BULLETIN:
Portland—Announcement was made tonight that all interurban trucking service into and out of Portland was suspended as a result of a dispute between operators and union truckmen over the strike of butchers and bakers at the Swift and Co. plant here.

Call Workers to "Unite"
San Francisco—A call to the Workers of the World to "unite solidly in order to prevent what seems to be an approaching war" was voiced before the American Federation of Labor convention here today by William Green, its president.

In doing so, Green introduced John Stokes of London, Fraternal delegate from the British Trades Congress, who told the convention "the socialist principle has become the obvious and sole solution of our economic and industrial crisis."

Attorney Warns Labor
San Francisco—A warning to organized workers not to surrender their weapons in any industrial truce with employers was sounded before the American Federation of Labor convention today by Joseph A. Padway, Milwaukee labor attorney.

William Green, federation president, who had announced he would go to Washington after the convention here and discuss the truce proposal with government officials, would not comment on Padway's statements.

Workers Back Roosevelt
Washington—The organized textile workers lined up solidly behind President Roosevelt's capital-labor truce proposal, suggesting a six-months' armistice, but warning that "renewal of conflict" was imminent unless the peaceful methods suggested by the executive could be brought into "swift and effective action."

Roosevelt, hopeful for an end to industrial disputes, continued his conferences on the peace plan and recovery measures in general. He conferred with William C. Potter, New York banker-industrialist; Senator Wagner (D., N.Y.), author of much of the administration's labor legislation, and Hugh S. Johnson, former NRA chief.

Hauptmann Faces Test
New York—Bruno Richard Hauptmann, a stolid German carpenter, faced a battery of expert alienists tonight in a sanity test as Bronx county prosecutors won their demand for an early trial—to begin October 11—on charges that he extorted $50,000 kidnap ransom from Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Behind the locked doors of District Attorney Samuel J. Foley's office, the five physicians plied the suspect with questions, tested his reactions and subjected him to the minute examination by which science determines whether a man's brain is normal.

Insult Jury Sworn
Chicago—Jury of twelve men—farmer, banker, grocer, salesman, and jobless—was sworn today to sit in judgment upon Samuel Insull and the 16 men who were masters, with him, of the $143,000,000 corporation securities company now in ruins.

With their selection, the setting was complete for the trial of those 17 big business men charged with selling that company's worthless stock by mail.

Meier Appoints Coleman
Portland—Dr. Norman F. Coleman of Reed college, appointed by Governor Meier to the state board of the Automobile Accident Prevention association, expects cooperation in the work from Reed college.

Vanderbilt Fight to End
New York—The Vanderbilt-Whitney court battle for possession of little Gloria Vanderbilt apparently headed for a finish fight today as a brother and sister of Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt arranged to rush from Paris to deny charges she is an unfit mother for the $4,000,000 heiress.

Adjournment for hearings in the sensational case until Friday brought conjecture on a possible settlement, but it was promptly denied.

Almee Evades Court Order
Los Angeles—As to why she has not satisfied a judgment and costs against her, amounting to $7118, Almee Semple McPherson related

260 Students Receive Work Through FERA

Registration Is Expected To Reach 2500

Red Book Changed

O.S.C. Shows Enrollment Increase of Similar Proportions

Two hundred and sixty students have been employed this term under funds provided by the Federal government according to Earl M. Pallett, chairman of the Federal Student relief committee. The work has been evenly distributed between old and new students with earnings averaging $15 a month.

The Federal government has allotted $3,525 a month to the University for the entire school year. Only those students who could not otherwise attend the University have been given F.E.R.A. work. Thirty-five cents an hour will be paid.

Work Varied
The work includes library assistance, clerical work, stenography, and assistance with research projects. This will make it possible for the University to have many jobs completed which it could not afford to do in previous years. The work will not take the place of that usually allotted to students on part time basis in any way.

Many more jobs are needed for board and room for both men and women. All applications should contain a list of the student's qualifications, the type of work preferred, and should be sent to Miss Janet Smith, who is employment secretary of the University. Miss Smith's office is in the Y. M. C. A. building on the campus.

Students who have received F.E.R.A. work during the fall term have been notified of their employment. The departments under which they will work will be assigned to them this week.

Details Listed
As soon as a student is notified under which division he will work, he should report as soon as possible to the person indicated in the assignment. It is important that the schedule of hours allotted each student for a month is followed. If a student becomes ill, or for any reason is not able to work the total hours assigned, he should notify Gladys Kerley, local 301.

Students who receive F.E.R.A. work must be registered in the University of Oregon at Eugene for not less than ten hours of class work during the term.

The employment has been distributed evenly between men and women students.

Further announcements concerning employment on the campus will be made later.

Increase Heavy On Text Demands
If the supply of cash equals the demand, prosperity is just around the corner, says M. F. McClain, manager of the Co-op. The management anticipated an increased demand for books of from 10 to 20 per cent but were in no way prepared for the unheeded increase in demand for books of 40 per cent over last year.

McClain says he hopes the sales equal the present demand because orders are pouring in fast for the texts. He expects to be able to fill all but a few of the orders by the end of the week. Most of the orders are being filled at San Francisco but a few had to be put through to Chicago and New York.

Traditional 'Hello' Celebration to Be Held on Saturday

Big Dance, Pep Rally Will Open Social Season For Fall

Campus social life will get under way Saturday night at the Igloo where the University's traditional "Hello" dance will be held under the sponsorship of Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's service honorary. Tickets for the dance, which is to be a date affair, were put on sale yesterday at all men's living organizations.

Besides being a "hello" dance, the affair will also be a "pep" rally for the Oregon-Washington game, according to Mel Johnson, general chairman of the arrangements for the dance. Sports clothes are in order, and all Oregon lettermen are to wear their lettermen's sweaters, Johnson said.

Sherwood Burr's orchestra will furnish the music, and several features have been arranged. The committee in charge of the dance includes: Mel Johnson, general chairman; Craig Finley, Al Davis, and John Thomas, assistant chairmen.

Frosh Discussion Groups to Begin Meetings Monday

Elizabeth Scruggs Speaks At 'Y' Open House Held For New Students

Frosh discussion groups, which will meet at 3 and 4 o'clock every afternoon, except Friday, in the "Y" bungalow, will begin next Monday, October 8. The various leaders will call freshman women, registered for their groups, previous to the first meeting. Each group choose its own weekly topics of discussion.

Early in November, the Frosh commission will be elected. Its members, president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, will probably be chosen from the members of the discussion groups, as will the members of the Frosh commission cabinet. The latter is appointed by the commission.

Last Sunday the "Y" held open house at which the purposes, functions, and activities of this organization were explained. Elizabeth Scruggs, who spoke on "National and Local Organization of the Y. W. C. A." show the local group carries out the principles of the national organization. Previous to this meeting, the new freshman women were introduced to the "Y" at a tea.

Two other discussion groups are World Fellowship, whose purpose is to stimulate interest and acquire information about foreign people and also the industrial group, which investigates and discusses social and industrial problems and products. The former often has talks by campus faculty who have traveled. Foreign correspondence is another feature of this group.

School of Law Shows Registration Increase

Although registration of all students will not be completed in the law school until Saturday the possibility of an increase in enrollment was disclosed through the reports given out at the office of Wayne L. Morse.

Late yesterday 118 students had registered compared to 114 students registered in 1933. Freshman enrollment showed a two-thirds per cent increase over last year.

Revival of Old Oregon Spirit To be Planned

Modern Rooting Section Object of Committe

Lids to Be Issued

Rallies in Portland Before O.S.C. and Washington Games Promised

Accompanying a drive to put Oregon on the map in big league football going on from the graduate manager's and coach's offices is beginning a similar campaign this year to revive the old Oregon spirit, conducted through a rally committee appointed by Joe Renner, president of the associated students, and Eddie Vail, yell king.

One of the outstanding points of the new committee's program is the organization of a modernized and thoroughly up-to-date rooting section. The foundation of such a section was laid last year at the Oregon State football game in Portland when several hundred men blossomed out in bright rooter's lids and yellow neckties. Eddie Vail hopes to bring the Oregon cheerers up to a par with such schools as Stanford and U.S.C.

Special meetings of a cheering section which will contain 700 men are being planned and will be announced later. At these times new songs and yells will be practiced. Stunts and card tricks of all varieties are being worked out by the committee in cooperation with the cheer leader. Rooters' lids will be issued again this year as last, but only to men who turn out for the section.

A huge rally in Portland preceding the Washington game as well as the Oregon State game is being worked out and will be included in the rally committee's program.

Improved spirit and revival of old tradition on the campus will also be striven for by the committee.

Cooperation Urged
All students will be urged to give their best cooperation in the matter. Men in living organizations will get in touch with the rally men in their particular group. Co-chairmen of the committee are Ralph Schomp and Jim Emmett. Other members who have been appointed are Robert Chilton, Craig Finley, Bob Zurcher, Grant Thuemmel, Jack Granger, Pete Brooks, Norman Lauritz, Don Thomas, Bob Helliwell, Lester Goldschmidt, and Fred Whittlesey.

Further appointments will be announced later.

Professor Bowen Home From Trip

Professor R. P. Bowen of the Romance languages department has recently returned from a trip around the world following his leave of absence last January.

While in Japan Professor Bowen visited Professor and Mrs. A. R. Moore at Sendai. Mr. Moore is visiting professor of biology at Sendai.

Other points of interest visited enroute were Manila, Singapore, Hongkong and Ceylon. Two weeks were spent traveling through India and Bombay.

Before returning to the United States, Professor Bowen traveled through Egypt, Italy, Greece, France, and Ireland.

Business in Far East Very Good, Hoyt Says

"Business in the Far East, especially Japan, is booming," is the conclusion drawn by Dean Hoyt after his two months trip to Japan, China, and Manchuria this summer.

Mr. H. V. Hoyt, accompanied by Mrs. Hoyt, Miss Brownell Frasier, art major; Donald Burke, law; and William Barker, journalism, visited various business houses, firms, consuls, and experimenting stations in the east.

During his trip he met four former Oregon Japanese students, who are in business in Japan and Vernon Genn, former Eugene boy, who is now working for General Motors in Japan.

Dean Hoyt also visited the Orient last year.

75 Per Cent of Students Buy A.S.U.O. Membership Cards

"I am most pleased with the manner in which Oregon students purchasing of student body cards," stated Hugh Rosson, graduate manager of the University yesterday. "Approximately 75 per cent of all the students who have registered this fall have purchased cards."

According to Rosson, he is expecting an additional 5 per cent of those who have registered to buy cards during the next week before the Washington game. The fine showing which has been made has entirely dispelled any fears which the office of the graduate managers might have felt during the campaign, and enables the graduate manager to work with much more assurance in his arrangements for major and minor sports, debates, concerts, and all campus activities.

The response which has been made by students is believed by campaign managers to be due to the great saving which may be had by students who plan to participate in any campus functions. That free admission to football games may be obtained is in itself a valuable feature of student body membership. Other assets to be gained are the rights to vote, to hold office, to receive daily a copy of the Emerald, the privilege of working on both the Emerald and the Oregana, and numerous other student activities.

Rosson announced yesterday that the world-famous Don Cossack chorus has been engaged for the evening of October 26. The Frosh-Rook game will be played on the afternoon of the same day. Both these outstanding attractions are offered to those who have purchased student body cards.

Psychology Head Accepts Position At Indiana School

Dr. Boyer Praises Work Of Professor Condon While at Oregon

Dr. Edmund S. Conklin, eminent psychologist, professor and author, who is the head of the psychology department of the University of Oregon and who has been a professor here since 1911, has accepted a position as head of the psychology department at the University of Indiana, it was announced here recently.

The department of psychology of the University of Indiana, from which many prominent psychologists have been graduated, is one of the oldest, and at present among the most active in the United States. Although the science of psychology is, but as yet in its infancy, it has made rapid progress in the development and classification of its work. Dr. Conklin has been instrumental in this drive, and his efforts are being recognized with the offer of this position. Dr. Conklin will be in charge of a staff of eight men, all noted for their contributions in psychology. The president of Indiana university, William L. Bryan, is also a psychologist of note.

"The position offered Dr. Conklin at Indiana is a recognition of his marked ability as a psychologist and educator," Dr. Boyer, University president, said recently. "While we hate to see him leave our campus this year we are glad that an Oregon man has been selected for what is one of the most coveted positions in education today—the headship of this noted department, since it is also a reflection of the fine type of work that is offered here."

Dr. Conklin has been received remarkably well here by students in his classes. His pedagogical methods, his acuteness of mind, and his grasp of the subject of psychology, have given him a remembered position by his students and acquaintances.

Dr. Conklin is the author of two widely recognized text-books on (Please turn to page 3)

Shaddock Will Attend Sigma Delta Chi Meet

Guy A. Shaddock, member of the Oregon chapter of the Sigma Delta Chi, men's national professional journalism fraternity, will leave the end of this week for Greencastle, Indiana, where he will attend the nineteenth convention of Sigma Delta Chi, from October 19 to 21.

Sir Herbert Brown Ames gave several lectures on the campus at that time.

Planned Library, Infirmary Receive Federal Approval

The new University library and infirmary are still in the offing, but are somewhat nearer actuality, judging from the statement of Chancellor W. J. Kerr, who said yesterday that the building and financing plans had been approved by the federal government.

The preliminary plans, filed some months ago with the PWA office in Washington, D. C., which has charge of the project, were adjusted to meet governmental requirements, during the first of the summer; and the buildings are now only awaiting the allotment of funds.

Just how soon money will be available from Washington for the construction projects, which are approved but not yet allotted, is not certain. Chancellor Kerr stated

Enrollment List Shows Increase Of 19 Per Cent

$3525 to Be Spent Each Month on Campus

Research to Begin

Great Demand for Board, Room Jobs Shown at Employment Office

A 19 per cent increase in this year's enrollment over that of last year was announced yesterday afternoon by the registrar's office. Registration totaled 2,324 students by 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Last year on this date the number was 1,949.

If the present increase of enrollment continued until registration closes, October 13, a total enrollment of 2,500 is predicted by the registrar's office.

This year's enrollment is the highest since fall term 1931-32 when a total of 2,870 was reached. Registration incomplete

Registration material has been given to 2,434 students this year. Of this number approximately 1,300 were old undergraduate students; 1,000 new undergraduate students; 100, graduate students; and a few auditors. Three hundred more students have taken out material this year than last.

New "red books" for registration were issued this year. One of the new features of the book is a pocket on the back cover for registration material and for documents or notices to the student. A single sheet containing personal information of the student was inserted in the front of the book. The old records were typed in the books from the permanent records filed in the office.

When the new books were printed, an allowance for a twenty per cent increase of undergraduates over last year was allowed. From this supply very few books remain.

O.S.C. Figures Large
CORVALLIS, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Enrollment at Oregon State college at the end of the fourth day reached 2430 compared with 1824 on the corresponding day a year ago. The freshman class enrollment mounted to 1008.

This increase of 606 in total registration represents a 33 per cent increase, while the gain of 401 freshmen amounted to a 66 per cent advance.

Emerald Business Staff Help Wanted

Grant Thuemmel, business manager of the Emerald announced Wednesday that the business office of the paper is in need of a corps of efficient office girls and advertising solicitors.

No experience is necessary for those interested in advertising, either in soliciting or make-up of the advertisements. For this reason numerous students who have unsuccessfully sought work of other description on the campus will qualify for the positions. A seven and one-half per cent commission will be paid on all ads secured.

Those who are interested in advertising should contact Fred Fisher in the Emerald business office in the Igloo between the hours of 2:30 and 4 today, at which time assignments will be made. Office girls should apply to Grant Thuemmel.

that both he and Portland officials have been urging that the building be started this fall, before the cold season begins, but no information concerning a possible date has been received.

Plans for the two buildings were passed by the board of higher education over a year ago, and the preliminary specifications were completed a little later. The Portland PWA office has been urging that money be approved for the buildings for some time, but it was not until this summer that the plans were definitely approved. At that time Chancellor Kerr was officially advised that the projects "were in the clear," and that construction would begin as soon as sufficient funds were available.
