

Strawberries Tonight

Strawberry sundaes will be served on the campus tonight at 6 by the W.A.A. Dessertless 5:30 dinners will be held in all houses.

Looking for Work?

Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel administration, writes the first of a series of articles on obtaining employment on page 2.

VOLUME XXXV

NUMBER 122

Bane Secured For Graduation Speaker Here

Welfare Authority Holds High Position

STUDIES CHARITIES

Lecturer Spoke on Campus for Commonwealth Conference Held in March

Frank Bane, director of the American Public Welfare association, for many years prominently identified with leading sociological and welfare movements in the United States, will deliver the commencement address for the University graduating class June 11, it was announced here today by Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel administration. As one of the principal speakers here last March at the Commonwealth conference, he was so well received that University officials invited him to return for the graduation exercises.

Bane is a graduate of Randolph Macon college and took graduate work at Columbia university. For a time he was professor of sociology at the University of Virginia, but most of his career has centered about welfare service.

After leaving the University of Virginia he became secretary of the state board of charities and corrections in that state, and later was administrator of public welfare. While serving in this position, Bane conducted several state surveys into public welfare and made a study of the county poor farms, with the result that a law was passed which made Virginia known as a progressive state in that connection. He also lectured for a time at William and Mary college.

The office of director of public welfare in Tennessee was next occupied by Bane, and more recently that of member on President Roosevelt's Committee on Unemployment. This position brought him in close touch with the administration in Washington, particularly with relief programs.

He has been closely associated with Harry Hopkins, director of relief, and has thoroughly studied many phases of the work now under way by the present administration. He is regarded as one of the leading authorities in the country in this field, and in his address here he is expected to outline what may be expected in the future, particularly in the field of education.

This spring Bane came to Oregon from his headquarters in Chicago to conduct a survey here in state charities and will write the report on this study while here in June. The American Public Welfare association of which he is director is subsidized by the Rockefeller Foundation of the University of Chicago.

"Frank Bane is a delightful public speaker," said Philip A. Parsons, professor of sociology, and an acquaintance of the welfare worker. "He has a fund of humorous stories, a pronounced southern dialect, and an entertaining way of presenting his speech."

Yes Indeedly, Judge Deady Was Most Imposing Man

By FREDERIC G. DUNN
Deady Hall's godfather was a most imposing personage, some intimation of which may be gathered from the enlarged photograph hanging in the auditorium of Villard. That grand head with the wavy hair and beard would have made Phidias blink if he were not already too blinded by his Olympian. And if, to substantiate that head, you can imagine a powerful frame and towering height, you will have the Matthew P. Deady who was first President of the University's Board of Regents from its inception.
My personal knowledge of him does not extend to his judicial offices in Portland. I was never arraigned before him,—thank stars!—for the very sight of him on the bench would have been enough to condemn me, even though innocent. I feel sure that no one was ever fined for contempt of that court over which Matthew P. Deady presided. He could have posed for Osiris sitting in judgment over Egypt's dead.
Whenever he made his annual

Scenes from Taming of the Shrew

The stage for Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" will be set in the open-air theater under the trees between the University library and Deady hall. The performances, under the direction of Otilie Turnbull Seybolt, will begin at 8:30 on the evenings of Friday and Saturday, May 25 and 26. In the above picture Petruchio (William Schloth) is whipping his beloved Katherine (Virginia Wappenstein) to submission. The onlookers are: Billy Allen, Althea Peterson, and Bob Cathey on the left, and on the other side Edgar Wulsin, John Casteel, Curtis Barnes, and Leslie Lewis. Below may be found the violent Katherine tormenting timid Bianca. Inset is a picture of Mrs. Seybolt.

Stage on Campus Is Scene for Play By Campus Group

'The Taming of the Shrew' Listed For Friday and Saturday by University Theater

Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew," which is being presented on Friday and Saturday, May 25 and 26, will close the University theater's present season. Weather permitting, the production will be given on a specially arranged outdoor stage between the University library and Deady.

Virginia Wappenstein and William Schloth will have the leading roles of Katherine, the Shrew, and Petruchio, her tamer. Bianca, the much abused sister of Katherine, is played by Althea Peterson, with Bob Cathey as her successful suitor, Lucentio.

In the present cast, which is rehearsing under the direction of Mrs. Otilie T. Seybolt, director of the University drama division, an attempt has been made to include faculty and townspeople as well as

(Continued on Page Four)

Sigma Delta Chi Annual Dirt Sheet To Reveal Secrets

It's just the same old custom even if it has changed its colors. The Green Goose, formerly called the Yellow Fang, and before that the Scarlet Sheet, is the famous four pages of scandal and dirt, published annually by Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity, for the past 15 years.

Tuesday, May 29, is the day when no one will be spared! All those things your daily associates thought were secrets will be revealed—faculty members, student body officials, men and women alike will have their private lives ripped open in the green columns of the dirt sheet.

Copies of the paper containing these startling revelations of the campus and those on it will be sold on the campus Tuesday, May 29, for five cents.

Local ROTC Unit Gets Excellent Army Rating

For the sixth time the University Reserve Officers Training corps unit has been given the rating of "excellent," it was announced Saturday by President C. V. Boyer, who received a letter from Major-General Malin Craig, commander of the Ninth corps area. Ever since 1928, when the system was first established, the Oregon unit has been awarded this rating.

The rating was given as a result of the report of Brigadier-General James K. Parsons, who recently inspected the unit. The corps is commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel F. A. Barker.

Two Former Oregon Men Now at Harvard

Two former members of the University faculty are now on the professorial staff of Harvard university, the new Harvard catalog, which recently arrived on the campus, revealed.

Samuel Bass Warner, son of Mrs. Gertrude B. Warner, donor of the University's Oriental art museum, and former professor in the Oregon law school, is one; the other is William P. Maddox, ex-professor of modern government and political science at the University.

Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi Banquet Will Be Saturday

Andy Newhouse Will Receive Book Award for Being Outstanding Sophomore Student

The annual joint initiation banquet of Phi Beta Kappa, scholarship honorary, and Sigma Xi, science honorary, will be held Saturday, May 26, in John Straub Memorial hall at 6 o'clock, when the 22 senior students elected to Phi Beta Kappa last week and a number of Sigma Xi initiates will become members of the honoraries, according to Professor Howard Taylor, chairman of the affair.

Linus C. Pauling, professor of chemistry at the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena will be the guest lecturer at the banquet, which is being arranged this year by Sigma Xi. Pauling is a graduate of Oregon State college, class of '22, and characterized by Professor O. F. Stafford of the chemistry department as "the most eminent scientist ever produced in Oregon." In 1932 he received an honorary doctor of philosophy degree from O.S.C. and in 1931 he was awarded the American Chemical society prize. Professor Pauling has lectured in England and at institutions in eastern United States.

A guest at the initiation ceremonies will be the sophomore student, Andy Newhouse, who was chosen last week as having been most successful intellectually on the campus as an undergraduate to win the Phi Beta Kappa award of $25 worth of books.

Members of Phi Beta Will Entertain Tonight

Patronesses and associate members of Phi Beta, women's professional music and drama fraternity, will be guests of the active chapter at a meeting at 7 tonight in Gerlinger hall.

Candle lighting service for Phi Beta seniors will be held, according to an announcement made by Helene Ferris, new president.

Those taking part in the program, which will be in honor of the patronesses and associates, are Joyce Busenbark and Mary Bennett, in a dramatic skit; Camilla Klekar, violinist; Arlene Soasy, Lorna Baker, Cecilia Werth, trio; Anne Booth, Robin Le Vee, June Yates, Gertrude Boyle, quartet; Mary Ann Skirving, dancer.

Webfoots Take Cougars, 9-8 In Pullman Tilt

Four Oregon Pitchers See Service

DUCKS LEAD LEAGUE

Lemon-Yellow Garners Five Wins In First Inning, Koch Scores Winning Rally

PULLMAN, May 21.—(Special)—The invading University of Oregon baseball team managed to eke out a 9 to 8 victory over Washington State today in a weird mixture of fine playing and grade school errors. The Ducks win put the series at one all, and gave Oregon undisputed possession of first place.

The Webfoot attack rolled in five runs in the first inning, materially helped by three walks and three errors. Joe Gordon, stocky shortstop, poled out a circuit clout, obtaining out of the two hits.

The Cougars lashed back in the sixth, when four runs trickled through the home plate, tying the score at eight runs each. Rosentangle, catcher, hit a double, as did Newcombe, outfielder, and Phil Sorboe, shortstop, hit a triple. Olie Arbelvide, first sacker, batted in Sorboe. The Ducks' winning run came in the ninth, when Koch walked, and was advanced home on two sacrifices.

Four pitchers paraded to the mound for Oregon in the successful effort to stem the Cougar tide. The two teams meet again Tuesday afternoon, in what may be the deciding game for the championship.

R. H. E.
Oregon ..... 9 8 3
Washington State ..... 8 8 4
Batteries: Gemmell, Donin, Bucknum, McFadden, and Fury, Vail; Hueston and Rosentangle.

Alpha Kappa Psi Holds Initiation for Students

Nichols is usually so far out in away were formally initiated into Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business administration fraternity, Sunday morning in Geylinger hall.

Following the initiation a breakfast in honor of the neophytes was held at the Marigold tea room. Dr. N. H. Comish, professor of business administration gave an address of welcome and explained the functions of the fraternity.

Sigma Delta Chi to Plan Farewell Dinner Meet

Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity, will meet today at 4 o'clock in 104 Journalism building. Plans for the farewell dinner-meeting for seniors which will be given at the end of the week will be discussed.

Further arrangements for the Green Goose, annual scandal sheet published by the fraternity, will be made. William Phipps is in charge of advertising for the paper, and Don Caswell, publicity.

Campus Calendar

- Elizabeth Bendstrup's frosh counsellor group will meet in room 3, Johnson hall, today at 4 o'clock.
- Daly Fund club will meet at the Alpha Delta Pi house at 7:15 tonight. All members should be present.
- "Taming of the Shrew" tickets are on sale at the Co-op daily, and at McMorrin and Washburne's afternoons all this week.
- Keys club will meet tonight in the basement of Villard hall at 9.
- Score meets at 9 o'clock Wednesday in Social Science department, Friendly hall.
- All ticket salesmen of the anti-military ball will please see Verne Adams at the Y hut this evening between 5 and 6:30.
- Roberta Moody's Frosh Counsellor's group will meet today at 4 in room 4 Johnson. A short quiz will be given, and all counsellors must hand in their two letters each.
- Junior-Senior Breakfast directorate will meet at the Y bungalow today at 3.

Music Conclave To Continue With Meeting, Classes

Teachers of State Hear Addresses By Authorities in Field; Social Events Held

Every section of the state was represented yesterday in the Oregon state music teachers' convention, which will continue through today in the school of music auditorium.

The chief events planned for today are the business meeting this morning at 9 o'clock, and a series of study classes in the afternoon, including piano, in charge of Frances J. Melton and Lillian J. Petri; voice, Paul Petri; and orchestra, Rex Underwood.

President C. V. Boyer gave the address of welcome, stressing the fact that children, if allowed, will favor the conservative, classical music, including folksongs, rather than the "jazz" type of music, which becomes popular overnight, and passes away as quickly. "We must strive to develop the imagination of the child when implanting musical appreciation," stated Dr. Boyer, "rather than mere sentiment."

Another address, given by Mrs. Anne Landsbury Beck, of the school of music, featured as the topic, "Developments in Public School Music." The speaker brought out the fact that talents in heretofore neglected rural and sparsely populated communities could be brought out, citing as an example, the interest taken in the recent Lane county rural music affair, and the quality produced.

Music in a higher phase was discussed by Dean U. G. Dubach, dean of men at Oregon State college, the speaker choosing as his subject, "The Value of Music in a College Education." He listed the values accruing from college experience as poise, leadership, and cultural value coming to students through development of artistic appreciation.

Metropolitan music organization has a voice in the program, when Delta M. Spencer, manager of the Portland symphony orchestra, talked on "The Symphony Orchestra Today and Tomorrow." The speaker predicted a bright future for symphony orchestras and

Sundae Sellers List Free Ducats For Faster Males

Step right up, men, if you expect to get a free dance ticket! The first 15 men to buy sundaes at the Strawberry Festival tonight will be given a free ducat.

All living organizations will serve 5:30 dinner tonight, but will not have dessert. At 6 o'clock fresh strawberry sundaes, at 10 cents apiece, will be served by W.A.A. members between the old libe and Commerce.

There will be a program of entertainment from 6 to 6:30 consisting of songs by Lou Parry, a Russian dance by Frances Kortynovich, songs by the Alpha Phi trio and other numbers. Sherwood Burr's orchestra will play from 6:30 to 7:30 for a tennis court dance. The dances will be 5 cents each.

The directorate for the Strawberry Festival is Mildred Ringo, chairman; Margery Kissling, assistant chairman; Ebba Wicks, in charge of strawberries; Martha McCall, in charge of preparation of the strawberries; Nancy Jeffery, posters; Jean Stevenson, properties; Jean Burnett, music; and Margaret Hunt, financial chairman.

(Continued on Page Two)

Fiji, Phi Mu, Yeomen, Sigma Hall, to Enter Radio Contest Finals

Student Name Omitted From Phi Beta Kappa Selections by Mistake

The list of those elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa, scholastic honorary as given in Saturday's paper omitted the name of Geraldine Hickson, through the omission of a complete line of type.

The list should have read "Eileen Hickson, Portland, business administration; Geraldine Hickson, Portland, English"; instead of "Eileen Hickson, Portland, English."

Gamma Alpha Chi, Alpha Delta Sigma Will Give Banquet

MacAuley, Advertising Director For Meier and Frank to Be Principal Speaker

A joint banquet to be given by Alpha Delta Sigma and Gamma Alpha Chi, men's and women's professional advertising fraternities, will be a special event of the advertising conclave which will be held in Eugene on May 26 and 27. The banquet, celebrating the tenth anniversary of the local chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, will be held at the Eugene hotel Saturday evening, May 26.

P. J. MacAuley, advertising director of Meier and Frank company of Portland, will be the principal speaker at the banquet. His subject will be "Advertising Ad Lib."

"I think we are very fortunate in getting MacAuley as our speaker," W. F. G. Thacher, professor of English and business administration and adviser of Alpha Delta Sigma, said. "He has just returned from an extensive trip to the east, where he studied merchandising and general economic conditions, as well as advertising practices. He is known as an unusually vigorous and stimulating speaker."

Cartoons by Eugene F. (Bunk) Short of Salem will also be featured at the banquet. Short, a graduate of '25, is well known on the campus as a cartoonist. Other features of the banquet will be announced later.

Invitations to the joint affair have been sent out. Associate, alumni, and active members, and delegates from Portland, Salem, Albany, and Corvallis will attend.

A reunion breakfast for Alpha Delta Sigma members will be given Sunday morning, May 27.

Weber, Kessler Lead In Reporting for Week

Winners of the Colonial theater passes for the most stories handed into the Emerald last week were Ruth Weber, 26, and Howard Kessler, 18.

Copyreaders who won passes were Marie Pell, with 36 points, and George Jones, with 20.

Varied Program Marks Last Concert of Music Convention

By J. A. NEWTON
The closing program of the convention of the Oregon State Teachers' association, given last night in the Music auditorium, covered such a wide range of music that an appropriate beginning is difficult to find.

The highlight of the program was, without question, the appearance of Frances Brockman, student violinist, who presented the Tchaikovsky Concerto for violin and orchestra. She gave this same number during one of the winter term concerts of the University symphony.

Comment is, of course, practically unnecessary in the face of Miss Brockman's musicianship. Technical errors, yes; a few small ones, perhaps, but half as many as one has a right to expect. It is to be remembered that this is one of the most difficult concertos for the violin, and further, that the great master, Auer, to whom the work was dedicated, would not attempt it, calling it too difficult.

$50 Cash Prize Offered For First Place

CHANGES ALLOWED

Beginning Program Listed Today; 1 Billed Wednesday; Others Follow on Thursday

Phi Mu, Yeomen, Sigma Hall and Phi Gamma Delta were announced last night as the finalists in the Emerald Radio contest by Walter Swanson, chairman. The finals, in which each of the four houses will repeat their original program, will begin today at 4:30 with the Yeomen making the first presentation.

The second program will be presented on Wednesday by Sigma Hall, and on Thursday afternoon, beginning at 4:15 Phi Mu and Phi Gamma Delta will put on their programs.

Phi Mu, the only girls' house in competition, will be competing for the first prize of $50 in cash, which was presented by several Eugene merchants, but, if they do not take first place, they will receive the second prize of a silver loving cup for the best opposite.

The programs are being judged using a point system for continuity, originality, presentation and popular appeal. Judges are: Walter Swanson, chairman of the contest; Naomi Harper, manager of KORE; Raleigh Wildman, announcer at KORE; George Callas, former radio editor; and James Doyle.

Although minor changes and additions may be made, the programs must remain basically the same as when first presented. The Yeomen program was composed of a male chorus and accordion soloist. They carried out an Old English ale-house idea. The Phi Mu program was on the order of an advice-to-the-lovelorn column in which the trials and tribulations of love-sick adolescence were solved and answered by song. A variety of music was offered by Phi Gamma Delta. "The Hiltoppers," a trio, two soloists, and piano playing were all rolled into this musical 15 minutes. Sigma Hall produced a program of comedy skits and gags.

The finals will bring to a close a four weeks of radio competition in which 16 of the scheduled 23 living organizations have performed, the others having been automatically eliminated by failing to appear at the studios. On the whole the contest programs have been commendable, according to Swanson, and it is hoped that the former interest in this type of competition has been revived.

Medic to Take Exam

Ira Manville, student at the University medical school in Portland, will take his doctor of philosophy examination Tuesday, May 29. Doctor Manville wrote his thesis on "The Influence of Prenatal Nutrition Upon the Deposition of Iron in the Livers of Fetal Rats and Its Influence in Enabling These Animals to Build Hemoglobin and Erythrocytes."