

Coed Squad Will Debate February 5

Junction City Trip Opens Season, Carrell Has Full Program

On the evening of February 5 the women's debating team will make its debut before the Junction City P.T.A. James A. Carrell, instructor in English and coach of the women's debate squad, announced today.

A full program for the team has been quite definitely outlined for the whole winter term, he said. One of the highlights in their program will be their joint symposium with the University of Washington, Seattle, March 6, and with the College of Puget Sound on March 5.

The symposium debating system, already in use for a number of years in Oregon, will be tried for the first time this year by the College of Puget Sound. Its success in the University led directly to the decision of that school to begin this non-partisan system of debating.

Steps Listed

This new system adopted by Oregon which has caused so much comment and discussion by outside schools has five primary, basic steps in its presentation. They are:

1. Analysis of the problem, including a survey of objective facts and conditions.

2. Exposition of plans proposed to meet the problem, their essential features, and how they would be applied (impartial).

3. Expository argumentative speeches showing the strength and weaknesses of each different suggested plan.

4. Summary of the discussion; the differences of opinion for the audience's verdict; and, proposal of a plan which integrates the objective and subjective values of the preceding plans.

5. Questions and discussion from the floor.

The question selected for discussion by the women's debating team in their joint symposiums as well as others is "What Form of Public Regulation of the Movies Should Be Adopted?" This discussion will examine the effect of moving pictures upon the public—children and adults—and will consider the effectiveness of various means of control, forms of censorship, etc.

The schedule for the appearances for the women's debating team at which this question will be discussed include: February 5, Junction City P.T.A.; February 6, Edison school, Eugene, P.T.A. (joint meeting with fathers); February 19-20, joint symposiums with University of Washington, tentative dates at Vancouver, Washington, Junior college, Newberg, and Oregon City.

Schedule Large
March 5, College of Puget Sound, Tacoma; March 6, University of Washington at Everett, Washington; February 24, First Methodist church, Dallas, (evening service); and February 25, Oregon normal assembly, Monmouth.

There will be additional dates with Westfir, Albany, Salem, and others.

Geologists View Scene of Wreck

The practical use of a knowledge of geology was demonstrated Sunday on a voluntary field trip taken by interested members of Dr. Warren D. Smith's class in general geology. The group visited the scene of a landslide which caused a train wreck at Jasper some time ago.

The geological formation responsible for the slide was pointed out by the instructor, who explained why such kinds of formations should be avoided in excavating.

The region visited is an interesting one, said Dr. Smith, and geology field trips are made every year to see it.

Specimens of crystals and fossil plants were obtained by members of the party which made the trip Sunday. Although the excursion was not compulsory, a considerable group of students turned out, Dr. Smith reported.

MRS. TUSSENG DIES

Mrs. Audrea E. Smith Tusseing, 61, of Halsey, died Monday at the Albany hospital. She was the mother of Rex Tusseing, associate editor of the Emerald in 1931, now city editor of the Grants Pass Courier.

McDONALD

Ends Today
Clark Gable
Joan Crawford
Robert Montgomery
"FORSAKING
ALL OTHERS"
"ENTER MADAME"

Wed.—Thurs.
Cary Grant
Elissa Landi

He Is On the Stand

Hauptmann being led into the courtroom at Flemington, N. J. where he is now on the stand undergoing relentless cross-examination by prosecuting attorneys.

Campus Brevities

Attends Ballet in Portland

Vivian Emery and Mary Ann Skirving went to Portland yesterday afternoon to attend the Ballet Russi last night. They expect to return to the campus today.

Returns to Campus

Edwina Anderson returned to the campus Monday after spending the weekend at her home in Portland.

Visits in Corvallis

Velvo Lucas spent the weekend in Corvallis where she visited at her sorority house, Alpha Chi Omega. Miss Lucas transferred to the University this fall.

Makes Trip to Portland

Elizabeth Bendstrup went to Portland Tuesday to attend the Ballet Russi last night. While there she visited at the home of relatives.

Spends Weekend in Corvallis

Dick Miller was a weekend guest at Oregon State college where he visited at his fraternity, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

To Visit in Portland

Anne Hounsell stopped off in Portland yesterday to attend the Ballet Russi enroute to Seattle where she will spend the remainder of the week at the home of friends. She intends to return to the campus next Sunday.

Guests of Sigma Kappa

Betty McGirr had her parents from Portland as guests Sunday afternoon at Sigma Kappa.

Ill in Infirmary

Pauline Conradt is confined to the infirmary with a severe case of poison oak.

Ill With Cold

Laurene Brockehink, of Susan Campbell hall, has been confined to bed for the past few days with a severe cold.

To Address Girl Scouts

Miss Janet Smith, head of the University employment bureau, is to address members of girl scout troops at their annual court of awards, Thursday evening, January 31.

In Medford for Weekend

Thelma Hayes spent the weekend at her home in Medford, returning to the campus Sunday evening.

Convalescing in Infirmary

Ed Hanson, who recently underwent a major operation at the Pacific hospital, was transferred to the University infirmary Saturday.

You make no mistake if you have your shoes shined at

Campus Shoe Shine Parlor
We always carry the best.
Across from Sigma Chi.

where he will remain a few days prior to his return to classes.

Returns to Eugene

Mrs. W. V. Norris, wife of Professor Norris of the physics department, returned from Portland Saturday where she has been in the Good Samaritan hospital under the care of Dr. T. W. Adams for the past seven weeks.

University to Give

(Continued from Page One)
which he desires to pursue in Washington. An application should be accompanied by recommendations, particularly from those who are familiar with the student's capacity for research and with any experience he may have had which will be of use to him in the teaching duties of the fellowship. A recent photograph should accompany the same.

Send the Emerald to your friends. Subscription rates $2.50 a year.

with a
DAILY EMERALD WANT AD

Learn to look for what you want in Classified—
If you can't find what you want, advertise.

10c per line.

Call 3300

EMERALD CLASSIFIED

Dr. Parsons Opens Talks On Religion

Tickets on Sale for Five Lectures Which Start Thursday Night

A series of five lectures on the merits of religion and its social and academic values will open at Villard hall next Thursday evening. Tickets have been placed on sale at McMorran & Washburne and at the University Co-op.

Speakers for each of the lectures have been selected with a view to providing men who are especially qualified to handle the particular aspects of the subject matter they will present. Forum discussions will follow each lecture. The object of the group of addresses is to give a comprehensive presentation of the role religion has played in the origin and development of culture and its place in the life of the citizen of today.

Dr. Philip A. Parsons, head of the department of sociology, will open the series of lectures with an address on "The Relation of Religion to the Origin and Development of Culture." This will be in the form of an orientation lecture introducing the series. Dr. Parsons who is one of the most active men on the Pacific coast in organization of social and spiritual activities in many communities is considered a leader in this field.

The second address, set for February 7, will be given by Dr. George Rabec, professor of philosophy and dean of the graduate school. He has chosen "The Role of Religion in History" as his topic. In this speech the part that religion has played in different civilizations will be approached from the social angle.

Reverend J. Hudson Ballard, recently appointed pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Portland, will deliver the third lecture on February 21, taking as his topic, "Religion in Relation to Character Education." Dr. Ballard was formerly head of the department of philosophy and religion at Occidental college.

"Religion in Relation to Science" will be the topic of the fourth lecture of the series. It will be given by Dr. Olof Larsell, head of the department of anatomy of the University's medical school. Dr. Larsell is a supporter of the Y. M. C. A. on the campus.

The fifth and final lecture will be presented by Dr. Elam J. Anderson, president of Linfield college. The subject of the address will be "Religion in Relation to Higher Education."

The season tickets on sale are

One of Mohawk Disaster Heroes

Spurred to superhuman effort in a frenzy to save her son, Emilio, Mrs. Carolina Diaz, 40, of Havana, emerged a heroine from the tragedy that overwhelmed the survivors of the ill-fated liner Mohawk. When the only able seaman in her lifeboat relinquished the oars because of frozen hands, she battled the turbulent Atlantic single-handed to keep the cumbersome craft head on into huge seas that otherwise would have swamped them. Twenty persons were saved by her courage. She is pictured clinging to her son on the Ward Line Pier in New York while a crowd acclaims her feat, after being landed from the rescue ship Algonquin.

Casteel Sets Deadline Date For Speakers

Second of Jewett Speech Contests Will Be Held February 14

John L. Casteel, director of speech, yesterday set February 4 as the deadline for entrance in the W. F. Jewett extempore speaking contest, which will be held on the evening of February 14. This contest is the second of the series this year. All students desiring to participate are asked by Casteel to call at the speech office, room 110 Friendly hall, to leave their names.

Three prizes of $25, $15, and $5 will be awarded to the three winners of the extempore speaking contest. It is open to all undergraduate students.

"America's Stake in the Pacific" has been chosen the general subject for the extempore speeches. This topic will include all phases of America's relations to the political, economic, and social life in the Pacific basin including commercial relations with the orient as well as with our possessions.

The procedure which will be carried out by the entrants is:

1. Speakers should prepare by informing themselves thoroughly on the file indicated by the general subject.

2. On the evening of the contest, speakers will draw in turn, in the order of speaking, three sub-topics, from a list of twelve prepared by members of the faculty. Of these three sub-topics, the speaker will use the one of his choice, and return the two rejected.

3. Speeches shall be given extempore, without use of notes.

4. Length of speeches shall be not less than 8 nor more than 10 minutes.

Competence in meeting various speech situations, speech organization, and facility in presentation of extempore speeches are some of the benefits which will be derived from participation in this contest aside from possible monetary returns, Mr. Casteel believes.

AFTER CONCENTRATING—

GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

JOHN L. FILSON, '36—BIOLOGY.
Filson says: "After a long 'lab' session, dissecting and drawing detailed diagrams... spending hours over a microscope... you get pretty well worn out. I keep a pack of Camels beside me. For, with such exacting work, it's a great relief to smoke a Camel any time I'm tired and quickly experience a delightful return in energy. And boy! Do those Camels taste good!"

TUNE IN ON THE NEW CAMEL CARAVAN

featuring GLEN GRAY'S CASA LOMA ORCHESTRA
WALTER O'KEEFE • ANNETTE HANSHAW

TUESDAY 10:00 P.M. E.S.T.
9:00 P.M. C.S.T.
8:00 P.M. M.S.T.
7:00 P.M. P.S.T.

THURSDAY 9:00 P.M. E.S.T.
8:00 P.M. C.S.T.
9:30 P.M. M.S.T.
8:30 P.M. P.S.T.

OVER COAST-TO-COAST WABC-COLUMBIA NETWORK

GLEN GRAY

TREE SURGEON. "Camels help to relieve the tiredness that follows a hard day's work," says H. L. Vough, a Camel smoker for 8 years. "I'm a pretty constant smoker. I consider Camels the mildest cigarette—they never jangle my nerves."

DRAFTSMAN. Franklin Dominick says: "Camels restore the feeling of ease and mental alertness that a draftsman needs to continue his exacting work. I smoke Camels constantly. And never have they given me any sign of ragged nerves."

CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS

NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!