

LEMON TODAY

By CLAIR JOHNSON
Emerald Sports Editor

It was about 17 days ago while watching the Ducks and Bulldogs mill around on Hayward field that we gazed upon the countenance of Jimmy Phelan, head football coach at the University of Washington. Slowly we noticed a slow and pleasant smile of satisfaction creeping over his face. The occasion for the event was the way the Webfoots were wallowing around against Gonzaga, although defeating them 13 to 0. "Smiling Jimmy" Phelan, as he used to be known back east before he got entangled in the six year losing streak of the Huskies, seemed to be returning again to his natural self.

But now it's all off and again the Husky head man is moaning around with bear stories, sad stories, and all sorts of terrible predictions about how bad his eleven is going to get trimmed.

However, instead of picking his stories to pieces, we are inclined to be a bit sympathetic this time. For once Jimmy really has something to spout about. The former Purdue mentor is on the spot at Seattle and has been ever since he moved to the coast.

This year the howling is growing and fans are demanding a Webfoot scap or Phelan's if the Huskies don't lick the Ducks.

Phelan came out here on a pinacle—he had coached championship teams in the east and he was good—so the fans expected him to continue turning out big time elevens.

But since his arrival here Jimmy has had neither the material nor the support that he received back at Purdue.

So after all it's only right to do a little weeping with the Husky coach and hope that even though he doesn't trim Oregon that he may do something else to appease the wrath of the Seattle stool coaches.

But "Smiling Jimmy" could really start smiling again if he was any sort of a psychologist. Anyhow that is what a gentleman of the press up north claims. This doper of sports activity named Dirks in-

Jimmy Phelan, insists that Washington will trim Oregon this year and as proof of his statements says that the worm must always turn and this is the year it is going to.

Mr. Dirks raves on somewhat in the following manner: "Every year since 1930 in the game played before the Webfoot contest the Huskies have soundly trounced their opponents. And every year since 1930 in the game played before the Husky contest the Webfoots have barely edged out a victory over their opponents."

So far so good—and then Mr. Dirks continues and cites this year's games in which just the re-

DEALER
CAMPUS CORDS
WADE BROS.

TO CURE THAT HALITOSIS OF THE PERSONALITY, M'BOY, WEAR CAMPUS CORDS!
SURE CURE! THIS GOLD LANEL AT YOUR CLOTHES!
GANTZ ITEM CAMPUS CORDS
YOUR PUBLIC APPLAUDS WHEN YOU WEAR THESE DISTINCTIVE UNIVERSITY CORDURY TROUSERS... STYLED RIGHT, COMFORTABLE AND BRUTES FOR WEAR.
CAMPUS CORDS
for that university-touch in wool trousers... CAMPUS FLANNELS and CAMPUS RUFFS (the heavy, tweedy kind)

CAMPUS CORDS
WE HAVE THEM HERE
McMORRAN & WASHBURNE

Ducks Ready With Injured Men In Shape

Roy Gagnon Turns Ankle, Has to Leave Practice; Injury Not Serious

With practically every man on both squads seeing action, the varsity and frosh football squads met in a long scrimmage on Hayward field last night. The Frosh were unable to pierce the heavy varsity line, but made some nice gains through the air.

The Varsity plowed its way through on straight running plays. Frank Michek, Bud Jones, and Hugh McCredie were the only varsity players who did not take part in the practice, due to injuries. Michek and McCredie will be in shape by Saturday, but it is thought Jones will be unable to compete, due to an infected knee.

Gagnor, varsity guard turned an ankle, and was forced to leave the scrimmage, but his injury is not serious enough to keep him out of the Husky game.

Frye Is Back
Gardner Frye, who has been out of heavy practice for the last three weeks due to a sprained back took part in the scrimmage, as did Vince Walker, out of practice the last few weeks with a leg injury. Varsity were Van Vliet and Parke. The hard charging varsity line broke through on several occasions to throw the yearling ball carriers for losses, but the backfield looked slightly weak on pass defense as the frosh completed several tosses.

Both sides used many substitutes thus giving both coaches an opportunity to see every man on his squad in action. The Frosh used a combination of Washington and Oregon plays, thus giving the varsity a rough idea of what they may expect from the Huskies Saturday.

Few Changes Made
Unless more injuries occur, it appears that the same team which opened the U.C.L.A. game two weeks ago with the exception of Jones, will be ready to start in Saturday's game. This lineup consists of Morse and Walker at the ends; Eagle and Bjork at the tackles; Gagnor and Hurney at the guard positions; Con Fury at center; Terjeson at quarter; Parke and Reichsmann at the halves; and Michek at full.

Frye may replace Bjork at tackle, and the Astoria boy who made such a good showing in the Bruin contest may be shifted back to his old place at guard. Regardless of starting lineup, the Ducks should be in better condition and with a stronger reserve strength than they were for the Uclas. In addition, they will be out to tack another head ache on the six year jinx Oregon now holds over Washington.

verse has happened—namely, the Phelan eleven barely nosed out a victory over Idaho while the Ducks walked all day on the Uclans. "Therefore," the would be psychologist continues, "1934 is the year for the worm to turn, and the Seattle men will beat Callison's eleven."

So with all that bit of optimism it ought to be quite easy for Coach Phelan to once more assume his famous smile of yester-years. Now, not to discourage him in the least, but just to clarify matters a little we might cite a few reasons why this psychologist is definitely on the wrong track.

First, and perhaps foremost, is, as we mentioned before, the material available. Although Phelan has veterans back they do not measure up to the standard of the Oregon squad, small as it is.

Second, going back to psychology, we might add that anyone in the habit of doing one thing will continue to do the same thing un-

Jittery Huskies Test New Setups For Big Row Sat.

Coach Jimmy Phelan of the University of Washington Huskies is badly worried, according to current reports.

Early this season there were 50 "brawny" men out for varsity football and everything looked rosy. The Huskies didn't know whether they could handle the rest of the conference or not, but Oregon wasn't set up as a serious threat. What happened when U.C.L.A. and Oregon tangled has passed into the realms of history. Washington began to think then, and now, they've frankly got the jitters.

Phelan is making shifts of various sorts, trying to get a combination which will take the Web-foot down the line. Apparently the set-up isn't to be found. Captain Woody Ullin is being seriously considered for the tackle position to help check Oregon's dark horse team.

Other drastic changes are being made, so when the game opens Saturday, almost any weird combination may be expected from the Huskies in order to conquer the gang which upset U. C. L. A. and caused several well-known sports writers to haul cocky feet from desk tops and seek seclusion.

less there is a mighty big obstruction in the way—and we don't believe the Huskies are a big enough obstruction to stop the Ducks from adding to their six-year victory string.

Third, the material taken individually and not collectively. Phelan may have stars but not men quite up to the standard of such lads as "Fills Mike's Shoes"

Morse and Bobby Parke, "Mosquieto" Van Vliet, and other sturdy men of the Duck eleven, as exhibited in the game against U.C.L.A. And so, being a bit pro-Web-foot, we could rave on all night, Michek, co-captain Prink Callison, tains Butch but in closing we must mention one more factor and that is Prink Callison, Webfoot coach, and his lineup of plays, headed by his nation famous cruncher. Prink knows his team and he knows the Washington eleven and he is set and his team is set so here's hoping.

Y.W.C.A. Begins Frosh Discussion Meetings

The Y.W.C.A. freshman discussion groups began meeting Monday. Freshman girls may still sign up for one of the groups. Topics of discussion are unlimited and each group selects these for itself. Miss Betty Hughes, executive secretary of the Y.W.C.A. or Rosalind Gray, president, will be at the "Y" bungalow to answer any questions about the groups or office hours.

Freshman girls are urged to come in and sign up for either or both. There are freshman discussion groups at 4 o'clock every afternoon except Friday, while groups meet at 3 o'clock on Monday and Thursday. Leaders of the groups are Marjorie Scobert, Glendene Vinyard, Helen Wright, Jane Bishop, Elizabeth Bendstrup, and Alice Ann Thomas.

Oregon Leads OSC in Student Cards Issued

Oregon State college has fallen behind the University of Oregon in the percentage of associated student body cards sold, according to records available yesterday afternoon.

Of the 2461 students who have enrolled here this year, 1813 have purchased cards, while only 1738 students at Oregon State are now members out of their enrollment of 2508.

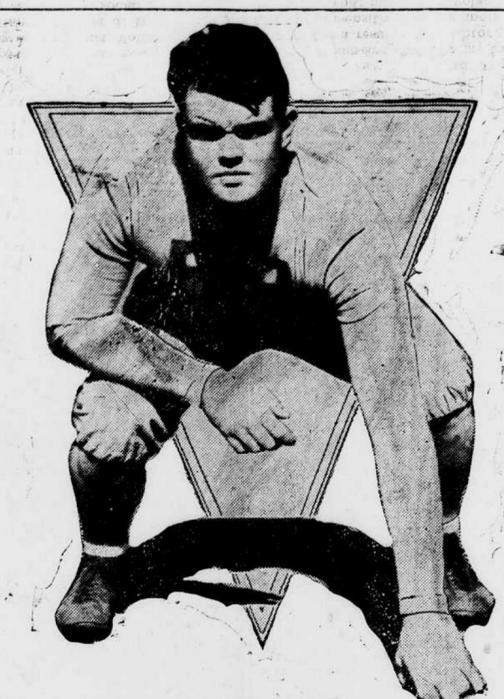

While this comparative showing is much better than that of last year, the committee in charge, as well as student body officers, are anxious to bring the total even higher.

CAMPUS

- Cords
- Moleskins
- Frosh Pants
- Slacks
- The newest models at the lowest prices.

'We have your size'
Eric Merrell
"Clothes for Men"

Al Eagle—Oregon Tackle

One of the Webfoot squad who will be out on Multnomah field Saturday saying "No!" to a gang of determined Huskies.

Veteran Pitcher Benched By 14 Year Old's Orders

Peoli, Ohio, Oct. 9—(AP) Cy Young's waistline and the bunts of a kid baseball team have caught up with him at last.

One of the greatest pitchers of all time—with a perfect game to his credit in which no player reached first—Cy has been given his last release.

The Peoli all-stars they call them, a gang of kids 12 to 15 years old, and it was a kid with a face full of freckles who sent the great Cy Young to the showers for the last time.

The all-stars, organized this year, needed a pitcher and sought the services of the veteran major leaguer. Cy dug out his old mitt and spiked shoes, loosened up the arm that had won many a thrilling big loop game, and took the mound for "Dear Old Peoli."

Then one afternoon Cy's expansive waistline betrayed him.

"The kids were quick to notice my helplessness on bunts," Young said. "I'm telling you no pitcher ever had so many bunts poked at him as those youngsters rolled at me."

"The freckle-faced 14-year-old manager of our team waved, 'enough,' and to the showers I went. In all my baseball experience, I never had one that made me feel quite as washed-up as that did."

Bureau Finishes Several Projects During Summer

Study of Oregon Counties To Determine Relief Needs Made

Three major projects have been completed by the Bureau of Municipal Research during the summer months under the supervision of Herman Kehrl, director.

(1) The largest of these is a survey of the counties of Oregon wherein information has been assembled which will determine the ability of the various counties to finance their own relief needs. (2) The bureau, in cooperation with the League of Oregon Cities, has prepared a charter for Huntington. (3) A survey of the police department of Portland has been made with increased efficiency as the ultimate objective.

The study of the Oregon counties was conducted with the aid of funds supplied by the CWA and the SERA, and was undertaken at the request of executives of the State Relief committee, and at the suggestion of the consultant in charge of organizing the survey of welfare activities in Oregon. It is a comparative study of selected physical, financial, and relief characteristics of each county made in an effort to decide upon the amount of aid required by the different counties for their relief needs.

The new charter drafted for Huntington, it is hoped by its makers, will be the future model charter for small cities. The most outstanding new principle in the drafting was the clause which gives the city all the powers which is possible for it to have under the constitution and the state and county statutes.

The preliminary draft of the charter was prepared by Eugene V. Slattery, graduate of the U. of O. in '26, in consultation with Dr. James D. Barnett, head of the political science department, and Mr. Herman Kehrl, director of the Municipal Research bureau. Mr. Slattery has been appointed to the staff of the bureau as research assistant in municipal law.

The survey of the Portland police department was made with Herman Kehrl as executive secretary and August Vollmer as consultant. William J. Bruce, graduate assistant in social science here and Myrl Lindley, 33 business administration major, both worked on the survey.

Mayor Carson appointed a committee with Creed C. Hammond as chairman to make a survey that might be determined how the efficiency of the department might be increased.

The outstanding recommendations made as a result of the survey are: much more rigid standards in the training and selection of men, reorganization of the patrol work by eliminating the special functions and increasing the number of radio car control districts, and establishment of a pension system which will be financially sound.

Rally Plans

(Continued From Page One)

accommodation secured through the A. S. U. O. University students will march from the station to the old Heathman hotel where a rally will form at 9:15. Extensive plans for this rally are being made. The group will go through the streets making all the noise they can with artificial aids which will be provided. At 11:00 the rally will be continued at the Paramount theater. Vaudeville acts featuring Oregon students will be given in a special entertainment at the theater. Sherwood Burr's Collegians will play, and John Stolp, campus singer, and other campus entertainers will be presented. Tickets for this show will be on sale in all living organizations Thursday for 25 cents each.

In today's Emerald several college songs are printed. The rally committee urge the students to clip these songs out and memorize them so that this rally will be more successful than ever before.

Members of the rally committee are as follows: Jim Emmett and Ralph Schomp, co-chairmen of the committee; Bud Jones, Fred Whittlesey, Don Thomas, Jack Mulhall, Dale Fisher, Bob Zurcher, Fred Fisher, Norman Lauritz, Pete Brooks, Fred Leullen, Douglas Ward, Craig Finley, Al Davis, Jack Granger, Bob Helliwell, Jack Campbell, and Ed Slesser. The staff of yell leaders include: Eddie Vail, Bob Chilton, Pat Edmondson, Bill George.

Executive

(Continued From Page One)

quences. He agreed that such a discussion would be decidedly advantageous.

"But on Tuesday a new series of editorials appeared of which I had no knowledge, nor had Mr. Polivka discussed them with me in advance. As a result of the editor's apparent insensitiveness or indifference to what might be involved, or the consequences that might arise, the associated students felt that he could not be said to represent student opinion, and therefore should be removed from an office carrying such responsibility at the editorship of the Emerald."

Champ Cardinals Get $5941.19 Each; Tigers, $4313.90

DETROIT, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The world's championship St. Louis Cardinals will receive $5,941.19 each as their share of the world series receipts while each of the vanquished Detroit Tigers will get $4,313.90. The shares include receipts from the radio rights, sold to the Ford Motor company for $100,000.

The Cardinals split their receipts 25 ways; the Tigers divided theirs into 23 shares. The Cardinals also voted $3,000 in donations to club attendants, cutting their actual shares to $5,821.19 each.

For the four games in which the players shared, the total player pool was $299,755.69 from the gate receipts alone. The pool was increased $51,000 by radio receipts. The commissioner received $15,000 from the radio, swelling his share to $16,811.15. Each league and each club received $144,238.57 from the gate and $8,500 each from the radio or a grand total of $152,738.57 each.

Students Will Vie In Essay Contest

Four hundred dollars in prizes is being offered this year by Mrs. Gertrude Bass Warner in her annual Murray Warner essay contest dealing with Asiatic problems and culture.

The contest is open to all students who have had one campus course dealing with art, economic development, geography, history, international relations, literature, politics or religions of the Orient. The essays must be 5,000 words in length and must be in by April 8, 1935.

The prizes are arranged into an American and a foreign division. In the American division the first prize is $100; the second, $75; the third, $50; and the fourth, $25. Three $5 prizes will be given for honorable mention. The two awards in the foreign section are $50 and $25.

For further information about the rules, consult the contest committee members, Dr. Harold J. Noble, chairman, Dr. Victor P. Morris, and Dr. Samuel H. Jemerson.

Alumni Magazine Will Be Issued This Week

Old Oregon, the alumni association publication, will be published by the University press this week, according to Professor Hall, superintendent of the press.

The press is also putting out the proceedings of the educational conference held on the campus this summer. Professor Hall said that the actions of this conference were deemed important enough to be published.

Send the Emerald to your friends. Subscription rates $2.50 a year.

Phi Psis Star As Donut Sked Gets Started

Theta Chi and Sigma Nu Spill Delta Upsilon And Phi Kaps

TODAY'S SCHEDULE
4:00—Chi Psi vs. Sigma Hall.
4:40—Beta Theta Pi vs. Delta Tau Delta.

5:20—Yeomen vs. Sigma Nu. Splashing and dashing to six first places, the Phi Kappa Psi mermen provided the outstanding feature of the first meet in the year's donut race yesterday when they decisively outscored Sigma Alpha Mu, 34 to 8.

Sigma Nu opened its swimming season with a 27 to 13 victory over Phi Kappa Alpha, while the house of Theta Chi humbled the D. U.'s to the tune of 26 to 16.

Brookes Star
Compared to the St. Louis baseball Deans, the Brooke boys of the Phi Kappa Psi, who annexed the laurels of King Neptune in all formality, Dick Brooke showed his feet to the crowd in the 40-yard breaststroke and in the 120-yard free style relay, and Don ambled home ahead of the backstrokers and the 60-yard medley men, while both swam side by side in the 120-yard medley triumph.

Under the Sigma Nu banner Koskela stole the stellar honors with a first in the 40-yard backstroke, a third in the 40-yard free style and a place on the winning 120-yard medley team. Barclay contributed an equal number of points for the victors.

Temple, not the grid star, placed his name on the sheet by winning the 60-yard individual medley and by placing second in the free style 40 for Delta Upsilon. Registering heavily for the Theta Chis was Rodda, a breaststroke winner and medley and relay participant.

Many Rooters Present
The hub-bub of the rooters during the Brooke-Phi Psi triumph indicated the class and color of the Sammy conquerors and the keen struggle with the champion Betas that will ensue. By no means, however, are the Theta Chis and Sigma Nus to be left out of the scene, and of course other threats will expose themselves this afternoon at the men's gym.

The meet, under the direction of Mike Hoyman and his officials, is being run exactly according to scheduled time.

TUTTLE PUBLISHES BOOK
"Social Basis of Education" is the title of the book written by Professor Harold S. Tuttle, formerly of the staff of the school of education, which has recently been published by the Thomas Y. Crowell company.

Professor Tuttle is now attending Columbia university where he is working for his masters degree.

GROUP STUDIES COURSE
The staff in education at Pendleton are preparing a course of professional reading for junior high and high school teachers. Superintendent Austin Landrith has organized all his staff into study groups.

The school of education, here, is supplying bibliographies of selected reading for them.

Peterson Slated To Stop Cougars

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 9.—(Special)—When Gonzaga meets Washington State this Saturday, the Bulldogs will depend principally upon the work of Ike Peterson, the slippery Swede, to pull out a victory. Undaunted by the fact that the Cougars were capable of stopping Southern California's Cotton Warburton, Gonzaga supporters believe the 180 pound Swede is good enough to penetrate Washington State's defense.

Peterson is one of the coast's leading scorers and seems to be following in the footsteps of the famous Max Krause.

Sociologists Discuss Public Welfare Plans

Phillip A. Parsons, professor of sociology here and chairman of the Northwest Regional Planning commission, left yesterday for Portland where he will meet with a group of leaders in various fields of social work to prepare a plan for public welfare in Oregon, as well as the other three states in the northwest area—Washington, Idaho, and Montana.

As chairman of the welfare division of this commission, which is under the National Resource board, Dr. Parsons has called together this group of people to work out a welfare plan for the four states to submit to the commission at the regional conference to be held in Seattle December 12, 13, and 14. The plan will be endorsed by that conference in whole or part at that time.

Dr. Parsons is expected to return tonight.

July's Commonwealth Review Now Off Press

The July issue of the Commonwealth Review, a bi-monthly magazine published by the University press, came off the press Wednesday, October 3. It is a journal of public policy and practice, edited by the college of social science in collaboration with the schools of business administration, education, journalism, law, and physical education of the University. The magazine is issued five times a year, in January, March, May, July, and November.

Features of interest in the recent issue are articles by Stephen B. Jones, geography instructor at the Oregon Normal school; Burton E. Palmer, director of work division of the Oregon State Relief committee; and Frank Bane, executive director of the American Public Welfare association.

It's a Swell Idea!
Share the joys of your college days with the folks at home—
They will enjoy reading your paper and they will feel closer to you by being able to do so—
They are interested in the activities and the life surrounding your school just as is every loyal Oregon student.
Subscribe now to the Emerald for them and a copy of the paper will be mailed to them daily.
—RATES—
One Term $1
Two Terms $1.75
Oregon Emerald
"Influencing 3000 Moderns."
Circulation Department
McArthur Court