Yeomen Bouts Well Received By Fight Fans

Thienes Boys Steal Show As Youngsters Battle Hard

Golik-Bradshaw Tilt Ends In Draw

By Fulton H. Travis
The Yeoman smoker was all it has been advertised as—and more. The main event between Ed Golik and Joe Bradshaw was slower than fight-fans had hoped for, but it still had plenty of rough boxing and both fighters showed skill along with the ability to take unlimited punishment. During none of the five rounds did either man show a marked advantage and there was no more than the average amount of boozing when the judges gave a draw decision.

Wrestling Bouts Good
There were three wrestling bouts and one exhibition round. Bryan Ryan vs. Larry Wheelon was decided by a fall in 3.5 minutes in favor of Wheelon.

Claude (Cowboy) Bowers won the decision on a time advantage over Paul Thompson.

Don Brace scored a fall with a body press in 3½ minutes against Bob Neely. The boys mixed it up and were unusually fast for their weight, 175 pounds.

Russ Beales, U. O. and Ned Valentine, also a University wrestler, put on an exhibition scrap that kept the crowd on the edges of their chairs for ten minutes. Not even the referee, Verle White, was scared as the lads playfully involved him in the brawl.

Fencers Stage Intermission
As an intermission number between the wrestling and boxing events, Fred Giesecke and Lloyd Cummins put on a fencing exhibition.

Three one-minute rounds were staged by the eight-year-old blonde twins, Earl and Carl Thienes, weighing in at 60 pounds. The boys showed expert technique and the willingness to mix it up. The crowd noisily proclaimed its favorites.

George Everingham and Ike Candino, 115 pounds, mixed it for one round. Candino was knocked down, saved by the bell, and his second threw in the towel for a technical knockout.

Dayton Wins Grudge
The much-feted grudge fight between Malcom Hansen and Dayton Stoddard was a snappy bout. Hansen is a good track-man and "Champ" Stoddard was a trifle wild but a solid puncher. Stoddard scored a technical knockout in the third.

Complete summary of the bouts follows:

WRESTLING

Bryan Ryan vs. Larry Wheelon*, 135 pounds.

"Cowboy" Bowers* vs. Paul Thompson, 145 pounds.

Don Brace* vs. Bob Neely, 175 pounds.

BOXING

Earl Thienes vs. Carl Thienes (draw), 60 pounds.

Ike Candino vs. George Everingham*, 115 pounds.

Lee Ellmaker vs. Don Carmichael*, 150 pounds.

Jerry McGonigle vs. Wesley Franklin*, 140 pounds.

Comet Gibson* vs. Ruben Thomas, 140 pounds.

Malcom Hansen vs. Dayton Stoddard*, 150 pounds.

JOE BRADSHAW vs. ED GOLIK, (draw), 165 pounds.

(Stars indicate winner in each bout.)

Officials, Boxers, Praised

Reports made by Yeoman officials showed a crowd out for the smoker numbering about 400. The gate receipts better than paid expenses for the smoker and Fred Giesecke, general chairman stated that already requests have been received from fight fans for more Yeoman cards.

Webfeet Off Tomorrow On Road Trip

Reinhart Will Take Ten Men on Journey to Husky Citadel

U. O. Victory Means Title For Beavers

At noon tomorrow the Webfoot basketball squad will entrain for Seattle, where they will face the University of Washington Huskies Monday and Tuesday nights. Coach Bill Reinhart plans to take ten or more men with him on the last road trip of the 1935 season.

A spirited practice session was held last night, with the varsity having a hard time repulsing the attacks of the "Green Wave" led by Liebowitz and Bill Harcombe. Willy Jones performed well under the basket, and some of his old-time shooting eye seemed to have returned. The "sophomore combination" of Johnny Lewis and Rollie Rourke—Rourke is a senior—continue to look better and better, and the Huskies will have a hard time stopping these two basketballers.

Huskies Need Wins

"Hec" Edmundson's Purple and Gold quintet has to beat the Ducks in order to stay in the running for the northern division title, figuring that the Oregon State team will lose a game or so on its present road trip to Washington State and Idaho, and the Webfoots are determined to give the Washington title hopes a severe jolt by taking at least one of the games—with two victories not without the realms of possibility.

The men who will probably make the trip include Capt. Bill Berg, Ron Gemmill, Sam Liebowitz, Budd Jones, Willard Jones, Glen Sanford, Johnny Lewis, Roland Rourke, Bill Harcombe, and Arnold Faust. Besides Coach Reinhart, the other member of the party will be Fred Whittlesey, student manager. The team will return to the campus sometime Wednesday, and will immediately start final preparations for the fourth and last Oregon State contest here next Saturday.

are of one piece bent and tied with buckskin. Indian ceremonial masks of many shapes and the Philippine display have also aroused much curiosity.

Basket Work Seen

The housing display is especially appropriate, as it is linked with the types of culture which the various articles are products of. Many of the visitors recognized the basket work which is native of this section, the attendants say, while no one will believe that the water jar does not surround a jug but depends upon the closeness of the weave and a caking of pitch to make it impermeable to moisture. The Condon archeological collection and the material collected by Prof. L. S. Cressman from the Gold Hill districts also attract many interested spectators.

For the benefit of the grammar school children who have been requested to attend with their teachers or parents, the films will be shown again at ten today.

Singers, Novelty

Faye Knox, Mary Jane Hungerford, Jack Hammond, and Lucy Ann Wendel are but a few of the artists who will perform on the polished dance floor.

Spotlights Threaten

Mrs. Hazel Schwering, whose position as dean of women puts her in the know, is planning to have the spotlight turned on the campus and downtown notables—celebrities had better stay away.

The musical Stehns of the faculty are scheduled to appear on the program and music lovers may also hear the Gleemen's quartet, the Phi Beta trio, and such well known campus musicians as Vivian Malone (lately of Curious Cub fame), Theresa Kelly, Madge Conaway, and Madeline Giustina.

Oregon Gunners Will Cope in Wire Meets

Deserting its record-smashing ways, the Oregon rifle team turned in a ten-man total of 3719 points for the weekly telegraphic shoot. Although not up to other scores which the team has made this season, Sergeant Harvey Blythe believes it is high enough to cope with most of the opposition which they encounter this week.

Ken BeLieu, Portland dead-eye, nosed out Earl Thomson, high man last week, and E. J. Cross with 383 points. Cross scored 382 and Thomson 381. Del Bjork moved into the fourth position three points behind BeLieu, and in doing so cracked the University record for the standing position with 92.

Men Are Sick

Although not usually classed as a contact sport, Sergeant Blythe reports that three of his men are on the sick or injured list, and one, N. M. Knoss, has withdrawn from the University. H. E. Olsen is suffering from a sprained shoulder, not sustained from the kick of the .22 caliber target gun, however, while C. E. Ayers has the mumps and Ralph Cathey has a touch of influenza.

This week Washington, University of St. Louis, South Dakota State college, the University of Kentucky, Montana State, and Oklahoma A. and M., are on the list of Oregon's telegraphic opponents. At present with ten matches accounted for, Oregon has won eight and lost two. The two losses were to Washington and Idaho universities, two of the outstanding teams on the Pacific coast.

Complete Scores

This week's scores show L. L. Dunn, a substitute, nosing out A. J. Demaris for the tenth position by a two point margin.

Complete scores are as follows:
K. E. BeLieu	383
B. J. Cross	382
E. W. Thomson	381
Del Bjork	380
Norris Perkins	374
L. D. Jacobson	373
P. V. Hill	369
W. L. Demaris	362
L. J. Oglesby	359

or in legal process of withdrawal from it, can buttress it with their full strength. Then it will be impregnable in its solidity and resistless in its influence.

"No nation, or group of nations, can prevail over civilization with the infamy and calamity of war, provided civilization, for the most part, be organized, consolidated, to throttle war. We believe in peace, to my mind, must believe in the League of Nations—in an international method of using the strength of mankind to protect mankind."

"Peace exacts a price?"

"Everything, good or bad, exacts a price."

Nothing in diplomacy since the great war has been more notable or beneficent than the agreement for the international policing of the Saar, before, during, and after the plebiscite, and the easing of Yugoslav-Hungarian relations following the assassination of King Alexander.

Here is what Sir John Simon, with the backing of his government as a while, did: Touching the Saar, he laid down four precisely defined and inflexible conditions. These conditions were:

1. Whatever might be done must be done in the Saar, and before the plebiscite.
2. If Britain were to send a military force into the Saar, Europe must be represented there similarly.
3. Neither France nor Germany must be represented.
4. Both France and Germany must signify their approval of the action in advance.

The Anglo-Saxon Mind

Sir John, like Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald, has great confidence in Anglo-American cooperation in all questions affecting the peace of the world.

"The simple fact is," said Sir John, "that the Americans and ourselves dislike abstract commitments concerning concrete cases which have not arisen and can not be foreseen in all their details and bearings."

"We are not, in other words, logicians in the French significance. Our mental mold is empiric."

"We like to deal specifically with specific matters in the light of all the relevant circumstances. These two types of mind, however, are getting better and better acquainted with each other."

"International conferences, an earnest effort all round to promote world understanding and peace, are having their invaluable effect."

Merman Will Hold Inter-Squad Clash

Natators Will Cavort in Gerlinger This Afternoon

First Conference Meet With Huskies

At 3:00 p. m. this afternoon the varsity swimming team will hold the last inter-squad competition of the year in the Gerlinger pool. Next week, in Seattle, the first conference meet of the 1935 season will be held, with the University of Washington team furnishing the opposition.

Several tasty races will be served up to the swimming public today, with coast records likely to be broken in one event at least. This feature is the 200-yard breaststroke which will pit Chuck Reed and Forrest Kirby against each other with the winner probably being forced to break the present record.

Fast Times Expected

Jim Reed, who usually performs in the backstroke, will do his stuff today in three free-style events—the 40-yard dash, the 100-yard dash, and the 220-yard swim—and will attempt to either beat Jim Hurd and Wally Hug, or make them swim so fast that they too will crack some records. The feature race between this trio has been arranged in the 100-yard dash, which will be the first event on the afternoon's program.

Chilton Will Dive

Bob Chilton, diver, will give an exhibition of the dives that may bring him the Northwest collegiate championship this year.

Husky Meet Coming

This afternoon's meet will be the last practice event of the year, before the team meets the crack Husky team, led by the world famous Jack Medica, in Seattle next Saturday. The Webfoot swimmers are determined to "take" the Huskies in their own pool, but realize that they will have to do some fast swimming. The Washington team is practically the same as last year's, which rated third at the national's last season. Their only loss is Chuck Mucha who is enroute to Japan to play exhibition football.

The program for this afternoon is as follows:

1. 100-yard dash—First heat, Hayashi, Mayer, Angell. Second heat, Scroggins, Hoffman, Third heat, Hurd, Reed.
2. 200-yard breaststroke—Reed, Kerby, Deane.
3. 100-yard backstroke—Gibson.
4. 40-yard dash—Hug, Hurd, Reed, Hoffman.
5. 440-yard freestyle—Scroggins, Angell, Halverson, VanLydegraf.
6. Diving—Chilton, Meyers.
7. 220-yards—Hurd, Hoffman, Reed, Hug.
8. 300-yard medley—Mayer, Gibson, KeKryb, Hayashi, Scroggins, Reed.

Oregon Riders Will Hold Paper Chase Tomorrow

A paper chase, sponsored by the University Hunt club will be held at 9 o'clock Sunday at the Fairway Riding Academy.

This "chase" is the first to be sponsored by this organization this year. It is a half-closed chase, it was announced. Spectators will be able to watch the start and finish of the affair. The chase will be over a course of 2 miles, with the riders endeavoring to find the paper strewn over the course by a leader.

The club will hold other meets in the near future, while most of their time is now being spent in the art of learning to ride correctly.

'ILLINI' HAS CLEAR FIELD

Washington State Come From Behind To Stop Beavers

(Special to the Emerald.)

PULLMAN, Wash., Feb. 22.—Washington State college did what Washington, Idaho, and Oregon have been trying to do in the last six games, with the Oregon State Beavers when they stopped the sensational winning streak of the Beavers here last night by a score of 27-30.

Trailing throughout the entire contest, the Cougars came from behind in the final minutes of play and baskets by Captain Rogers put the game on ice.

Tonight's defeat did not seriously hinder the pennant seeking Beavers who have still four games to play. Both teams will play again tonight.

Gamma Phi Star Makes 50 Points To Help Cause

Rolling up a score of 77 points against their opponents 6, Gamma Phi Beta walked away with the game with Sigma Kappa and Delta Delta Delta combination basketball team, yesterday at Gerlinger hall.

Leading from the first of the game the mill race team rolled in the baskets and at the half the score was 42 to 3 in favor of the Gamma Phi's.

Lucas Goes Wild

Tony Lucas, flashy mill race forward, hooped in 50 points to her credit. Besides being high score woman for the game she outdistanced any other forward for points of the season. Betty McGirr credited the Sigma Kappa-Delta Delta team with 4 points.

Playing on the Gamma Phi team were N. and P. Cullers, T. Lucas, B. Beam, J. Vinneedge, M. Smith, J. Bogue, and G. McCreadie.

Sigma Kappa-Tri Delta team was composed of L. Beers, H. Payne, M. Webster, E. McGirr, V. Scoville and M. Foster.

Frosh Meet Rooks Tonight In Igloo To Finish Season

Yearlings Will Face Rooks Tonight to Conclude Very Brilliant Season With Three Losses

CORVALLIS, Ore., Feb. 22.—Yearlings have dropped but three games out of their current season. They lost two games at the beginning of the season to the Irish Cash store five of Eugene, and lost the third to the Rooks in the second of the four game series. They hold wins over the Rooks, the Irish, two over Salem high, Eugene high, Longview high, Lower Columbia Junior College, Astoria high, Franklin high of Portland, and the state championship Astoria high school five.

Shields will probably use his old combination of Jack Stafford, and Bob Austin, forwards; Dave Silver, center; Dale Lasselle and Vernon Moore, guards. These players, along with Willie Williamson, Lee Canessa, Ford Danner, Virgil Ragsdale, Bob Haas, Bill Dick, and Jack Crawford, will be ready for "ibg time" competition next year, when they will be eligible for varsity competition.

State Social Workers To Hear Victor Morris

With Victor P. Morris, one of the speakers, and the topic of the two-day session "Social Security," the regional meeting of the Oregon State Social Workers association, to be held at the Osburn hotel on February 24 and 25, will be of special interest to sociology students and faculty.

Many outstanding speakers and guests will attend, among them are O. E. Crow, who will act as Sunday's chairman and Thomas Sheridan as Monday's chairman. The meeting will be opened by Rabbi Sandrow.

Teams to Meet Tonight

Donning their basketball outfits for the last time this year, the University of Oregon freshman basketball squad will play host to the Oregon State Rooks tonight at McArthur court. The contest is slated to begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Tonight's game will mark the final appearances of Frosh players who will enter the floor for the final time playing under the tutelage of Gene Shields. To date the
