefly the ideals of education, to the individual and society, he named motives for education as comfort, health, ambition, efficiency, beauty, religion, play, and love of country, community, and home.

"To enrich the community, we must be rich within ourselves," stated Dr. Boyer, who also pointed out the use of service clubs to the community, which, he asserted, were founded upon the citizen's interest in the community, and desire to see it progress. "Service clubs and teachers have much in common in their functions, for they give and seek for the best things to do," further declared the speaker.

He set up as the ultimate purpose of education "cultivating the intellect to its highest power to socialize it, and also to develop the individual for the interest of his own good and that of the community."

Dr. Boyer averred that educators at the University have been hindered by economic handicaps. With no reserve left to carry on next year's program unless the legislature takes action, the efficiency of Oregon schools of higher learning will be considerably lower, he pointed out. He closed his plea saying, "There is need for support throughout the state to have greater allowances for the institutions."

'The Chief Thing' Fantastic Farce Will Play Tonight

"Silly lines, crazy setting," is the way S. Stephenson Smith characterized "The Chief Thing." It's fantastic, farcical burlesque. And it's going to be shown again tonight and Saturday night under the direction of Horace W. Robinson.

They'll all be there—Paraclete, the quick change artist, played by Ted Karafotis; the dancer, Gertrude Winslow, who knows how to be the flirting servant girl—and her husband, Neville Biden, who plays the lover.

Then comes the Roman banquet scene with the scarlet empress, Poppea, Cynthia Liljeqvist; the blonde cadaverous Nero, Henry Roberts; and the shrew Crispinilla, Helen Harrison. Not to forget that artist of the artistic directors, Milton Pillette.

It's high Russian comedy—with the scene shifting from a fortune teller's attic, to the back stage of a provincial theater (and you should see the pictures on the wall!), and finally ending up in a Russian boarding house.

Males to Publish Paper Saturday

Male Emerald workers will take over the paper today while the women take a much needed rest. The annual men's edition will appear Saturday morning.

A new typographical make-up will mark the men's edition this year, with all large type in sans-serif.

Every man who has ever worked on the Emerald is urged to get in touch with the various department heads today, since the staff has been depleted by the exodus of the women.

The staff that will put out tomorrow's paper will be headed by Don Caswell, with Don Olds as managing editor. Howard Kessler will have charge of making up the reporting coverage, Clair Johnson will be sports editor, and J. A. Newton night editor. Each of these men will have charge of his department to contact workers and arrange schedules.

New Officers Chosen For Asklepiad Group

New officers of Asklepiads, local pre-medics honorary, who were elected at a meeting last night are: president, Herb Armstrong; vice-president, William Ito; secretary-treasurer, Bob Cathey.

Retiring officers are: president, Jeff Brooke; vice-president, John Taibot; secretary-treasurer, Irvin Hill. Plans for a trip to the Portland Medical school were discussed. The date for this trip was tentatively set for the weekend of May 19.

Collection Still Lost
Articles turned in to the Lost and Found department at the University depot in the last two weeks are two slickers, two trench coats, one hat, two pair of lady's gloves, two pens, four textbooks, two note books, two suede jackets, and one pocketbook.

(Continued on Page Two)

Junior Gleemen To Be Formed by Chorus Director

John Stark Evans Will Organize Boys Between Ages of 16, 20 Years

Organization of a Junior Gleemen chorus in Eugene will begin within the next few days, John Stark Evans, director of the established Gleemen chorus, announced today. The Junior Gleemen will be for boys between the ages of 16 and 20 years.

A meeting, to which all boys interested in such a chorus will be invited, will be called soon, Evans said. Announcement of the date and place for this meeting will be made Sunday, Evans said.

Much enthusiasm for such a group has been shown among the senior Gleemen and among parents, according to Evans. The Junior Gleemen would take only those boys whose voices are capable of carrying the work.

Such a chorus will give many boys an opportunity to enjoy their interests in good music; likewise, such an organization will provide a worthwhile interest at an age when it will be most beneficial, the sponsors point out.

Evans and other Gleemen plan to contact prospective members during the next few days in plans to interest all boys of known ability.

Journalism Honorary To Announce Pledges

Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity, met Thursday afternoon at 4 in 101 Journalism building, Spring pledging was discussed and pledges will be announced next week.

Don Caswell and Sterling Green were appointed to act as judges for a country newspaper contest conducted among the smaller high schools. Judges will also be appointed from Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional journalism fraternity, to assist with the contest.

The men's honorary will meet again Thursday, May 10, at 4 in 101 Journalism building.

Salesman to Speak
Floyd Manville, of the Packard sales agency in Eugene, will speak to Prof. W. F. G. Thacher's class in salesmanship Monday morning at 9 in 106 Commerce on "Selling Automobiles." Any students interested are invited to attend.

Campus Calendar

Musical background for floats must be turned in to Sherwood Burr or George Schenk by May 4. "Organizations are urged to appoint committees to begin work on their entries of canoe fete floats at once. Only by early work will a smooth, well-organized fete be realized," stated Schenk, chairman.

The Japanese students, Tabata and Endo, will address Dr. Morris' 8 o'clock class in 101 Condon, and Dean Allen's and Professor Noble's combined 9 o'clock classes in 105 Journalism, this morning. All students interested are invited to attend.

Box-office-for "The Chief Thing," located in Johnson hall, will be open from 10 a. m. until time of performance.

Gall McCredie's Frosh Counselors will meet today in room 3 of Johnson at 4 p. m.

Frosh Counsellor directorate will meet today at 4 in the College Side.

Social swim tonight from 7:30 to 9 in the women's gym.

YWCA campus Mother's day tea directorate will meet at the YW Friday at 12:30.

Pioneer History Will Be Featured In Canoe Pageant

George Schenk to Be Chairman, Cynthia Liljeqvist Publicity Manger of Fete

"In past history, pioneers struggled and changed the wilderness of Oregon into a fantastic wonderland, beautiful beyond compare. This development up to present times will bloom before the eyes of students and their parents on May 12 at the presentation of the annual Canoe Fete, "Where Rolls the Oregon," George Schenk, chairman of the fete, explained last night.

The chairman and his committee promised that the pageant this year will be unique in that it portrays a unity of floats each succeeding yet dependent on the one preceding it.

In the past years the motif of the fete has been widely encompassing and the floats were startling in their variety. In the canoe fete of 1934, however, according to Schenk, each pair of organizations must portray in its float, some picture, character, or event from some familiar episode of Oregon's history.

Rules and regulations were given competing groups in order that they may have ample time to prepare their floats.

The unity of the pageant will be further carried out in the setting, with glamorous lighting effects, and historic scenes. The queen's arrival, and the preliminary vaudeville numbers will also be integral parts of the general scheme.

Another announcement made last night by Bill Davis, chairman of the entire weekend, was the appointment of Cynthia Liljeqvist to the position of publicity manager.

The directorate of the canoe fete as announced by Schenk, consists of the following juniors: assistant chairman, Will Davis; secretary, Roberta Pickard; transportation, Jim Ringrose; decorations, Miriam Henderson; construction, Scott Waters; finance, Ed Meserve; features, Fred Whittelsey; judges and awards, Grant Thuemmel; programs, Rupert Pray.

Officers Installed At YMCA Meeting

Robert Poley, sophomore social science major, was installed as president at last night's meeting of the campus YMCA in the Y hut. He succeeds Cosgrove La Barre, recently elected junior finance man on the A.S.U.O. executive council.

Other officers installed were: Vernon Nelson, succeeding William Gearhart as vice-president; Cosgrove La Barre, succeeding Jay Olson as treasurer; and Howard Ohmart, succeeding Vernon Nelson as secretary.

The Y members and officers also made plans for the Seabeck conference, educational gathering of college students from institutions of the Northwest which is to be held June 11 to 16. Vernon Nelson submitted a list of 50 University men, who will be interviewed during the next week and invited to join the campus delegation to the Seabeck conference.

Dorothy Dibble Chosen Honorary Counselor

Dorothy Dibble, junior business administration major, was elected grand counselor of the campus chapter of Phi Chi Theta, women's national commerce honorary, at the organization's meeting yesterday afternoon. As a result of her election, Miss Dibble will be the campus chapter's delegate to the Phi Chi Theta national convention to be held in Chicago this June.

Plans for a party for outstanding sophomore women business administration majors, to be given next Tuesday, were also discussed at the meeting.

Four Oregon Students to Be Sent to Tokyo

Selections to Be Made by Faculty Group

DATES JULY 19-26

Japanese Students Visitors Urge Attendance at Summer Good-Will Conclave

Four students from the University of Oregon will be chosen to attend the American-Japanese student conference to be held in Tokyo this summer July 19 to 26. The final selection will be made by a committee composed of Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel administration; Victor P. Morris, professor of economics; and Harrison V. Hoyt, dean of the school of business administration, according to a statement to the Emerald by Dick Near last night.

Haruo Endo and Edwin T. Tabata, the two Japanese students who are on the campus to extend a general invitation for attendance to the conference, will be in Dean Hoyt's office this morning from 10 to 12 to interview as many suitable numbers as possible, and to take applications from them.

The applications will then be turned over to the committee for final decision.

Class Speeches Set
The two are also scheduled to speak before Dr. Morris' 8 o'clock class in 101 Condon, and to the combined classes of Dean Eric Allen and Harold J. Noble at 9 o'clock in 105 Journalism building. Any interested students are invited to attend these meetings.

Immediately after luncheon at the Kappa house, the Japanese youths will leave for Corvallis where they will speak to Oregon State students. Tomorrow they will return to this campus for further conferences with students.

At the meeting held last night in Guild hall, at which Dick Near presided, the two visitors stated that the purpose of the conference

(Continued on Page Two)

Waffle Luncheon Patrons to Dance At Campus Affair

Features Planned for Afternoon Include Solos, Trio by Oregon Students

Campus men and women will gather at the Kokonut Grove Saturday afternoon to take part in a newly arranged waffle luncheon, with dancing to the strains of Sherwood Burr's band as an additional feature.

Hostesses for the afternoon will be Rosalind Gray, president of the Y. W. C. A., sponsor of the event; Eleanor Wharton, vice-president of the YW; Lois Greenwood, Virginia Hartje, Eula Loomis, Louise Barclay, Geraldine Hickson, and Eileen Hickson, senior members of the past YWCA cabinet.

Tickets for the affair, on sale in each living organization, are selling very well, according to reports. To each person selling 15 or more a free duet will be given.

Features for the afternoon will be songs by Ned Simpson, dances by Marion Vinson, songs by Louisa Parry, and numbers by the Phi Mu vocal trio.

The Waffle Wiggle will be held from 2 to 4 on Saturday. Each person attending the dance will receive a waffle and cup of coffee with his door ticket. Additional waffles will cost 10 cents each.

Patronesses at the Wiggle will be Mrs. Hazel Prutsman Scherwing, Mrs. Alice Macduff, Mrs. M. P. Barbour, Mrs. J. H. Stofiel, and Mrs. A. H. Norton.

Saturday, May 5, Last Day for Last Payment Of Spring Term Fees

Saturday noon, May 5, is the end of the regulation payment period for third installments on spring term fees, all students paying their dues after that time being charged 25 cents for every day until Saturday, May 12, the final deadline.

The majority of students have yet to make these payments, according to figures from the business offices in Johnson hall.

Group Organizes Club for Liberals At Recent Meeting

Paul E. Raymond, Law Instructor, Guest Speaker at Dinner Of 'The Score'

Formal organization of the first liberal club in the recent history of the University took place last night at a dinner meeting held at The Anchorage, at which Paul E. Raymond, instructor in law, was the guest speaker. The group, known as The Score, is limited to 20 students, all of whom are of graduate or upperclass rank.

Officers of the club are William J. Bruce, graduate in political science, president; Richard L. Neuberger, junior in law, vice-president, and Elizabeth Goodman, junior in social science, secretary. Josephine Rice and Stephen B. Kahn, law students, comprise the balance of the executive committee.

"The Score," it was announced by Bruce, "has as its primary purpose the discussion and exchange of ideas." Its designation as a liberal club is not indicative of any particular political inclination of the members, the term being used in its more general sense to indicate an attitude of free intellectual inquiry.

A weekly radio discussion over station KORE is sponsored by The Score, under the direction of Merlin Blais, graduate student in journalism. Addresses on the sales tax, Oregon counties, and Bonneville dam have already been presented. A discussion of utility regulation will be the feature of the next program Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Score is patterned after the Harvard Liberal club, meeting twice a month at dinner. Members are selected on the recommendation of the executive committee on the basis of interest in liberal and scholarly movements and general intellectual qualifications.

The membership of The Score is as follows: Merlin Blais, Henrietta Bruce, William J. Bruce, Wallace J. Campbell, Carl H. Coad, Joan Cox, Mary Gale, Laura Goldsmith, Elizabeth Goodman, Edgar A. Goodnough, Eileen Hickson, Henry Ireland, Stephen B. Kahn, James T. Landye, Raymond J. Morse, Cynthia Liljeqvist, Richard L. Neuberger, Douglas W. Polivka, Josephine E. Rice, Elizabeth Scruggs, Eugene Stromberg, Marion Vinson.

Regional Y secretary To Fete New Members

Out-going and newly elected members of the campus YMCA received an invitation yesterday from Dr. R. B. Culver, regional Y secretary, to be guests at his cabin near McMinnville on the week-end of May 25 and 26.

While on the outing the YMCA officers, with the help of Dr. Culver, will plan campus activities for next year.

Stories to Be Destroyed

Edison Marshall short story manuscripts not called for soon will be destroyed, Prof. W. F. G. Thacher announced yesterday. These entries may be obtained by calling at Prof. Thacher's office in the Journalism building.

Josephine, to Rule Festival, Is Interviewed by Reporter

By CYNTHIA LILJEQVIST
The guests of a down-town theatre were witnesses to a happy little drama in addition to the comedy they had paid to see on Wednesday afternoon about 4:15. An usher hurried down the aisles paging a name that would soon connote to the Oregon campus all the lovely blondness of Josephine I, queen of the most completely festive carnival of the school year, Junior Weekend, with its canoe fete, which this year is entitled: "Where ROLLS the Oregon."

As the queen herself put it when she was interviewed high on college crest, recreating the excitement of that moment: "I rushed out of the theatre thinking that cousin somebody had broken his neck or my car had been smashed, when suddenly 'out on the roof I heard such a clatter,' I mean, all my sorority sisters were crowded in the lobby and, I fear, frightfully disconcerted those within."

"They told me, that is they shouted—" Queen Josephine hesitated. "Anyway I'm to be queen of the May, mother!" The lovely Josephine laughed softly as she allowed herself this phrase. "I do want to thank everyone who supported me and tell them that I will fulfill my office,—oh no, that's not right, just tell them all that I appreciated it."

The rain pattered lightly on the top of her car and she bent her eyes thoughtfully down into the misty valley below. Slowly she continued:

"I love it here, this is where I come when I want to get away, but that isn't very often," she added, slightly embarrassed in disclosing her favorite haunts. "I'm not a Garbo-like recluse at all. I enjoy being with people; they don't fluster me. Perhaps it's my age, because I'm not impulsive or emotional—just go along in a quiet easy way."

How true this seemed, for the tall blue-eyed queen was resting peacefully in one corner of the seat, seemingly enjoying to talk, and thinking very carefully as she spoke. She not only enjoys the presidency of the Chi Omega house but of Heads of Houses also. She has served on AWS council for two years and was treasurer one year. Occasionally a splash of rain melted off her smooth cheeks and dropped on her buff blue swagger

Ducks Win 6-2 After Dropping Opener by 6-4

Two Errors Homer Aid First Webfoot Loss

DONIN PITCHES WELL

Clausen, Koch Star With Four Hits Each; Katsilometes, McNealy Lead Vandal Players

By CLAIR JOHNSON
The Oregon baseball nine came back to win the seven inning nightcap from the Idaho Vandals yesterday 6 to 2, after losing the first contest of the doubleheader by a 6 to 4 score, in an eleven inning battle. Although blasting out 12 hits, while Don McFadden limited the visitors to 5, the Ducks suffered their first conference defeat when the Vandals piled up three runs in the sixth, by virtue of two errors and a homer, added another counter in the ninth on two hits, and two more in the eleventh on a walk and two safeties.

Was Clausen and Ray Koch led the Webfoot batters in hitting, when each man drove out four safe blows in the two tilts. Katsilometes and McNealy were responsible for the Idaho victory and provided most of the opposition in the second contest.

Three Hits Allowed
Ike Donin hurled three hit balls for the Ducks in the short inning victory, while his teammates gave him much better support than they had McFadden in the opening clash.

The Webfoot nine opened this contest's scoring in the initial inning, when Maury Van Vliet walked, advanced on Clausen's sacrifice, and scored when Leute muffed Joe Gordon's infield blow. Two more counters were added in the third, when Donin and Koch walked, and crossed the plate on Gordon's single.

The other Duck runs were pushed over when Clausen singled, Gordon got on by fielder's choice, Hugh McCredie walked, Ivan Elliott singled to score Clausen and

(Continued on Page Four)

Late Orders for Caps, Gowns of Seniors May Be Arranged at Co-op

Seniors who failed to place their orders for caps and gowns and commencement announcements before the last Saturday deadline may make arrangements for late orders at the Co-op, it was announced yesterday.

In placing the class order, the Co-op manager made allowance for a limited number of tardy orders. Those seniors, who first place their requests, may arrange for their orders to come out of this surplus; others will probably be disappointed in their wish to have their late orders filled, the Co-op manager stated.

Josephine, to Rule Festival, Is Interviewed by Reporter

By CYNTHIA LILJEQVIST
The guests of a down-town theatre were witnesses to a happy little drama in addition to the comedy they had paid to see on Wednesday afternoon about 4:15. An usher hurried down the aisles paging a name that would soon connote to the Oregon campus all the lovely blondness of Josephine I, queen of the most completely festive carnival of the school year, Junior Weekend, with its canoe fete, which this year is entitled: "Where ROLLS the Oregon."

As the queen herself put it when she was interviewed high on college crest, recreating the excitement of that moment: "I rushed out of the theatre thinking that cousin somebody had broken his neck or my car had been smashed, when suddenly 'out on the roof I heard such a clatter,' I mean, all my sorority sisters were crowded in the lobby and, I fear, frightfully disconcerted those within."

"They told me, that is they shouted—" Queen Josephine hesitated. "Anyway I'm to be queen of the May, mother!" The lovely Josephine laughed softly as she allowed herself this phrase. "I do want to thank everyone who supported me and tell them that I will fulfill my office,—oh no, that's not right, just tell them all that I appreciated it."

The rain pattered lightly on the top of her car and she bent her eyes thoughtfully down into the misty valley below. Slowly she continued:

"I love it here, this is where I come when I want to get away, but that isn't very often," she added, slightly embarrassed in disclosing her favorite haunts. "I'm not a Garbo-like recluse at all. I enjoy being with people; they don't fluster me. Perhaps it's my age, because I'm not impulsive or emotional—just go along in a quiet easy way."

How true this seemed, for the tall blue-eyed queen was resting peacefully in one corner of the seat, seemingly enjoying to talk, and thinking very carefully as she spoke. She not only enjoys the presidency of the Chi Omega house but of Heads of Houses also. She has served on AWS council for two years and was treasurer one year. Occasionally a splash of rain melted off her smooth cheeks and dropped on her buff blue swagger

(Continued on Page Three)