

Varsity Swimmer Turns In Record Time

C. Reed Equals Coast Mark In Breast Stroke

Angell Leads 400 Yard Relay Team With 3:52 Time

Hug Outprints Hurd Over 40 Yard Route

Chuck Reed, diminutive Webfoot swimming ace, with a stop watch as his only opponent, unofficially tied the Pacific Coast 200-yard breast-stroke record during official varsity time trials yesterday afternoon. Van Gilsie of Oregon State is the recognized title-holder with a time of 2:43.5.

Starting off strong at the crack of Coach Mike Hoyman's pistol, Reed, alone in the pool, shot through the water at a terrific pace for the first seven laps. He slowed down noticeably in the final three laps, having little sprint left in the final stretch. However, two of the three timers caught him slapping the 200 yard mark in the record tying time of 2:43.5.

Relayers Strong
That Oregon will be represented with a strong 400 yard free style relay team this year and in the years to come was convincingly shown when a team of three sophomores, Oglesby, Scroggins, and Hoffman, with lettermen Bill Angell, were clocked in the fast early season time of 3:52. Angell and Hoffman tied in the individual times, both cutting their laps in 57.2.

Jim Reed was clocked in 1:47.8 in the 150 yard backstroke, while Gibson, swimming against Reed for 100 yards, was timed in 1:14.1.

Hug Winner
Holding the lead from the time he hit the water, Co-captain Wally Hug splashed through the 40-yard dash to score an easy win over Jim Hurd, the sensational Hawaiian merman, and Hayashi in the fast time of 19.3. The coast record for this event is 19.1. The stop watch caught Hurd in 19.8 and Hayashi in 20.1.

In the 22 lap—440 yard grind Leonard Scroggins trailed in second place for 15 laps, then slowly overtook the fast starting Hoffman, and in the last few laps piled up a tremendous lead to win going away in 5:38.2. Hoffman finished a bad second. A lithe lad named Halverson, a novice in the middle-distance events, swam a steady race in third spot. In the last lap he put on a tremendous gather to close a long 10 yard gap, losing out by but a stroke and a half. The second and third place times were 5:51.3 and 5:51.5.

Oglesby Victor
Oglesby and Hayashi battled stroke for stroke in the hundred yard dash. Oglesby touched the finish marker one-half stroke to the good, being clocked in 60.3. Jim Hurd displayed his fine swimming ability by copping a first place in the 220 yard free style over a classy field made up of Jim Reed, Wally Hug, and Bill Angell.

Angell set the pace most of the way, with Hurd and Reed matching strokes in second place, and Hug trailing in fourth place. A steady pace was maintained over the first 200 yards, at which point Hurd forged into the lead. The advance of Reed and Hurd pushed Angell into fourth. The times were 2:26.4; 2:28.6, and 2:29.

Fighting For Second Place

Some of the scrappy members of the Idaho Vandal hoop team, who are fighting with the Oregon Ducks this weekend for second place in the northern division of the Pacific coast conference. Before the series opened the Vandals boasted a victory over both Washington and W.S.C. and a loss to the Huskies while the Webfoots held two victories over the Cougars and one loss to Oregon State.

Compliments Today Go to Harcombe, Hoyman, And Swimmer C. Reed

By CLAIR JOHNSON

Compliments today go flying towards the men's gym with particular aim directed at Coach Mike Hoyman and his swimmers, especially Chuck Reed.

The splashers have been working hard, with no glory from anywhere for many long weeks now. They started about a month before Christmas with workouts to get in shape and Mike has been laboring with them regularly ever since.

The boys showed it in yesterday's trial swims when Reed cracked through with what under Hoyman is getting to be a regular occurrence—another record tied or broken, and the others turned in good times for early season performances.

Chuck too has a pat coming for he has only been working out for about two weeks. He was laid up with a case of tonsillitis until then.

Memory lane: Back in the days of '26 when the Oregon Webfoot team captured the northern division title (lost to California in the playoff though) the team had a center who was really a center.

Ray Okerberg was his name, and he played a whale of a game all season, led the scoring in almost every contest, and ended up by capturing all-coast honors for the pivot position.

Howard Hobson was one of his teammates.

After his collegiate career Okerberg played with the Olympic club in San Francisco and was selected all-American center on three occasions.

Bulletins from the south announce that the star player has been appointed basketball coach at the Sacred Heart high school in California and has started his work there now.

Continuing the shower of compliments—you've sure got to hand it to this Bill Harcombe. The meek but effective hooper is the hardest worker and has the best spirit of any man on the squad.

And if wishes would make him the coast's best player he certainly would be, because every man on the roster if for him and helping him every bit they can.

Prose, Poetry Group To Hear Mary Bennett

Mary Bennett, from the drama division of the English department, will give a reading at an open meeting of prose and poetry group at 7:30 Tuesday night in the women's lounge in Gerlinger hall.

According to Eleanor Higgins, president, Tuesday will be the group's first meeting this term. Prose and poetry, which is one of the Philomelite hobby groups, is combined with the drama group, and the meetings of the group are divided between the three subjects.

All women who are interested are invited to come.

'A' Volleyballers Have Easy Time In Tourney Play

Fiji, Sigma Chi, Phi Psi, SPE Sixes Win; Gamma Hall, Sigma Nu Forfeit

Winners in intramural "A" volleyball play were little extended in triumphing over their opponents Friday afternoon as neither Sigma Phi Epsilon, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Chi, or Phi Psi had much trouble in managing wins over their respective rivals from La Casa Filipina, Alpha Hall, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Pi Kappa Alpha. Two other scheduled contests were forfeited when Gamma Hall and Sigma Nu failed to appear against Alpha Tau Omega and the Yeomen.

The S.P.E. aggregation, with Arne Lindgren batting in several "kills," set back the aggressive La Casa Filipina sextet 15-2 and 15-6. The Filipinos, though they displayed fine team play and offered plenty of resistance, were handicapped by lack of height and were unable to match the much taller Spes.

The Sigma Chi "giants," who measure over the six-foot mark, found Alpha hall easy going and, with Ed Wheelock and Gordon Palmer, setting the pace, handed the hallmen two drubbings, 15-4 and 15-5.

The Fiji-S.A.E. tussle was practically a repetition of the Sigma Chi victory with the losing S.A.E.'s offering even less competition to their conquerors than did the Alpha hallers. The Fiji six combined fine defensive work with clever offensive maneuvers to win 15-4, and 15-0. Tommy Auginbaugh and Bob Seufert sparkled for the Phi Gamma Delta team.

In the final contest of the evening, Pi Kappa Alpha lost a loosely played match to Phi Kappa Psi, being subdued in straight games 15-4 and 15-7.

Webfoot Athletic Stars Organize Basketball Team

Pepelnjak Will Manage Five; Statewide Tour Slated

Former Webfoot athletic luminaries will again parade throughout the state in a series of basketball games this season as did Mike Mikulak's all-star hoop team last year. A team of former Oregon athletic stars is being organized now by George "Pep" Pepelnjak, three year veteran on the Duck eleven who completed his football playing career here this fall, and who says he was a prep school basketball man of no mean ability.

Men already secured, according to Manager Pepelnjak are Ralph Terjeson, Butch Morse, Al Eagle, Con Fury and Roy Gagnon from this fall's grid eleven and Jim Watts, 1933 Webfoot letterman hoop player.

The five plans to schedule games with leading independent teams in various parts of the state including the famous Klamath Falls Pelicans, and teams in Astoria, Albany, Marshfield, Medford, Ashland, and Grants Pass as well as local squads.

Oregon Five

Geraghty High Scorer

Geraghty, Idaho, was high point man of the game with a total of 13 counters, but the outstanding performance of the evening was that of Willie Jones, Oregon center. The points had not only made a total of 9 points to lead the Webfoot win column but also held Harold Klumb, six foot three inch Vandal pivot man, scoreless.

SEATTLE, Wash. Jan. 18.—The University of Washington quintet, defenders of the northern division of the Pacific coast conference, successfully withstood the attack of the invading Oregon State team here tonight.

Oregon State, previously unbeaten this season, went down under the small end of a 30-25 score. The Huskies held the lead throughout the game and were ahead by the comfortable margin of 14-8 at half time.

All-Star Eleven Has Nearly Full Roster For Pro Battle

With the addition of only one or two more gridders, the all-star team which is to face the New York Giants' professional championship team in Portland February 3, will have a complete roster. This announcement was made yesterday by Oregon's 1933 all-American fullback, Mike Mikulak, who with Bernie Hughes, Duck all-coast center the same year, is organizing the all-star eleven which will meet the eastern men in the Rose Festival benefit game.

Mikulak and Bree Cuppoletti, another member of the 1933 coast co-championship team, arrived on the campus the early part of this week and will remain here until Sunday before they head for the Rose City. There they will meet Hughes and start training for the contest. All three men played last fall with the Chicago Card pro team.

Other Oregon men who will play on the team are Dutch Clark and Al Eagle, tackles, Roy Gagnon, guard, and Butch Morse, end. Former Oregon State college athletes who will lineup with the all-stars include Red Franklin, left half, Hal Pangle and Hal Moe, blocking halves, and Harry Fields, tackle. Matt Muczynski, fullback, and Ted Issacson, tackle, represent the University of Washington, with Mikulak still anxious to get Bill Smith, end, to join the squad. Tipton, star U.S.C. wingman, will be at one end post, with another Trojan, Homer Griffith in the backfield. Phil Sarboe, quarter, and Stojak, at guard, will be old wearers of the Washington State Cougar colors.

Bill Morgan, former Oregon all-American tackle, will play with the Giant eleven.

Swimming Manager Posts Open to Junior, Sophomore Aspirants

Any sophomore or junior interested in managerial posts on the Varsity swimming team are asked to report to John Zehnbauer, senior swimming manager, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the men's gym in the swimming pool room.

Regular practices have started in full swing now and more men are required to handle the managerial work. Men selected as junior managers are eligible for appointments next year as senior managers, which entitles them to trips with the team and a manager's letter.

Frosh Unable To Make Trip South Friday

Tilt With Klamath Falls Cancelled When Bad Weather Hits

Forced to remain in Eugene when bad weather balled up train service so they couldn't make a slated trip to Klamath Falls yesterday the University of Oregon Duckling hoopmen went through a long afternoon's scrimmage session with a pickup team of veteran players.

With the clash with Klamath Falls cancelled the next game for the first year men will be Tuesday night here against Salem high school.

Two more contests are on the schedule for next week after the meetings with the Senators. The Ducklings will head northward the end of the week and will meet Scott Milligan's Lower Columbia Junior college five at Longview, Washington, on Friday evening. The following night they will journey to Astoria for a battle with the high school team there. The Fishermen, last year's state champs, boast another strong lineup according to reports so far this season.

Van Nice and Winter edged out wins over Gordon and Vail in two of three clashes, 21-19, 15-21, and 21-17.

The Beta combination blasted Theta Chi out of the picture 3-0, when McCredie, Parke, Corey, and Powers, humbled their respective opponents: Rogers, Gold, Christopher, and Loback without the loss of a single game. McCredie won 21-11, 21-12, and Parke, 21-9, 21-10, after splitting the first two tilts by 21-10, and 18-21 scores, and 21-5; while the doubles team was victorious 21-9, and 21-12.
