Emerald Editor Attends Meeting During Holidays

Washington, D. C., Scene Of News Convention; Long Scored

Bill Phipps, editor of the Emerald, was one of the 37 editors of college dailies in Canada and the United States to attend the organizational meeting of the Intercollegiate Daily News Association held at Washington, D. C., during the Christmas holidays.

President Roosevelt and Secretary Ickes addressed the group and urged that college newspapers be allowed to function without the interference of state politics.

D. B. Hardeman, editor of the Daily Texan, was elected national chairman of the group. Phipps served as chairman of the resolutions committee during the convention.

Term Enrollment Shows Increase

The registrar's office announced last night that 2355 students had registered so far this term. This is a 17% increase over the enrollment taken for the same time last year, which was 2006.

The enrollment for this term is expected to reach a total of approximately 2400, for the records show that there are always some students who register later. Forty-seven students registered after the second week of the term last winter term.

The increase in the enrollment for the University stays practically the same each term. This fall there was a 17% increase in the enrollment over that of last year.

Soph Dance Scheduled For Jan. 12

D. Thomas Heads Group Planning Outstanding Event of Term

All Campus Invited

McArthur Court Is Scene Of Dance Saturday

The Sophomore Informal, first of the annual "big" campus dances, will be the outstanding campus function of the coming weekend.

The sophomore class is extending a cordial invitation to the entire campus and city of Eugene to help in making this dance the outstanding event of the winter term. A admission will be free to all members of the class of 1937 who are in good standing.

Fred Fisher is to serve as assistant business manager during this term. Ed Labbe is to be the advertising manager, Eldon Haberman will serve as national advertising manager, and Fred Heidel will be assistant national advertising manager.

Bill Jones is to be assistant advertising manager and Virginia Wellington will continue to write Soz Sue, shopping column. Caroline Hand is serving as executive secretary and Morris Holmes is to be classified manager.

Thummel announced also that a circulation manager will be appointed in a few days. Several positions for girls who wish to assist in the office work are also open.

Women may use sophomore class cards sold for fall term, 1934, for admission to the dance, but must also present cards signifying membership this term.

The directorate in charge of arrangements for the informal consists of Don Thomas, general chairman; Betty Coon, secretary; Margery Kissing, patrons and patronesses; Elizabeth Waha, refreshments; Harry Campbell, finance; Louise Ruegnitz and Dave Lowry, assistant general chairmen; Frank Nash, decorations; Ben Grout, orchestra; Louis Rotenberg, construction; Cecil Barker, programs; Newton Stearns, publicity; Kermit Paulsen, tickets; Craig Finley, welcoming.

Classes of the "night shift" at the University of Oregon will open for the winter term today, when the first meeting of the class in "Social Unrest" will be held in room 106, Commerce hall, at 7:15, it was announced today by Miss Mozelle Hair, in charge of this work for the general extension division.

This course, taught by Dr. Samuel H. Jameson, proved very popular last term, and the work will be continued. New students as well as those in the class last term are welcome to enroll, it is stated. Present day problems in sociology and other phases of American life will again be taken up.

Full information on this and other night classes offered can be obtained from the general extension division at the University. Students may register at the opening meetings of the classes, and may take as many of them as they wish. Full University credit is granted to those who successfully pass the term examinations.

Alpha Delta Sigma will meet at 4 today in Prof. Thacher's office.

Rosson Calls Attention to Concerts, Lectures

Hugh Rosson, graduate manager, announced yesterday that it was only through the faith of the executive council that they were able to secure the very best in concert and lecture attractions for the students and townspeople, who desire to hear the very best for entertainment. The council was willing to assume heavy obligations in order to bring such favorites as Jaschea Heifitz, Joseph Hoffman, and Roland Hayes to Eugene for engagements.

Heifitz Well-Known
The engagement of Heifitz in Eugene is the only one to be given in the state of Oregon. He will come here directly from Salt Lake City and Seattle, and from here he will go to San Francisco and Los Angeles for appearances.

The student body is given a well-rounded program of concerts and lectures for winter term, as well as many basketball games. Since Oregon made such an impressive showing against Washington State and the defeat of Washington at the hands of Idaho, a hot contest is predicted in the conference.

A subscription is also given each ASUO member to the daily Emerald. The business staff is planning to make a thorough check beginning next week, to be sure that only student body members secure papers.

Durant Coming
Will Durant, noted author, is also scheduled to lecture on the campus. Rosson also announced yesterday that negotiations were underway to secure a lecture engagement with Frank Lloyd Wright, one of the country's leading architects, for this term.

Other opportunities open to student body members is the privilege to work on the Oregonian staffs and also on the Emerald. Student body tickets are also necessary to serve on class and student body committees and to hold class or student body offices. Band and orchestra members also must have membership cards.

Term 'Night Shift' Will Begin Today

Classes of the "night shift" at the University of Oregon will open for the winter term today, when the first meeting of the class in "Social Unrest" will be held in room 106, Commerce hall, at 7:15, it was announced today by Miss Mozelle Hair, in charge of this work for the general extension division.

Class Cards Required For Workers on Soph Informal Committee

All members of the directorate and sub-committees for the sophomore informal, to be held Saturday in McArthur court must buy membership cards in the class of 1937 immediately, according to Don Thomas, general chairman. Cards may be obtained at the graduate manager's office in the Igloo.

In Memoriam

The Hal E. Hoss loving cup to be awarded annually by Sigma Delta Chi at the Oregon Press conference to the best judged weekly published in an Oregon town of 1,000 or less population.

Sigma Delta Chi Plans for Annual 'Weekly' Contest

Hal E. Hoss Trophy to Go To Winning Paper at Conference

The "Best Weekly" contest to be held in conjunction with the Oregon press conference is already underway. It was learned from Sigma Delta Chi, men's national professional journalistic fraternity, sponsors of the contest, that at least 22 weeklies have entered the race with others expected to enter before the closing date, which is Saturday, January 12.

An added attraction which makes the contest more interesting is the Hal E. Hoss memorial trophy. The new cup is offered to the best judged weekly published in a town of 1,000 or less population. Its dedication to Hal E. Hoss, late secretary of the state and an associate member of Sigma Delta Chi, is to honor a man whose ideals of journalism were of the highest, and it is hoped, this cup will keep alive the spirit of finer journalism in Oregon.

This year second awards of certificates will be given to the second best weeklies, one for paper published in a town less than 1,000 population, one for the open field.

The Sigma Delta Chi cup will remain the grand prize offered to the best weekly in Oregon.

The new cup is on display in Arne G. Roe's office in the Journalism building where it will remain until the press conference held January 24, 25, and 26.

Lecture Series for Winter Term to Cover Many Fields

Various fields of endeavor will be represented by outstanding speakers during the winter term lecture series planned by the joint faculty-student committee on assemblies in cooperation with the A.S.U.O.

W. H. Chamberlain, author and Moscow correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor since 1922 will speak on January 17. Because of his sudden change from a friendly attitude to one of criticism toward Soviet Russia, Chamberlain has caused considerable interest. He is the author of "Soviet Planned Economic Order."

Frank Lloyd Wright and Grant LaFarge, architects representing both the new and old schools of art respectively, will also speak before assemblies during the term. Wright has drawn considerable at-

Russell Leads Drive

Non-Members May Join by Signing Pledge

In order to secure just as many student body members as possible for the present term, an extensive campaign is planned to get underway immediately, by Bill Russell, chairman of the drive, and his committee.

Yesterday afternoon at a late hour, Russell reported that a total of 1308 students had paid the $5 fee entitling them to membership in the ASUO and the right to participate in activities and the free admission to games and concerts scheduled for the winter term. A total of 2234 students are registered in the University, making a student body membership of 58.5 per cent of all students.

Not Satisfied
Campaign workers are not at all satisfied with this meagre showing and plan to contact every student, through various living organizations. The committee working under Russell are: Peggy Chessman, Myron Pinkstaff, Chrystian Nickachlou, Ned Simpson, Catherine Coleman, and Craig Finley.

Those who did not pay their student body fee at the time of registration can do so by signing a promise to pay the $5 fee as an installment on their regular registration fee. The blanks on which these pledges may be signed will be available today in all campus living organizations. Upon signing the agreement, a student may exchange it at the graduate manager's office in McArthur court for a student body card and will need to make no cash payment, other than that of the regular membership fee.

Italy and France Deny Nazis Arms

ROME, Jan. 8—(AP)—A firm Italo-French determination not to recognize Germany's rearmament was disclosed tonight as Pierre Laval sped back toward Paris carrying with him the agreements he and Benito Mussolini signed during Laval's four day visit.

An official communique giving details of the new accords—which provide for French concessions to Italy in Africa and pledge the two nations to mutual efforts in the cause of Europe's peace—contained this significant paragraph: "The Italian and French governments, recalling the declaration of December 11, 1932, in reference to the rights of equality, are in accord in recognizing that no country can modify by a unilateral act her obligations regarding armaments, and that in case this eventuality arises they will consult with each other."

This year second awards of certificates will be given to the second best weeklies, one for paper published in a town less than 1,000 population, one for the open field.

The Sigma Delta Chi cup will remain the grand prize offered to the best weekly in Oregon.

The new cup is on display in Arne G. Roe's office in the Journalism building where it will remain until the press conference held January 24, 25, and 26.

DORA CASH RETURNS

Dora Ellen Cash, who received her master's degree from the University of Oregon in 1932, is back on the campus this term to take some special work.

Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin and former editor of the Century magazine, will also speak. He is a liberalist and will discuss modern trends. He wrote "America's Hour of Decision" which has aroused considerable comment.

Will Durant, noted author and lecturer, will speak on the subject of Russia. He published "The Tragedy of Russia" in 1933. The books written by these men are in the University library and will be put on a shelf so that the students may become acquainted with the work before the authors appear on the campus.
