Admiral's Lament

NAVAL affairs have been making quite a splash in the news recently, with the war maneuvers of the United States in the Pacific, Japan's notification that she does not want to renew the conditions of the Washington treaty, and the investigations of some of the "big shots" of the munitions industry.

Past experience has proven that the big fellows must use tact in choosing a location for holding large scale naval maneuvers, games, and demonstrations.

Plans of the U.S. Navy department at first provided for the holding of our battle demonstration in the Pacific between Hawaii and Japan, almost within striking distance of the latter. Vigorous protests from various groups resulted.

Change the scene to the Atlantic. Europe, through some remote twist of the imagination, might even think we were coming to erald feels that students of the University want a student union. No other conclusion can be drawn.

But something more than mere words must be used in the drive to provide an adequate student activity center. The Emerald has published figures which show that funds for such a project might be obtainable. The Emerald has printed statements of influencial faculty members and University officials which show that a student union proposal would meet with no opposition from that quarter. Now, it is up to you-the students of the University of Oregon. Do you want a student union?

"Council Votes to Move Fire Truck," says a Register-Guard headline. It should be a seven-alarm fire by now.

Ex-president Herbert Hoover says the NRA should be abolished because it builds up monopolies. After all, Hoover should speak with authority on helping "big business."

French Foreign Minister Laval and Soviet Foreign Commissar Litvinoff have their heads together trying to make peace in Eastern Europe permanent. All they have to do is convince all the other nations that the Franco-Russian alliance is right.

The Passing Show

BOLSHEVIK EDUCATION

THE New York American has made a perfectly - horrendous discovery. Most of America's outstanding educators and college presidents are bolsheviks.

Included are John Dewey, Chancellor Chase of New York University, President Graham of North Carolina, President Hutchins of Chicago, President Neilson of Smith, President Wilkins of Oberlin, Dean Russell of Teachers College, Columbia; Professor Counts of the same school, Dean Withers of the School of Education at New York University, and Robert L. Kelly, secretary of the Association of American Colleegs.

Now every reader of the Hearst press knows that bolsheviks have beards, and carry bombs in their left hands. How have these gentelmen managed so long to keep their true character hidden while teaching communism to American youth?

Watch closely. In Mcscow, the Hearst press has discovered, there is a State university. The State university has a summer session. The summer session has an Anglo-American section. The Anglo-American section has an American advisory organization. The American advisory organization is the Institute of International Education. The Institute of International Education has a national advisory council.

And these nefarious gentlemen are on that advisory council.

Could anything be clearer?

Secretly, advertising only in the magazines and circulating their literature through such obscure travel agencies as Cook's, these educators have been enticing American students to Mos-

"Obviously," says the New York American in a front-page editorial, "for the purposes of making adept communist propagandists out of them." As people who think we mop our brows, staggered.

South America has not yet sufficiently recovered from the effect of the change of policy made by the New Deal. Most of the damage, however, was done before 1933. Just before the close of the Hoover administration, quite a furore was caused in one of the smaller towns on the coast of Chile with the sighting of two United States cruisers on a friendly tour around South America.

Yes, it's becoming a hard matter to decide where to hold all these displays of our might. Maneuvers in our own back yard soon grow tame, for they have already been mapped out for years. The retort to such a statement is what else is needed for a "defensive" war.

"Oh where shall I go to play?," wails the navy.

Can It Be?

NEWS and editorial columns of the Emerald have, for the past few weeks, been filled with facts and figures preaching the need for and heralding the possibility of a new student union building for the University of Oregon. As yet, not one other voice representative of the students has been raised in support of the student union movement.

Can it be that Oregon students do not want a student union? Can it be that Oregon students are not tired of holding committee meetings in antiquated classrooms and cold basements? Can it be that Oregon students enjoy the decentralized activity life of the campus, with publication offices separated by three blocks, and alumni and student offices equally as disassociated? No. The Em-

The gentlemen we wish to expose are worse, worse. They have accepted money from the soviet government to give it advice on how to build up the soviet union.

One of them was adviser to the soviet auto trust in building the automobile factory at Gorki. He is a Detroiter whose name is Henry Ford.

Another is Percy H. Johnston, governor of the Bankers Club and chairman of the board of the Chemical Bann and Trust Company. He is a director of the Electric Auto-Lite of Toledo, also a paid adviser of the soviet auto trust.

Then there is the chap who, like so many of these dangerous foreigners, hails from Pittsburgh. His Koppers Construction company has taught the soviets how to build coke ovens. His name is Andrew Mellon.

A family known as the du Ponts helped the soviet fertilizer trust build its fertilizer plants. The R. C. A. accepted a contract to advise on radio matters. Among its directors are Cornelius Bliss and Major General James G. Harbord. Both these bolsheviks are on the boards of Bankers Trust and New York Life.

Likewise among the conspirators is Owen D. Young, whose International General Electric accepted money to advise the Soviet Electro-Technical trust.

And, lest we forget, one of the concerns which has been doing business with the Nationalizers of Women at Moscow is the American Metal Company
