

By HARRY GRAYSON

CHICAGO — Dizzy Dean attributes his failure to win a single exhibition game and having his ears pinned back more than once this spring to the fact that the chips weren't down.

"Now that we're playing for keeps, I'll blow 'em down," says the great right-hander.

It takes the opening bell to swing many star ball players into full stride. Entire clubs frequently require the same urge. When Rogers Hornsby remarked about how much more pepper the Browns exhibited than the Giants in a Florida exhibition a year ago, Bill Terry replied, "We're saving that for the start of the season."

Young Joe Vosmik and the Cleveland Indians then proceeded to make the then world champion New York outfit look like the Hoo-sick Falls firemen in a long series of exhibition games, but the Giants weren't beaten out of the National League pennant until the final day. The best the Browns could do in the American league was sixth, while the Tribe finished a scraggly third.

Gehrig and Goslin Require Pressure

Joe McCarthy didn't lay awake nights while Lou Gehrig was hitting something like .054 in the early going in Dixie.

A time or two around the park in a sweatshirt puts Gehrig in shape, and he never could see any sense in wasting home runs at Waterfront Park, St. Petersburg, and way stations. When the gong sounds, the Yankee bomber begins hunting the ball against American League fences.

Goose Goslin's performances at Lakeland and on the Detroit club's trip north was nothing to excite the bottle and bun throwers of Navin field. Games must count in the standings to interest the Golden Goose, a courageous veteran whose efficiency increases with pressure.

Al Simmons' batting was a mild sensation with the White Sox this spring. Simmons is expected to smite the sphere for magnificent distances, but his flying start was as unusual as unfavorable weather in southern California.

Simmons remained at Hot Springs during a good part of the conditioning period while with Philadelphia to ward off a recurrence of a rheumatic condition in his ankles, and joined the AAAAAA's as they moved northward.

Alpha Kappa Psi Initiates Tuesday

Initiation for the new members of Alpha Kappa Psi, business honorary, will be held Tuesday, May 7, and will be followed by a banquet at the College Side with W. H. Anderson, secretary and controller of Lipman Wolf company, as principal speaker discussing "Employer, Employee Relationships."

Members of the organization, the faculty of the school of business, and a selected group of retailers of Eugene will be present for the banquet which is scheduled for 6:30.

Mr. Anderson will speak at 2 o'clock to Prof. N. H. Comish's merchandising class on "Distribution of Rent in Lipman Wolf company."

Lipman Wolf company has been giving preference to University graduate students and are now employing nine graduates from the two Oregon campuses, some of them are holding some of the most important positions. Miss Ann Baum, secretary to President Wendell, is now the head of two departments.

Herbert Large, president of Alpha Kappa Psi, will preside at the banquet.

Oregon Splurge in Eighth Inning Wins From Idaho, 5 to 4

Vandal Rally Nearly Spoils Webfoots' Hopes And McFadden's Record

Lewis, Koch, and Gordon Spark Duck Nine; Second Game Today

A long, base-clearing circuit clout by pinch-hitter Wheeler, which knotted the score at 4-all in the seventh inning, made the Emerald and Lemon Yellow baseball champions extend their heads-up playing to the limit yesterday to give Don McFadden his fifth win in five starts, a 5-4 victory over Idaho.

The winning digit came in the last of the eighth after Joe Gordon had lined a bingle to left field and reached second on an error by Barney Anderson. Johnny Lewis dumped a perfect bunt and beat Pitcher Naslund's throw to first, while Gordon rounded third and counted with Les Albee, first baseman, holding the ball.

If there had been a prize for the best all-round player, Johnny Lewis, the tall third sacker, would have walked up after it. Following singles in the fifth by Mike Hunt and Ray Koch, he screeched a sizzler over third that scored his two predecessors and took him to the dirt at third where he was put out. Kleiner to Geraghty to Schodde.

On the hot corner he dragged in several difficult chances, which had the safety label, and his rifle-fire arm cut off the runner each time.

The Vandals' seventh inning rally received life when Schodde singled infield to Gordon, Summers, walked, and Schodde was safe at home on a close play following Anderson's single to center. At this point Coach Rich Fox sent chunky Wheeler in to hit for Newton. McFadden's fat pitch is history.

In the eighth Idaho passed a good opportunity to go ahead. Naslund, first up, went clear to second when Gordon made his first error of league play with a bad throw to Harry McCall. Schodde went out. Summers bounced a grounder to McFadden who ran Naslund down between second and third. Summers then reached second on John Thomas' pass ball, but was nipped off base, McFadden to Gordon.

Their last inning hopes faded as the "iron man" settled down. Anderson grounded out, McFadden to McCall. Wheeler hit a curve to Gordon and was thrown out at first, and Kleiner closed the frame, Koch to McCall.

Seven men were fanned by McFadden, and nine men hammered his slants for hits. Oregon tasted the offerings of Newton and Naslund for only seven blows including doubles by Lewis and McFadden, while Naslund whiffed only one Webfoot.

Errors were totaled to five in the Vandal column against the Ducks' lone misplay.

Individual Ping-Pong Tournament to Open; Entry Closes May 8

An individual ping-pong tournament will begin immediately upon the arrangement of a schedule from names which should be written in on the entrance sheet posted on the bulletin board at the Y hut according to an announcement made last night.

All persons wishing to enter are requested to sign before May 8, which has been named as the deadline. There will be an entrance fee of 10 cents to help defray some of the expense of the tournament. The winner of this ping-pong tournament will receive a silver trophy given by McMoran and Washburne department store.

Fred Mountain has been appointed chairman of the contest. The last tournament of this kind was held about two years ago when Ethan Newman walked away with the winner's trophy.

Harbert, Pease Announce Places On 'Green' Issue

Ellis, Connelly, Mattingly On Editorial Board

Wayne Harbert, editor of the freshman edition of the Emerald, and William Pease, managing editor, announced yesterday the tentative staff for the "green" edition of the campus paper which will appear May 4.

The tipsheet will be posted this afternoon for reporters. A meeting of all members of the staff will be held today at 4 p. m. in 105 Journalism. The final staff will be drawn up at that time so the masthead may be prepared for the Saturday issue.

On the editorial board of the freshman edition will be Darrel Ellis, Gordon Connelly, and LeRoy Mattingly.

LeRoy Mattingly will act as news editor and Gordon Connelly will be sports editor. Connelly will choose his own staff to work on the sports page.

Other members of the staff are Ed Robbins, telegraph editor; Clare Igoo, day editor; Woodrow Truax, radio editor; Jane Lee, features. Reporters will be Signe Rasmussen, Jane Lagasse, Ellamae Woodworth, Hallie Dudley, and Robert Powell.

Copyreaders for the freshman edition will be Margaret Ray, Laurene Brockschink, Genevieve McNiece, Huey Frederick, and Marilyn Ebi.

Senators Again Victorious Over Portland Ducks

PORTLAND, Ore., May 1. — (AP)—The Sacramento Senators continued their heavy sticking with a barrage of extra base hits here today for a 7 to 2 win over Portland.

In the fifth inning the Solons hit twice for a pair of runs but it was in the sixth that they found the range with their heavy artillery.

Frederick doubled, Rosenberg hit a home run and Johnson followed with another home run. Every Sacramento player hit safely, with Johnson getting two bingles.

Portland's scores came in the first and eighth innings, both times on a pair of hits. The rest of the way Lou Koupal was complete master of the Portland batters.

U. of W. Cinder Squad En Route To Meet Uclans

SEATTLE, May 1. — (AP)—Looking forward to a second triumph over California teams, the strong University of Washington track squad, flanked by 10 sophomores, left for Los Angeles late today to compete against the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins in a dual meet Saturday.

After having nosed out the powerful Stanford Indians and trounced the Oregon State Beavers this season, the 18-man Husky team is a heavy favorite to whip the Uclans. It is the first trip to Los Angeles for a Washington track squad.

Admittedly weak in the weight events, the Huskies figure to make up their winning points in the running duels.

Duckling Golf Team Thumps University Hi

Dougherty Tops Frosh Clubbers; Rosson Is Prep Ace

First-Year Men Squeeze Out Narrow Victory

Tom Stoddard's 1935 freshman golfers passed their initial divot-digging test of the season under fire yesterday afternoon when they nosed out the University high team 9½ to 8½ on the Laurelwood course.

Ken Dougherty, former state junior champion from Jefferson high in Portland, paced the Ducklings in their win. Dougherty won medalist honors for the afternoon with a low 73 score and blanked his opponent Halton in their match, winning by a 3 to 0 score.

Rosson Beats Cline Bill Rosson, who was runner-up to Dougherty for low honors with a 73, led the prep divoteers. Rosson defeated Walt Cline, ace Yearling clubber, 3 to 0.

Omlid of the high school team also accounted for three of his team's point total when he white-washed Sleeter of the frosh 3-0.

Eugene Hi Next The freshmen golfers will engage in their second match of the season next Monday afternoon when they meet the Eugene mashie-wielders on Laurelwood.

Summary:

Frosh	University High
Cline	Rosson3½
Pierce	Cook½
Sleeter	Omlid3
