UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, SATURDAY, APRIL 20, 1935

NUMBER 99

New Premier Chosen

SOFIA, Bulgaria—King Boris, still head man in his government, crossed up contending army factions today and named Andrea Toscheff, civilian, diplomat, and historian, to the vacant premiership.

Toscheff replaced General Petko Zlateff, whose army-dominated cabinet resigned yesterday after the arrest and internment of several leading statesmen tore it apart.

At nightfall the king, whose disposition to run Bulgarian affairs has been increasingly evident since his "royal putsch" last January, surprised military and political circles by choosing Toscheff to form the new government.

New Park Proposed

CHEYENNE, Wyoming—A new national park that would extend from St. Louis, Ohio, to the Pacific coast is proposed by a special Wyoming commission in a tentative legislative measure sent to Representative Paul Greever (D-Wyo) for submission to congress.

Fascist Leaders Meet

ROME — "A cordial colloquy of more than an hour" between Benito Mussolini and Prince Ernst Von Starhemberg, Europe's chief exponent of Fascism, today served to emphasize official Italy's growing sentiment for restoration of the Hapsburg dynasty in Austria. Von Starhemberg — handsome, youthful vice-chancellor of Austria, leader of the 100,000-strong fascist Heimwehr and staunch monarchist—talk to Il Duce, it was learned, about the Hapsburgs, Austria's rearmament and the forthcoming Danubian conference in Rome.

It is freely conceded here that Italian officialdom looks upon eventual restoration of the monarchy in little Austria as the only means of staving off permanently Austria's union with Germany.

Await Nazi Reaction

LONDON — A feeling akin to foreboding lingered today in Downing street, almost deserted thought it was for the Easter holidays, as key British officials awaited Adolf Hitler's next move.

Recalling the German Fuehrer's predilection for weekend sensations, observers here thought Saturday or Sunday might bring his expected scathing denunciation of the League of Nations council's reproof to the rearming reich.

Committee Plans YWCA Decoration

Complete plans for the redecorating of the YWCA bungalow have been made by Hannah Crossley, head of the redecorating committee, at a series of meetings that she has been holding this week for the members of her group.

During spring vacation the bungalow was kalsomined and a back porch built by students working under the FERA. Miss Crossley is furnishing the front room in green with rust and gold trimming. New drapes are in the process of being made as well as some wall paintings. The present intention is to have the bungalow completely redecorated and in order for the annual YWCA Mothers' day tea on May 10.

Members of the redecorating committee are: Doris Mabie, Jane Brewster, Jean Ackerson, Eleanor Ekleson, Iris Schmidt, Harriett Thomsen, and Consuelo Rubalcaba.

Thelma Lund to Assist In California College

Thelma Lund, graduate student in psychology, has been appointed to assist in the reading clinic of Greely state teachers' college in Greely, California, during the summer vacation.

Miss Lund received her appointment through Dr. Wait of the psychology department at Greely, who visited the University of Oregon reading clinic last fall.

Campus Calendar

Thespians will meet Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Gerlinger hall.

Two Easter services of interest to students will be held at the Congregational church, one at 9:30, the other at 11. Rev. Clay Palmer will speak on the sermon topic, "What Easter Means to Me." There will be three special musical numbers.

The grade point average is the quotient of the total grade points earned by an organization, divided by the total hours completed. Grades of A count 3 points, B counts 2 points, and C 1 point. D is not counted and an F counts minus 1 point. Incompletes, withdrawals, auditors, and graduate students are omitted entirely.

Houses may get their copies of the scholastic rating today at the information room in the registrar's office in Johnson hall.

YWCA to Present Marionette Show

Acclaimed one of the leading puppet shows in the west, Scott's Merry Marionettes will come to Eugene next Tuesday and Wednesday with a program of entertaining one-act plays and novelty numbers.

The YWCA freshman finance committee is sponsoring the show with Isobelle Miller acting as chairman. Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a matinee performance at the University high school. An evening performance will also be given both Tuesday and Wednesday nights at 7:30. Prices are 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

All in all 35 puppets are to take part in the performance. The puppets have played at a number of colleges and have been received with great favor.

YWCA to Present Marionette Show

Tickets are on sale today and for the remaining time until the performances both at the YWCA and at the different sororities.

Pan American Clipper Sets Record

In an attempt to "fly" with wings molded on those of a moth, Floyd Davis, 22, stepped from an airplane at an altitude of 6,000 feet over the field at Flint, Michigan. The first parachute with which he was equipped became entangled in his wings and opened only partially. When spectators reached the body, the rip-cord of the second chute which he was required to wear was still in place.

Fee Workers Set 6000 Signatures Referendum Goal

Students to Seek Signers Downtown Today

Official endorsement of the student fee referendum by the Oregon civil liberties union has added new zest to the drive for 6000 petition signers in Lane county. A dozen or more students plan to spend today on downtown streets securing signers for the petition which aims to put senate bill 204 on the ballot.

The student relief committee expects to get several thousand signers today by thorough coverage of downtown Eugene. Students will work in shifts, covering all the principal street corners and shopping centers.

The relief committee yesterday received the letter from the Oregon chapter of the American civil liberties union which told that they had adopted a resolution endorsing the referendum. The resolution declared "this bill would raise higher education tuition fees and thus withdraw the opportunities for learning from a considerable number of worthy citizens of our state."

"To compel students to contribute to the support of a corporation devoted to activities outside educational curriculum is a violation of the liberty which should belong to every individual."

The referendum has also been endorsed by the state grange, the labor federation, leading churches and ministers, the Oregonian, Charles Hansen, state Townsend organizer, and others.

Music Students To Give Recitals

Two recitals are being presented by the University school of music early next week. Monday evening at 8:15 p. m. Kathryn Orme, pianist is to appear, assisted by Vivian Malone, violinist.

Tuesday evening at the same hour, Sally Potter Reed, pianist, is presenting a recital.

Both programs are replete with numbers which have universal appeal and according to experts at the music building, they will be well worth hearing.

No admission will be charged. Both University students and Eugene residents are invited to attend the concerts.

Riding Classes Will Begin Monday With Different Academy

Riding classes will begin Monday under Merton Robertson of the Corvallis riding academy, who will open the Eugene riding school, formerly the Alder Street academy. All students who registered with the Fairview academy will be taken into the riding class, if they report immediately with Dean Bovard of the school of physical education, where arrangements will be made with Mr. Robertson before the continuation of riding classes.

New enrollments for credit must also make arrangements through Bovard's office.

Revision of Constitution Will Unite Articles, Amendments

Voting Thursday to Decide Acceptance of Change

Boasting several new principles and consisting mainly of a complete revision of the old constitution so as to unite the articles and the amendments voted in last year into one complete unit, the amendment which associated student members will vote on Thursday appears in complete form in this issue of the Emerald.

The complete result includes the work of last year's constitutional revision committee under Thomas Tongue, work this year by Secretary Nancy Archbold and President Joseph Renner, and the moulding and assistance of campus leaders and students in all branches of activities.

In addition to seeing that all the amendments have been rewritten into articles but still contain the same subject matter, many changes have been necessary to provide meeting any situation under either optional or compulsory fees.

One of the greatest single items in the complete revision has been the addition of article number ten which provides for two representatives of independent students on the executive council. However the article holds good in any particular year, only if 90 per cent of all undergraduate students are ASUO members by the first Thursday in April.

The article provides for the creation of four political divisions, one each of fraternity men, sorority women, and independent and dormitory men, and independent and (Please turn to page four)

Textile Design Exhibit Shows Order Brought Out of Chaos

By Henryetta Mumme
"From romanticism to modernism the craft of textile designing swings—Order comes out of chaos." This quotation can well be adapted to describe the feeling given by the textile designs now on display in the Little Art gallery of the school of architecture and allied arts. Sigma Kappa is acting as sponsor for the exhibit.

The hangings on display are the work of American, French, Austrian, and German artists. They are suitable for certain purposes and reflect a social atmosphere. Some could only be used in the ultra-modern home, but for the most part they are suitable for the average home and could be hung in living rooms, student's rooms, boudoirs, children's rooms, cocktail rooms, and in country homes or hunting lodges.

Of the American prints, the most interesting are the Hudson river series by Ruth Reeves, outstanding American textile designer. This field is a comparatively new one for American designers because for nearly 100 years when a scenic print was wanted, an old masterpiece was copied. Miss

Barclay Will Oppose Baker Soph Ticket

Schlott Followers Hold Parade; Blais Men Plan Rally Dance

No Juniors File Petitions For Class Officers

The freshman class, only a few days ago pulling almost unanimously for Lyle Baker and his ticket, definitely split yesterday at the class meeting with the surprise nomination of Charles Barclay for president, running without a ticket in opposition to the remainder of the Baker group.

While the forming of the opposition in the yearling class yesterday was the most outstanding development on the all-campus political front, the major campaign for election of student body officials for next year kept steaming with a parade at noon by the backers of Schlott which surpassed a previous demonstration held by the other group Thursday. Blais' backers plan a rally dance today on the Sigma Alpha Epsilon tennis courts from 2:30 until 5 o'clock.

Schlott Plan Circulated

Backers of the Schlott ticket yesterday circulated handbills on the campus, in which Schlott's plans for the creation of a committee instead of the president to make all appointments for ASUO committees so as to eliminate party patronage was presented. In order to accomplish this, the constitution of the associated students would have to be amended.

The group would consist of the president, vice-president, and secretary of the student body, a representative of the inter-fraternity council, and the heads of houses, a representative of the unaffiliated men and women, the dean of men and the dean of women. Schlott's opponents hit the plan as theoretically sound but practically impossible.

Phi Delta Kappa Plans Installation Banquet

In honor of the new officers, members of Phi Delta Kappa, national education honorary, will attend an informal installation banquet at the Eugene hotel Monday evening.

Plans for the coming year will be revealed by the planning committee, members of which are Dr. E. W. Leighton, advisor of the fraternity, Earl E. Van Loan, outgoing president, and Earl Boushey, president for the coming year. A short program will be presented during the dinner, planned by Joseph Holaday.

With Earl Boushey, officers to be installed are Gaile Good, vice-president; Joseph Holaday, secretary; and V. E. Kurley, treasurer.

Barclay Speaks

Barclay, nominated to head the opposition in the freshman class immediately after Baker's supporters had submitted his candidacy, pledged himself as running as an individual and not as a political combine. In his short address, he emphasized that he was not backed by a strong political group and that in case he is elected, will work for the good of the class and will play no favorites.

It has been rumored for the past two days that opposition against the Baker ticket was forming, but it was known that organization was lacking.

Baker Ticket Unopposed

Barclay stated that he was running as an opposition to Baker to show the spirit of the freshman class in having a lively political campaign, rather than to be forcefully swayed by one group. The remainder of the Baker ticket, composed of Elizabeth Turner, Beverly Burkitt, and Al Carter, is not being opposed by Barclay.

Baker, in his campaign address, emphasized that he would follow the co-chairmanship idea followed this year and would also work for the good of the class as a whole. Under his plan, a sophomore committee would also be named to announce appointments.

Skull and Dagger to Pledge 15 Tonight at Annual Frosh Dance

Class Cards, ASUO Tickets Are Necessary In Class Elections

In order to vote in the various class elections it is necessary for the voter to have both a class card and an ASUO card. President Joseph Renner stated last night, as he said that it would be his duty to see that this constitutional ruling was upheld during the coming elections.

Forestry Work For Students Is Dr. Miller's Plan

Summer Employment May Be Accessible

Fred N. Miller, director of the Health Service at the University of Oregon, has been working on a plan for summer jobs in forest camps for students who need the employment. An expected appropriation from a forest bill, which just passed congress, will make the project financially possible, he said. Mr. Miller will send letters to supervisors of individual national forests and suggest that they give some consideration to the project.

Tuesday, in Portland, Mr. Miller contacted the regional forestry office in charge of the national forests in the Pacific Northwest and outlined the need of college students for summer work.

Mr. Miller has been asked to find out how many students would be interested in doing this sort of work during the summer. He emphasized that it would be hard work in a camp of approximately fifty persons located in a remote area or in a high altitude where living conditions may be rather rigorous.

At a meeting next Wednesday he will present a report of what he has done and outline possibilities for this work.

Although the project is still tentative, he will pass around application forms which may be filled out by anyone who is interested.

Reserves Thump Frosh Ballhawks In Hurling Battle

'Bullneck' Millard Gives Scrubs Two Bingles

In a tight pitchers' battle featuring the stellar performance of Bob Millard, strong-armed left-handed chucker from Grant high in Portland, the varsity reserves took a 3 to 1 nod over the newly-organized Oregon frosh horsehiders yesterday evening.

Millard worked in super form for six innings when Gordon Connelly, semi-pro moundsman from the rose city, took the hill for a brief work-out. During the six innings the scrubs whiffed at "Bullneck's" slants for only two hits, one a dumped dinky in front of the plate and one a line single to left. Five errors, however, contributed to the score.

Whipping fast ones across the rubber like he did as first-string pitcher for the Oregon State Beavers last year, Jack Woodard, burly varsity right-hander, hogged most of the glory from the other varsity second-stringers, by allowing only four safeties to the yearlings, one of these was a triple by Millard.

Other members of the reserves were Con Fury, regular catcher last year; Bunny Butler, first base; Dick Prouty, second base; Eddie Vail, shortstop; Walt Mason, third base; Bob Kidder, left field; and Bob Austin, an extra frosh at center.

Frosh fielding is coming along in pretty good form, according to Coach Ed Kelley last night, but the hitting will demand a good deal of persistence and coaching, he said.

Outstanding Freshmen Will Be Selected by Soph Honorary

Dierickx Will Play Dance Motif Kept Secret For Informal Affair

Tonight the fifteen most prominent men in the freshman class will be selected at the Frosh Glee by Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's honorary, Craig A. Finley, president, said last night. The men are being chosen by all the present fifteen members of Skull and Dagger during intermission. Frosh Glee is scheduled to begin at 9 p. m. this evening at McArthur court.

A large turnout is expected at the Frosh Glee according to Louis Hillis and Lyle Baker, general chairman. Competition is keen between the houses for the prizes which will be awarded the sorority and fraternity with the largest percentage representation at the dance. The prizes will be given away at the dance in an unusual feature that promises to create not a little merriment.

Dierickx to Play

Jimmy Dierickx' orchestra of Corvallis which has recently been increased to eleven pieces, will be playing for the Frosh Glee tonight. One of the special features they have promised is a take off on a symphony, playing selections from the "Poet and Peasant" overture, with Tommy Cauthers, who is back with the band again, representing the typical classical conductor.

The motif of the Frosh Glee has been kept secret but this means a pleasant surprise is in store for all those attending. Noel Benson, chairman of the decorations committee, said. The dance will be semi-formal.

Tickets On Sale Now

Tickets are selling at all living organizations for $1.00 a couple. All freshmen with class cards will be admitted free. Money on tickets purchased at the full price will be refunded at the door upon presentation of freshman class membership cards, if either of the persons has one.

Taylor Will Attend High School Teachers' Meet

Howard R. Taylor, acting head of the psychology department, will go to Ashland today to hold a meeting with the high school teachers of that district on the subject of vocational guidance.

Professor Taylor is chairman of the committee on counseling service, a sub-committee to that of high school relationships. The purpose of the conferences is to spread the knowledge of the necessity for vocational guidance through out the state. Last Tuesday he talked briefly of the work of the committee in a broadcast over KOAC. Another meeting will be April 27, at LaGrande.

Will V. Norris, professor of physics, left for Portland yesterday to attend a conference pertaining to the new library building. Professor Norris will be in charge of a tunnel project to provide heat for the new building when it is completed.
