

Winter Dances Hold Spotlight :-: Coeds Find Oregon Men Worthy

Valentine's Day Inspires Many Entertainments During the Last Week

"I love you with all my heart and mind.

So won't you be my Valentine?" February may be the shortest month in the year, but with the birthdays of two famous Americans to celebrate, St. Valentine's Day, and numerous campus affairs, it seems February must be a good month for social activities.

Sprinkling among the social events of this week-end are several dinners honoring guests and house dances.

Exchange dinners for the past week include:

Entertain With Formal Dance

Guests of Chi Omega will dance Saturday evening amid Japanese lanterns and wall hangings to the music of Sherwood Burr's orchestra, at the Chi Omega winter formal being given at the chapter house.

Out of town guests who will be present at the dance are Eleanor Eide, Lorraine Sinnett, Marion Taylor, Louise Stein, and Betty Mae Higby.

Those invited as patrons and patronesses for the dance are Mr. and Mrs. Marion McClain, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Schreff, Dr. and Mrs. Melville Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Bel-den Babb, and Mrs. May S. Harmon.

Coeds' Pet Wishes Now Put in Print

By Helen Bartrum

See the first star out at night and make a wish; put a piece of wedding cake under your pillow, sleep on it for a certain number of nights and your wish will come true; walk across a footbridge backwards three times and you will gain your greatest desire—we are forever making wishes.

Sometimes we wish for things that strike our fancy at the moment and sometimes for things that signify the height of our ambition. Every individual has his own particular desires and wishes. Some want money, some fame, while others are satisfied with smaller things.

What would you want if you could have your one greatest wish come true? That question has been answered by a number of Oregon coeds. None wished for a large sum of money, few desired fame, but each one questioned had a very definite idea of what she wanted.

"There's nothing I'd like better than to be transported at this very moment to the shores of Hawaii," declared Roberta Moody. "That is the one place in the world where I've wanted to go. The only thing that I would like better would be to have been a boy, but since that is impossible, 'I'll take Hawaii.'"

We don't know whether she has a secret sorrow who measures 6 ft. 4 or whether she is merely tired of being unable to see over people's heads that makes ADELE SHEEHY wish for an additional height of two inches. At any rate that is her greatest desire at present. MARY McCracken aspires to more lofty things. Her greatest ambition is to learn how to walk up and down stairs on her hands. After that her next wish is to take a long boat trip by herself within the near future.

Now that spring is at hand ANN REED BURNS has the desire to be able to throw away all of her old clothes and get a complete new wardrobe. Not a few girls join in with her in this desire. MARTHA McCALL would yield to her hermit instinct, if she had her way, by purchasing a very lovely summer cottage on the edge of a lake where she could read and swim all day long and not be bothered by people. Perhaps Marjorie Will should join her there, so she could ride the "super-wonderful" horse, which she desires above all else.

That she might begin college all over again would satisfy GAIL MCCREDIE more than anything else that she knows of. NANCY ARCHBOLD, on the other hand, is evidently not quite so enthusiastic about going to school all her life, for she desires more leisure time above all else.

Not a few girls gazed soulfully into space as they declared that their greatest desire in life at the present time is to find a man that they really could love. Several confided that if they could actually have one wish granted they would want to be able to eat pastry, rolls, fattening things that they must potatoes, candy bars, and every deny themselves now and not gain a single bit. Right at present we wish—

Corsages Ring New Keynote In Winter Formals

The great onslaught of formals looming before college coeds brings a flurry of scrambling for new and intriguing creations both in evening dresses and accessories.

Corsages, infrequent but welcome guests, are being flaunted before wistful eyes in new and smart fashions! As dress styles have adopted the high soft neckline, corsages have been transferred from the shoulder to the front of frocks, usually worn just below the throat. This change does away with the broken neck line.

Orchids—the mental photograph is ordinarily lavender with a large dollar sign. Perhaps Oregon men are becoming more prosperous—at any rate a surprising number of these delicate and priceless blossoms were worn by proud possessors last weekend.

By the way, an extremely exotic effect can be gained by wearing a brown formal with either green or yellow orchids.

Jeanne Hankins, Alpha Phi blonde, was extremely attractive at the Kappa Sig dance in a flame formal with a corsage made up of three white orchids.

Nancy Lou Cullers, Gamma Phi, and Lorraine Barker, Theta, both joined the ranks of the "lucky," as they swirled about at the Beta dance with lovely corsages.

Eavesdropping Eve Peeks Into Keyhole Again

Valentines and more valentines! The sweetest donation this year was that of the CHI PSIS to the ALPHA PHIS. They wrapped ED LABBE up daintily in frills and ribbons and left him on the front porch with love and kisses to JANE CHAPLER. Don't the CHI PSIS play the nicest games!

It's going some when one girl will get a five pound box of candy AND two plants from the same man. Write MARJ BAKER for five easy lessons on how to obtain "IT."

Miracles do happen! BOYCE (GOLDIE) STANARD planted his ATO pin on a pretty little blond in Portland. Shall we go into mourning, gals?

Those two "Frenchies," BILL BERG and BILL RUSSELL are still up to their old tricks. Now, boys, not so much handshaking. Or maybe we're wrong and this is really love?

It has been rumored that a certain ex-track star is slowly getting "that way" about TRI DELT (QUEENIE) STEVENSON!

Speaking of TRI DELTS, all this fuss about Oregon men seems to have taken root with some of them. Anyway we heard one of them saying that Oregon State men were such perfect gentlemen and that Oregon men were too conceited and rah! rah! Joe College. Imagine that! And immediately there was an order put in for a perfect gentleman—even if they had to transport one from the northern branch.

The latest transfer from the ATO house to the PHI DELT is JEANETTE CHARMAN who has been seen places lately with ANDY ANDERSON. That makes two in the past few weeks. What is it that the PHI DELTS have that the ATO's haven't got??

Questionnaire Returns Show Women Favorable Toward Campus Males

Far from the noise and strife of our most recent sensation on the Oregon campus, the attack upon the "manner of man," comes the echo of our efforts, all the way from California. The comment reads as follows: "There comes to me a startling shock in the form of quibbling, through the Emerald, over the respective qualities of male and female. I'm surprised. It is a very futile method. I know the Emerald will be sedate and elevated about the method, but the results are useless."

The results of the questionnaire which was published on the women's page last Friday are not useless, and will do much to suave the injured feelings of campus males.

The Oregon women have rallied to their support, and while the number of questionnaires filled out was not large, they may be considered representative of female sentiment.

Only eight girls though it a sign of politeness for men to call about one or two a. m. for a friendly chat, while 133 claimed it was not. The Oregon men can discuss something besides sports and the weather, according to 130 girls, while 21 thought they could not. One of these gave them the benefit of the doubt by adding the comment "yes, themselves."
