

Student Christian Council Expects Visit From Geer

Religious Educator Comes To Campus Tuesday

Owen Geer, representing the international council of religious education, will spend Tuesday on the campus, meeting with the Student Christian council and downtown religious workers. Geer is covering the coast helping religious groups set up a "Building a New World" program.

This revolutionary program was recently adopted at a convention of leaders from all the better-known denominations. It involves building a new person, home, community, nation and world.

Geer will arrive in Eugene at 11:50 a. m. and will be entertained at a luncheon at McMorrans and Washburne's store by local religious workers and ministers. At 4 p. m. five members from each organization of the Student Christian council will meet together in the rest cottage back of Skinner's butte.

The session will last until the "Building a New World" program has been completely worked out. The visitor is a foremost proponent of the "social gospel." His theory and practice of practical religion has set an enviable example which has been followed by churches in widely separated parts of the country.

Geer is distinctly a left-winger in the Methodist church, and has taught social problems classes in youth institutes of that denomination all over the county. He has had many experiences in labor groups and made a special study of conditions among the Illinois coal workers.

Explorers Group Being Formulated By Scout Council

Warren D. Smith to Head Activity Committee

"Explorers" is to be the name of a new group activity being formulated by the council of the Boy Scouts of America for Lane, Benton, and Douglas counties, Warren D. Smith, head of geography and geology on the campus, has announced. Professor Smith has been appointed chairman of a committee for planning the work.

Like the Sea Scouts, the Explorers will be open only to those in the higher ranks of scout work and to leaders, Dr. Smith said. The purpose of the program will be to provide young men interested with training for outdoor work in such fields as geology, botany, zoology, and photography.

Since the activity calls for quite an elaborate program of classroom instruction as well as outdoor experience, it will probably not be well outlined before next fall, he said, and it will require the assistance of several men on the campus as well as of the Obsidians, local hiking club.

"We have unusually fine conditions here in Oregon for this sort of thing," said Dr. Smith in commenting upon the possibilities for working out the project successfully.

New Officers to Be Named At Annual Banquet

Sue Moshberger and Mary Morse, co-chairmen for the annual W. A. A. banquet which is held the latter part of each winter term, have announced the committees that will work in conjunction with the chairmen on the affair.

Jane Chapler and Betty Price have been appointed in charge of invitations. Entertainment will be handled by Mary Morse. Decorations for the banquet will be under the direction of Toni Lucas and Harriet Kistner. Frances Watzek will act as treasurer.

Awards to be given

Awards earned by women in athletics will be awarded at the dinner. The most important event of the evening, however, will be the announcement of the officers for the new term. Election results are not revealed to members of the association until the banquet.

The participation plaque, which is held at the present time by Alpha Omicron Pi, will be awarded again. Women's living organizations compete on a basis of sports entered, number and per cent of house members competing and sportsmanship. The basketball trophy and the Sellar, swimming cup will also be awarded at the banquet.

Mumps Case Finishes Quiet Infirmary Week

A climax to the first quiet week-end the infirmary has seen was the addition, Monday morning, of another mumps case, making the eighth case in the past two weeks. Those admitted this morning were Ruthalbert Wolfenden and Carroll Hood. Sally Reed, Craig Povey and Edwin Farrar have been in since Saturday.

published, unproduced, and original; no adaptations from stories will be considered. Acting time is not to exceed 45 minutes. Contributors must be resident graduate or undergraduate students in a university or college of the United States. Each entry must be accompanied by a letter from some official of the author's college saying that he is enrolled in that institution.

The deadline for the contest has been set as April 15, 1935. The plays shall be judged on literary merit and possibilities of dramatic production. The sponsors of the contest reserve the right of producing the prize-winning plays without royalty.

Anyone interested in competing in this contest may secure more details on the contest by contacting Mrs. Ottilie T. Seybolt in the drama department.

Murray Warner Contest Deadline Fixed as April 8

$400 in Prizes Posted for Oriental Essays

All students competing in the Murray Warner essay contest should have their papers completed and turned in to the contest committee before April 8.

Four hundred dollars in prizes are being given by Mrs. Gertrude Bass Warner, sponsor, for the best essays written on Asiatic problems and culture. Mrs. Warner, who presented the University with the Oriental Art museum, sponsors this contest annually in an effort to stimulate interest in the affairs of the orient.

The essays should be 5000 words in length and deal with the cultural, political, economic or historical problems of eastern Asia. Each contestant must be taking at least one course dealing with the art, economic development, geography, history, international relations, literature, politics or religions of the orient.

Members of the contest committee are Dr. Harold J. Noble, chairman, Dr. Samuel Haig Jameson and Dr. Victor P. Morris.
